1. Listening Project Update

CTAC Executive Director Marsha Kiner gave a slide presentation about the Children's Trust recent listening project. The planning began in August 2022. A consulting firm, Prismatic Services, was hired and the process started in October. We listened to the community through interviews, surveys, focus groups, and community meetings. We were sure to include key informants such as staff, partners, providers, youth, parents, and caregivers; we exceeded our goal of more than 1,000 participants. Analysis of the results began in January 2023, and earlier this month, we were able to share the results. We identified a number of necessary services and resources, and Prismatic recommended several priority issues for continual strategic planning. They felt we needed to address the transportation divide in rural communities, seek opportunities to incubate new grassroots programs, and support community centers and sports. For our strategic planning process, they suggested we listen continually to our community members, communicate regularly, set measurable goals, and metrics of impact. Our Steering Committee will meet in May to identify funding priorities, strategies, metrics, and allocations to recommend to the CTAC Board.

As CTAC Board Member Cornell holds a seat on both the County Commission and the Children's Trust, he described his fellow commissioners as forward-thinking when it comes to serving children, and the CTAC members as experts that are second to none. He hopes both staffs can use the knowledge and outcomes from the listening project, as well as available financial resources to help Alachua County children and their families. Commissioner Vice Chair Alford started the discussion by asking about the LGBTQ children, as they weren't explicitly listed in the report. Member Labarta answered that making programs inclusive encompasses all children and expects programs to be sensitive and supportive to their unique needs. Vice Chair Alford mentioned that due to the current politics surrounding LGBTQ children and their experience in schools and programs, that the Trust be present and clear on this issue and ensure they are not precluded from the use of Trust funds. The topic of literacy was brought up by Vice Chair Alford asking if there could be an opportunity to provide pregnant and postnatal women with services so they could help with their children's literacy skills? Member Hardt confirmed that it would be easy to include a literacy screening during an OB visit, then refer patients to existing adult literacy programs. This would additionally help with health literacy skills for child safety.

Commissioner Chair Prizzia mentioned that during a recent joint BoCC/SBAC meeting, the boards agreed to create a Comprehensive Literacy Plan for Alachua County. She would like the Children's Trust to join this group to provide input and feedback in its development. She said that great things are happening in the community, such as United Way's Campaign for Grade-Level Reading, and the collaboration of UFLI (University of Florida's Literacy Institute) with the School District. However, due to the overall fragmentation and lack of comprehensive strategy, there is no real understanding of what programs and practices exist, and what people in the community need.

As this plan should include both children and adults in the community, the BoCC/CTAC boards discussed who should lead this planning process. Chair Prizzia asked Trust Member and Superintendent Andrew if the UFLI program was required at all Alachua County schools. He confirmed that it was available and that some teachers had undergone training, however it was not a required component of the curriculum. Member Hardt suggested collaborating with the Public Library system as they attend to both children's and adults' literacy needs. Commissioner Cornell reminded the group that at their previous meeting with SBAC, the School Board really stressed that they wanted to take the lead on this, therefore, the School Board should lead it. Chair Prizzia expressed that she didn't think that the School Board was the right place for this to be led, as their past efforts to push literacy have not produced sufficient results. A more comprehensive approach and commitment from all involved needs to take place. Member Andrew agreed on the need for a clearinghouse/convenor to bring the groups together, along with UF, Santa Fe College, and all of the county's smaller cities and towns. To succeed, we need everybody at the table, and we need all their resources, whether that's research, programs, curriculum, etc.

Trust Member Vice Chair Pinkoson added that a critical portion of this starts from age 0-5, we need to make sure the people at the table can influence both parents and children from birth to their start in the school system, so they are not starting behind. It's critical that we involve the parents and they're on board, or we're not going to see results. Trust Member Chair Certain expressed her discouragement that the use of UFLI was not required, and that the School District should not be let off the hook. Chair Certain said she thought the School Board has to lead this, and every single student in Alachua County should get the same curriculum that is research-based and has evidence behind it to show it works. Trust Member Cornell read the motion from the last BoCC/SBAC meeting – the motion was moved that BoCC staff work with the School Board, the Children's Trust, UF, and other stakeholders to develop and fund a comprehensive plan for literacy in Alachua County and bring back recommendations to the Board of County Commissioners. This comprehensive plan would be led by the School Board. This motion and a similar one made by SBAC passed unanimously by both boards. He explained that from the County Commission's perspective, their staff would work with CTAC, SBAC, UF, and other stakeholders to bring recommendations on how the BoCC could help with this community-wide plan. He said that all our goals are the same, increased literacy, which is a family-wide issue. He asked what resources each entity could provide.

Member Labarta agrees on the need for a convenor, but there are going to have to be lots of participants and each will have a responsibility, such as the ELC (Early Learning Coalition) for pre-school, the School District for K-12, the University with expertise on research-based practices for child and adult literacy. She suggests picking someone to lead who has a big enough table, the capacity to lead, keep records, but mostly a willingness on the part of the stakeholders to say this is what we have, this is what we don't have, where do we put the access to services that would help, where do we identify them (ex. OB office, home visit), and to map out what the services are at each level, and who can best provide them in a coordinated way. She suggested including the Community Foundation as they may have funders/donors who are willing to invest in this initiative and have the ability to convene. Chair Prizzia mentioned that Alachua County used to have a program called America Reads, funded by UF. This position would coordinate hundreds of volunteers/students with literacy training throughout the community at local afterschool and summer programs. When the funding was not renewed, the program was discontinued. She asked if the Children's Trust should convene, as they have the ability to connect beyond the school day and within the community.

Regarding the listening project documentation, Commissioner Wheeler asked if educators/teachers were included in the surveys. Member Cornell explained that the survey was sent through the school district to the schools. ED Kiner confirmed that it also went to the district PTA. Commissioner Wheeler expressed dismay that, as a special educator trained at UF with the proven method of precision teaching, the survey didn't explicitly target experienced teachers who have spent the time finding what works and what doesn't. Trust Member Twombly confirmed that the survey was available and open to all residents in Alachua County. Member Cornell reported that he received feedback from local mayors that the teachers did complete surveys. Member Labarta confirmed that the teacher's surveys weren't analyzed as a specific category, but perhaps the consultant could parse them out.

Vice Chair Pinkoson expressed that he was unsure if the Children's Trust has the infrastructure to act as convenor. He suspects that the time and effort that spearheading this group would require - organizing, communicating, scheduling, minutes - would detract from staff's current duties, and be better suited for a larger organization. He mentioned that the Trust could really use help with transportation.

Chair Prizzia reiterates that the Children's Trust is invited to the table for the Comprehensive Literacy Plan, and notes that there is a need to move forward sooner rather than later with the experts who understand literacy. She mentioned that the board also needs to understand literacy before making funding and policy decisions, therefore a training by UFLI could be useful to ensure best practice. Trust Member Snyder suggests the group look specifically at how best practices change over time, such as from age 0-3, age 3-5, age K-2, etc.

Motion made by Trust Member Cornell that CTAC staff work with the School Board, the Board of County Commissioners, UF, and other stakeholders to develop a comprehensive plan for literacy in Alachua County and bring back recommendations to the CTAC board. This comprehensive plan would be led by the School Board, Seconded by Vice Chair Pinkoson.

Member Snyder confirms this motion includes children and adults. Member Twombly reminds the board to consider peripheral issues going on with families that may be impacting literacy and to look at the whole child holistically.

Member Labarta suggested letting key people in the community, who are already doing the literacy work, lead this project and hire someone to coordinate a community-wide literacy plan and put together a scope of work, instead of the possible funders. She supports using CTAC's fund balance to invest in this effort. Member Cornell also supports that approach. Chair Certain suggests the possibility of using ESSER funding from the School Board.

Vice Chair Pinkoson makes a substitute motion to refer the concept of moving forward with a Literacy Council to CTAC ED Kiner. He asks for her input on structure and to come back to the CTAC board with recommendations, Seconded by Member Labarta.

Member Hardt asks if the library district will also provide financial support for this initiative. Member Cornell confirms that it will be discussed at their next meeting.

Member Cornell withdraws his motion.

Motion passes unanimously by voice vote.

Motion by Commissioner Vice Chair Alford, Second by Commissioner Cornell for the Board of County Commissioners to support, with financial resources, this effort to support a council and a position that would move forward with this comprehensive plan, up to $40,000.

Motion passes unanimously by voice vote.

2. Countywide Transportation Opportunities

Chair Prizzia noted that during the course of the Listening Project, the topic of transportation came up repeatedly. It's one of those root causes that really limit people's ability to do the things they need to do. She asked if there were specific requests or recommendations that came from the community in terms of what their needs are? Are there specific areas we could target? Member Hardt confirmed that it was the rural communities outside of greater Gainesville where a lot of this feedback was received. ED Kiner states the results of the surveys show that: 29% of Micanopy parents and caregivers stated that a lack of transportation was a challenge in getting good health care services for their children; and 39% of High Springs parents and caregivers stated that the transportation kept them from attending local activities. This was a recurring concern; while the school buses bring kids home, how do they get everywhere else, such as doctor's appointments. ED Kiner gave the example of bringing funded programs to the rural communities, such as mobile dental services, and afterschool programs, but can we additionally provide transportation or fund opportunities for programs in that area to have transportation?

Chair Prizzia shared that the City of Gainesville and the County have a joint planning body, called MTPO (metropolitan transportation planning organization) that meets to make plans and decisions about long-term transportation options in Alachua County. Commissioner Wheeler has previously mentioned that there is a real lack of transportation opportunities for our rural communities and small municipalities. At one point, Gainesville's RTS (Regional Transport Services) piloted new routes in these communities, which ran twice a day, without much success. Chair Prizzia noted that people need transportation on a more regular basis or an on-demand transportation solution. Commissioner Wheeler shared that she had requested, at a previous MTPO meeting, that RTS educate students about how to ride and how to stay safe on the buses. This was due to the fact that the school buses may often be running behind schedule because of the lack of drivers and the high demand, while the city buses are underutilized. However, this would just be useful for those within the city limits, and not the rest of the county.

Member Hardt shared that some businesses (such as a car dealership, hotels, rental companies, academic institutions) would pay for an on-demand Uber journey instead of providing a courtesy vehicle or member of staff to personally transport the customer. Could this model be used to transport kids on short journeys within a rural municipality?

Member Cornell mentions the possibility of the Children's Trust and the Board of County Commissioners have a meeting with the City of Gainesville regarding options on the RTS System. Currently, those that are under 18 or over 65 ride for free. The listening project suggested that if parents could ride for free with their children, the RTS system could be much better utilized. As drivers track usage, the costs could be reimbursed by the Children's Trust. Alternatively, they could simply make all bus fares free for all riders. Vice Chair Alford states that a very small percentage of the RTS budget comes from rider fares, Commissioner Cornell states it may be less than 4%. Vice Chair Alford also suggests that a fare-free system may qualify RTS for different types of federal funding. Commissioner Cornell offers to bring this up at the next MTPO meeting on behalf of the Trust. Chair Prizzia notes that even cutting fares would not provide help for the outer lying areas, new routes would have to be funded, they would have to be regular and direct, or it might not be a sustainable solution.

RTS Transit Director, Jesus Gomez joined the discussion. Member Cornell asked if the City had discussed parents riding with kids for free. Mr. Gomez confirms that it has been brought up, and the outstanding issue is funding. Chair Certain asks the approximate costs of the different age groups. Mr. Gomez states that it costs $130,000 for the riders under 18, those who are 18-65 are currently contributing $560,000, and riders over 65 cost $100,000. To make the buses free for all riders (the gap of 18-65) would cost at least $560,000 annually. While the under 18 program is working well and provided 200,000 free rides this past year, all of the RTS programs are expected to be discussed during this year's budget process at the City Commission level.

Vice Chair Pinkoson commented and questioned that the discussion was just about parents riding for free with their children, and not the entire 18-65 gap. Chair Prizzia expressed that just reimbursing for parents may be problematic and that the buses should be free for all, or not. Chair Certain reiterated and agreed with Vice Chair Alford's idea that RTS could possibly qualify for federal grants if all fares were free. Chair Prizzia asked about a previous RTS program called Last Mile/First Mile, a pilot launched in 2019 which aimed to collect passengers in the vicinity of an established route – this was meant to keep customers from walking more than ¼ mile to their nearest local bus stop. While this program initially worked very well, some began abusing the system and booking the service for short trips around their community. Mr. Gomez reported that other agencies sponsor Ubers/Lyfts, for example, the City subsidizes Uber trips to/from a local senior center. Chair Prizzia asks if there could be a service of smaller vehicles, similar to the Last Mile/First Mile concept, specifically for neighborhood or community routes (ex. a jitney bus)?

Vice Chair Alford asks if there are private entities that provide this service, which we could have in addition to the RTS bus system? Member Labarta spoke about services from Kids on Wheels that would collect kids from school, take them to their afterschool activity, and then drive them home. The concept would be to take a private entity and provide them with more market share, more volume, and then scale up the services. Member Hardt asks if, for example, one could approach Kids on Wheels or a similar program, as they already have the infrastructure, vehicles, and drivers, and ask if they could add specific services and at what incremental cost.

Vice Chair Pinkoson suggested approaching the leadership in the small municipalities to ask if they know of any existing service or anyone who could create a similar service. Member Cornell suggests mentioning that we have programming happening in their areas (summer school, afterschool, etc.) and to ask if there is any transportation the city staff could assist with, and how much it would cost to help with some of these programs. Vice Chair Pinkoson suggested that the Trust ask these leaders at the next Alachua County League of Cities meeting, and then bring back some potential solutions and costs to the Trust board.

Motion made by Vice Chair Pinkoson that ED Kiner attend the next League of Cities meeting and bring up the transportation issue for our programs to see if there might be a solution or recommendations, Seconded by Member Cornell.

Motion passes unanimously by voice vote.

Vice Chair Alford informed the boards that the BoCC is currently working with the City of Gainesville on a joint master plan for pedestrian and bicycle facilities across the area. This would support child fitness as well as safety. She suggests involving the small cities throughout the county to see what their plans are around bicycle/pedestrian transportation. Chair Prizzia would like to bring this topic up at the next Wild Spaces Public Places meeting with the other communities and municipalities as this could provide an opportunity for the Trust and other funders to assist or subsidize the cost of bicycles or other items families might need.

3. Mental Health Partnership Opportunities with Crisis Center

Chair Prizzia began the discussion by expressing that the current mental health crisis is a major issue in our county's youth. She mentioned that the BoCC previously had a discussion with the SBAC and asked them to collaborate and partner with the Crisis Center to start exploring mental health support counseling for our youth. As it was an important part of the CTAC listening project, she asked if CTAC staff would also like to participate in the dialogue.

Member Labarta agreed that mental health was a concerning area in the listening project, she discussed the many facets and factors that need to be discussed and defined. Mental health can include early intervention, psycho-educational modalities, building resiliency, and building social, emotional, and learning skills. It could also refer to the need for serious counseling, medication, suicide prevention, among many others. There are lots of services in Alachua County, however they are not coordinated, and are increasingly fragmented. The approach needs clarity as to the preponderance of services needed in ages 0-5 vs. elementary school vs. middle and high school, they are potentially very different needs. She mentions trauma and abuse intervention, substance abuse, and the correlation with behavioral health, and a current and potential increase in the needs of LGBTQ youth.

