5. Unfinished Business
   a. Property Acquisition/Municipal Complex Workshop
   CM Rudometkin spoke briefly on Council goals and the FY 24/25 budget items, including City Hall renovations and ARPA Funds. He noted that the Municipal Complex is one of the items discussed.

CM Rudometkin spoke on the property by Fish on Fire, 30 acres of cow pasture, and an opportunity for 20.5 acres on Judge and Conway to be considered in the City of Orlando, including a conservation easement and a 2-acre retention pond. He noted that he and the Mayor have met with the City of Orlando and are willing to sell the property. He noted that there is potential for City Staff, Police Department, and Public Works to be in the same complex as a one-stop shop. He said another option is to leave it at City Hall and expand on the footprint for a two-story building with a covered parking lot with Public Works staying at their current location; some of the concerns would be the concern of the surrounding neighbors.

CM Rudometkin asked for directions to proceed with a location or to expand at the current location.

Vice Mayor Lowell said this was the first time she had heard of the concept of including public works. She said the Council would have to determine what the City is looking for in a Municipal Complex.

Mayor Fouraker asked if the City had any information and rating sheets (data, concept plans, or reports) from previous consultants who worked with Mr. Francis during previous Council discussions. Since the discussions transpired, the City of Orlando has 20 acres available. He and the City Manager met with them, and they were tasked with how much the city would need for a municipal complex. Some mitigating factors must be sorted out, and the Council should discuss its vision. He noted that no price was discussed. Mayor Fouraker opened the door for discussion on other pieces of property, scenarios, and steps moving forward. Discussion ensued.

Comm Smith asked if the City has any pricing on the required studies and mapping of the proposed areas. City Manager Rudometkin said the City does have ARPA funds allocated, and he is working on one last quote. He noted that he has asked for a discounted price for the unusable land or if they are willing to sell off some of the acres separately. The City Manager briefly discussed costs, debt service, or millage increase. Comm Smith said the Council will need more time to discuss a millage increase.

Comm Smith said that sometime in 2022, the City was approached by a consultant for the Masonic Lodge with a turn-key concept. There may be other options once we have an environmental study or conceptual plan.

Comm Partin said he does not favor springing this to the public and would like a design and conceptual plan. The first step may be to perform an environmental study. Discussion ensued.

Vice Mayor Lowell asked if the City of Orlando had any reports available on the buildable 20 acres. Mr. Rudometkin said the city must complete a study before moving forward. Vice Mayor Lowell said the Council should have options 1,2 and 3.

Comm Carson asked if the environmental study reports that the 20 acres are not viable; what is the next step. Mr. Rudometkin said the City could revisit Datwyler and the current City Hall location. Mayor Fouraker gave a brief history of the 20 acres and said the City of Orlando is waiting on the City before moving forward with other options for the property. Discussion ensued.

Comm Bobrowksi said she is not in favor of the property by Fish on Fire. She noted that it is not desirable for events or a City complex. She does not favor an environmental study until the City of Orlando provides a selling price. If it is unattainable, the City should be fiscally responsible and discuss the realistic amount it can spend on a municipal complex. Discussion ensued on costs, liquidating property, obtaining a bond, or using Lobbyists to obtain money for a new complex.

Mayor Fouraker said that at some point, if the Council agrees to go through the process, which has never gotten off-center, we agree to use any means to obtain the funds (raising taxes, obtaining a bond, or selling existing city property).

Comm Vertolli asked if the property is purchased on Conway, would the City then annex that property? Mayor Fouraker said yes. He said the City might consider partnering with the City of Orlando to separate the 25 acres and allow affordable housing through the Live Local Act on the portion of the land that is not needed.

Comm Partin expressed his concern about the undisclosed price for the City of Orlando Property. He would like to know how much of the 20.5 acres is buildable and if it is an option for the City. Discussion ensued on the vision and concept to support the City's growth.

Comm Bobrowksi asked if completing an environmental study and a concept plan for the expansion at City Hall is cost-prohibitive. Mr. Rudometkin said the cost is not cheap and would like to do one at a time. Comm Bobrowksi said that as a contingency plan, she wants to see the first choice for the property on Conway, and the second choice is the current City Hall location.

The City Manager stated that he would contact a consultant in Texas to start the process and bring it back to the Council for approval.

Vice Mayor Lowell asked if it was possible to have someone meet with the city staff to ask what we need in a Municipal Complex and to get an idea before hiring a consultant. CM Rudometkin said he could have internal meetings to obtain some information upfront. He noted that he has been through this process in previous cities.

The Council consensus was to:

- perform an environmental study on Judge and Conway
- continue negotiations with the City of Orlando
- submit an RFP for consultants to move forward with a conceptual plan
- internal meetings to establish a space needs analysis plan (SNAP)

Comm Bobrowski said the City of Oviedo has one of the nicest city halls she has seen, and she believes it would benefit the Council to visit their building.

6. New Business

a. Cancellation of July 2nd Council Meeting
City Manager Rudometkin asked if the Council would like to cancel the July 2nd meeting and if the Council will be in town for the July 4th holiday.

Comm Smith moved to cancel the July 2nd meeting in observance of the July 4th holiday week and the absence of Council members on vacation.
Comm Carson moved the motion, which passed unanimously 5:1 with Vice Mayor Lowell, nay.

7. Attorney's Report

Attorney Langley reported that the appeal for the Quevedo lot split had filed a circuit court action challenging the decision of the city to deny the lot split in an FSS 7051 FL Land Use Dispute Resolution Act proceeding. The circuit court action was placed on the docket until July and will not be actively litigating. The applicant and their attorney requested mediation with the City on June 20, 2024. Attorney Langley asked that the City Manager be the City's representative. The person representing the City at the mediation does not have binding authority but has the authority to recommend to the Council what may arise from the settlement. The mediation will not result in a settlement, and any potential offer will be returned to the Council.

Mayor Fouraker said the Council voted unanimously that there would not be a lot of split. He said he stated at the last meeting the only compromise was that she said she had been injured financially on legal fees, a roof, and design plans. Mayor Fouraker stated that he and the City Manager met with the resident and extended the olive branch after the meeting. He stated that there is no bending and that granting the lot split should not be a compromise. He would like the Council to instruct the City Attorney to promptly leave after a settlement is offered rather than to pay for extended lawyers' fees in discussing something the city will not approve, within reason.

Attorney Langley clarified that after negotiating in good faith, the staff is not obligated to make or accept any offers other than what will be presented to the Council.

Comm Bobrowksi moved to appoint City Manager Rudometkin as the City's representative in the mediation hearing.
Comm Partin seconded the motion, which passed unanimously 6:0.

Comm Bobrowksi asked if she could ask the City Planner a question.
Mayor Fouraker said staff could ask questions about this matter offline as it is not an agenda item. Additionally, he noted that their attorney is our former City Attorney, Tom Callan.

8. City Manager's Report (CM)

City Manager Rudometkin provided an updated Task List and spoke on some highlighted items,

- Lancaster House Update—CM has spoken to CCA Chairman Brooks, and they will send a site plan language to carve out the section of the Lancaster House with stipulations. Once received, he will forward it to the City Attorney for review and present it to the Council. CM said CCA may not want to change the lease language but make the changes via an exhibit to the lease.
- DOT Grant For Hoffner Update—The FDOT Grant has been programmed and awaits a Notice to Proceed from the City. Before moving forward and working with Orange County, there is a $3 million portion funding match. CM Rudometkin said the Grant sunsets in 2027/2028 and noted that there may not be a penalty if we change the scope or cannot match the grant; he will continue to verify before moving forward.

  Mayor Fouraker clarified the next steps and asked the Council to consider a workshop to discuss fundraising for this obligation. The road is not ours; however, do we want control of it? Ask the County if they want to put up the match or give the funds to the County and have a little say in the project. Council consensus was to schedule a workshop for continued discussion.
- FY 2024/2025 Budget Update—Staff will submit a resolution for council approval. He has provided the Finance Director with the Council goals and other requests. He is looking at the stormwater fees for 2025 and forward. The small incremental increases approved by the Council will end this budget year. The goal is to get the proposed budget earlier than last year.

We do not have much money, and the assessed value will increase by approximately $60m and remain with the same revenue.

a. Chief's Report

- Chief Grimm reported that STATs will be reported at the end of the month. He noted that one of the items he will bring to the budget discussion is adding Canine Officers to the Agency.
- Chief Grimm reported that he has been selected to participate in the Florida Police Chief Legislative Committee and will attend a conference the following week.
- Office Mathews is doing well and in good spirits.
- Chief Grimm reported on the FSS - Take Home Vehicles. He noted that the City is required to have insurance for regular staff; however, the Police Officers are required to be converted by the City if the vehicle is used to and from work. Comm Smith said he is attending a conference next week and will bring forward more information.

b. Public Work's Report

- Phil Price reported on the Orange County Weir and found that they pull two boards when the lake gets near normal high water. Last year, they exceeded pulling the boards, and too much water was going down south Florida, flooding that area. There was never an action plan in place for lowering the weir. Orange County, GOAA, and St. Johns River Management will schedule a meeting and invite the surrounding cities for discussion and possibly formulating a plan of action.
- Mr. Price said he has received a couple of calls from residents. He contacted some trappers and found it an expensive ordeal, and peacocks were difficult to capture. He gave some thought to educating the residents on managing the birds.
- Staff have received the quotes for the aerator and is working towards completing the upgrades in Trimble Park.

