2. Discussion on the 2022 Comprehensive Land Use Plan Survey results and Plan Review.

Mr. Chambers provided an overview of the survey and a discussion ensued regarding the results. He explained the first step of an update is gathering community feedback, which was achieved through the community survey. He stated most questions in the 2022 survey closely mirrored those in the 2016 survey so that potential changes in community input could be tracked.

He stated the preliminary analysis of the survey data indicated that 79.49% of respondents agree with the Comprehensive Land Use Plan in its current state and, other responses further reinforced the current plan's rural density and country feel much as it did in the 2016 survey.

Mr. Chambers explained staff completed a first review of the Plan and highlighted areas that need specific attention, such as those items that relate to updating dates, demographics, or changes in state law.

He asked the Commission to review Section 2, Goals and Objections, between now and the next meeting and to be prepared to review at that time.