Chair Prizzia reports that several teachers have contacted her regarding the behavioral and mental health challenges among their students, and that the existing mental health counselors have an increasing number of referrals and long waiting lists. Member Labarta confirms that the majority of the mental health centers in the state are currently having a hiring crisis and behavioral health centers nationally are running with 20%-40% vacancies. She also notes that different levels of care are needed, from psychiatrists, psychologists, licensed mental health professionals, and mentors. Peers can also be very helpful, for example, the Teen Mental Health First Aid programs. We need to understand what the needs are, who can best meet them, what level of staff are needed, and then move to a coordinated approach to funding it.

Vice Chair Alford asked Chair Certain what training the teachers get in respect to youth mental health. Chair Certain deferred the question to Member Andrew. He confirmed that there was a high level of compliance with the state-mandated Youth Mental Health First Aid course. Vice Chair Alford then asked about courses in anger management. Chair Certain asked Member Labarta if the Trust could fund a position to teach Teen Mental Health First Aid, she confirmed. Member Hardt mentioned that the Trust hasn't funded enough prevention programs, and perhaps this could be integrated into many of our age-appropriate programs, with the Trust funding the training instructor.

Motion made by CTAC Member Cornell, Seconded by Chair Certain, that CTAC staff get with the County staff to determine opportunities to collaborate and leverage funding to help provide more mental health services to kids 0-18, starting with grades 6th-12th which could include, but not be limited to, Youth Mental Health First Aid or a meta-program that provides training for Teen Mental Health First Aid.

Motion made by BoCC Commissioner Cornell, Seconded by Commissioner Wheeler, that County staff get with the CTAC staff to determine opportunities to collaborate and leverage funding to help provide more mental health services to kids 0-18, starting with grades 6th-12th which could include, but not be limited to, Youth Mental Health First Aid or a meta-program that provides training for Teen Mental Health First Aid.

Member Labarta reiterates the need for a better understanding of the different levels of mental health services needed. The BoCC has been in discussion with community support staff regarding different services currently offered, if and what federal funding may be available, and how to prioritize these programs. Commissioner Cornell suggests the County and CTAC staff coordinate the data from the listening project and work with SBAC on how the County can help at the individual school and principal level, discuss where the funding may be available, are there people to fill positions, and how to leverage other payers. Member Labarta mentioned that Medicaid is a payer of behavioral health care, and most of the kids in greatest need should be covered by Medicaid. Chair Certain asked what the challenges are to connect them to services. Member Labarta answered that first is transportation, and second, that it is hard to provide services within the school system as kids need the educational time. Parents have difficulty getting kids to the offices and clinics where they need to be. Chair Certain expressed that we must figure out how to provide services on a school campus, but outside of school hours. Member Labarta noted that not all behavioral issues are diagnosable mental illnesses, there are other behavioral interventions that may be effective.

Vice Chair Alford asked if there were any screenings for behavioral health issues in preschool. Member Labarta confirmed that there is a state requirement for EPSDT (Early and Periodic Screening, Diagnosis, and Treatment) screenings to be completed by pediatricians, however the compliance is very low. Trust Member Snyder discussed the required developmental screening required in VPK and school readiness programs. Those who exhibit additional concerns around social and emotional learning are further screened.

Motions pass unanimously by voice vote.

4. Finalize Ranking Priority Areas

The aim of this session was to finalize the funding area priorities and strategies. Members were asked to rank the 4 CTAC goals keeping in mind the data from the environmental scan, the results of the listening project, and their lived personal experiences.

CTAC Goals:

- All children are born healthy and remain healthy.
- All children can learn what they need to be successful.
- All children have nurturing, supportive caregivers, and relationships.
- All children live in a safe community.

Following small group discussions, Goals 1 and 3 were tied for the lead. Member Cornell asks if they could be combined into one as they are so intertwined. Member Snyder suggested the word 'youth' be added to all goals, as teenagers may not consider themselves children, and the new language would foster youth empowerment. Changing the four goals into three also ensures that each goal encompasses all children and youth aged 0-18.

The new goals would read:

- Children and youth are healthy and have nurturing caregivers.
- Children and youth learn what they need to be successful.
- Children and youth live in a safe community.

5. Allocation Distribution

Members broke into small groups of three with one board member, one staff member, and one community member. They were tasked to allocate a percentage of the program budget to each of the three new goals.

Consensus was reached that Goal 1 would be allocated 50%, Goal 2 would be allocated 35%, and Goal 3 would be allocated 10%. The remaining 5% would be used for community capacity-building and professional development.

The consultants will meet once more with CTAC staff, and then bring this information before the Trust Board at their 6.12.2023 Workshop on the Strategic Plan.

Review Strategic Plan

1. Review Strategic Plan

At the 2022 Board Retreat in February, the Board endorsed the creation of a Strategic Planning Steering Committee. The process would update the Trust's goals and priorities using readily available data and broad community input. The information gained would be used to develop a long-term funding strategy. Membership would include four board members, CTAC Executive Director, Community Engagement Coordinator, and four community representatives.

The Steering Committee kicked off their inaugural meeting in April 2022. They used consultants to conduct the Listening Project (Prismatic Services) and to lead the Strategic Planning process (Seek Higher Ground).

Consultants Nikki Martin-Bynum and Vashti Rutledge presented the final draft of the CTAC Strategic Plan to the board for discussion. The first major change announced was the reduction of CTAC's four overall goals into three goals. As Goal 1 and Goal 3 are so intertwined, they were merged into a new Goal 1. All the goals were updated to include the word 'youth' in addition to 'children', and the three new goals now cover the spectrum of ages from 0-18.

The board was then presented with the funding allocation information. The Steering Committee's recommendation is to fund each of the three goals with a percentage of the allocated program funding. Goal 1 at 50%, Goal 2 at 35%, Goal 3 at 10%, and the remaining 5% for capacity-building.

A few edits were made to the text including incorporating the word 'youth' in the CTAC's Vision and Guiding Principles language; adding the words 'and relationships' back into the language of Goal 1; changing the words 'Childcare Slots' to 'Equitable Participation in Quality Early Care and Education'; adding 'Services' into the first and second Focus/Approach boxes of the Goal 2 matrix, and a few other clerical corrections.

Member Hardt expressed the need for preventative programs related to child safety, perhaps as an overarching metaprogram which can be incorporated into all the Trust funded programs. The community input led to a significant increase in the allocation of safety funds for Goal 3. The board discussed the timeline for implementation of this plan and agreed it should be revisited periodically. They will vote to approve the Strategic Plan, with the above modifications, at the next board meeting.

Action Items

Implementation Guide:

- Breakdown the high-level plan into action items and work plans

Champions:

- Identify key staff, identify gaps in staff capacity

Develop Communications Plan:

- Identify your target audiences for plan buy-in and education
- Develop communications materials that succinctly share focus and goals

Monitor Progress:

- Plan to complete at least annual review to assess plan progress, delays

Opportunities

Community Engagement

- 💡 Messaging progress on the plan to partners, at minimum annually
- 💡 Create space and access for parents to provide feedback on plan progress
- 💡 Participatory Grantmaking

Convening

- 💡 Define its role as a “Convenor” - when will CTAC lead versus participate. To align with the plan’s commitment to participate strategically with system partners and community members for each goal, CTAC will need to review current staff capacity and possibly make adjustments.

Capacity Building

- 💡 Intentionally resourcing BIPOC-led organizations
- 💡 Intentionally resourcing grassroots and small organizations
- 💡 Investing in additional capacity building

Discussion

1. FY 2023 Fund Balance Finance Report

CTAC Director of Finance Diana Sanchez gave a comprehensive presentation on the current allocations in each of the Trust's financial accounts. She gave an analysis of the estimated remaining funds from last fiscal year's budget (October 1, 2022 – Sept 30, 2023) and the estimated expected funds the Trust will have available for the next fiscal year, starting October 1, 2023. These funds will include the estimated remaining funds and the expected ad valorem taxes and other incoming revenue. She then presented the FY 23-24 Tentative Budget, which includes all revenues and specifically assigned expenses. The unassigned funds are broken into three parts; 1. State policy requires a portion of these funds to be reserved for TRIM; 2. CTAC policy 2.4 requires the Trust to keep a minimum amount (2 months' expenses) for contingency; and 3. The remaining unallocated portion is the Fund Balance. The Board of the Trust can vote to add a portion of these funds into the budget or choose to save it for future contingencies.

2. Discussion of Fund Balance

Kristy Goldwire, Director of Program Operations, provided recommendations for use of a portion of the Fund Balance which will bridge the gap and transition the Trust into the new Strategic Plan for 2023-2026. This plan aims to provide a percentage of program funding toward each of the Trust's overall goals; 1. All children and youth are healthy and have nurturing caregivers and relationships (50%); 2. All children and youth can learn what they need to be successful (35%); and 3. All children and youth live in a safe community (10%).

Motion made by Member Cornell, Seconded by Vice Chair Pinkoson to authorize use of $2.5M of fund balance to pilot initiatives, to provide full year funding for mental health programs (Pace Center for Girls, PALS, and Child Advocacy Center), to increase funding for the Dolly Parton Imagination Library rural expansion, and to increase the afterschool funding allowance from $1M to $1.2M to expand services into Micanopy (Willie Mae Stokes Community Center).

Motion was unanimously approved by voice vote.

I noticed that you are looking for funding opportunities for this year and the coming year to benefit the children of alachua county. This school year 32 out of 50 alachua schools are eligible for the community eligibility provision for school meals. This means for those schools all children will have free breakfast and lunch provided regardless of their income without filling out eligibility paperwork. The remaining schools require each individual family to go through the complicated process to qualify for free or reduced price meals. Some families will still not be eligible for a variety of reasons but still can't afford meals meaning there will be lunch debt and potentially kids choosing not to eat for lack of funds. While the children's trust may not have the funds to make meals free for all at those 20 schools it should definitely be in their power to make sure no child or family should have the stigma of lunch debt because of their situation. We are one of the richest and most agriculturally productive nations in the world and no child should go hungry when the cafeteria is there the food is available and only the will is needed to make sure everyone can eat it.

7. 8.14.23 Board Meeting Evaluation - Survey Results

Summary of Board Meeting Evaluation Surveys

Per Board Policy 1.15, each meeting Board members will have the opportunity to evaluate the effectiveness and efficiency of meetings and provide suggestions on how to improve and best use time during Board meetings. The following is a summary of the input Board members provided for review by the Board, CTAC staff, and members of the public regarding the most recent Board meeting.

Date of Meeting:	August 14, 2023

Evaluation of Meeting Components:

Board members rate the effectiveness and efficiency of four meeting components from 1 to 4. A rating of 1 = “poor”, 2 = “fair”, 3 = “good”, and 4 = “excellent”. All meeting components received favorable ratings of either “good” or “excellent”. All meeting components - “Materials Provided”, “Meeting Facilitation”, “CTAC Staff” and “Presentations” received higher-than-average ratings. Positive feedback was received regarding the budget workshop and funding recommendations. Board members requested further information regarding the NewboRN Home Visiting Program and a final report on afterschool and summer programming.

August 14, 2023	3.75 ↑	4.00 ↑	3.88 ↑	3.88 ↑
Average Rating (Cumulative to Date)	3.69	3.80	3.81	3.76

¹ Eight Board members attended in-person or virtually on 8/14/2023, eight (8) of which completed a survey.

Materials Provided (The Board packet was received in a timely fashion and provided the information needed to prepare for the meeting)

Comments:

- Excellent job preparing for fund balance discussion and providing recommendations. (Cornell).
- My notebook came by USPS but was not delivered until Monday. Not sure why, but maybe needs to be sent as early as possible. I did not have to wait in line to get the mail, which was great, and much improved from FedEx. Hope it's cheaper too. (Hardt).
- Meeting/workshop 3.5 - ultimately with additional information 4.0. (Pinkoson).

Meeting Facilitation (The Chair ensured Board members and members of the public who wanted to speak had the opportunity to be heard)

Comments: None Received.

CTAC Staff (CTAC staff were knowledgeable on their agenda items and prepared to address questions, or provide a plan for follow-up)

Comments: None Received.

Finally, Board members can provide general comments on the meeting overall as well as topics they'd like to see addressed on future agendas. These comments are listed below.

General Comments:

- Tiny suggestion: Could we get a large binder clip at each meeting for our meeting materials after we remove them from the notebook? (Chance).
- Well done! (Cornell).
- Audio is great! Thanks for that. Only things I missed were when people did not use the mikes. I did not receive a notice of the workshop, so did not attend. Maybe I missed the notice, because I do not read my email every day and sometimes things get buried. I did have the 4pm meeting on my calendar. (Hardt).
- Good job with budget workshop prior to board meeting to better help us with future planning. (Twombly).

Items, Presentations, or other Information for future Board agendas:

- A final report on afterschool and summer programs in terms of the actual # of students each served. (Chance).
- Julie Moderie needs to answer our concerns. (Hardt).

This year, we unite in our call to end gun violence as we come together for Wear Orange. We honor the communities shattered by gun violence alongside the 120 people who are shot and killed, and hundreds more who are wounded, every day in our country. Together, we call for meaningful action to save lives. Our goal for this event is to bring awareness to our community, schools and families of those whose lives have been touch by gun violence. It is very important to have an open dialogue with our children and their parents, to provide resources that will keep our children focus on more positive actives and help prepare them to become positive role models to other youth in the county of Alachua and surrounding cities. We believed to accomplish this task we must have support from every member, business, and church to come together under one Circle of Common Purpose For Alachua to save our youth from gun violence. PLANNING, RESEARCH, AND EVALUATION

Data System – Implementing program specific features and functionality in our integrated information management system, SAMIS. Facilitated provider pilot testing on 8/24/2023. This allowed for a small group of providers to have a hands-on opportunity to see, explore, and give feedback on the system. Reviewed login, data security, user agreement, data policy, user management, permissions, adding participants, attendance, monthly reports, and documents. Continued coordination of meetings with the SAMIS software developer, FACCT collaborative, and CTAC staff internally. Met with the Alachua County IT Department to review and discuss SAMIS and receive their advice on security and software implementation.

Program Evaluation – Review of data and preparation for analysis for all programs as they have finished services for the year (e.g., afterschool, summer camps, Head Start summer bridge, TeensWork Alachua, Midnight Basketball, Freedom School). Begin end of year reporting and provider reflection process for FY2023 close out. Review, revise, and define performance measures for FY2024.

SUCCESS STORIES

New Technology Made Simple Now, Inc.

The NTN 3D Story Making program has been presented to a wide range of different aged students in the same physical environment in what at times has been an approximation of the one room schoolhouse setting. In one such presentation, a young student who struggled with reading, and who isolated themselves at the beginning of the program, was fascinated by the Augmented Reality program on the iPads others were using. Peers noticed this interest and included this student in their progress through the story and helped them read the prompts. After that, this student participated in the entire program. As one of the instructors was leaving, this student said they were going to write a book in their "personal journal" at home.

A. Overview of Solicitation

By approval of Resolution 2023-10 on July 10, 2023, The Children’s Trust of Alachua County seeks applications for funding to implement and deliver Youth Mentoring Programs to elementary, middle school, or high school age youth living in Alachua County. This program furthers CTAC Goal 3: All children and youth live in a safe community. Mentoring is often one component of a program that involves character building elements, such as life skills, training and coaching. Funds will be provided to support mentoring programs for one year, with the possibility of a contract renewal based on the availability of funds approved by the CTAC board, as well as successful implementation of the program. There is a strong focus on utilizing research informed programs, best practices, and standards. These funding opportunities will also allow for some “grassroots” programs to build their capacity. Funded organizations will recruit, train, screen, support, and supervise individual adult mentors, who will be matched with youth.