9. Mayor's Report

- Mayor Fouraker reported that there will be a community meeting with GOAA, and the City Clerk will post the agenda once it is received.
- Mayor Fouraker reported the City of Orlando had doubled their utilities fees. OUC is also instituting a spike rate to regulate costs and encourage the use of power after certain hours.
- Mayor Fouraker said he met with Bricksmore while attending a conference. If the Council is still interested in annexing Publix, they would like to present to their board a proposal that will not increase their tenants' rents with a 2-year tax abatement (i.e., JJs waste fees on a case-by-case basis). The council consensus was to have the City Manager assemble something for a workshop in the coming months.
- Mayor Fouraker wanted to make the Council aware, for the record, that a resident had called regarding a ticket they received. He told the resident that he could not be involved with a police matter and could not help them.

11. Commissioners Report

- Comm Vertolli addressed the peacock nuisance and would like the Council to consider an ordinance that speaks to not feeding wildlife.
- Comm Bobrowski said she has been learning about the City's and residents' responsibility for ROW maintenance. She joined marine patrol for a ride-along and was enlightened on the activities on the lake.

- Comm Smith asked about having the lobbyists give a periodic update on legislative laws, including Florida Statute 166.041(4)a re Ordinances. In addition, he asked about the appointment of a Vice Chair per Charter for the next meeting.
- Council thanked Marine Patrol for their presence on Lake Conway.

Comm Bobrowksi moved to have Vice Mayor Lowell present her report.
Comm Smith seconded the motion, which passed unanimously at 6:0.

- Vice Mayor Lowell reported that the City Manager has been with us for five months. She recently scheduled a meeting and met with the City Manager this morning. She said she would do that more often to ensure she provides the best service to the staff and residents.

12. Adjournment

With no further business, Mayor Fouraker moved to adjourn the meeting, which was unanimously approved at 8:35 p.m.

Hi Yolanda,

I tried to send the speech that I wrote so that the council members could read again what I said during the meeting. Please put my words into the record because this exactly what I said. Thanks in advance...

City Council Meeting

Good evening city Council members and staff. My name is Kristina Giles and I live at 5820 Cove Drive. I stand before you asking for you to please create an agenda for the next city council meeting on June 18th of this year on the following topics:

1. A contested dock that was built without a variance. They should have had to have applied for a variance to build their dock more than 15' lake-ward from the new Highwater Mark than any other docks within 300' when the application was filed on October 18th of 2022.

2. Swale permitted on their houses' building application was omitted it in reality to our property's detriment. The swale would make sure NOT to have their water transferred to our property. Since our neighbor steered away from the limitations of their permitted work, it would mean they worked WITHOUT a permit and should have fines and impact fees according to the Belle Isle ordinances, along with daily fines until the issue is rectified to the permitted standards. This is what normal constituents have historically been charged with.

3. Dredged without a permit yesterday during active litigation. The neighbor is changing the submerged topography of the contested dock. I believe their permit should be revoked.

4. Neighbor has created a wall of foliage close to the lake. There is supposed to be a 35' setback from the new high watermark with only 4 foot fences to the lake.

Please accept my sincere gratitude for your time and real attention to these egregious acts against my husband and my residence.

Thank you for potentially giving me the ability to expound on these topics in the next city council meeting.

Thank you.

Suggested List – We have included manufacturer's suggested retail pricing (MSRP) to assist in the financing, insuring and appraising of vessels. The MSRP is the manufacturer's and/or distributor's highest suggested retail price in the U.S.A. when the unit was new. The MSRP is furnished by the manufacturer and/or distributor and are assumed to be correct. Unless indicated, the MSRP does not include destination charges, dealer set-up, state or local taxes, license tags or insurance.

Low Retail Value — A low retail valued outboard engine will show wear and/or defects. It may have been stored outside in the elements, been neglected and require cosmetic and/or mechanical work. This classification of engine is not in running order or is in rough running condition. Low retail engines usually are not found on a dealer's lot. Low Retail is not a trade-in value.

Average Retail Value — An average retail valued outboard engine should be in good condition with no visible damage or defects. This category of engine should be in sound running order. The buyer may need to invest in either minor cosmetic or mechanical work.

Note: Vehicles/Vessels in exceptional condition can be worth a significantly higher value than the Average Retail Price shown.

DESCRIPTION

2018 Yamaha VF200 V MAX SHO V6 4.2L VF200LA Outboard Motor

Smart engineering makes V MAX SHO four strokes lighter and more powerful than even two-stroke competitors. Just like its big brothers, the V MAX SHO® 200 hits above its weight class.

2018 Yamaha VF200 V MAX SHO V6 4.2L VF200LA Outboard Motor

Convenience & Control

- POWERFUL CHARGING: With 46 amps of total alternator power at 1000 RPM and a full 50 amps from 2,500 ~ 6,000 RPM, V MAX SHO® outboards offer the kind of charging power needed to operate today's wide array of on-board electronic devices.
- V MAX SHO® SERIES PROPELLERS: Designed exclusively for V MAX SHO® V6 20-inch-shaft outboards, V MAX SHO Series propellers are available in one-inch pitch increments from 22 to 27 inches, for fine-tuning wide-open-throttle RPM for tournament-level performance.
- REAL-TIME PERFORMANCE DATA: Optional Command Link® gauges provide real-time outboard performance, boat systems and environmental data at your fingertips. Streamlined displays are designed to withstand the elements and are available in square or round style for single- or multi-engine applications.

Power & Performance

- COMPACT & POWERFUL POWERHEAD: Plasma-fused sleeveless cylinders are lighter and 60 percent harder than steel. They also allow us to enlarge cylinder bores without increasing their dimensions – which creates 4.2 liters of big-bore displacement, without adding weight.

- LIGHTWEIGHT: With a re-engineered cowling, engine bracket and lower engine pan, 20-inch-shaft models are a full 34 pounds lighter than their predecessor, the two-stroke V MAX® Series 2.
- SMART DESIGN: Yamaha's exclusive In-Bank Exhaust System exits downward through the center of the "V" rather than on the exterior side. This increases combustion efficiency, creating more power and torque, and also results in a more compact shape.
- OVERALL PERFORMANCE: This superior design–with individual intake and exhaust camshafts, larger valves than previous designs and four valves per cylinder–delivers more precise valve timing and more efficient exchange of intake and exhaust gases, for responsive power and increased fuel economy.
- RESPONSIVE THROTTLE: Midrange punch and instant throttle response created by Variable Camshaft Timing has to be felt to be believed.
- OUTSTANDING FUEL ECONOMY: Micro-textured cylinder walls increase breathing efficiency while Precision Multi-Point Fuel Injection ensures the precise amount of air and fuel necessary for optimum power and fuel efficiency. Together, they make the 4.2 liter big-bore V MAX SHO® four stroke up to 12% better fuel efficient than our two-stroke V MAX® Series 2.

Reliability & Durability

- CLEANER FUEL: A large, on-engine water separating fuel filter with a water sensor works in conjunction with Yamaha's 10-Micron Water Separating Fuel Filter to separate water and contaminants from the fuel before they can reach the outboard's other filters and fuel injectors.
- CORROSION PROTECTION: Combined with our proprietary alloy (YDC-30), our exclusive Phaze Five™ electro-deposited, anti-corrosive paint system provides a tough, five-layer barrier against corrosion. This protection is standard on all Yamaha V MAX SHO® four-stroke engines.
- LESS MOVING PARTS: A single timing belt uses fewer moving parts for long term reliability. Automatic belt tensioners keep proper belt tension, avoiding adjustments for added convenience.
- PROTECTION AND POWER: V MAX SHO® outboards have an exhaust pressure reduction system, which not only helps keep the propeller hub cooled from hot st gases, but also helps provide power by transitioning those gases out of the e during the critical hole shot and acceleration phases.

41

- SMOOTH AND QUIET: A labyrinth exhaust routes gases through a maze before they exit above the water line through an idle exhaust relief outlet. This, combined with a muffler-less design, results in unbelievably smooth and quiet operation, with a pleasing sound of power at idle.

2018 Yamaha VF200 V MAX SHO V6 4.2L VF200LA Outboard Motor

Smart engineering makes V MAX SHO four strokes lighter and more powerful than even two-stroke competitors. Just like its big brothers, the V MAX SHO® 200 hits above its weight class.

CONVENIENCE & CONTROL

- POWERFUL CHARGING: With 46 amps of total alternator power at 1000 RPM and a full 50 amps from 2,500 ~ 6,000 RPM, V MAX SHO® outboards offer the kind of charging power needed to operate today's wide array of on-board electronic devices.
- V MAX SHO® SERIES PROPELLERS: Designed exclusively for V MAX SHO® V6 20-inch-shaft outboards, V MAX SHO Series propellers are available in one-inch pitch increments from 22 to 27 inches, for fine-tuning wide-open-throttle RPM for tournament-level performance.
- REAL-TIME PERFORMANCE DATA: Optional Command Link® gauges provide real-time outboard performance, boat systems and environmental data at your fingertips. Streamlined displays are designed to withstand the elements and are available in square or round style for single- or multi-engine applications.

POWER & PERFORMANCE

- COMPACT & POWERFUL POWERHEAD: Plasma-fused sleeveless cylinders are lighter and 60 percent harder than steel. They also allow us to enlarge cylinder bores without increasing their dimensions – which creates 4.2 liters of big-bore displacement, without adding weight.
- LIGHTWEIGHT: With a re-engineered cowling, engine bracket and lower engine pan, 20-inch-shaft models are a full 34 pounds lighter than their predecessor, the two-stroke V MAX® Series 2.
- SMART DESIGN: Yamaha's exclusive In-Bank Exhaust System exits downward through the center of the "V" rather than on the exterior side. This increases combustion efficiency, creating more power and torque, and also results in a more compact shape.
- OVERALL PERFORMANCE: This superior design–with individual intake and exhaust camshafts, larger valves than previous designs and four valves per cylinder–delivers more precise valve timing and more efficient exchange of intake and exhaust gases, for responsive power and increased fuel economy.

- RESPONSIVE THROTTLE: Midrange punch and instant throttle response created by Variable Camshaft Timing has to be felt to be believed.
- OUTSTANDING FUEL ECONOMY: Micro-textured cylinder walls increase breathing efficiency while Precision Multi-Point Fuel Injection ensures the precise amount of air and fuel necessary for optimum power and fuel efficiency. Together, they make the 4.2 liter big-bore V MAX SHO® four stroke up to 12% better fuel efficient than our two-stroke V MAX® Series 2.

RELIABILITY & DURABILITY

- CLEANER FUEL: A large, on-engine water separating fuel filter with a water sensor works in conjunction with Yamaha's 10-Micron Water Separating Fuel Filter to separate water and contaminants from the fuel before they can reach the outboard's other filters and fuel injectors.
- CORROSION PROTECTION: Combined with our proprietary alloy (YDC-30), our exclusive Phaze Five™ electro-deposited, anti-corrosive paint system provides a tough, five-layer barrier against corrosion. This protection is standard on all Yamaha V MAX SHO® four-stroke engines.
- LESS MOVING PARTS: A single timing belt uses fewer moving parts for long term reliability. Automatic belt tensioners keep proper belt tension, avoiding adjustments for added convenience.
- PROTECTION AND POWER: V MAX SHO® outboards have an exhaust pressure reduction system, which not only helps keep the propeller hub cooled from hot exhaust gases, but also helps provide power by transitioning those gases out of the engine during the critical hole shot and acceleration phases.
- SMOOTH AND QUIET: A labyrinth exhaust routes gases through a maze before they exit above the water line through an idle exhaust relief outlet. This, combined with a muffler-less design, results in unbelievably smooth and quiet operation, with a pleasing sound of power at idle.

CASE NO. 24-20604-CIV-DAMIAN

ELIZABETH A. LOPER, et al.,

Plaintiffs,

vs.

ASHLEY LUKIS, et al.,

Defendants.

ORDER ON PLAINTIFFS' EXPEDITED
MOTION FOR PRELIMINARY INJUNCTION [ECF NO. 10]

THIS CAUSE is before the Court on Plaintiffs' Expedited Motion for Preliminary Injunction and Incorporated Memorandum of Law, filed March 22, 2024 [ECF No. 10 (the "Motion" or "Motion for Preliminary Injunction")].

THE COURT has reviewed the Motion, the Response and Reply thereto [ECF Nos. 16, 18], the supplemental briefs [ECF Nos. 34, 35], the pertinent portions of the record, and the relevant legal authorities and is otherwise fully advised in the premises. The Court also heard from the parties' counsel at an evidentiary hearing held on April 22, 2024. [ECF No. 27].

Plaintiffs seek a preliminary injunction enjoining enforcement of Florida's Senate Bill 774 ("SB 774") on grounds the law impermissibly compels content-based, non-commercial speech in violation of the First Amendment of the United States Constitution. After conducting a hearing and careful review of the record, and for the reasons set forth below, the Court concludes that entry of a preliminary injunction is warranted.

FACTUAL BACKGROUND[1]

A. Financial Disclosure in Florida and Enactment of SB 774

In 1976, the Florida Constitution was amended to require certain public officials and candidates to file full and public disclosures of their financial interests. See Art. II, § 8, Fla. Const.; § 112.3144, Fla. Stat. The 1976 Amendment, titled the "Sunshine Amendment," states: "[P]ublic office is a public trust. The people shall have the right to secure and sustain that trust against abuse." Art. II, § 8, Fla. Const. The Sunshine Amendment mandates that "[a]ll elected constitutional officers and candidates for such offices and, as may be determined by law, other public officers, candidates, and employees shall file full and public disclosure of their financial interests." Id. at § 8(a).

Since the 1970s, the Florida Commission on Ethics (hereinafter, the "COE") has required certain public officials to file the form known as "Form 6" to satisfy the disclosure requirements of the Sunshine Amendment. See § 112.3144(8) ("Forms or fields of information for compliance with the full and public disclosure requirements of [Section 8, Article II] of the State Constitution must be prescribed by the [COE]."). Form 6, which must be filed annually, requires these certain elected public officials and candidates to state: (1) their net worth; (2) the amount of the aggregate value of household goods and personal effect(s); (3) descriptions and amount of assets and liabilities over $1,000; and (4) every source of income, including name and address of the source, in excess of $1,000. See generally Ex. J2; see also Fla. Admin. Code R. 34-8.002 (2024).

[1] The parties' filed a Joint Witness and Exhibit List and Stipulations of Fact [ECF No. 19] and Supplemental Stipulations of Fact [ECF No. 25]. The parties, however, conventionally filed the exhibits for the Court's consideration at the evidentiary hearing on April 22, 2024. See ECF No. 27. Therefore, citations to the conventionally filed exhibits are referenced herein as "Ex. __ at [page number]" (e.g., Ex. J1 at 2). Where possible, the Court also cites materials readily available to the public.

Prior to January 1, 2024, the Form 6 requirement did not apply to elected municipal officials or candidates for municipal office. See § 112.3145, Fla. Stat. (2022). Instead, municipal officials and candidates were required to comply with the disclosure requirements of Form 1, which is less comprehensive than Form 6. Form 1 requires these individuals to disclose: (1) major sources but not amounts of income over $2,500; (2) intangible personal property valued over $10,000 and real property; and (3) liabilities over $10,000. See generally Ex. J1; see also Fla. Admin. Code R. 34-8.202 (2023).

During its 2023 session, the Florida Legislature passed, and the Governor later signed into law, SB 774, which amended Sections 112.3144 and 112.3145, Florida Statutes. See Ch. 2023-49, Laws of Fla. As of January 1, 2024, SB 774 applies to mayors and other elected members of the governing bodies of municipalities. § 112.3144(1)(d), Fla. Stat. (2023). The law requires that these municipal officials file Form 6 by July 1, 2024. §112.3145(2)(b), Fla. Stat. (2023). Any official who fails to comply with this requirement will be subject, after a 60-day grace period, to fines of $25 a day up to $1,500. § 112.3144(8)(f), Fla. Stat. (2023). After an investigation and public hearing, the noncompliant official could be subject to a civil penalty of up to $20,000 and, among other things, a recommendation of removal from office. See §§ 112.317, 112.324(4), Fla. Stat. (2023).

Plaintiffs challenge SB 774 on the grounds the requirement that they now complete the Form 6 financial disclosures is government-compelled content-based speech that infringes on their rights to free speech under the First Amendment of the United States Constitution.

Analysis of Plaintiffs' First Amendment challenge requires a review of the legislative record leading to the enactment of the law.

B. The Legislative Record.

1. Senate Committee Staff Analyses.

Prior to its passage, SB 774 was considered and reviewed by two Florida Senate Standing Committees: the Committee on Ethics and Elections and the Committee on Rules. Both Committees prepared staff analysis reports (the "Analyses" or "Committee Analyses"). See generally Exs. J10(c), J11(b).[2] The Analyses from the two Committees are substantively the same. The Committees' Analyses summarize the history of the COE and the Code of Ethics for Public Officers and Employees, and both explain the effects of the proposed changes in implementing SB 774. However, neither Committee Analysis explains the reasoning behind nor justification for the change to the requirement that municipal elected officials and candidates must now file Form 6, as opposed to the previously required Form 1. A review of the Committees' Analyses reveals that neither includes empirical data nor evidence suggesting that either Committee investigated, studied, or solicited reports on the need for municipal elected officials to comply with the more comprehensive requirement of Form 6. Nor does either Analysis demonstrate that the Committees considered alternative, less burdensome means that would have addressed the interests at stake or the purpose or intent of SB 774.

[2] See also Fla. S. Comm. on Ethics & Elections on SB 774 (2023) Post-Meeting Staff Analysis (Mar. 15, 2023), https://www.flsenate.gov/Session/Bill/2023/774/Analyses/2023s00774.rc.PDF; Fla. S. Comm. on Rules on SB 774 (2023) Post-Meeting Staff Analysis (Mar. 30, 2024), https://www.flsenate.gov/Session/Bill/2023/774/Analyses/2023s00774.rc.PDF.