The CTAC intends to award up to $500,000 for youth mentoring programs, up to $75,000 per organization. This procurement will focus on establishing multiple contracts with providers to implement new mentoring programs or expand or enhance existing youth mentoring programs.

Successful applicants will be required to enter a contract with the CTAC for the services requested in this RFP within two weeks of funding announcement. Organizations submitting a proposal must be prepared to use the CTAC’s standard contract form rather than its own contract form. A Model Contract for Services is attached to this RFP. The CTAC intends to award a contract substantially in the form of the attached Model Services Contract to the selected contractors.

B. Term of Services

Successful applicants will be awarded Youth Mentoring Program only contracts with anticipated service dates of October 1, 2023, through September 30, 2024. Contracts will be line-item reimbursement based on a budget approved by the CTAC. The CTAC Board will make a final decision regarding contract renewals.

C. Minimum Requirements to Bid

Organizations can apply for funding based on the following requirements:

- a. Must be currently qualified to conduct business in the State of Florida.
- b. Must have experience working with youth in out-of-school time.
- c. Must offer mentoring services to youth currently enrolled in elementary, middle school, or high school, living in Alachua County.
- d. Must offer one-to-one and group mentoring sessions.
- e. Must comply with Level 2 background screening and fingerprinting for all staff and mentors.
- f. Must have at least 1 year of experience offering youth mentoring services with elements of character-building activities.

D. Scope of Service

CTAC seeks to expand access to youth mentoring programs with character-building activities that creates supportive long-term relationships with caring adults and positively impacts youth living in Alachua County. Successful applicants should focus on supporting pressing community needs, that provide services leveraging best practices, or evidence-based frameworks, that are collaborative and integrated mentoring support programs with outcomes to reduce juvenile delinquency, truancy, substance abuse, victimization, and other high-risk behaviors. Funded youth mentoring programs will be supported by a program supervisor to provide oversight to the mentors and mentees recruited for the program.

Contractors will need to indicate the evidence-based model they intend to implement, describe the model and it will be used for their program. Otherwise, Contractors using a practice-based approach will need to explain how the program will be implemented and result in the desired outcomes for participants. In both cases, Contractors draw on relevant research and theory, illustrating the validity of the program design, as well as, how the services align with local needs. Item 13.

While no universal definition exists for the term “evidence-based program”, resources are available highlighting programs and practices that demonstrate, through rigorous and credible research, achievement of positive results for youth in mentoring programs.

Program Requirements:

- One-To-One mentoring component will need to be consistent and reliable to ensure trusting rapport is built between mentor and mentee, to build social skills, life skills, and positive self-image¹. Set schedules are to be in place to allow some flexibility so that mentors and mentees can identify dates and times that work well for their schedules. Note: Recommended practice for one-to-one mentor and mentee contacts consist of an average of once a week and for a total of four hours or more per month over the course of the relationship². Applicants for this RFP should strive for twice a month in person, one-to-one meetings³.
- Group Sessions will serve as an opportunity to engage youth and adult mentors in character- building activities that allow mentors and mentees to get to know and socialize with one another. Group activities should be culturally competent. Through the support of caring adults and peer role models, these activities should allow youth participants to practice skills that build self-esteem, opportunities to be successful, skills to respond to bullying and can include outdoor activities, health, and wellness activities.
- Stipends The Contractor must describe how stipends will be provided to mentors. For example, a stipend may be used to cover the cost of taking the mentee to a museum. This must include how much and for what types of activities or events or other reasons that stipends will be provided within the justification section of the attached budget forms.

Item 13.

- Emergency and Crisis Intervention Services: The Contractor will develop policy and procedures to ensure that all paid and unpaid staff will be trained on DCF mandatory reporting to include all contact information, during and after program hours, for Alachua County emergency services.
- Transportation: Transportation of the mentees will be restricted to vehicles operated by properly licensed individuals and properly insured vehicles. The Contractor will have on file a copy of the mentor's driver's license and insurance policy covering vehicle and the results of the DMV checks. The Contractor is expected to conduct annual DMV checks.

Collaboration

It is expected that CTAC funded providers will demonstrate effective partnerships with collaborative services that would contribute to positive experiences for youth. CTAC is also devoted to supporting collaborative partnerships by expanding its Youth Development Capacity Building Collaborative (YDCBC) and offering training and workshops to providers and the youth they serve. Contractors are expected to send staff to training opportunities offered by the CTAC.

The CTAC Board is also making final decisions regarding priority areas. Award recipients of this mentoring RFP must allow CTAC funded partners to address different enrichment topics with enrolled youth. Topics could include but are not limited to health, cultural arts, and safety, etc.

Target Population

Contractors will provide mentoring and character-building services to youth enrolled in elementary, middle, or high school. All youth served must be Alachua County residents. Youth must demonstrate a need for long-term and routine mentoring to improve social, behavioral, academic, or emotional well-being.

Service Locations

The CTAC expects to fund youth mentoring programs throughout Alachua County.

Staffing & Mentors:

- Background Screening: All staff and mentors working in CTAC funded mentoring programs must comply with Level 2 background screening and fingerprinting. The program must maintain staff personnel and mentor files which reflect that a screening result was received and reviewed to determine employment eligibility prior to employment. An Affidavit of Good Moral Character must be completed prior to hire for each employee, mentor, volunteer, and subcontracted personnel who work in direct contact with children. Program providers will be required to re-screen each employee, mentor, volunteer and/or subcontractor every five (5) years.

Note: In the event that a staff member is disqualified, due to an ineligible background screen, they may request an exemption from disqualification by completing an Intent to Apply for Exemption from Disqualification.
<https://www.myflfamilies.com/services/background-screening/apply-exemption-disqualification>

- Mentor recruitment: Identifying the characteristics of the mentor-mentee should be considered during the matching process to ensure sustained relationships. Programs are to have reliable screening practices to protect mentees. It is important that both mentor and mentee have a clear understanding of the program expectations.

Item 13.

- Best Practices: Include the length of the relationship between mentor and mentee, the needs of the mentee, the frequency of the interaction, the quality of the relationship between mentor and mentee, and the organization and structure of the program. Continuous ongoing support for mentors is an essential resource of support to help address challenges they may face during the mentoring relationship. It is also important that the needs of the youth recruited for the program match the services that the program provides.
- Training: Successful programs will ensure prospective mentors, mentees, and their parents or caregivers have the basic knowledge, attitudes, and skills needed to build a safe and effective relationship. Pre-match training builds self-efficacy of mentors, preparing them with training in safety, ethics, risk-management, and relationship building. Training of mentors has implications for the length of match relationship as well as both parties' perceptions of the quality of the relationship. Research has demonstrated less than two hours of pre-match training has resulted in mentors who report less closeness, spent less time, and were less likely to continue their relationship with their mentees⁴.
- Positions: All Contractors must identify one program supervisor to administer the program. This individual will serve as the primary contact for CTAC in all matters related to the youth mentoring program. A minimum, the program supervisor will be responsible for managing and implementing the program as described in the project plan to ensure that the Contractor meets its responsibilities to CTAC under the contract promptly.
- Ratio: 1 to 1 for individual mentoring, and 3 mentors for every 10 mentees for groups sessions.

Data Collection:

All funded entities will be required to collect and report on the data specified. The Trust recognizes the importance of data security and technology resources required to operate effectively and provide accurate reporting on outcomes. The Trust is in the process of transitioning to an online integrated data system, SAMIS, which the Contractor will input data. With any new system challenges are expected. The CTAC is devoted to working with Contractors and allowing for due date extensions for entering data, as needed. Weekly entry is a best practice, but monthly data entry is required to receive payment for services. Contractors will report identifiable child information (e.g., name, date of birth) to facilitate receipt of on-going services, monitoring, and evaluation of outcomes overtime. All individuals who collect participant data, specifically that which contains personally identifying information (PII), are required to take measures to protect and secure it consistent with its Data Collection and Management Policy. Contractors are expected to attend all training related to data collection, data system access, and appropriate system usage.

Performance Measures:

Performance measurement allows for learning how well a program is doing at providing services as well as tracking improvement in the lives for children and families. The Trust uses Results Based Accountability framework, which defines three types of performance measures: Quantity (how much?), Quality (how well?), and Impact, as measured by changes in skills, attitudes, behavior, and circumstances (is anyone better off?).

F. Review and Selection Process

The following is a general description of the process by which a contractor will be selected for award of a contract to perform the services described in this RFP:

1. Request for Proposals (RFP) is released to prospective contractors.
2. To help ensure that all prospective contractors are treated consistently during the selection process, all questions regarding this RFP, as well as CTAC's responses to the questions will be posted on CTAC's website. A deadline for the receipt of written questions has been established. (See the cover sheet of this RFP for deadline date.) Persons or entities who intend to respond to such RFP by submission of a competitive proposal may wish to pose questions, objections, or requests for information, request clarification or for an interpretation regarding terms, provisions, or requirements of the RFP. In this event, prospective contractor shall not attempt to communicate in writing, electronically or orally with any CTAC official or employee other than the CTAC employee designated as the Project Manager. The Project Manager may be reached at their email address on the RFP cover page. Prospective contractor shall not contact any other CTAC officials in an attempt to gather information regarding this RFP, or in an attempt to influence the CTAC's consideration of its proposal. All inappropriate communications with CTAC officials or employees will be forwarded to the CTAC Project Manager as well as the proposal evaluation team. Inappropriate communications by a prospective contractor may, at the discretion of the Project Manager, constitute grounds for disqualification of that prospective contractor's proposal. Alternatively, the evaluation team may, at its discretion, consider such inappropriate communications when evaluating and scoring proposals.

3. All proposals must be received by CTAC no later than the date and time specified on the cover sheet of this RFP. Late proposals will not be accepted and will not be reviewed.
4. The CTAC's Program Department will take the following actions to determine the merits of the proposals and ensure the Contractor meets the mandatory qualifications to bid:
 - a. Review the proposals to determine whether they are responsive to the RFP and that they were submitted by responsible companies. Definitions for the terms "responsible" and "responsive" are provided below:
 - b. Responsible contractors are those contractors that meet CTAC's standards with respect to a reasonable expectation that the contractor has the management, technical, financial, equipment and human resources available to ensure adequate performance of the work described in the solicitation. To be considered responsible, contractors shall also be free of past instances of the material breach of a CTAC contract, free of a conviction (or convictions) for bribery, fraud, conflict of interest, violation of environmental laws, or for convictions for other crimes reflecting poorly on the contractor's integrity, for the last five years. Contractors that fail to meet the minimum qualifications stated in the solicitation or that have, in the past three years, been debarred or suspended or had a contract terminated for default by any government agency are also determined to be not responsible.
 - c. Responsive proposals are those proposals that satisfactorily address all requirements specified in the RFP. Because proposals, unlike bids, are subject to negotiation, certain omissions or variances may be resolved through negotiations to make the proposal responsive. An example of an omission or variance that can be resolved is a proposed period of performance that does not result in completion of the work within the required timeframe. If negotiation with the contractor results in an adjustment to the period of performance matching the required timeframe, the proposal then may be deemed to be responsive.
 - d. Should it be determined that changes are required to the solicitation provisions or any other changes need to be made that might affect the proposed prices of other features of the proposals, all responsible companies, or all the responsible companies in the competitive range, may be requested to submit a best and final offer (BAFO). In this event, the CTAC shall evaluate the BAFOs in lieu of the original proposals.
5. Review. Proposals are independently reviewed and scored by a team of reviewers that may include Trust staff, experts in the field, and trained volunteers. Using the evaluation criteria, reviewers assess the soundness and completeness of each proposal as well as the vendor's capacity to effectively deliver what is proposed.
6. Staff recommendations. Taking into consideration the above review process results, the Executive Director of the CTAC develops a recommendation. When considering Direct Community Services, consideration is also given to factors such as alignment with the CTAC's priority investment areas, effective and economical distribution of funding across Alachua County and/or in underserved geographic areas/populations in Alachua County (if applicable), minimizing duplication of efforts, and reasonable program cost for the services and outcomes proposed. Based on consideration of all of the above factors, a recommendation is made to the

7. Board review and award. Executive Director recommendations are reviewed and considered by the Board at a publicly noticed meeting. Applicants are encouraged to attend these meetings. CTAC Board approval of the recommendations will allow the contract negotiation process to begin, in an amount not to exceed the CTAC Board's approved award. Negotiation may include reframing the proposed services, and adjusting the total allocation, budget or any other changes necessary to comply with the requirements of the solicitation and resulting contract. Any future amendments, extensions or modifications to the contract that would exceed the CTAC Board's approved award amount or the approved contracting period require further Board approval.
8. Protests: Any actual or prospective bidder or proposer, who is allegedly aggrieved in connection with the issuance of a bid or proposal package or pending award of a contract, may protest the decision by following the procedure below.
 - a. Posting. The Trust shall publicly post the award on the Trust's website within three full business days after the Board's award decision has been made. All bidders or proposers will be sent an email with the notice of award to the email address provided in the bid or proposal.
 - b. Requirements to Protest.
 - i. A formal written protest must be filed no later than 5:00 PM, on the fifth business day, after the notice of award has been posted. The formal written protest shall identify the protesting party and the solicitation involved; include a clear statement of the grounds on which the protest is based; refer to the statutes, laws, ordinances, applicable section(s) of the solicitation or Board policy, or other legal authorities which the protesting party deems applicable to such grounds; and specifically request the relief to which the protesting party deems itself entitled by application of such authorities to such grounds.
 - ii. A formal written protest is considered filed when the Executive Director receives it and it is date- stamped by the CTAC. Accordingly, a protest is not timely filed unless it is received within the time specified above. Failure to file a formal written protest within the time period specified shall constitute a waiver of the right to protest and result in relinquishment of all rights to protest by the actual or prospective applicant.
 - c. Sole Remedy. These procedures shall be the sole remedy for challenging an award of bid or proposal. Proposers are prohibited from attempts to influence, persuade, or promote a protest through any other channels or means.
 - d. Authority to Resolve. The Executive Director shall resolve the protest in accordance with the terms of the bid or proposal and shall render a written decision to the protesting party no later than 5:00 PM on the fifth business day after the filing of the protest.
 - e. Review of Executive Director's Decision.
 - i. The protesting party may request a review of the Executive Director's decision by the CTAC Board by delivering a written request for review of the decision to the Executive Director by 5:00 PM on the fifth business day after the date of the written decision. The written notice shall include any written or physical materials, objects, statements, and arguments, which the applicant deems relevant to the issues raised in the request for review.
 - ii. The CTAC Board will consider the request for review at the next regularly scheduled CTAC Board meeting after the request is received. It is within the CTAC Board's discretion whether to allow testimony or argument from the protesting party at the CTAC Board meeting. If it is determined by majority vote of CTAC Board members present at the meeting that the award is in violation of law or the regulations and internal procedures of the Trust or any another applicable authority, the Board shall cancel or revise the award as deemed appropriate within three business days after the Board meeting.
 - iii. If it is determined by majority vote of CTAC Board members present at the meeting that the award should be upheld, the CTAC Board shall direct staff to notify the protesting party in writing of the Board decision with a copy furnished to all substantially affected persons and businesses within three business days of the CTAC Board meeting. The decision shall be final and conclusive. Item 13.

- f. Stay of Procurement during Protests. The decision to stay a procurement during protests shall be at the sole discretion of the Executive Director.
9. The CTAC reserves the right to:
- Reject any or all submittals
 - Request clarification of any submitted information
 - Waive any informalities or irregularities in any response
 - Not enter into any contract
 - Not select any firm
 - Cancel this process at any time
 - Amend this process at any time
 - Interview firms prior to award
 - Enter into negotiations with one or more firms, or request a best and final offer (BAFO)
 - Award more than one contract if it is in the best interests of the CTAC.
 - Issue similar solicitations in the future.
 - Request additional information from prospective contractors.

Project Title: Youth Mentoring Program

Date of Addendum: 8/8/2023

RFP Due date (Original): August 17, 2023

RFP Due date (New): August 17, 2023

This Addendum No. 2 contains the following:

1. Question. Do all mentor/staff have to be cleared through the Clearinghouse prior to application deadline or prior to contracting if awarded?

Answer. Prospective contractors must be willing to comply with background screening requirements.

Background Screening: All staff and mentors working in CTAC funded mentoring programs must comply with Level 2 background screening and fingerprinting. The program must maintain staff personnel and mentor files which reflect that a screening result was received and reviewed to determine employment eligibility prior to employment (Page 8).

2. Question. What is the difference between the stipend versus a paid position for the mentor? (Can they be paid hourly and still receive stipends?)

Answer. The Contractor must describe how stipends will be provided to mentors. For example, a stipend may be used to cover the cost of taking the mentee to a museum. This must include how much and for what types of activities or events or other reasons that stipends will be provided within the justification section of the attached budget forms (Page 7).

3. Question. Can I change the narrative and budget category from salary to stipend?

Answer. No, you cannot change the narrative and budget categories. None of the categories can be changed on the forms. You may utilize the description and justification sections of the forms. See question #2 above for examples of what stipends can be used for. Stipends can be documented under the transportation, office supplies or program expenses tabs.

Answer. Prospective contractors are only required to answer the questions on the Application Form 3 and submit the items on the checklist (page 17 of the RFP).

5. Question. Should a cover page be submitted with the organization information and narrative?

Answer. See answer to question #4 above.

6. Question. Can I download the IRS form 990 and fill it out myself or is this something from a previous tax return?

Answer. A 990 is completed by a tax preparer and may not be applicable to your organization. Please refer to the checklist for the list of possible documents to submit for Attachment 1 (page 17 of the RFP).

7. Question. Do I need to create a model contract for future services?

Answer. Please refer to the submission checklist on page 17 for the list of documents you should submit for this RFP. Contracts are completed by Childrens' Trust staff.

Organizational Narrative

1. Describe your organization's ability to hire and train additional qualified staff and comply with background screening requirement (DCF Clearinghouse).

Our agency has been serving Alachua County since 2020 and the greater Tampa Bay area since 1964. We recruit passionate staff through job postings on websites such as Indeed, employee referrals, partner organizations, and social media. New staff complete level 2 background checks through the Clearinghouse before being hired and all staff must pass the screening. Once hired new staff have 90 days to complete internal trainings set forth from Big Brothers Big Sisters of America, and any additional grant related trainings. Thanks to our agency's strong reputation in the community, we find we have many strong candidates apply when hiring in Alachua County.

Program Description 0-30 Points

2. Describe an overview of your mentoring program focus and priority areas.

Our Comprehensive Mentoring program includes one-to-one mentoring and group-mentoring events for youth on our waiting list. Our one-to-one mentoring includes Community-Based (matches meet in the community) and Site-Based (matches meet at school or after school site). Because we consistently have a waiting list of youth who would like a Big, we are also beginning to host monthly events with community partners to provide a group mentoring experience to children waiting to be matched one-to-one.

3. Describe the character-building curriculum and/or training that you intend to use. Also describe how program supervisors will provide on-going support to recruited mentors.

Our agency does not follow a specific curriculum but mentors will work with youth on a variety of character-building activities and will set goals together. Volunteers are trained through our Big Orientation & Trainings which are required before volunteering. This training is interactive and covers topics including mentoring roles and boundaries, expectations, agency guidelines and policies, child safety, mandatory reporter training, and match closure guidelines. All matches are supported by a designated Match Support Specialist who provides coaching, assistance, and ongoing training to volunteers throughout the match. In our group mentoring events, youth on our waiting list will be invited to attend by agency staff. We will work with community partners such as UF, Santa Fe College, and groups like Kiwanis and Rotary, to host these events and their members will serve as the volunteer mentors for the event. They will also be screened and trained before interacting with the children.

4. Describe your program policies and procedures that address youth and mentor incidents and other unexpected circumstances during mentoring program hours.

Our agency has a comprehensive set of programs and operating policy manual that is updated yearly and approved by our Board of Directors. This document outlines guidelines and policies for all staff, volunteers, and youth to follow. Child safety is our number one priority and we have policies and procedures that outline how youth and mentor incidents are to be handled. Our agency has an incident report procedure internally and we do have an external communication and crisis plan. We do carry liability insurance. For group mentoring events with children on the waiting list, all events will be supervised in-person by agency staff. Volunteers will not be permitted to have contact with the children outside mentoring visits.

5. Describe how your program aligns with CTAC Goal 3: All children and youth live in a safe community.

Our program is recognized by the Department of Juvenile Justice as an approved prevention program, which from their we accomplishes the following: " [BBBS]... is designed to reduce juvenile crime and protect public safety. Prevention programs, administered by local providers throughout the state, target high-risk juveniles and those who exhibit problem behaviors such as ungovernability, truancy, running away from home and other pre-delinquent behaviors". Research shows that one-to-one and group mentoring have a wide range of benefits for mentees, including increased high school graduation rates, improved behavior in both home and school, and decreased likelihood of drug and alcohol use. All of these factors contribute to well rounded and safe communities.

6. Describe how your program establishes and utilizes evidence to assess effectiveness and impact. Please mark the boxes below to indicate infrastructure your program currently has in place. Note: The Trust has the authority to require specific evaluation tools for funded programs.

In our one-to-one mentoring program, youth eleven and older take the Youth Outcome Survey and children ten and under take the Child Outcome Survey, which was created by Big Brothers Big Sisters of America. It is a pre/post youth questionnaire that covers relationships (parental trust and social acceptance); academics (scholastic competence, educational expectations, and self-assessment of performance); and risk behaviors (attitudes towards risky behaviors and misconduct). These surveys are taken at the start of the match to create a baseline, and then annually to assess impact and outcomes. Both the Big and Littles ages 9 and over take a Strength of Relationship survey at the three month mark and then at each match anniversary. This survey is designed to provide insight to how the relationship is progressing, and how each party is feeling about the match. We do this at three months so that if the match relationship is developing slowly or there are any issues, they are brought to light early on and the Match Support Specialist can help address those things and get the match on a good path.

Mentees participating in group mentoring events also complete baseline and annual surveys to track the impact that group mentoring have had on the child. These surveys provide insight for potential strengths and needs the child may have to build on in a mentoring relationship.

Program Implementation 0-25 Points

7. Describe your program design and implementation. (Include frequency (how often) of and duration (amount of time) of group and one-on-one sessions. Also include longevity/length of the match)

We offer different types of mentoring in our one-to-one model: Community-Based matches meet 2-3 times a month for an average of 8 hours, for a minimum of 15 months; and Site-Based matches meet once a week for one hour at the child's school or after school site during the school year for a minimum of 12 months. Our average match length is 42 months for Community-Based and 27 months for Site-Based. Group mentoring events will be offered on a monthly basis. Littles on our waiting list will be invited to join adult volunteers from various partners (including UF, Santa Fe College, Kiwanis, Rotary, and so forth) for varying events each month for 2-3 hours. The number of children participating will vary based on the event, but an average of 10-20 will be included in each event. Events may include community service events through our Adopt-A-Road partnership, wellness activities like rock climbing through our partnership with Climb the Knot, or positive decision-making/goal setting partnering with a local organization.

8. Describe how you will identify and recruit mentors.

To recruit mentors in our one-to-one mentoring model we utilize social media marketing, advertising in local newspapers, television commercials, and through tabling or hosting information sessions with our partners like the Gainesville Chamber of Commerce, Gainesville Health & Fitness Center, UF, Santa Fe College, and the YMCA. Our most impactful source of recruitment comes from current volunteers sharing their experiences with their family and friends. All interested individuals must first complete a training and pass a Level 2 background check.

9. Describe the youth population(s) and age range you intend to serve, how many youth your program will serve, and how you will recruit youth. Describe how your organization intends to communicate with the youth’s parent or guardian.

In one-to-one mentoring youth can enroll between the ages of 5-13, and then remain matched with their Bigs till they turn 18 or graduate from high school. The children and youth on the waiting list, who will be invited to participate in our monthly group mentoring activities, will also be between the ages of 5-17. At the time of this application 37 Alachua County youth are being served in our one-to-one mentoring program. Approximately 50 children are on our waiting list and they will be invited to our monthly group events. Depending on the event, we expect 10-20 children to attend each monthly event. Our agency has monthly contact with all parents / guardians throughout the first year of one-to-one matches (either over the phone or in-person), and then on a quarterly basis after the first year. Staff are also available anytime to guardians should any questions or issues arise. For group mentoring events, families will be invited via email and text by our Alachua program staff with follow up conversations taking place over the phone. Consistent communication with the agency is required for families to participate in our program, as it is important for child safety.

10. Describe how CTAC funds will be used to expand your current program or create a new program.

The requested funding will continue to support our local programmatic costs such as staffing which will allow us to match more children in our one-to-one mentoring program, as well as support our expansion to include group mentoring sessions. Our agency has offered group mentoring sessions to children on our waiting list in other counties, and this funding will allow us to serve children in Alachua County in this beneficial way as well. Across both types of mentoring, the average cost per match per year is approximately $1,500 which covers recruitment, the enrollment of volunteers and youth, and supporting the matches with a degreed professional staff member.

11. Describe your organization’s collaborative efforts and how those efforts positively impact your services and improve the lives of the children you serve.

Our agency knows that to best serve the children and youth in our community, partnering with other community members and organizations is key. We collaborate with the Alachua County School District to operate our Site-Based program in Stephen Foster Elementary and Idylwild Elementary and have a working relationship with the staff at both schools. Many businesses provide discounts for our matches to participate in, such as the YMCA and Climb the Knot Rock Climbing Gym. We also have a large network of organizations who provide on-going volunteer and child referrals, match activities, or professional training for staff and so on. These partners include Alachua County School District, University of Florida, Santa Fe College, United Way of North Central Florida, The Rotary, Adopt-A-Street, Boys & Girls Club and My Brothers Keeper.

Agency Stability & Capability 0-20 Points

12. Describe your organization’s mission and services.

Our mission is to create and support one-to-one mentoring relationships that ignite the power and promise of youth. We do this by partnering with positive adult mentors, parents & guardians, and school staff to impact the lives of youth in at-risk situations who could benefit from an additional role model. With the requested funding, we will also begin monthly group mentoring sessions which will serve those youth currently on our waiting list. We believe it is important to serve families as soon as they become connected with our agency.

13. Describe your organizational capacity to carry out the proposed project plan.

Our agency has been serving children and youth through mentoring for nearly 60 years. We are an affiliate of Big Brothers Big Sisters of America, which has been in existence since 1904, and as a local affiliate we are able to leverage infrastructure and expertise of the nation’s premier mentoring organization here in Alachua County. While our agency has not offered group mentoring in Alachua previously, we have served waiting list youth in this way previously in other counties and with the requested funding will be able to offer this benefit to Alachua County youth as well. Our Alachua County program staff are all residents of Alachua County and the requested funding would remain committed to Alachua County as well.

14. Describe how your organization will sustain your proposed program beyond the term of the contract.

From a funding standpoint we consistently seek varied sources of funding through individual giving, pla giving, corporate support, and public and private grants. This variety of funding sources allows us to be nimble in our budgeting decisions. Our agency is proud that that we have never had to discontinue a mentoring program in our service area because of changes in funding, thanks to our diverse funding streams. We remain committed to serving the children, youth and young adults of Alachua County beyond this grant year.

Budget 0-25 points

15. Detail the financial support (from whom and amount) you receive for your proposed program. Including in-kind services your organization leverages. (Detail Tab 2 of the budget)

Our agency receives state funding through the Big Brothers Big Sisters State Association of Florida. This funding includes the Department of Juvenile Justice, Department of Education, and the Office of the Attorney General. We also receive federal funding through Big Brothers Big Sisters of America from the Office of Juvenile Justice and Delinquency Prevention. We are proud to also partner locally with the United Way of North Central Florida. Other funding for our Alachua programs include individual giving, corporations, and fundraising events.

16. Describe your organization’s fundraising activities.

We have on staff a Director of Grant Writing & Management who researches and applies for funding opportunities as well as a Development team who organizes fundraisers, connects with donors, and builds partnerships. Our main fundraising events include our Annual Art of Helping Children Gala which takes place every September, our Bowl For Kids' Sake bowling fundraisers which happen in the Spring in each of our counties, Companies for Kids Golf tournament, as well as various Charity of Choice events.

Other

17. Endemic interruption plans: What plan does your organization have in place for any endemic related interruptions to your programming, such as flu?

The Covid-19 pandemic certainly reinforced to our agency the importance of being able to adapt and pivot. In the case of an endemic, participants would be asked to remain in touch virtually (phone calls, facetime, etc) and pause in-person meetings until deemed safe to do so. Our in-person group mentoring sessions would be paused if needed for the safety of participants. If needed, we are prepared to host events virtually and did so during Covid-19, including activities over Zoom, virtual tours, and so forth.

Organizational Narrative

1. Describe your organization's ability to hire and train additional qualified staff and comply with background screening requirement (DCF Clearinghouse).

The Community Impact Corporation (CIC) has been providing mentoring, summer camps, youth pre-employment and afterschool programs for over 13 years. As a result, the CIC has had consistency in hiring and maintaining qualified staff. We have had no issues recruiting and hiring staff. We have several former and current Alachua County Public School educators, youth leaders and successful young adult graduates as role models who are committed to serving low-income youth and families to create a safe community. We have policies and procedures in place for recruitment of staff and volunteers that includes hiring, job orientation, performance evaluation and training. All staff are provided training in specific job duties, goals and objectives of the mentoring program. All mentors will be trained in mentor/mentee relationships, including providing consistency and flexibility with time, understanding the role of a mentor, mentee selection and availability for activities that will build rapport with the mentee. Pre-match training will be more than 2 hours to ensure effectiveness of training We require continual on-line training to meet State standards, evidenced-based practices, ethics, risk management, and other standards set by the CIC student enrichment programs. Many of our staff are already trained and are familiar with working as mentors with youth. They are interested in the achievements of the students and monitor the surveys, assessments and verbal conversations of the other educators, parents/families and the students to ensure that the mentees' needs are being met. Our Director/Program supervisor has proven knowledge, skills and abilities in motivating and monitoring staff, ensuring that policies and procedures are followed, and that proper training takes place for the youth mentor program. Ongoing supervision will be provided on mentor/mentee relationships through monthly supervision. The CIC is committed to ensuring that staff working in the program have current Level 2 background checks. We have partnered with Meridian Behavioral Healthcare, Inc. for Level 2 Background screening. No volunteer and /or employed staff will be allowed as part of the youth mentoring program until Level 2 background screening clearance has been received and they have received proper training.