2. House Committee Staff Analyses.

Meanwhile, in the Florida House of Representatives, SB 774 underwent three analyses by two Subcommittees and one Committee: the Local Administration, Federal Affairs & Special Districts Subcommittee; the Ethics, Elections & Open Government Subcommittee, and the State Affairs Committee.[3] See generally Exs. J12–J14. Like the Senate Committees' Analyses, the House Analyses detail the requirements SB 774 places on elected municipal officials.[4] Also like the Senate Committees' Analyses, the House Analyses are devoid of reasoning and similarly lack data or other reports underpinning the need, reasoning, or justification for the change in disclosure requirements for municipal elected officials from Form 1 to Form 6. And, like the Senate Committee Analyses, there is no indication in the House Analyses that the legislative entities considered alternative, less intrusive means that would have addressed the interests, purpose, or intent of SB 774 insofar as the change to the disclosure requirements for municipal officials is concerned.

3. COE 2022 & 2023 Annual Reports.

Both Senate Committee Analyses contain an identical footnote that cites to a 2022 Annual Report by the COE and states that "[e]nhanced financial disclosure for local elected officials" was, among others, a recommendation to the Florida Legislature. See Exs. J10(c) at [3] See also Fla. H.R. Subcomm. on Local Administration, Federal Affairs & Special Districts for HB 37 (2023) Post-Meeting Staff Analysis (Mar. 15, 2023), https://www.flsenate.gov/Session/Bill/2023/37/Analyses/h0037b.LFS.PDF; Fla. Comm. on State Affairs for HB 37 (2023) Post-Meeting Staff Analysis (May 15, 2023), https://www.flsenate.gov/Session/Bill/2023/37/Analyses/h0037z1.EEG.PDF.

[4] The State Affairs Committee conducted its analysis after the bill was signed into law.

10; J11(b) at 10. Like all of the legislative Committee and Subcommittee Analyses discussed above, the 2022 Annual Report does not identify any empirical data or evidence suggesting that the COE investigated, studied, or solicited reports to justify the change to or need for the Form 6 disclosure requirements for these municipal officials, nor does it indicate whether other less intrusive means for addressing their concerns were considered. See generally Ex. J7; see also ECF No. 16-1.

The COE's 2023 Annual Report adds little, indicating only that there has been a "steady, upward trend" in the number of ethical complaints against elected officials, including municipal officials, received by the COE since 2017. See Ex. J24; see also ECF No. 16-3 at 13. It does not, however, indicate that any analysis was done that led to the conclusion that more comprehensive financial disclosures are needed or will address that trend, much less that the information required by Form 6 is necessary or relevant to the issue of the steady, upward trend in the number of ethical complaints.

4. Senate Committee On Ethics And Elections March 2023 Meeting.

During a March 14, 2023, meeting of the Senate Committee on Ethics and Elections, Senator Jason Brodeur, the bill's sponsor, stated that the bill would conform the financial disclosure requirements of municipal elected officials and candidates to the financial disclosure requirements of elected state constitutional officers. See Ex. J17 at 2:5–11.[5] Senator Brodeur went on to state that "in municipalities where there are five folks who decide millions of dollars in budgets[,] it is probably better for the public to have a full financial transparency."

[5] A video recording of the March 14, 2023, Committee proceeding is also publicly viewable. See generally Fla. S. Comm. on Ethics & Elections, recording of proceedings (Mar. 14, 2023, 4:00 PM), https://www.flsenate.gov/media/VideoPlayer?EventID=1_nty0d3lq-202303141600&Redirect=true (last visited May 16, 2024).

Id. at 2:13–16 (emphasis added). A Committee member then asked Senator Brodeur what prompted the change, to which Senator Brodeur responded that the more detailed financial disclosure requirement had been requested by the COE for "many years." Id. at 6:15–21. Senator Brodeur also reiterated that in municipalities, a few individuals make multi-million-dollar decisions and that voters, in turn, deserve to know "when there would be some kind of collusion and/or some kind of improper incentive." Id. at 7:17–20. When asked if he felt that Form 6's disclosure requirements could deter individuals from running, Senator Brodeur responded that "it could, but if you have somebody who's not willing to make that available, do you really want them in public office?" Id. at 9:23–25.

During the same meeting, Kerrie Stillman, the Executive Director of the COE, stated that, despite discussions in prior sessions of imposing a fluctuating standard on officials who should abide by Form 6, the Commission nonetheless adopted the standard for all municipal elected officials and candidates. Id. at 16:1–5. According to Stillman, the requirement furthers transparency, and, as Stillman explained, citizens who live in smaller communities are entitled to no less transparency than those in larger communities as neither is immune to corruption. Id. at 16:6–13. Stillman also pointed out that the new requirement helps avoid conflicts of interest. Id. at 16:14–16. Notably, a Committee member asked Ms. Stillman the purpose behind letting local officials file Form 1 over the years, and Ms. Stillman responded that she did not know the specific history behind Form 1. Id. at 18:6–12. The bill was voted out of the Ethics and Elections Committee and transferred to the Rules Committee. See CS/CS/SB 774 Bill History, https://www.flsenate.gov/Session/Bill/2023/774/?Tab=BillHistory (last visited May 20, 2024) [hereinafter, SB 774 Bill History].

5. Senate Rules Committee March 2023 Meeting.

On March 30, 2023, the Rules Committee held a meeting in which the bill was discussed. See generally Ex. J18.[6] As he did in the March 14 meeting, Senator Brodeur spoke about the requirements of SB 774 and described the differences between the Form 1 and Form 6 requirements. Id. at 3:2–8, 5:22–25, 6:1–10. Once more, Senator Brodeur reiterated the imbalance between the number of individuals making impactful decisions in municipal government versus the greater number of individuals involved in making those decisions at the state level. Id. at 6:12–25, 7:1. A Committee member asked if Senator Brodeur would consider amending the bill to exempt officials from towns with populations under certain amounts. Id. at 8:10–13, 20–21. Senator Brodeur responded that he would not, underscoring the need for transparency at any level of state and local governance. Id. at 8:23–25, 9:1–3. Ms. Stillman also appeared at the meeting and again emphasized that the bill would further public transparency, increase public trust in government, and help identify potential conflicts of interest. Id. at 15:13–19. The bill was voted out of the Rules Committee. See SB 774 Bill History.

6. Senate Floor Debate In April 2023.

During the Senate floor debate held on April 11, 2023, a Senator expressed concern that the bill would have a chilling effect on people running for local office. Ex. J19(a) at 7:1–10. Senator Brodeur pointed out that the Form 6 disclosure requirements had already been in place for a number of state officials and at varying levels of government and that despite the disclosure requirement, individuals still ran for local office. Id. at 7:23–25, 8:1–6. There was further debate on SB 774 the next day. This time, a different Senator remarked about the bill's potentially chilling effect, and Senator Brodeur responded that the COE had been working on the measure for a long time and again opined that the law would not discourage people from running. Ex. J19(b) at 2:17–25, 3:10–15.[7] He did not offer any empirical data or studies to support his opinion. SB 774 passed in the Florida Senate by a vote of 35 to 5. See SB 774 Bill History.

[6] See also Fla. S. Comm. on Rules, recording of proceedings (Mar. 30, 2023, 8:30 AM), https://www.flsenate.gov/media/VideoPlayer?EventID=1_nty0d3lq-202303300830&Redirect=true (last visited May 19, 2024).

7. House of Representatives Floor Debate in April 2023.

The bill proceeded to the Florida House of Representatives, which held its first reading of the bill on April 20, 2023, without discussion. See id. Although the bill's House sponsor recognized during the bill's second reading on April 25, 2023, that the requirements of Form 6 may be "too intrusive," he went on to state that the "bill simply seeks to have the local elected official do the Form 6 the same as we do." Ex. J20 at 7:1–8.[8] SB 774 moved on to a third reading in the House on April 26, 2023. See SB 774 Bill History. It passed in the House by a vote of 113 to 2. Id.

8. The Enactment Of SB 774.

On May 11, 2023, the Governor signed SB 774 into law. [ECF No. 19 at 4]. Between the enactment of SB 774 and its effective date of January 1, 2024, approximately 125 municipal elected officials resigned. Id. at 5. As it presently stands, municipal elected officials and candidates must comply with SB 774 by submitting Form 6 by July 1, 2024. § 112.3145(2)(b), Fla. Stat. (2023). They will be subject to penalties sixty (60) days later if they fail to comply. See § 112.3144(8)(f), Fla. Stat. (2023).

PROCEDURAL HISTORY

A. The Complaint.

On February 15, 2024, Plaintiffs, then consisting of more than 150 elected officials of municipalities existing under the laws of the State of Florida, filed a Complaint against Defendants, members of the COE charged with implementing and enforcing Florida's financial disclosure laws. See generally ECF No. 1 ("Complaint"). The Complaint asserts a single claim for violation of 42 U.S.C. § 1983 on grounds SB 774 compels content-based, non-commercial speech in violation of the First Amendment of the United States Constitution. See generally id.