Program Description 0-30 Points

2. Describe an overview of your mentoring program focus and priority areas.

The CIC Youth Mentoring Program staff collaborated with principals, teachers, law enforcement officers, parents and other community partners to identify the following mentoring needs for youth at the schools, and afterschool in their neighborhoods. The Youth Mentoring Program will provide mentoring services on a one-to-one basis and through groups that will focus on life skills development, character building and educational enhancement aimed at motivating the students to address and overcome focus areas such as low self-esteem, trauma, truancy, victimization, gang involvement, juvenile delinquency, violence, substance use, academic needs, goal setting, depression, bullying, peer pressure and other high-risk behaviors. Our priority areas will be those students in middle and high school in the 32609 and 32641 zip codes. We are willing to serve students in other grade levels and provide services throughout the community and county as resources enable us to do so. Each mentor/mentee's experience will be individualized based on need; however, our program will address many of the identified focus areas in group sessions, but also in one-to-one mentor/mentee relationships to build rapport and show commitment. We will utilize an evidenced-based program, Botvin Life Skills Training (LST) as the basis of our mentoring program. LST is one of only three programs certified as a Blueprints Model Plus Program by Blueprints for Healthy Youth Development.

Supported by over 20 scientific studies, Botvin LST is recognized as a model or exemplary program by an array of government agencies, including the U.S. Department of Education; Substance Abuse and Mental Health Services Administration (SAMHSA), Center for Substance Abuse Prevention; National Institute on Drug Abuse; and U.S. Department of Justice, Office of Juvenile Justice and Delinquency Prevention. We have some staff trained in this curriculum and we will provide training for new mentors. We will use a combination of LST and performing arts (Dancing, Acting, Stepping, Drumming, Singing, etc.), as well as other integrated fun activities (museums, theater, cultural arts, sports events, etc.) as examples for one-to-one mentor/mentee and group activities to allow for character-building activities that allow for rapport and positive socialization to enhance and maintain interest and retention to meet the goals of improving focus areas issues identified earlier.

3. Describe the character-building curriculum and/or training that you intend to use. Also describe how program supervisors will provide on-going support to recruited mentors.

The CIC's Youth Mentorship Program will incorporate Botvin Life Skills Training (LST), an evidenced-based model program with proven results to reduce early involvement with substances, violence and other at risk behaviors identified as areas of focus above. LST targets the major social and psychological factors that promote the initiation of substance use and other risky behaviors in adolescents and teenagers. LST has age-appropriate curriculums for both middle and high school students. Rather than simply teaching information about the dangers of at-risk behaviors, Botvin LST promotes character building and other healthy alternatives to at risk behaviors through engaging activities that help students gain greater self-esteem and confidence; build skills to resist social (peer) pressure; improve stress management and cope with anxiety; increase knowledge of the consequences of substance use; and enhance the cognitive and behavioral competencies that reduce and prevent a variety of health risk behaviors. It is our belief that through this evidence-based approach, we can assist the mentor/mentee relationship that will promote sustained academic achievement, healthy lifestyles, develop better character and reduce emotional/behavioral issues in the student's life. We will maintain a collaboration with Meridian Behavioral Healthcare, Inc. (Meridian) to refer for therapy services (especially related to trauma, depression, and suicide), in the event any of these issues become apparent. In addition to LST, the Youth Mentoring curriculum will include aspects of performing arts and fun/recreational activities designed to build rapport and social skills between the mentor/mentee that can improve self-esteem, identify trauma and depression, improve academic success, decrease gang involvement, curtail early usage of substances, and to reduce negative peer pressure. This curriculum is designed to provide experiential and educational opportunities that are engaging, equitable and inclusive. The Botvin Life Skills Training provides a curriculum for training that needs to be followed to ensure the fidelity of the model. This training will be provided by the Director/program supervisor and through in-kind staff from Meridian that have been trained in the model. The training will be conducted during the orientation phase for all new mentors. Existing mentors are already trained but will be provided refresher training semi-annually. Ongoing supervision will be provided to new and current mentors for all aspects of the curriculum in order to ensure that the students are receiving appropriate services that meet their needs on a monthly basis.

4. Describe your program policies and procedures that address youth and mentor incidents and other unexpected circumstances during mentoring program hours.

The CIC Youth Mentoring program have policies and procedures (P&P) and risk management trainings in place to address youth and mentor incidents. Any incident that occurs with a youth or mentor must be reported immediately to the Director and followed up by a written incident report that describes the incident/unexpected circumstance. Each staff is trained on appropriate boundaries and on reporting incidents and unusual circumstances as they occur during the mentoring program hours. This includes medical emergencies, physical sexual and emotional abuse, mental health issues, illegal activities and managing behaviors. The CIC staff working as mentors are all professionals who will be mandatory reporters for any incident that needs to be reported to the DCF hotline. Contact information for DCF is posted at the facility and in the Emergency Contact Book. Unethical involvement with mentor/mentee will not be tolerated and will be reported to enforcement, DCF, CTAC, etc.

5. Describe how your program aligns with CTAC Goal 3: All children and youth live in a safe community.

Our mentoring program promotes a strong emphasis on wellness for the youth, parents and families in our community. We use an evidenced based curriculum along with emphasis on performing arts and other fun activities to build rapport with these middle and high school students. Through our mentoring services we assist them in transitioning their lives so that they know alternatives that can improve their lives. We assist them in decision making and advocate with them to make improvements in their own lives. As they begin to feel better within themselves, we believe that they begin to feel safe in their community. The key to living in a safe environment in the community is knowing options to remain safe. Our youth mentoring program allows for this to happen as we provide a safe and supportive place for these students on a continual basis. We believe that as we begin to help our students know better, they will do better. Having a mentor that provides continual support, hope, consistency and follow through will show the youth, parents and families a different vantage point about life to forever change their trajectory. Our goal with the LST model is to enhance life skills and character building in a way to impact the student's life in a positive way and assist them in dealing with issues in their lives that give them a sense of hope and provide them with the skills and freedom to make decisions that allows them to feel safe as part of the community. What we will impart in their lives will be at least eight months on how to make better choices, how to view life differently, what it is like to want a different life, what it is like to experience different things, how to accept assistance, guidance and care that allows them to improve in all aspects of their lives. Our mission is congruent with CTAC goal of creating a safe community for children and youth. We do this by being impactful in their lives enough, so they know that they have a safe place to turn when there is a need for help.

6. Describe how your program establishes and utilizes evidence to assess effectiveness and impact.

Please mark the boxes below to indicate infrastructure your program currently has in place. Note:

The Trust has the authority to require specific evaluation tools for funded programs.

Our Youth Mentoring program will have each participant receiving CTAC funds complete an enrollment form to support collection of demographic information and parent informed consent as specified to assist with data collection and follow-up on enrolled mentees. We will submit data listed for each enrolled child through the data system provided by CTAC. The participant demographics we will collect and report on each child served includes Residence City (Alachua County only), Residence ZIP, Date of Birth, Grade Level (i.e., K-12), School Name, Race, Ethnicity, Gender, Parent/Caregiver Language Spoken and Reason(s) for Program Enrollment. Collecting this data will allow us to better understand the youth we are enrolling in the mentoring program. We will collect and report the following on each child served: Participation in One-to-One Mentoring Activities-(Our program goal is that the mentor will spend time with their mentee at least 4 times each month in one-to-one mentoring activities); Participation in Group-Based Mentoring Activities-(Our program goal is that the mentor will spend at least 12 hours each month in group-based mentoring activities; Involvement of Parents and Family-(Our program goal is that the mentor/program staff will make contact at least 1 time per month with parents and families so they can actively participate in the program with their child(ren). Impact data will also be collected to reflect: # of youth who receive mentorship, # of adults who provide mentorship, # of one-to-one mentoring contacts, # of group mentoring sessions, % of mentors receiving program staff support check-ins at least monthly, % of parents/caregivers who receive program check-ins at least monthly, % of youth receiving an average of two (2) or more mentorship contacts per month. % of youth matched with a mentor for at least 9 months. We will collect outcome data to determine if the mentee has improved from baseline data by these responses: % of youth who report relational satisfaction and closeness with their mentor, % of youth who are doing well or making gains in social-emotional skills, % of youth with no department of juvenile justice involvement, % of youth that report a decrease or no substance use, % of youth who report that they are not involved in at risk behaviors, % of youth who are doing well or making improvements in school performance. We will develop, collect, and maintain forms to support the collection of data to be submitted to CTAC. We will submit participation data listed for each individual child through the data collection system provided by CTAC. We will conduct surveys and assessments with children, youth, and parent/families who receive services and encourage full participation to learn more about program impact and to determine whether performance measures and outcomes were met between the mentor and mentee. We will administer surveys with youth and mentors to assess the quality and satisfaction with the mentoring relationship. We will also conduct a survey aimed at the youth outcomes administered at the entry of the program and at follow-up to determine outcomes. We will administer the surveys and assessment to children, youth, and families electronically, paper, or using both methods and ensure that they are entered into CTAC's data collection system. As part of program evaluation, we will also administer the evidenced-based evaluation that is available as a component of the Botvin LST to determine the impact and effectiveness of the youth mentoring program for each student. We will administer pretest at the youth's entry into the mentoring relationship and a posttest at follow-up.

Points

7. Describe your program design and implementation. (Include frequency (how often) of and duration (amount of time) of group and one-on-one sessions. Also include longevity/length of the match)

We will provide services to our middle school aged and high school student mentees in group sessions at least 12 hours per month. These group sessions will be a combination of the Botvin LST and performance arts activities. The group schedules will be prearranged to ensure that the mentees and mentors can be a part of the group and that we maintain the correct mentor to mentee ratio in the group sessions. The LST promotes character building and other healthy alternatives to at risk behaviors through engaging activities that help students gain greater self-esteem and confidence; build skills to resist social (peer) pressure; improve stress management and cope with anxiety; increase knowledge of the consequences of substance use; and enhance the cognitive and behavioral competencies that reduce and prevent a variety of health risk behaviors. Each of these sessions will be interactive and experiential so all mentees can be engaged in this life skills learning process. Through the performing arts activities, our goal is to have each student participate both individually with their mentor and in their school age group collectively. We want the mentor to act as a role model in these activities and assist the mentee to show improvements in their abilities, improve self-esteem and team building, character development and overall growth. The mentor must maintain the 1: 10 ratios in any group session. Mentors must meet with their mentee in one-to-one sessions at least 4 times each month. This can be engaging them in performing arts (dance, acting, drumming, stepping, crafts and singing) and/or other fun/recreational activities (Santa Fe Zoo, Information technology labs, TV and radio studios, sports practices/games at UF, Cade Museum, Hippodrome and Gainesville Playhouse visits and musical/cultural events, etc.) to enrich the student's life. These sessions should be at least 1 hour long. In order to maintain rapport and decrease inconsistencies in the mentee's life we expect the mentor to remain with their pre-matched mentee through the 8 months of the program. (Of course if the match does not work out then we will need to make a change). The mentor will work with the mentee to ensure that their needs are being met and that they provide choice in what is selected for the mentee in their 1:1 sessions. The mentor/program staff will make contact at least 1 time per month with parents and families so they can actively participate in the program with their child(ren). At certain intervals, the students will perform for their families and other invited guests for engagement, support and encouragement.

8. Describe how you will identify and recruit mentors.

The CIC Student Enrichment Programs are operational year around providing mentoring, camps, prevocational and afterschool programs. As a result, we have maintained some mentors and other staff. We will identify and recruit other staff who are former and current Alachua County Public School educators, youth leaders, faith-based community members, former parents of mentees and successful young adult graduates. We will actively recruit mentors through word of mouth, social media, posts at schools and at churches/synagogues and printed media. All interested individuals will be interviewed to determine their interest, knowledge, skills and abilities and their potential match be a mentor. All selected individuals will be Level 2 background screened before they are officially hired. Once they are cleared, we will begin to provide training to ensure new mentors have the basic knowledge, attitudes, and skills needed to build a safe and effective relationship. Pre-match training will build self-efficacy, training in safety, ethics, risk-management, and relationship building. We will maintain a ratio of 1 to 1 for individual mentoring, and 3 mentors for every 10 mentees for groups sessions.

9. Describe the youth population(s) and age range you intend to serve, how many youth your program will serve, and how you will recruit youth. Describe how your organization intends to communicate with the youth's parent or guardian.

The CIC Youth Mentor program plans to serve middle and high school students. We will provide mentoring services to at least 25 students/mentees throughout the school year. We will have mentors available on-site daily. We will schedule group mentoring sessions to ensure we have the ratio of 3 mentors for every 10 mentees. 1 to 1 sessions for individual mentoring will be scheduled according to the mentor and mentee's schedules. Mentors are required to provide at least 12 hours of group activities each month and at least 4 times each month in one-to-one mentoring activities. We will recruit students through teachers at schools in the area, churches/clergy/congregation members, parents, community forums and flyers, communications with staff at the housing units in zip code 32609 and 32641 and through other mentees or former successful participants. We will also post the youth mentoring program contact information on social media. Transportation will be provided to those that require it to our program site and to their homes. The CIC Youth Mentor program curriculum has a heavy emphasis on family engagement and participation. We will communicate with families through face-to-face meetings, email, facetime and written correspondence. The families are an integral part of the success of our program. We have on/off-site activities where parents and family members can participate. Our program goal is that the mentor/program staff will make contact at least 1 time per month with parents and families so they can actively participate in the mentoring program with their child(ren).

10. Describe how CTAC funds will be used to expand your current program or create a new program.

We are currently providing youth mentoring through an ARPA grant with the City of Gainesville. This grant only supports five youth, that rotate out after 12 weeks due to the limited funding. The program does not operate daily so we have been unable to provide the breadth of services we think is needed to fully impact the students. Because the program has a limited number of students, we operate with a waitlist to provide needed services to students in the 32609 and 32641 zip code. The CIC will use the CTAC funding to enhance the youth mentoring program to serve at least 25 more students continually throughout the entire school year. With this funding, we will be able to have mentors available daily (Monday-Friday) throughout the school year. As stated above, the program will provide LST, performing arts and fun/recreational activities designed to build character, improve life and social skills, improve self-esteem, identify and work on trauma and depression issues, improve academic success, decrease gang and juvenile justice involvement, decrease desire for early usage of substances and reduce the impact of peer pressure.

11. Describe your organization's collaborative efforts and how those efforts positively impact your services and improve the lives of the children you serve.

We have collaborated with principals, teachers, clergy and others in faith-based organizations, law enforcement officers, community leaders, parents and other community partners to identify needs for youth in our county. We used feedback from these partners to help us identify student needs and determine focus areas for our youth mentoring program. Their suggestions lead to our decision to focus on performing arts, fun and recreational activities in addition to the LST curriculum to address the identified areas of focus. We better understood that we needed to approach the student needs in two ways; life skills training to address some of the behavioral/emotional issues and the performing arts and fun activities/recreation to build rapport and maintain the student interest. We have used information from this collaboration to continue to identify needs and establish a network that provides suggestions for the recruitment of mentors and suggested students that can benefit from our youth mentoring program. We use information from these partners to assist us in collecting data, motivating parents and families, and to provide feedback on surveys and assessments. Their participation will have a positive impact on how we implement services, retain and recruit mentors and mentees in the overall success of the mentoring program.

Agency Stability & Capability 0-20 Points

12. Describe your organization's mission and services.

The CIC's mission is to assist and serve our communities through collaborative efforts to facilitate stability for economically challenged youth and families by providing options to improve academic achievement, social development, character building and health and wellness. We want youth and families to succeed so that they can improve themselves to achieve a better life, that ultimately increases opportunities for safer communities. The CIC offers existing services such as the evidenced-based LST, other interactive curricula, performing arts, mentoring, camps, prevocational programs, academic tutors, weekly food and clothing give aways and other fun/recreational activities with parents and families to support the mission.