Plaintiffs filed a First Amended Complaint on March 22, 2024. [ECF No. 9]. On April 17 and May 7, 2024, Plaintiffs moved for leave to further amend the First Amended Complaint by interlineation to include additional municipal elected officials, and the Court granted the Motions on April 19 and May 13, 2024. See ECF Nos. 24, 26, 36, 37. Plaintiffs filed a Second Amended Complaint on May 17, 2024, which is the operative complaint. [ECF No. 38 ("Second Amended Complaint")]. Every iteration of Plaintiffs' Complaints asserts the same solitary claim; the only changes since the original Complaint have been the inclusion of additional municipal elected officials as named plaintiffs. These additions brought the total number of plaintiffs to well over 170 elected officials of municipalities as of the signing of this Order.

B. The Motion For Preliminary Injunction.

1. The Motion.

On March 22, 2024, Plaintiffs filed the Motion for Preliminary Injunction now before the Court. [ECF No. 10]. In the Motion for Preliminary Injunction, Plaintiffs assert there is a substantial likelihood of success on the merits of their claim because SB 774 compels content-based speech and is, therefore, subject to strict scrutiny review. Plaintiffs further argue the law is not narrowly tailored nor the least restrictive means to serve compelling government interests. Specifically, while acknowledging that protecting against conflicts of interest and deterring corruption are compelling government interests, Plaintiffs argue that SB 774 is not narrowly tailored to achieve these interests. Plaintiffs contend the legislative record is devoid of empirical examples, expert studies, or analyses evincing that other alternative and less restrictive means were seriously considered. See generally Mot. at 14–19. Plaintiffs thus allege SB 774 violates the First Amendment and causes irreparable injury. See Mot. at 19.

Citing Otto v. City of Boca Raton, 981 F.3d 854, 870 (11th Cir. 2020), Plaintiffs argue that "[i]t is clear that neither the government nor the public has any legitimate interest in enforcing an unconstitutional [law]." Mot. at 19. Noting the numerous recent resignations of municipal officials since SB 774's enactment, Plaintiffs also allege there "is a strong public interest in ensuring that the continuing existence and enforcement of SB 774 not unreasonably or unnecessarily deter governmental service." Mot. at 19–20. Plaintiffs also argue the First Amendment violation is a per se irreparable injury. Id. at 19.

Finally, Plaintiffs posit they should not be required to post an injunction bond because "public interest litigation is a recognized exception to the bond requirement." Mot. at 20

(quoting Vigue v. Shoar, No. 3:19-CV-186-J-32JBT, 2019 WL 1993551, at *3 (M.D. Fla. May 6, 2019)).

2. Defendants' Response.

In their Response to the Motion for Preliminary Injunction, Defendants do not challenge nor disagree with whether SB 774 implicates the First Amendment. Instead, Defendants insist Plaintiffs' First Amendment challenge is not subject to strict scrutiny review but is subject to the less rigorous level of "exacting scrutiny," which requires a substantial relation between the law and the compelling government interests, as opposed to a showing that the law is the least restrictive means of addressing the compelling government interests. See Resp. at 3–6. Defendants then argue that Plaintiffs have not established a substantial likelihood of success because they failed to argue a lack of substantial relation between the financial disclosure requirements of Form 6 and the government interests at stake. Id.

Citing the 2023 Annual Report's finding that there has been a "steady, upward trend" of the number of ethical complaints, Defendants argue that a substantial relation exists between the Form 6 requirements and compelling government interests. Defendants aver that the COE recommended imposing the Form 6 requirements on municipal elected officials and candidates based on these trends as "a narrowly tailored means of deterring corruption and conflicts of interest, bolstering the public's confidence in Florida officials, and educating the public." Id. at 8 (citing ECF No. 16-4 ¶ 9).

Defendants also assert that Plaintiffs have failed to allege a substantial threat of irreparable injury, based on the July 1, 2024, deadline, pointing to the 60-day grace period the officials have within which to file Form 6 before penalties are imposed. Resp at 12 (citing § 112.3144(8)(c), Fla. Sta. (2023)). Defendants further contend that the issuance of a preliminary injunction would disrupt the status quo because approximately 127 elected municipal officials have already filed Form 6. According to Defendants, requiring municipal officials to file the less-comprehensive Form 1 from now on would confuse the public and frustrate the compelling government interests that Form 6 is meant to address. Resp. at 12–13. Finally, Defendants disagree with Plaintiffs regarding the bond requirement and argue that a bond should be required if an injunction is ordered.

3. Plaintiffs' Reply.

In their Reply in Support of the Motion for Preliminary Injunction [ECF No. 18], Plaintiffs argue that although courts have referred to the "exacting scrutiny" standard in compelled, content-based non-commercial speech cases, the substantive analysis in even those cases nonetheless involves a strict scrutiny review. Reply at 2–3. Plaintiffs point out that Defendants do not dispute that Form 6 compels content-based, non-commercial speech and argue that regardless of which standard applies, SB 774 fails under both the strict scrutiny and exacting scrutiny analyses. According to Plaintiffs, even if the law does not have to be the least restrictive means to further the governmental interest at stake, the government is still obligated to consider less intrusive alternatives, and Defendants have failed to demonstrate any relationship between the identified interests of protecting against the abuse of the public trust and the change to or need for the more fulsome financial disclosure requirements mandated by SB 774. Reply at 3, 5–6.

Plaintiffs also challenge the bases proffered by Defendants in support of the need for Form 6. Specifically, Plaintiffs point to the record referred to by Defendants as the "steady, upward trend" in the number of ethics complaints and contend that the record actually reveals that, in the five years prior to SB 774's enactment, the total number of complaints has been in the same range each year and that the number of complaints against municipal elected officials in 2022 was actually lower than in any of the previous four years. Reply 7–8. Plaintiffs also dispute Defendants' suggestion that the elected municipal officials may be more susceptible to corruption if they are wealthier, noting Defendants offer no analysis or data to support such a claim. Id. at 8–9. And, Plaintiffs argue that Defendants have altogether failed to demonstrate a substantial relationship between the interests at stake and the change to the heightened disclosure requirements of Form 6 vis-a-vis the previously required disclosure requirements of Form 1. Id. at 9.

Finally, Plaintiffs argue that the loss of First Amendment freedoms, even where minimal, constitutes irreparable injury and that the true "status quo," as argued by Defendants, is not the new law as enacted but, rather, the financial disclosure requirement applicable to municipal elected officials in the nearly fifty years prior to SB 774's enactment. Plaintiffs also assert that Defendants ignore the case law providing that the bond requirement is waived "where the injunction was imposed against the continued enforcement of an unconstitutional law." Id. at 10 (citing Vigue, 2019 WL 1993551 at *2–3).

4. The April 22, 2024, Hearing And Supplemental Briefs.

The undersigned held a hearing on April 22, 2024, to address the Motion for Preliminary Injunction and take evidence. [ECF No. 27]. Defendants did not offer any additional evidence, studies, or data at the hearing. At the conclusion of the hearing, the Court directed Defendants to file supplemental briefing regarding the specific evidence in the legislative record that Defendants purport establishes a relationship between Form 6's additional financial disclosure requirements and the compelling government interests at stake. Defendants filed that briefing on May 1, 2024 [ECF No. 34 (the "Supplemental Brief")], and Plaintiffs filed a Response to the Supplemental Brief on May 6, 2024 [ECF No. 35 (the "Supplemental Response")].

In their Supplemental Brief, Defendants argue, for the first time, that SB 774 does not implicate the First Amendment and that heightened scrutiny of the law is not warranted. Supp. Brief at 1–2. Defendants then persist in their previous contention that if the law does raise First Amendment concerns warranting heightened scrutiny, then, at most, exacting scrutiny applies. Id. at 3.

Defendants now argue that the Court should consider "history, [] substantial consensus, and simple common sense" to find that the State has sufficiently shown that the law is necessary to serve compelling state interests. Id. at 4 (citing Burson v. Freeman, 504 U.S. 191, 211 (1992)). According to Defendants, a "demonstrated history of financial disclosure laws" is evidence that such laws are effective in addressing the State of Florida's interest in preventing corruption, bolstering public confidence in government, promoting voter knowledge, and positively shaping the political community. Id. at 4.

Notably, although the Court's directive with regard to the Supplemental Brief was for Defendants to provide studies, data, reports, or empirical evidence supporting the need for the heightened disclosure requirements of SB 774, the Supplemental Brief includes none. Apparently conceding there is no evidence in the record to support the purported need for the change from Form 1 to Form 6, Defendants point to the multiple government interests at stake and claim that because the interests underlying SB 774 are the same as those underlying the original Sunshine Amendment, the legislature did not need to "waste time" rehashing those interests in Staff Analyses, Committees, or floor debates. Id. at 6. Thus, Defendants contend they relied on and the Court should consider the circumstances underlying the passage of the Sunshine Amendment as the research, studies, and empirical evidence that support their claim that SB 774 was narrowly tailored to meet the interests at stake. Id. at 8–9.

In their Supplemental Response, Plaintiffs point out that Defendants failed to identify evidence in the legislative record to demonstrate that SB 774 was necessary, reasonably tailored, or substantially related to the identified government interests. See Supp. Resp. at 2–3. Plaintiffs then argue, as before, that Defendants have failed to establish a need for the change from the Form 1 to the Form 6 disclosure requirement. Id. at 3–4. That is, although the identified government interests justify the disclosure requirements presently in place (Form 1), Defendants have not identified a need for additional disclosure requirements based on evidence, data, or studies. Plaintiffs also argue that the Supreme Court's determination that it may rely on history in Burson does not apply here. And, even if the Burson exception does apply, history does not support or justify the need for the imposition of the added requirements of Form 6 from municipal officials over and above the Form 1 requirements previously in place. Id. at 4–8. Plaintiffs otherwise contend that Defendants' restatements of the governmental interests at stake are unavailing. Id. at 13.

The Court has carefully considered all of the parties' memoranda, authority, and supporting evidence.

LEGAL STANDARD APPLICABLE TO PRELIMINARY INJUNCTIONS

To obtain a preliminary injunction, a party must demonstrate "(1) a substantial likelihood of success on the merits; (2) that irreparable injury will be suffered if the relief is not granted; (3) that the threatened injury outweighs the harm the relief would inflict on the non-movant; and (4) that entry of the relief would serve the public interest." Schiavo ex. rel

A. The Likelihood Of Success On The Merits.

Plaintiffs contend they are likely to succeed on the merits on the ground that SB 774's requirement that certain individuals file Form 6, as applied to Plaintiffs, is compelled, content-based, non-commercial speech in violation of the First Amendment because Defendants have failed to show that SB 774's requirement that Plaintiffs file Form 6, as opposed to the previously required and less comprehensive Form 1, is the least restrictive means of addressing the government interests at stake. And, even if Defendants are only required to demonstrate a substantial relationship between SB 774's Form 6 requirement and the government interests, they have failed to do that as well. As set out above, Defendants now contend that the law does not implicate the First Amendment and that even if it did, Plaintiffs have not demonstrated a likelihood that they will succeed in establishing a First Amendment violation because Defendants have shown a substantial relation between the law and the government interests at stake.

In assessing whether the law likely violates the First Amendment, the Court must initially consider whether it triggers First Amendment scrutiny in the first place—i.e., whether it regulates "speech" within the meaning of the Amendment at all. See Coral Ridge Ministries Media, Inc. v. Amazon.com, Inc., 6 F.4th 1247, 1254 (11th Cir. 2021). In other words, the Court must determine whether the compelled disclosure of detailed financial information by candidates for elected office is First-Amendment-protected activity. If it is, then the Court must proceed to determine what level of scrutiny applies and whether the law's provisions survive that scrutiny. See Fort Lauderdale Food Not Bombs v. City of Fort Lauderdale ("FLFNB II"), 11 F.4th 1266, 1291 (11th Cir. 2021).

1. Whether SB 774 Implicates The First Amendment.

The First Amendment to the United States Constitution, applicable to the states through the Fourteenth Amendment, prescribes that "Congress shall make no law . . . abridging the freedom of speech." U.S. Const. amend. I. One of the most basic principles of the freedom of speech is that "[t]he Free Speech Clause of the First Amendment constrains governmental actors and protects private actors." NetChoice, LLC v. Att'y Gen., Fla., 34 F.4th 1196, 1203 (11th Cir. 2022)[9] (quoting Manhattan Cmty. Access Corp. v. Halleck, 587 U.S. 802, 804 (2019)). It is well established that this protection "includes both the right to speak freely and the right to refrain from speaking at all." McClendon v. Long, 22 F.4th 1330, 1336 (11th Cir. 2022) (quoting Wooley v. Maynard, 430 U.S. 705, 714 (1977)). Thus, a statute compelling speech, as with a statute forbidding speech, falls within the purview of the First Amendment. See Wooley, 430 U.S. at 714 ("The right to speak and the right to refrain from speaking are complementary components of the broader concept of 'individual freedom of mind.'"); see also VoteAmerica v. Raffensperger, 609 F. Supp. 3d 1341, 1359 (N.D. Ga. 2022) (observing that "courts focus[] in part on the fact that the compelled messages altered the content of the plaintiffs' speech and forced them to convey a message that they would not otherwise communicate").

The Supreme Court has held that the creation and dissemination of information are speech within the meaning of the First Amendment. See Sorrell v. IMS Health Inc., 564 U.S. 552, 570 (2011) ("[I]f the acts of 'disclosing' and 'publishing' information do not constitute speech, it is hard to imagine what does fall within that category, as distinct from the category of expressive conduct" (citing Bartnicki v. Vopper, 532 U.S. 514, 527 (2001))); see also Rubin v. Coors Brewing Co., 514 U.S. 476, 481 (1995) ("information on beer labels" is speech); Dun & Bradstreet, Inc. v. Greenmoss Builders, Inc., 472 U.S. 749, 759 (1985) (credit report is "speech"). As the Sorrell Court explained, "Facts, after all, are the beginning point for much of the speech that is most essential to advance human knowledge and to conduct human affairs." 564 U.S. at 570.

Although they originally agreed that the challenged law is subject to First Amendment scrutiny, in their Supplemental Brief, Defendants contend that there is no legal authority supporting Plaintiffs' claim that SB 774 implicates the First Amendment. Supp. Brief at 1. Defendants' new contention is not well taken for several reasons. First, they likely waived that argument by failing to raise it in their initial Memorandum and then failing to seek leave of Court to inject it into the Supplemental Brief.[10] Second, by asserting this new theory, Defendants are directly contradicting their own positions, arguments, and authority relied on in their Response to the Motion for Preliminary Injunction, in which they argue that Plaintiffs' claims are subject to exacting scrutiny review because they are challenging disclosures under the First Amendment and never once suggest the challenged law does not fall within the First Amendment. See generally Response. Third, they, at best, ignore Plaintiffs' Motion (and, at worst, misrepresent what it says) when stating that Plaintiffs offer no authority for the claim that the compelled disclosure of financial information at issue here implicates First Amendment scrutiny. Plaintiffs' Motion cites ample authority to support that view. It is Defendants who rely on no authority in support of the contrary view, save for a 1978 decision from the former Fifth Circuit that does not address the question of whether compelled disclosure of information is subject to First Amendment protection and that predates a long line of Supreme Court and Eleventh Circuit precedent holding that it does. See, e.g., Supp. Brief at 2–3 (citing Plante v. Gonzalez, 575 F.2d 1119 (5th Cir. 1978)).

[10] See In re Egidi, 571 F.3d 1156, 1163 (11th Cir. 2009) ("Arguments not properly presented in a party's initial brief or raised for the first time in the reply brief are deemed waived.").

In any event, based on the authority set forth above, this Court finds that where, as here, a law compels disclosure of financial information the speakers would not otherwise have disclosed, the law burdens speech and does fall within the purview of the First Amendment. Thus, the Court next considers what level of scrutiny applies.

2. Whether Strict Scrutiny Or Exacting Scrutiny Applies.

The level of scrutiny the Court must impose in evaluating the constitutionality of a law that compels speech typically depends on whether the law is content-based or content neutral. "[A] content-neutral regulation of expressive conduct is subject to intermediate scrutiny, while a regulation based on the content of the expression must withstand the additional rigors of strict scrutiny." NetChoice, 34 F.4th at 1223 (quoting FLFNB II, 11 F.4th at 1291; and citing Turner Broad. Sys., Inc. v. F.C.C., 512 U.S. 622, 643–44, 662 (1994)).

To determine whether a law is content-based, courts consider whether the law "suppress[es], disadvantage[s], or impose[s] differential burdens upon speech because of its content," Turner, 512 U.S. at 642—i.e., if it "applies to particular speech because of the topic discussed or the idea or message expressed," Reed v. Town of Gilbert, 576 U.S. 155, 163 (2015). A law can be content-based either because it draws "facial distinctions . . . defining regulated speech by particular subject matter" or because, though facially neutral, it "cannot be justified without reference to the content of the regulated speech." Id. at 163–64 (internal quotation marks omitted) (quoting Ward v. Rock Against Racism, 491 U.S. 781, 791 (1989)). In Riley v. Nat'l Federation of the Blind, 487 U.S. 781, 795 (1988), the Supreme Court held, "Mandating speech that a speaker would not otherwise make necessarily alters the content of the speech. We therefore consider the [disclosure requirement] as a content-based regulation of speech."

Importantly, "[l]aws that are content neutral are . . . subject to lesser scrutiny" than strict scrutiny. Reed, 576 U.S. at 172.

As in Riley, the Court finds that SB 774, which mandates speech (the disclosure of information) the speakers would not otherwise make, alters the content of their speech and is, therefore, a content-based government regulation of speech subject to higher scrutiny than content-neutral speech.