13. Describe your organizational capacity to carry out the proposed project plan.

Through the CIC Student Enrichment Programs, we have nearly 13 years of experience providing mentoring services, camps, pre-vocational programs and after school programs to youth. We have existing staff who are already background screened and trained to provide mentoring services. We currently have a City of Gainesville ARPA grant to provide mentoring services to youth. We already have the infrastructure, a facility already in place and transportation services worked out to carry out this proposed project. We have proven experience and training in the evidenced-based curriculum LST, Performing Arts (Dancing, Drumming, Singing, Acting, etc.), and providing fun/recreational activities. We have a student recruitment plan in place. We also already have rapport with parents in the 32609 and 32641 zip codes, community partners, law enforcement, educators, other school staff and the clergy/church congregations.

14. Describe how your organization will sustain your proposed program beyond the term of the contract.

We will sustain the program activities past the end of the contract period through fund raising, personal appeals to community members and churches, participation in the Amazing Give, Amazon Smiles and other philanthropic activities. We will also apply to other grant funding sources emphasizing the success of our mentoring program. Additionally, we will partner with other organizations to assist with using volunteers (background screened) and other resources to sustain this project.

Budget 0-25 points

15. Detail the financial support (from whom and amount) you receive for your proposed program. Including in-kind services your organization leverages. (Detail Tab 2 of the budget)

The CIC currently receives ARPA funding to support a small mentoring program for 5 students. These students are not seen throughout the entire school year. The rotate out. We were given $20,000 to fund this program. We are requesting from CTAC, $74,913.77 to fund a full youth mentor program for 25 additional students that will participate throughout the entire school year. See Form #2 for the detailed budget. We receive $9,000 in-kind funding from Upper Room for the other portion of rent, utilities and general liability for the facility. We receive an estimated $5, 000 in-kind services from Meridian for counseling services and for some of the trainings.

16. Describe your organization’s fundraising activities.

We were successful in applying for and receiving an ARPA grant from the City of Gainesville. We also have partnered with Upper Room for Amazon Smiles reward funds. We have registered with Philanthropy Hub to be able to participate in the Amazing Give. We continue to seek other funding through grants, church organizations and philanthropic individuals in the community. We tout the success of the programs we currently provide for students to make pitches for additional funding. We are also preparing to apply for State and federal grants as they become available.

Other

17. Endemic interruption plans: What plan does your organization have in place for any endemic related interruptions to your programming, such as flu?

The CIC has had experience for the last three years providing services when the COVID pandemic caused major shutdowns in schools and the community in March 2020, we did not decrease our commitment to serving the children in the 32609 and 32641 and surrounding zip codes. We maintained programming through ZOOM and later Microsoft TEAMS. For those individuals who could not access ZOOM or TEAMS, we established a conference line for them to participate. As the restrictions eased, we were also able to provide some in-person activities in the over 15,000 square feet sanctuary area in Upper Room to maintain safety. This space allows for safe social distancing. We also have classrooms available (with a private bathroom) to isolate/quarantine staff and youth, when necessary. We practice universal precautions and health screening to assess whether there are endemic issues, so we know when to isolate/quarantine and/or restrict attendance. When there is a need to restrict attendance, we will offer the option to attend virtually as this capability still exists. Staff are trained in universal precautions and how to handle staff and student exposures and any endemic illnesses. We continue to encourage the use of our freestanding hand sanitizer stations and the use of chemical sprays to decrease the probability of exposure.

Project Title: Youth Mentoring Program

Date of Addendum: 8/8/2023

RFP Due date (Original): August 17, 2023

RFP Due date (New): August 17, 2023

This Addendum No. 2 contains the following:

1. Question. Do all mentor/staff have to be cleared through the Clearinghouse prior to application deadline or prior to contracting if awarded?

Answer. Prospective contractors must be willing to comply with background screening requirements.

Background Screening: All staff and mentors working in CTAC funded mentoring programs must comply with Level 2 background screening and fingerprinting. The program must maintain staff personnel and mentor files which reflect that a screening result was received and reviewed to determine employment eligibility prior to employment (Page 8).

2. Question. What is the difference between the stipend versus a paid position for the mentor? (Can they be paid hourly and still receive stipends?)

Answer. The Contractor must describe how stipends will be provided to mentors. For example, a stipend may be used to cover the cost of taking the mentee to a museum. This must include how much and for what types of activities or events or other reasons that stipends will be provided within the justification section of the attached budget forms (Page 7).

3. Question. Can I change the narrative and budget category from salary to stipend?

Answer. No, you cannot change the narrative and budget categories. None of the categories can be changed on the forms. You may utilize the description and justification sections of the forms. See question #2 above for examples of what stipends can be used for. Stipends can be documented under the transportation, office supplies or program expenses tabs.

4. Question. Regarding the CTAC collaboration, are these future collaborations that the organization must be willing to allow. Or should provisions for these future collaborations be included in the organization informational narrative? If so, where?

Answer. Prospective contractors are only required to answer the questions on the Application Form 3 and submit the items on the checklist (page 17 of the RFP).

5. Question. Should a cover page be submitted with the organization information and narrative?

Answer. See answer to question #4 above.

6. Question. Can I download the IRS form 990 and fill it out myself or is this something from a previous tax return?

Answer. A 990 is completed by a tax preparer and may not be applicable to your organization. Please refer to the checklist for the list of possible documents to submit for Attachment 1 (page 17 of the RFP).

Organizational Narrative

1. Describe your organization's ability to hire and train additional qualified staff and comply with background screening requirement (DCF Clearinghouse).

The Concrete Rose Foundation has ongoing recruitment activities for new mentors. As such, an Annual Recruitment Plan with strategies to achieve goals, an annual timeline, and budgetary implications. This plan is kept current with any ongoing adjustments. The current plan allows us to observe the mentors and mentees during activities and their engagements. During our staff meetings, we assess the needs of the agency as well as the mentees that we serve. We determine what areas the Foundation has been successful in meeting the needs of the mentees, what areas we can improve, and how staff can accomplish this. Upon hiring any new mentors or staff, we also request that they complete a survey that highlights their strengths as well as opportunities for improvement. This assists us with identifying new mentees or staff to address those focus areas to improve. Furthermore, this method aids us in the mentor/mentee match process, outlined in our Match Support and Supervision Procedures. An additional section of our recruitment plan and hiring procedures that are vital to our Foundation's operations and the safety of all staff and youth is the background screening of prospective candidates.

The Concrete Rose Foundation has established procedures for screening new mentor candidates, to comply with the Florida Department of Children and Families Clearinghouse. The Program Director ensures that all prospective candidates successfully complete their fingerprinting, and background check, and are approved by the Florida Department of Children and Families prior to hiring. Additionally, the Executive Director and the Program Director actively monitor the DCF website for background screening information and other updates needed to be compliant with the State Statutes.

A detailed Quarterly Recruitment Activity Plan will also outline specific tasks and activities. The program coordinator assumes lead responsibility for the recruitment of new mentors. Other mentoring program staff, the executive director, and advisory board members will support the program coordinator in these activities as required.

All new staff members receive training on the principles of volunteer recruitment and must understand the mentoring program's recruitment plan. The program coordinator develops the Annual Recruitment Plan with input from mentoring program staff, the Executive Director, and the Advisory Board. Planning should be finalized, including agency and board approvals, one month prior to the beginning of the new fiscal year. The program coordinator will complete a detailed Quarterly Recruitment Activity Plan of specific tasks, roles, and responsibilities, and a week-by-week timeline, incorporating other staff, the executive director, and advisory board members to implement specific recruitment activities. This activity plan must be reviewed and approved by the Executive Director or Advisory Board prior to implementation. The program coordinator is responsible for ensuring the implementation of the Annual Recruitment and Quarterly Activity Plans. Efforts will be made to hold a recruitment plan review and planning meeting quarterly prior to the development of the next quarter's plan to include the program coordinator, entire advisory board, and executive director, as well as other program staff or others of concern. The program coordinator will finalize and distribute the quarterly recruitment activity plan to the agency staff and the board. The program coordinator will summarize the activities and meetings listed on our Volunteer Inquiry Tracking log and provide the results to the executive director on a quarterly basis along with the number of successful match. The executive director will give the yearly budget for recruitment and marketing activities. The program coordinator is responsible for tracking and monitoring expenditures. Based on tracking data and the overall effectiveness of the recruiting efforts, staff will revise the strategy as needed.

Program Description 0-30 Points

2. Describe an overview of your mentoring program focus and priority areas.

The Concrete Rose Foundation is a 501(c)(3) nonprofit organization. Our purpose is to provide advocacy and assistance to minority youth through targeted mentoring to minimize the risk factors attributed to adolescents in underserved communities. Youths involved in the program have been exposed to several risk factors: lack of parental support, low self-esteem, poor peer relationships, juvenile delinquency, low academic performance, or behavioral issues. Our organization currently offers three programs: (1) Concrete Roses Mentoring program, a school, and community-based mentoring program that prepares girls to meet the challenges of adolescence through high-quality activities and learning experiences that help them to achieve social, emotional, and physical well-being. (2) Reading Roses Book Club is a reading initiative that aims to bridge the local racial achievement gap and increase the number of minority students reading at or above grade level to help them become more proficient in English Language Arts. (3) The Academic Advocate program is a parent partnership outreach program designed to provide assistance and guidance to parents of minority youth who need additional academic support.

We've served in the Gainesville community since 2019. The Concrete Rose Foundation hosts monthly events related to self-confidence, conflict resolution, coping skills, public speaking, hygiene & puberty, entrepreneurship, college readiness, and more. The Concrete Rose Foundation is geared to nurture the goals, aspirations, and ambitions of our mentees and help them overcome obstacles to develop into successful young ladies. Girls participate in community service and enrichment activities as they gain the ability to lead, analyze their own strengths and weaknesses, set personal and vocational goals, and increase their self-confidence and self-esteem to pursue and achieve their goals.

The organization has four main principles: Character, Education, Leadership, and Service. While instilling these principles, it is our hope that our mentees develop strategies to achieve full academic potential, cultivate skills to motivate, empathize, and build relationships, voluntarily serve our community, and demonstrate trustworthiness, respect, responsibility, fairness, benevolence, and citizenship.

3. Describe the character-building curriculum and/or training that you intend to use. Also describe how program supervisors will provide on-going support to recruited mentors.

An initial training session takes place prior to mentor/mentee matches. The agendas cover basic program guidelines, safety issues (including Chapter 39 of the Florida Statutes (F.S.)), and communication/relationship-building skills. It is the responsibility of the program coordinator to plan, develop, and deliver all training sessions with assistance from other agency staff, board members, and volunteers. Evaluation forms will be collected from each training session for the purposes of evaluating/improving the content of the training and trainer performance.

The general process for providing support to resolve problems will follow the IDEAL model that includes Identifying the problem and having a clear shared understanding of the problem between the mentor, mentee, and parent/guardian. Develop alternative solutions that could address the problem. Evaluate the strengths and weaknesses of each solution. Act on the most constructive solution. Learn from how the solution worked and repeat the IDEAL process if necessary. If a problem arises in regard to communication between the mentor or mentee, the program staff must investigate the reasons for the lack of communication with the offending party, and make efforts to ensure the match is met according to the contracted amount of time per month. If a problem area continues, the coordinator should consult with other staff members and/or community resources to define a viable approach to addressing the problem and proposing potential solutions.

If the problem cannot be resolved, formally closing the match may be necessary. At that time, it would be determined if either or both parties are suitable for matching with other partners. All support and supervision by program staff must be recorded on the respective Mentor/Mentee Contact Sheets, referencing any notes included in the files. It is the responsibility of the Program Coordinator to provide other support to the matches, including but not inclusive of the following: Plan and implement at least one group activity for mentor/mentee matches per quarter, facilitate an ongoing support group for mentors that will meet bimonthly, and access community resources, including board member contacts, to obtain and disseminate tickets to community events and activities for matches.

General Training Procedures

Each mentor and mentee must attend a two-hour training session prior to being matched as well as at least two in-service training sessions per year of involvement in The Concrete Rose Foundation, the latter being offered to each group at least quarterly. The program coordinator has the lead role in managing training session logistics, developing curriculums, and training materials, facilitating the session, and processing the mentor training evaluation forms. Sessions should be conducted by program staff along with outside experts, mentors, and mentees currently in the program. Training evaluation forms will be distributed and collected following all training sessions. A training manual and supporting materials will be developed and maintained separately from the policy and procedure manual by the program coordinator. Training materials will be reviewed and updated based on program and training evaluation feedback at least semi-annually.

Inservice Training Sessions

Once matched, each mentor and mentee must attend at least two in-service training sessions during the year. Attendance at each session will be noted and dated on their file log sheet. Mentor and mentee in-service training sessions will be offered quarterly. Content for the in-service sessions will be determined based on feedback provided by mentors and mentees during the support meetings or based on feedback and suggestions from mentors and mentees. Topics may include communication strategies, understanding youth risk behaviors, goal setting, educational topics, and community referral services.

Training Attendance Failure

If a mentor or mentee schedules but fails to attend an Initial Training session twice without prior notification and/or good reason as deemed by the program coordinator, he/she will not be accepted into the Concrete Roses Mentoring Program. If the mentor or mentee fails to attend the required number of in-service training sessions per year, the mentor or mentee will not be eligible to be matched again at the end of his or her existing mentoring relationship. Failure to complete training sessions coupled with identified match problems may result in the match being terminated and may result in exclusion from future involvement in the Concrete Roses Mentoring Program.

- 4. Describe your program policies and procedures that address youth and mentor incidents and other unexpected circumstances during mentoring program hours.

A number of behaviors are regarded as incompatible with CRF goals, values, and program standards and therefore are considered unacceptable and prohibited while participants are engaged in mentoring activities: (1) Unwelcome physical contact, such as inappropriate touching, patting, pinching, punching, and physical assault, (2) Unwelcome physical, verbal, visual, or behavioral mannerisms or conduct that denigrates, shows hostility, or aversion toward any individual, (3) Demeaning or exploitive behavior of either a sexual or nonsexual nature, including threats of such behavior, (4) Display of demeaning, suggestive, or pornographic material, (5) Known sexual abuse or neglect of a child, (6) Denigration, public or private, of any mentee parent/guardian or family member, (7) Denigration, public or private, of political or religious institutions or their leaders, (8) Intentional violation of any local, state, or federal law, (9) Drinking while driving under the influence of alcohol, and (10) Possession of illegal substances. Any unacceptable behavior, as specified but not limited to the above, will result in a warning and disciplinary action including suspension or termination from participation in the mentoring program.

In the case of match differences, discord, or concerns, appropriate discussion and intervention must be undertaken to improve or rectify problem areas. Mentoring program staff must follow the steps outlined in the Match Support and Supervision Procedures. Beyond monitoring the match relationship and activities, program staff must undertake other efforts that support participants, such as regular group activities for matches, ongoing training events, a formal support structure for mentors, and the attainment of admission to community events/activities for match participants.

5. Describe how your program aligns with CTAC Goal 3: All children and youth live in a safe community.

The Florida Department of Education and the Office of Early Learning Coalition highlight Florida Standards and Key Competencies for Early Childhood Educators that “Early childhood educators recognize that children’s safety, physical and mental health are the foundations for development and learning.” As a teacher at an urban, inner-city school the seats in my classroom were often filled with students from disadvantaged neighborhoods. Being a young, African American female teacher gave me the opportunity to relate to students that had no connection with my fellow colleagues. It wasn’t long before I found myself sharing a unique bond with many students that had been deemed unteachable or a lost cause. Thus, I founded The Concrete Rose Foundation in April 2019 at Idylwild Elementary School.