Content-based compelled speech regulations are, ordinarily, subject to a standard of scrutiny more demanding than rational basis and intermediate scrutiny. As Defendants point out, there is a substantial body of Supreme Court precedent dictating that disclaimer and disclosure requirements are subject to exacting scrutiny. Notably, a review of cases applying the strict scrutiny and exacting scrutiny standards reveals that a content-based regulation compelling speech that fails to pass constitutional muster under exacting scrutiny necessarily fails strict scrutiny. See, e.g., Americans for Prosperity Found. v. Bonta, 594 U.S. 595, 622 (2021) (Alito and Gorsuch, J. concurring). Because the parties dispute the applicable level of scrutiny, the Court briefly discusses the two levels of scrutiny at issue below.

Strict scrutiny, which has historically been applied to the analysis of laws compelling content-based speech, "requires the Government to prove that the [regulation] furthers a compelling interest and is narrowly tailored to achieve that interest." Reed, 576 U.S. at 171. However, as noted above, the Supreme Court has enunciated a different standard in cases involving compelled disclosures of information. For example, in Citizens United v. Federal Election Commission, 558 U.S. 310, 366–67 (2010), the Supreme Court expressed that disclaimer and disclosure requirements should be subject to exacting scrutiny, "which requires a 'substantial relation' between the disclosure requirement and a 'sufficiently important' governmental interest." (quoting Buckley v. Valeo, 424 U.S. 1, 64, 66 (1976)). In Janus v. American Federation of State, County, & Municipal Employees, Council 31, 585 U.S. 878, 894 (2018), the Court applied the exacting scrutiny standard in the context of compelled subsidization of private speech. As the Court explained, "Under 'exacting' scrutiny, . . . a compelled subsidy must 'serve a compelling state interest that cannot be achieved through'" significantly less restrictive means. Id. at 894 (quoting Knox v. Serv. Emps. Int'l Union, Loc. 1000, 567 U.S. 298, 310 (2012)). In doing so, the Court pointed out that this standard is "a less demanding test than the 'strict' scrutiny." Id. More recently, however, the Court recognized in Americans for Prosperity Foundation v. Bonta, that "while exacting scrutiny does not require that disclosure regimes be the least restrictive means of achieving their ends, it does require that they be narrowly tailored to the government's asserted interest." 594 U.S. at 608 (emphasis added).

While there does not appear to be any binding precedent dictating the correct standard to apply in the specific circumstances presented in this case, the undersigned finds that the circumstances presented here fall within the body of cases in which the Supreme Court has consistently applied the exacting scrutiny standard—that is, cases involving the compelled disclosure of information. Nevertheless, because the Court finds that the law at issue here satisfies neither standard, this Court need not decide which one applies. The exacting scrutiny test is the less burdensome of the tests, and, as Justices Alito and Gorsuch observed in their concurring opinion in Bonta, if the law fails to pass muster under the exacting scrutiny test, it necessarily fails under strict scrutiny. Id. at 622. Therefore, this Court will apply exacting scrutiny to the analysis of SB 774.

Importantly, to satisfy exacting scrutiny, the government must "demonstrate its need . . . in light of any less intrusive alternatives" and is not "free to enforce any disclosure regime that furthers its interests." Id. at 613. Further, "the Supreme Court has held that a governmental entity bears the evidentiary burden of demonstrating that it 'seriously undertook to address the problem with less intrusive tools readily available to it.'" Messina, 546 F. Supp. at 1251 (quoting McCullen v. Coakley, 573 U.S. 464, 494 (2014)). In other words, the government cannot demonstrate it seriously undertook to address the compelling interest by way of less intrusive means without first considering those less intrusive means. The government can satisfy this burden by pointing to the legislative record where it undertook the consideration of less intrusive means—i.e., by pointing to evidence that "it investigated, studied, or even solicited reports on the issue." Messina, 546 F. Supp. 3d at 1251.

Applying the exacting scrutiny standard, this Court thus considers whether SB 774 is substantially related to a compelling state interest, which, as discussed above, requires the State to demonstrate that it considered whether there were less intrusive means available to achieve those state interests.

3. Whether Plaintiffs Have Demonstrated A Substantial Likelihood of Success On The Merits Of Their Claim That SB 774 Fails Exacting Scrutiny.

The Court now turns to the question of whether Plaintiffs have clearly established a substantial likelihood of success on their claim that SB 774 does not survive exacting scrutiny.

a. Compelling Government Interests.

Initially, the Court notes that, as discussed above, the parties agree that SB 774's goals of deterring corruption, increasing transparency and public trust in government, and avoiding conflicts of interest all constitute compelling state interests. The Court agrees that these interests constitute compelling interests, and, in fact, these interests justified the need for the Sunshine Amendment nearly fifty years ago. While these interests remain no less compelling now, it is not clear from the record before the Court that these interests compel a change to increased disclosure requirements for Plaintiffs. In any event, this Court is satisfied that compelling government interests are at stake.

b. Consideration Of Less Intrusive Alternatives To Address The Government Interests At Stake.

The next part of the exacting scrutiny inquiry is the determination of whether Defendants have demonstrated that they seriously undertook to address the compelling government interests advanced by SB 774's Form 6 disclosure requirement by less intrusive means. Phrased differently, the Court considers whether Defendants have justified the need for SB 774's new, more comprehensive Form 6 disclosure requirements for municipal elected officials and candidates and have even considered whether the use of the less intrusive Form 1 requirement previously in place (or any other less burdensome requirement) is inadequate. To prevail here, Defendants need to point to where in the legislative record it is evident that the State seriously undertook consideration of less intrusive alternatives. See Sable Commc'ns of California, Inc. v. F.C.C., 492 U.S. 115, 129 (1989) (the legislative record must include sufficient findings to justify the court's conclusion that there are no acceptable less restrictive means to achieve the compelling government interests at stake). After a thorough and careful consideration of the record, this Court concludes that Defendants have failed to establish that the State seriously undertook the consideration of less intrusive means to address the identified interests.

Defendants have not demonstrated the need for SB 774's heightened disclosure requirements for municipal elected officials and candidates by showing, for example, that the disclosure requirements previously in place (Form 1) were not adequate. This conclusion is borne out by the absence of any evidence, data, or studies in the legislative record indicating that Form 1's disclosure requirements were inadequate to address the compelling interests at stake here (deterring corruption and conflicts of interest, bolstering public confidence in state government, and educating the public). At the April 22 evidentiary hearing, the Court expressly directed Defendants to supplement the Court record with evidence that the State considered other means to address the identified issues. In their Supplemental Brief, Defendants provide no such evidence.

So too, this Court's review of the various Committee meeting notes and Analyses and transcripts of hearings and debates in the Florida Senate and House of Representatives revealed none. The Analyses, while detailed and thorough, lack any evidence of a justification or reason for the change from Form 1 to Form 6 and lack any evidence that a less intrusive alternative was seriously considered. To the contrary, it is not at all clear from the legislative record that anyone had determined that Form 1 was not adequately addressing the State interests or, if it was not, that anyone gave any serious consideration to whether a less intrusive alternative to Form 6 might address the State's concerns.

The legislative record reveals that the justifications behind SB 774's enactment are that it conforms the financial disclosure requirements of municipal elected officials and candidates to the disclosure requirements of elected state constitutional officers and that the more rigorous disclosure requirements have been requested by the COE for "many years." Ex. J17 at 2:5–11, 6:15–21; see also Ex. J19(b) at 2:17–25, 3:10–15. What it does not show is that the law was necessary or substantially related to the interests at stake. And, although raised, less intrusive alternatives were summarily, and without explanation, shot down in favor of SB 774's brightline standard for all municipal elected officials and candidates. See Ex. J17 at 16:1– 5; Ex. J18 at 8:10–13, 20–21, 8:23–25, 9:1–3. As Plaintiffs correctly point out, the COE's Annual Reports are also devoid of empirical data or evidence suggesting that the COE investigated, studied, or solicited reports regarding the need for the Form 6 disclosure requirements for these municipal officials. Even if it were true that complaints against public officials are on the rise, this does not serve as evidence that SB 774's comprehensive disclosure requirements are substantially related to those complaints or that a less burdensome measure could not be used to address these concerns.

Thus, this Court is not satisfied that Defendants have identified any part of the record that demonstrates that they seriously undertook to address the compelling government interests advanced by SB 774's Form 6 disclosure requirement by less intrusive means.

c. History, Substantial Consensus, and Common Sense.

Defendants rely on the Burson opinion for the proposition that "history, [] substantial consensus, and simple common sense," 504 U.S. at 211, sufficiently demonstrate that SB 774 is necessary to serve legitimate and substantial state interests. Defendants' reliance on Burson is misplaced. The issue before this Court is not whether the State of Florida is justified in requiring public officials to comply with financial disclosure requirements. Plaintiffs do not dispute that it is. Indeed, history, substantial consensus, and common sense all dictate that financial disclosure requirements for public officials are justified and necessary. Florida's Sunshine Amendment has been in place since 1976, and Plaintiffs are not suggesting that the law is not warranted or justified. This Court finds, therefore, that Burson does not excuse the State from justifying the changes put in place by SB 774.