The Concrete Roses Foundation envisions a community with a constant effort to cultivate a sense of self-worth, empathy, and equality in adolescent minorities which will afford them the same opportunities regardless of their race, gender, environment, or socio-economic status. We are passionate about mentorship, building relationships with the youth and their parents, educating the youth, and exposing them to new and positive life experiences. The benefits of our program will not only assist them with navigating throughout life but provide them with alternative methods to resolve conflict, and safety preventative measures, also helping to make positive contributions to their communities by setting examples for others. These are just some of the techniques to create a more safe and nurturing community for our youth.

Through collaboration with the parents and youth, we offer protective factors that will increase the ability of families to nurture their children successfully. Enhancing the social and emotional well-being of each child and the family will enhance our society. Our partnerships with local organizations enable families to use other resources and opportunities available in the community.

CFR representatives, including the Executive Director, Youth Advisor and mentor, Operations Manager, and the secretary are all youth educators with over 50 years collectively of experience in working with adolescents. Our Foundation believes in developing communication skills, improving academic performance, building self-esteem, managing social & emotional wellness, healthy coping skills, and practicing bullying prevention is the key to maximizing the potential of all girls regardless of their background. Additionally, we have licensed counselors who work with the youth, as needed, to provide support and a safe space for the young ladies to express areas of concern and possible resolutions. If the areas of concern require our staff to report any information that violates the law, Concrete Rose Foundation staff are trained to comply with mandatory reporting guidelines in Chapter 39 of the Florida Statutes (F.S.)

- 6. Describe how your program establishes and utilizes evidence to assess effectiveness and impact. Please mark the boxes below to indicate infrastructure your program currently has in place. Note: The Trust has the authority to require specific evaluation tools for funded programs.

Evaluation is a critical component in measuring the success of our Concrete Roses Mentoring Program and for making continuous improvements in the effectiveness and delivery of mentoring services. Evaluation data will be collected quarterly for mentees in the program, including the following general measures: youth self-esteem, academic performance, peer and parent relationships, moods, alcohol and substance use, and sexual activity.

Confidential surveys will be mailed to mentees and their parents/guardians to be returned directly to The Concrete Rose Foundation. Data will be tabulated, evaluated, and compiled into reports at the end of each quarter for those participants reporting that quarter. The Concrete Rose Foundation staff will meet quarterly to review the data and make program modifications accordingly.

In addition to general evaluations, the Program Coordinator follows the procedures listed in the Match Support and Supervision Procedures to assess if there is a potential problem with the match during the match period. If so, the coordinator will attempt to clarify the potential problem and work with the mentor, mentee, and/or parent/guardian to resolve the issue early.

Program Implementation 0-25 Points

7. Describe your program design and implementation. (Include frequency (how often) of and duration (amount of time) of group and one-on-one sessions. Also include longevity/length of the match)

Concrete Roses Mentoring offers one-on-one mentoring and group mentoring. All youths participate in both mentoring styles. The Foundation hopes that encounters with mentees will encourage girls to express themselves clearly and effectively. The interactions between mentors and mentees demonstrate and model accepting constructive feedback, communicating assertively, obtaining new technical abilities, change management, and leadership skills. Mentors are also expected to model poise, good decision-making, high self-esteem, self-determination, and other characteristics which demonstrate a healthy way of living.

The program provides weekly group mentoring meetings. Each session is 60 minutes. Mentors facilitate the group meetings and follow the designated curriculum and program design. Girls are given the opportunity to discuss various topics as a group. Group mentoring provides an opportunity for mentees to develop team skills, have discussions without judgment, feel free to express themselves, and build a sense of sisterhood and togetherness.

Each girl is matched with a female mentor for a 10-month period. The mentor/mentee relationship should represent a committed relationship that provides attention, understanding, patience, listening, acceptance, time, and support. Once matched, the Program Coordinator will be assigned to support and monitor all parties. The Youth Advisor will add report logs to the right side of the respective case files, which include: the Mentor Report Log (mentor's file), Mentee Report Log (mentee's file), and Parent/Guardian Report Log (mentee file).

Within one week of the first one-on-one match activity, the Youth Advisor will make phone/personal contact with all parties to determine how the first activity went. At that time, they will make their first entries in the Report Logs in each file. Mentoring staff will make monthly phone or personal contact with all parties to each match including the mentor, mentee, and parent/guardian. Staff must gather information for that month including the dates and times spent participating in mentoring activities and a description of those activities and assess the success of the match from all party's perspectives.

8. Describe how you will identify and recruit mentors.

Mentors are recruited through social media advertisements, referrals from local churches and organizations, and interested parties in Alachua County public schools. Mentoring staff should be knowledgeable of and understand all eligibility criteria required for mentor and mentee participation in the program. Extenuating circumstances may be reviewed at the discretion of the program coordinator and acceptance may then be allowed with the written approval of the executive director and representative of the board of directors when all eligibility requirements are not clearly met. These instances are expected to be rare.

Mentor Eligibility Requirements:

(1) Be at least 21 years of age, (2) Reside in the Gainesville area, (3) Be willing to adhere to all CRF policies and procedures, (4) Agree to a one-year commitment to the program, (5) Commit to spending a minimum of eight hours a month with the mentee, (6) Be willing to communicate with the mentee weekly, (7) Complete the screening procedure, (8) Agree to attend mentor training as required, (9) Be willing to communicate regularly with the program coordinator and submit monthly meeting and activity information, (10) Have access to an automobile or reliable transportation, (11) Have a current driver's license, auto insurance, and good driving record, (12) Pass a criminal background check, and (14) Pass a drug test.

Recruitment

1. All new staff members receive training on the principles of volunteer recruitment and must understand the mentoring program's recruitment plan. 2. The program coordinator will take the lead in developing the Annual Recruitment Plan with input from mentoring program staff, the executive director, and the advisory board. 3. The program coordinator will complete a detailed Quarterly Recruitment Activity Plan of specific tasks, roles, and responsibilities, and a week-by-week timeline, incorporating other staff, the executive director, and advisory board members to implement specific recruitment activities. This activity plan must be reviewed and approved by the executive director and/or advisory board prior to implementation. 4. The program coordinator is responsible for ensuring the implementation of the Annual Recruitment and Quarterly Activity Plans. 5. Efforts will be made to hold quarterly to review the recruitment plan prior to the development of the next quarter's plan to include the program coordinator, entire advisory board, and executive director, as well as other program staff or others of concern. 6. The program coordinator will finalize and distribute the quarterly recruitment activity plan to the agency staff and the board. 7. The program coordinator will summarize the Volunteer Inquiry Tracking log and provide the results to the executive director on a quarterly basis along with the number of successful matches. 8. The executive director will provide the yearly budget for recruitment and marketing activities. The program coordinator is responsible for tracking and monitoring expenditures. 9. Based on tracking data and the overall effectiveness of the recruiting efforts, staff will revise the strategy as needed.

9. Describe the youth population(s) and age range you intend to serve, how many youth your program will serve, and how you will recruit youth. Describe how your organization intends to communicate with the youth’s parent or guardian.

Mentees participating in the Concrete Rose Mentoring Program must be between the ages of 9 to 13 or in 4th to 8th grade. The Concrete Rose Foundation is not affiliated with the School Board of Alachua County. However, all participating youth are currently enrolled in Stephen Foster Elementary or attended Foster before moving to Middle School. Weekly meetings are held after school hours in the classroom of our Executive Director, Ashley McClellan Robinson with mentors and mentees. In 2021, we had our largest group of 25 youths. We have since revised our enrollment cap to a maximum of 20 youths with our current staff. Youth are referred to the program by teachers at Stephen Foster, The Behavior Resource Teachers, or at a parent’s request.

Parents of CRF are required to join the Concrete Roses classroom on ClassDojo and Google Classroom. All announcements and reminders are sent to parents via direct message and posted for them to view later. Parents are also encouraged to subscribe to our weekly E-newsletter. In addition to digital communication, we host quarterly in-person meetings for parents. Attendance is mandatory and the mentee must be present. In-person meetings are also scheduled two weeks prior to any overnight field trips.

10. Describe how CTAC funds will be used to expand your current program or create a new program.

Grant funding will enable the expansion of The Concrete Rose Foundation by allowing the organization to service youth outside of Stephen Foster Elementary. Funds will be used to cover a one-year lease for a commercial property to house programs offered by The Concrete Rose Foundation. Leasing a facility will broaden CRF’s impact in the community by increasing the number of youths eligible for services. The meetings for Concrete Roses Mentoring are currently held in the classroom of CRF Executive Director, Ashley McClellan Robinson. Classroom capacity and school board restrictions require CRF to limit the number of youths the organization is able to service. A meeting facility would eliminate the ACPS visitor restrictions and allow youth from other elementary schools to participate.

In addition to the organization’s host school, Stephen Foster Elementary, a mentoring facility, will allow CRF to service five Title 1 schools, or schools with a poverty rate of 75% or higher: Idylwild Elementary School, Joseph Williams Elementary School, Lake Forest Elementary School, Marjorie K. Rawlings Elementary School, and Metcalfe Elementary School.

Grant funding will be used to increase the number of mentees affiliated with the Foundation. The foundation currently operates as a “team” program in which two or three mentors, each with a specific mentoring role, are matched with a group of youth. The National Mentoring Resource Center states, “The ideal mentor-to-mentee ratio is one adult for every five youths.” There are several reasons for this: - It’s easier for mentors to manage the groups regarding behavior and keeping youth on task during activities. It allows for more interpersonal interaction among the youth and makes it harder for some youth to “hide” in a larger group. It may be easier to build a sense of community and belonging with a “smaller unit.” To comply with this recommendation, the Concrete Rose Foundation needs to hire two additional mentors.

Grant funding will be used to implement “Roses Renewed”, a social-emotional program that will provide counseling for girls experiencing trauma or dealing with adverse childhood experiences (ACE) such as physical abuse, sexual abuse, emotional abuse, physical neglect, emotional neglect, divorce, substance abuse, mental illness, or having a relative who has been sent to jail or prison. Roses Renewed will host “Mindfulness Mondays” where licensed mental health counselors will visit the facility and offer 45-minute sessions every Monday. Mental health will be addressed by providing gender-responsive counseling and cognitive-based therapy for approximately 25 girls. The goal of the wellness center is to renew their mindset and provide them with the tools to overcome the challenges exposed to them in their community.

Grant funding will enhance the Reading Roses Book Club by implementing a library in the facility. Books purchased will exude diversity and inclusions. The library will be populated with books written by African American authors and highlight main characters from cultures the girls can identify with. Although every public school has a library, very few contain books that reflect the culture and environment of minority youth in urban, inner-city communities. Providing books of interest incites a thirst for reading.

Funding will be allocated to The Reading Initiative to partner with local companies and outsource after-school tutors for youths performing below grade level. Students will be eligible for tutoring if they have an Individual Educational Plan (IEP) for a diagnosed learning disability or a 504 plan. Students who scored below level three on the Florida State Assessment (FSA) for Reading or Mathematics will also qualify. Tutors will provide intensive reading and math support twice a week for one hour. Tutoring services will give students the opportunity to be successful in the classroom and make the necessary gains to perform on grade level.

Funds will be allocated to implement a CRF computer Lab. The Foundation will purchase 10 Dell-Inspiron 15.6 touch laptops, and 1 Xerox C315 Commercial Printer. A computer lab will assist after-school tutoring by allowing students and tutors to access online textbooks for all core subjects taught in ACPS. The lab will also be available to students working on assignments that require internet access: research projects, typed book reports, preparing presentations, and becoming more familiar with AI technology and applications.

In conjunction with the Reading Initiative, The Academic Advocate program will benefit from after-school tutoring. Funding will allow the program to provide an academic advocate that will advise parents on how to advocate for their child's education in school meetings. Parents of students who scored level 1 or level 2 on the Florida State Assessment will have access to academic advisors who can share resources available to them and their child. They will also have the option of an advocate attending their parent-teacher conferences. The advisors and advocates will guide parents through the testing process to determine Exceptional Student Education (ESE) eligibility.

11. Describe your organization's collaborative efforts and how those efforts positively impact your services and improve the lives of the children you serve.

We host monthly events to promote the well-being of our participants including but not limited to: etiquette workshops, self-confidence forums, personal hygiene classes, cyber safety, bullying prevention courses, public speaking courses, and baking 101 classes. Girls participate in quarterly community service events. CRF has partnered with the City of Gainesville and the Reichert House staff to teach the mentees bullying prevention techniques, safety tips, emergency responses, etc.

CRF partners with The School of Etiquette in Orlando, FL for our annual etiquette workshop. The custom course was uniquely designed to help the girls build their communication skills, learn good manners, and show respect for others and themselves. The personal hygiene and puberty courses educate the girls on the changes taking place in the body and teach them the importance of good hygiene. Upon completion of our cyber safety workshop, girls are able to recognize potentially unsafe, dangerous, or risky online situations and behaviors, identify rules for avoiding unsafe situations, and strategies to use when encountering dangerous situations. We encourage participation in public speaking programs to help youth not only master communication skills and become more independent but also gain self-esteem. CRF is partnering with Gainesville Toastmasters, a local nonprofit educational organization, to teach public speaking and leadership skills.

We desire to broaden their horizons by providing exposure to opportunities not offered daily, in their community. To accomplish this, we often take field trips to surrounding cities and out-of-state. In 2022, we visited the Museum of Science & Industry (MOSI) in Tampa, Florida, where the girls participated in hands-on STEM activities related to Forensic Science and Robotic Coding. Children who are exposed to STEM in hands-on, positive environments are more likely to pursue a career in a science field in the future. Therefore, it is essential for young students to have positive experiences with science that present it as a fun challenge to pique their interest.

The girls participated in Busch Gardens' Animal Encounter Program where they discovered amazing animals and the habitats where they live. They also explored the park's immersive ecosystems, while tour guides facilitated an animal encounter, and guided students through eco-challenge activities. The girls expanded their understanding of aquatic ecosystems by visiting the world-renowned Georgia Aquarium in July 2023.

Each year we visit 2-3 college and/or university campuses throughout the Southeast region. The objective of our college tours is to encourage college enrollment and increase financial/college awareness. Some colleges offer enrichment programs for students as early as elementary school. Therefore, early exposure to college for first-generation and low-income students is vital. Providing early college exposure opportunities for first-generation college students can assist students in navigating college and the institutions of higher education in sustaining this population of students. While early exposure helps to promote a college-going culture, it can also help build solid foundational connections with underrepresented students. Students are able to learn the language and the steps that are required to help them in becoming admissible.

When students tour or have access to summer camps or other regular activities on a college campus, it enables them to learn to navigate a college campus. Often, building this connection between the student and the institution can create a pathway for the student choosing to attend. In addition, this may help with improving retention because the student is treading on familiar ground because of the early exposure. Being exposed to being on a college campus can increase students' confidence in their ability to attend college. This can provide students with some awareness of what to expect when they attend college. For first-generation students who may not have the exposure to colleges and universities, having a proactive push can help in creating a college-going tradition for future generations within a family. The attitude of their college-going capacity can be increased through these small but significant measures.

Agency Stability & Capability 0-20 Points

12. Describe your organization's mission and services.

The Mission of The Concrete Rose Foundation is to embrace, empower, and educate at-risk minority girls and equip them with the skills to make positive life choices. The Concrete Roses Foundation envisions a community with a constant effort to cultivate a sense of self-worth and equality in adolescent minorities, which will afford them the same opportunities regardless of their race, gender, environment, or socio-economic status. We believe that developing communication skills, improving academic performance, building self-esteem, managing social & emotional wellness, and practicing bullying prevention are the keys to maximizing the potential of all young ladies regardless of their background.