Instead, the issue now before this Court is whether the change effected by SB 774, requiring municipal officials to file Form 6 after more than forty years of filing Form 1, is substantially related to the compelling interests identified by the State. The record before this Court does not demonstrate that any change to the disclosure requirements for municipal officials is necessary at all, much less that the highly intrusive level of change effected by SB 774 was necessary when less alternative means were not even considered. See Bonta, 594 U.S. at 609 (quoting Shelton v. Tucker, 364 U.S. 479, 488 (1960)). As stated above, Defendants have not demonstrated a relationship between the interest of protecting against the abuse of the public trust and SB 774's fulsome financial disclosure requirements, and history does not support or justify the need for requiring municipal elected officials and candidates to comply with the Form 6 requirements when Form 1, a less intrusive method, is available and has not been shown to be ineffective or inadequate.

Accordingly, for the reasons stated above, the undersigned finds that Plaintiffs have demonstrated a reasonable likelihood that they will succeed on the merits of their claim.

B. Whether Plaintiffs Will Suffer Irreparable Harm.

Defendants contend that Plaintiffs fail to demonstrate a substantial threat of irreparable injury because SB 774 provides for a 60-day grace period to file Form 6 before penalties are imposed. In so arguing, Defendants ignore precedent, cited by Plaintiffs, holding that "[t]he loss of First Amendment freedoms, for even minimal periods of time, unquestionably constitutes irreparable injury." KH Outdoor, LLC v. City of Trussville, 458 F.3d 1261, 1271–72 (11th Cir. 2006) (quoting Elrod v. Burs, 427 U.S. 347, 373 (1976)).

Based on this precedent, this Court finds that because SB 774's Form 6 disclosure requirements on municipal elected officials and candidates likely unconstitutionally compels content-based speech, continued enforcement, for even minimal periods of time, constitutes a per se irreparable injury. The Court also finds unpersuasive Defendant's argument that the grace period before penalties are imposed somehow means Plaintiffs are not harmed by the law in light of the fact they are already required to comply with the law. As Defendants point out, at least 127 officials have already done so. In fact, the record shows that the law has already had a chilling effect on officials in municipal office, as evidenced by the approximately 125 resignations between the enactment of SB 774 and its effective date. See ECF No. 19 at 5.

Therefore, this Court finds that Plaintiffs have demonstrated that they will suffer irreparable harm if an injunction is not granted.

C. Whether The Threatened Injury Outweighs The Potential Harm From An Injunction And Whether An Injunction Serves The Public Interest.

As stated above, when the government opposes the issuance of a preliminary injunction, the third and fourth requisites for injunctive relief merge. See Otto, 981 F.3d at 870; see also Messina, 546 F. Supp. 3d at 1254. Thus, "a temporary infringement of First Amendment rights 'constitutes a serious and substantial injury,' whereas 'the public, when the state is a party asserting harm, has no interest in enforcing an unconstitutional law.'" Messina, 546 F. Supp. 3d at 1253–54 (quoting Scott v. Roberts, 612 F.3d 1279, 1297 (11th Cir. 2010)). The Court agrees with Plaintiffs that, in light of the recent resignations of numerous municipal officials affected by SB 774, it is crucial to prioritize the public interest by ensuring that SB 774's ongoing existence and enforcement not unnecessarily discourage more people from serving in government roles. Defendants offer little to rebut the showing of irreparable harm from the enforcement of SB 774. Their argument that an injunction will upset the status quo is unavailing, as Plaintiffs contend, because the status quo is the forty years preceding the enactment of SB 774 rather than the five months since it went into effect.

Accordingly, Plaintiffs have also met the third and fourth requirements for injunctive relief. The Court finds Plaintiffs have clearly established their burden of persuasion as to the four requisites for injunctive relief.

D. The Appropriate Scope Of The Injunction.

Having determined that an injunction is warranted, the Court next considers the appropriate scope of the injunction. Although Defendants argue that Plaintiffs' Motion for Preliminary Injunction should be denied altogether, they contend, in the alternative, that "[i]njunctive relief should be limited in scope to the extent necessary to protect the interests of the parties." Resp. at 13 (quoting Keener v. Convergys Corp., 342 F.3d 1264, 1269 (11th Cir. 2003); and citing Thomas v. Bryant, 614 F.3d 1288, 1317–18 (11th Cir. 2010)). Defendants also point to the decision in Garcia v. Executive Director, Florida Commission on Ethics, No. 23-12663, ECF No. 36 (11th Cir. Nov. 30, 2023), in which the Eleventh Circuit recently stayed enforcement of a preliminary injunction order because the district court did not explain the need to extend the preliminary injunction beyond the single plaintiff in that case.

In their Reply, Plaintiffs respond that the injunction should apply statewide because SB 774 compels all municipal officials throughout the State to file a Form 6 and the unconstitutionality of the law is not dependent on facts unique to Plaintiffs. Reply at 11 n.8 (citing Rodgers v. Bryant, 942 F.3d 451, 457–58 (8th Cir. 2019)).

Initially, this Court observes that Keener is not determinative of the issue before it, at least insofar as Defendants rely on it to prevent a statewide injunction. In Keener, the Eleventh Circuit reversed the district court's injunction only to the extent it applied nationwide but affirmed the injunction to the extent it applied statewide. See 342 F.3d at 1269. Likewise, the Garcia decision offers little support for Defendants because in that case, there was only one Plaintiff and, as the Eleventh Circuit pointed out, the district court did not explain why the injunction should apply statewide. Garcia, No. 23-12663, ECF No. 36 at 2–3.

"Crafting a preliminary injunction is an exercise of discretion and judgment, often dependent as much on the equities of a given case as the substance of the legal issues it presents." Trump v. Int'l Refugee Assist. Project, 582 U.S. 571, 579 (2017). This Court is mindful of the "national conversation taking place in both the legal academy and the judiciary concerning the propriety of courts using universal injunctions as a matter of preliminary relief," recognized by my colleague in the Southern District of Florida in weighing the propriety of a statewide preliminary injunction. See Farmworker Ass'n of Fla., Inc. v. Moody, No. 23-CV-22655 (S.D. Fla. May 22, 2024), ECF No. 101 at 1 (Altman, J.) (quoting Walls v. Sanders, No. 4:24-CV-00270-LPR, 2024 WL 2127044, at *22 (E.D. Ark. May 7, 2024)).

Under the circumstances presented in the instant case, this Court finds that statewide injunctive relief is warranted. As Plaintiffs point out, the law requires compliance by all municipal officials throughout the State, regardless of their specific circumstances. Moreover, a preliminary injunction limited only to the Plaintiffs who have joined this case so far would engender needless follow-on litigation. Because the injunction is not based on facts limited to Plaintiffs' circumstances, all of the other municipal officials subject to this law will be able to file near-identical suits to obtain the same relief. See, e.g., Koe v. Noggle, 688 F. Supp. 3d 1321 (N.D. Ga. 2023) (refusing to grant an injunction only as to the plaintiffs because, "if a plaintiffs-only injunction issued, follow-on suits by similarly situated non-plaintiffs based on this [c]ourt's order could create needless and 'repetitious' litigation," and because "affording [p]laintiffs complete relief without a facial injunction would be, at best, very burdensome for [p]laintiffs and the [c]ourt [and,] [a]t worst, . . . practically unworkable"). This reality is readily apparent from the fact that Plaintiffs have already amended the Complaint in this case three times to add additional plaintiffs. And, as noted above, Defendants offer no persuasive authority for why statewide application of the injunction is not appropriate in this case.

For the reasons set forth above, this Court finds that statewide application of the injunction is appropriate.

E. Whether Plaintiffs Must Post an Injunction Bond.

Plaintiffs submit that they should not be required to post an injunction bond because "public interest litigation is a recognized exception to the bond requirement." Mot. at 20 (quoting Vigue, 2019 WL 1993551 at *3). Defendants offer no contrary authority. The Court agrees that "public-interest litigation [constitutes] an area in which the courts have recognized an exception to the Rule 65 security requirement." City of Atlanta v. Metro. Atlanta Rapid Transit Auth., 636 F.2d 1084, 1094 (5th Cir. 1981). Therefore, under the circumstances presented here, the bond requirement should and will be waived.

CONCLUSION

In sum, a review of the record reflects that the State enacted SB 774 without giving serious consideration to whether the government interests at stake could be addressed through less burdensome alternative means. It is not apparent from the record that a change from the Form 1 requirement to the Form 6 requirement was necessary nor that SB 774 is substantially related to the State's identified interests.

For the reasons set forth herein, the Court finds that Plaintiffs have satisfied their burden of establishing a reasonable likelihood of success on the merits of their claim that SB 774, as applied to them, impermissibly compels content-based speech in violation of the First Amendment. Therefore, Plaintiffs are entitled to an injunction enjoining enforcement of SB 774.

Accordingly, it is hereby

ORDERED AND ADJUDGED as follows:

1. Plaintiffs' Expedited Motion for Preliminary Injunction [ECF No. 10] is GRANTED.
2. SB 774 is PRELIMINARILY ENJOINED.
3. The posting of a bond is not required for enforcement of the relief herein.
4. Defendants must take no steps to enforce SB 774 unless otherwise ordered. This preliminary injunction binds Defendants and their officers, agents, servants, employees, and attorneys—and others in active concert or participation with them—who receive actual notice of this injunction by personal service or otherwise.

DONE AND ORDERED in the Southern District of Florida, this 10th day of June, 2024.