CRF offers three programs designed to mold young ladies mentally, emotionally, and socially. Concrete Roses Mentoring matches girls with concerned adults who provide support, perspective, education, and encouragement. Girls can set and achieve goals while gaining the skills and confidence necessary to become role models and resist engaging in negative behaviors.

13. Describe your organizational capacity to carry out the proposed project plan.

Participating youth have access to three programs: Concrete Roses Mentoring, a school community-based mentoring program for disenfranchised or delinquent girls ages eight to thirteen. The Reading Roses Book Club is an initiative designed to bridge the racial achievement gap in Alachua County by increasing minority students reading at or above grade level. The Academic Advocate is a parent outreach program designed to provide assistance and guidance to parents of minority youth who need additional academic support.

Youths are informed through monthly events, forums, and workshops related to, but not limited to coping skills, social and emotional wellness, bullying prevention, goal setting, public speaking, self-confidence, etiquette, cyber safety, suicide prevention, and team building. The Foundation's expected outcome is to equip at-risk youth with the skills to make positive life choices while building a community in Alachua County with a constant effort to cultivate a sense of self-worth and equality in adolescent minorities which will afford them the same opportunities regardless of their race, gender, environment, or socio-economic status.

The Concrete Rose Foundation is headed by Founder Ashley McClellan Robinson, an ACPS Educator who has spent the last eight years working in Title 1 elementary schools in the underserved communities in Alachua County public schools. McClellan holds a bachelor's degree in psychology with a minor in criminology. The board of directors includes Vice President, Jibria White, the current Operations Manager at Clean Slate Initiative. White has a background in working with grassroots organizations and grant facilitation. Susan McClellan, the foundation's Secretary, has been an educator in Alachua County Public Schools for the past 30 years. Treasurer, Brenda Darling, worked 30 years as a registered nurse at Alachua General Hospital, where she served as the head charge nurse in the recovery department.

Staff includes operations manager, Robert King, former Marine, and Gainesville Police Department officer. After his tenure with the Gainesville Police Department, King served as the Department of Juvenile Justice liaison for the Reichert House Youth Academy, an alternative transition program for black males. Following the Reichart house, King implemented his own mentoring group for males at Idylwild Elementary School. Our Chaplain, Rev. Kenneth L. McClellan, has been ministering in Gainesville for more than 20 years. Randolph Robinson heads the organization's support staff.

14. Describe how your organization will sustain your proposed program beyond the term of the contract.

Grant funding from CTAC will allow significant expansion of The Concrete Rose Foundation. Upon completion of the contract, CRF will resume our efforts with fundraising, sponsorships, donations, and applying for other grants and resources that sustained the organization beforehand. Youth impact and involvement will not be lessened upon the completion of the contract. CTAC funds will be used to rent a meeting facility for CRF for the duration of the contract. Following the end of the contract, the organization will continue to host weekly group mentoring sessions, bi-weekly one-on-one mentoring sessions, and monthly events. Weekly after-school meetings will resume at Stephen Foster Elementary, and one-on-one activities and monthly events will continue at Shekinah Faith Center Ministries, Inc., where our Chaplain, Rev. Kenneth L. McClellan, is the Pastor. Both locations allow our organization to utilize their premises at no cost. This will enable us to proceed with all activities as usual.

CRF will utilize existing funding to employ a grant writer for the length of the contract. The Executive Director has identified courses and training to afford her the opportunity to enroll herself and one additional staff member in grant writing courses to provide additional financial support to the organization beyond the CTAC funding.

Budget 0-25 points

15. Detail the financial support (from whom and amount) you receive for your proposed program. Including in-kind services your organization leverages. (Detail Tab 2 of the budget)

The Concrete Rose Foundation receives occasional financial support from outside sources. The Children’s Trust of Alachua County provided us with our first sponsorship in the amount of $2,000 toward our 2nd annual HBCU tour. We have received generous financial donations from three local churches: Shekinah Faith Center Ministries, Inc. ($1,050), Deeper Purpose Community Church ($750), and Greater Bethel AME ($250).

Both Shekinah Faith Center and Greater Bethel have also presented CRF with in-kind donations by allowing our organization to host events and meetings free of charge. Mpire Foundation Corporation recently donated $1,000 and has also given in-kind services by allowing the use of their facility. A local donor offered a $1,000 donation in 2021 toward our 1st HBCU trip. The same donor later contributed $1,000 in 2023 toward CRF’s first pinning and award ceremony. Additional banquet donors include Phillip & Sons The Funeral Directors, Inc. ($500), The Alumnae Chapter of Delta Sigma Theta Sorority, Inc. ($200), and Greater Bethel AME church ($200). All other funds are raised internally by organizational fundraisers and smaller donors in the community.

16. Describe your organization’s fundraising activities.

Since 2021, The Concrete Rose Foundation has raised over $15,000 to sustain our organization and cover the expenses associated with field trips and events. In March 2022, $5,000 was used to cover the costs associated with CRF’s first annual Historically Black College and University (HBCU) tour. The Foundation aims to expose youths to college and university campuses nationwide. Last year, CRF visited three of the four Historically Black Colleges and Universities in the state of Florida. Youths traveled to Tallahassee, Florida for an overnight stay after touring the Florida State Capitol and Florida Agricultural and Mechanical University. The following day, the youths traveled to Jacksonville, Florida where they toured Edward Waters University, and Daytona Beach, Florida to tour Bethune-Cookman University.

The second annual HBCU tour took place in July 2023. The youths visited Atlanta, Georgia for a 3-day, 2-night trip where they visited: Spelman College, Clark Atlanta University, and Morris Brown College. In addition to the college visits, the girls received cultural awareness by visiting the King Center, the birthplace and foundation of Dr. Martin Luther King, and exposure to marine biology visiting the Georgia Aquarium. CRF surpassed its $9,000 fundraising goal and raised $10,800 to fund the second annual HBCU tour.

Other

17. Endemic interruption plans: What plan does your organization have in place for any endemic related interruptions to your programming, such as flu?

Youth who are unable to attend meetings or events in person due to health-related concerns have the option of attending digitally on Google Meet. Anyone with symptoms of respiratory or gastrointestinal infections, such as cough, fever, sore throat, vomiting, or diarrhea, should stay home. Testing is recommended for people with symptoms of COVID-19 as soon as possible after symptoms begin. If a person with COVID-19 symptoms tests negative for COVID-19, they should consider getting tested for other respiratory illnesses that could be spread to others, such as flu. If tested using an antigen test, negative tests should be repeated following FDA recommendations.

The Education Equalizer Foundation offers middle through high school students with the tools they need to get prepared for college. This includes a summer group mentoring workshop, monthly events with students and parents, as well as 1:1 virtual sessions to empower the students on their journey to college based upon their individual needs.

3. Describe the character-building curriculum and/or training that you intend to use. Also describe how program supervisors will provide on-going support to recruited mentors.

At our core, EEF is a mindset shift organization. Yes, we help students obtain their goal of attending college; however, we have developed our own character and leadership development curriculum. These lessons encourage our youth to improve their self-advocacy skills, self-determination, team-building, citizenship, and relationships. Our curriculum is based on research from UNCF, Journals of Education Research and other University Press.

4. Describe your program policies and procedures that address youth and mentor incidents and other unexpected circumstances during mentoring program hours.

Click or tap here to enter text.

EEF has established a student and parent handbook which outlines the expectations each scholar must meet. This includes attendance, dress code, participation and overall expectations. We use this handbook to set the tone prior to beginning a service with the students and their families. We have not had any incidents at this time. However we are prepared to issue warnings to the students, next to the student and their families and exclude the student only if absolutely necessary.

5. Describe how your program aligns with CTAC Goal 3: All children and youth live in a safe community.

Click or tap here to enter text.

In alignment with "Children live in a safe community," EEF has created an environment whereas scholars learn the importance to attending school to reduce truancy which in turn helps them to create a competitive college application. They learn that some colleges and some professional programs will not admit students who have hard blemishes on their record. We also host an end gun violence oratorical competition to help scholars improve their understanding of how violence affects their community.

- 6. Describe how your program establishes and utilizes evidence to assess effectiveness and impact. Please mark the boxes below to indicate infrastructure your program currently has in place. Note: The Trust has the authority to require specific evaluation tools for funded programs.

EEF is a data-driven organization. We use surveys to collect information about our participants and their families prior to enrolling, while enrolled and after the students have been admitted into college. These surveys ask the scholars and their families about our work, what we did well and how we can improve. We also collect data to determine the success of our scholars this includes, the colleges they have been admitted to, their ACT/SAT results after tutoring, the scholarships they have earned and any other data relevant for our organization and our grantors.

EEF students begin the College PASS program in-person. This year we have 20 students. As the year progresses more students will join our ad-hoc events. Those include college tours, application/scholarship workshops, team/character building activities, and 1:1 mentorship. The summer program is 25 hours. The group sessions are about 120 hours per year. The 1:1 mentorship is about 960 hours per year.

- 8. Describe how you will identify and recruit mentors.

Click or tap here to enter text.

We already have mentors. We are applying for the funds because we are not sustainable. We have been serving students for the past year; however, we need to compensate our volunteers for their time. This year our mentor to scholar ratio will likely be 25:1. We believe that we will assist at least 150 students this year. Last year we started with 12 students and assisted 107. This year we have started with 20, we could assist 200 or more. Our mentors are work at the University of Florida, City of Gainesville, Aces in Motion, Caring and Sharing, and Alachua County Schools. They are all experts in assisting our scholars.

Organizational Narrative

1. Describe your organization's ability to hire and train additional qualified staff and comply with background screening requirement (DCF Clearinghouse).

Ability to hire staff: Our agency has served children and schools in Alachua County for 36 years. We have a staff of 8 full-time employees, have yearly Take Stock in Children (TSIC or Take Stock) professional development conferences, and weekly PD training for this state-wide program. We have achieved Gold Standard for 10 years in a row, and a perfect score on the state's rigorous Balanced Scorecard Report ensuring we track and measure the program successes and outcomes. The state Take Stock office also provides technical support, job descriptions, and professional development resources to ensure local staff success.

Background Screening: We currently complete a full Level 2 background check on all staff. We complete the school system's background check in Raptor for all volunteer mentors. Mentors meet with students during 'out of class time' but on campus during school hours in view of school personnel in public places such as lunch rooms. The state of Florida has deemed that the in-school structure and the school's volunteer background check is sufficient for the program for many years. We can complete a Level 2 background check on all mentors if this is required upon award of this grant.

Program Description 0-30 Points

2. Describe an overview of your mentoring program focus and priority areas.

OVERVIEW: Take Stock provides mentors and college-readiness resources to high-potential students to graduate from high school, go to college, and transition successfully into careers. All students are from low-income households. Most students are first generation college-bound and this program helps break the cycle of poverty through transformative educational attainment. The Take Stock in Children program emphasizes responsibility and accountability among students, their parents/guardians, and mentors. Accordingly, students sign contracts promising to stay crime-free, drug-free, and maintain good grades and strong attendance. Upon successful graduation from high school, all students receive a two-year college scholarship.

For many years we have combined one-on-one mentoring with group mentoring sessions, College Success Coaching, student success events, college tours, and a summer STEM Camp as a way to build students' community connections and resiliency factors year-round.

Service Location: Mentors meet their students during lunch at the child's school during the school year. This occurs at all junior high and high schools in Alachua County, as well as dual enrolled students, and school of choice (mentoring sessions can occur at Alachua County e-school or virtually for these students through our app). There is no transportation as part of this program.

Stipends: All mentors volunteer, there are no stipends available to mentors.

PRIORITY AREAS: Take Stock in Children has identified four main priority areas: Personal Development, Educational Planning, Academic Skills, and Career Planning.
 To help students overcome risk-factors in life, the program strives to create resiliency for students through the following activities:

- Personal Development. Long-term mentoring relationships help students deal with persons who may come from different perspectives and backgrounds, and find support and guidance from caring, background-checked adults. A Take Stock Mentor can change a life by helping a child build confidence, a solid foundation of values, establish goals, and improve their academic skills.
- Contract Signing where parents and students pledge to adhere to the program in exchange for mentoring, College and Career Success Coaching and a college scholarship. This provides personal accountability for students.
- Educational Planning. College Scholarships reduce or eliminate potential burdens of college debt by providing student financial aid workshops as well as a Florida Prepaid Project STARS scholarship.

- College tours to help students visualize life on campus and meet with post-secondary students
- Academic Skills. College Success Coaches are assigned to each student and meet with them each semester (and much more if needed)
- Junior and seniors receive additional supports for ACT/SAT, essay writing and other college preparatory activities
- Advocacy and academic plans are created with counselors, parents and teachers when students need additional supports.
- Career Planning. Additional optional events to broaden perspectives and allow for career exploration
- STEM Camp (free to all Take Stock students) to expose children to high skill high-wage jobs using hands-on activities and field trips.
- Weekly Group Mentoring sessions that provide financial literacy; exposure to myriad career fields, college tours to visualize success, leadership opportunities, healthy relationships, etc.

When students have trouble with any of these areas, our College Success Coaches work with them, their teachers, their counselors and their parents to develop plans to get back on track, and utilize a full range of services for academic and personal needs.

Timely intervention: If students fail to meet the goals of behavior, attendance and a 2.5 GPA or higher, there is a Take Stock Leadership Council composed of current and retired educators that work to find the necessary support to help students get back on track. There are 7 steps of probation, and children can move back up the steps to ‘active status in good standing’ as a means to give children multiple opportunities for improvement. Prior to moving up the warnings system, timely interventions are enacted. This has been anything from mental health connections, to IEP advocacy, to tutoring help, and other resources. Each step involves communication with parents, mentors, and school staff.

3. Describe the character-building curriculum and/or training that you intend to use. Also describe how program supervisors will provide on-going support to recruited mentors.

In addition to the Take Stock College and Career Readiness curriculum described above and supported with over 25 years of evidence, this grant will allow our program to add the following:

Character-building curriculum: We will utilize UF IFAS character building communication modules that include all the modules for “9 Skills for Talking about Money” and Relationship Smart 3.0 for Teens to build resiliency factors that include understanding personal finance and important communication skills which can be utilized in every relationship—from work, to parents, to partners. We will work with IFAS extension agents and hire a dedicated facilitator to implement these workshops as part of our already established Group Mentoring Sessions which occur weekly for all Take Stock in Children students. We will also engage IFAS or the Dibbles Institute (or similar) to conduct “Train the Trainer” sessions for all of our College Success Coaches to share these insights with our mentors at our quarterly Mentor Mixers discussed below in “On-going support to mentors”. Based on an annual survey conducted by Take Stock state office, parents feel their students need more financial understanding in preparation for college. Thus, this program both supports general communication and financial literacy to help students thrive..

These character-building workshops have had thousands of participants country-wide since 2017 and numerous academic publications indicate their benefit—a clear data-driven curriculum to enhance the Take Stock program.

9 Communication Skills Modules

WORKSHOP 1

- 4 Don'ts of Communication
- Doing the Right Thing for the Right Reason

WORKSHOP 2

- 5 Dos of Effective Communication
- 10 Rules for Constructive Conflict

Relationship Smart for Teens Modules, Relationship Smarts PLUS 3.0 is an evidence-based program created to help teens learn innovative approaches to relationship skills. The lessons include:

1. Who Am I and Where Am I Going?
2. Attractions and Infatuation
3. Principles of Smart Relationships
4. Is It a Healthy Relationship?
5. Dating Violence and Breaking Up

On-going support to mentors: Take Stock in Children staff include a Mentor Coordinator whose primary role is match mentors with students and support mentors through advocacy, fielding questions and quarterly mentor get togethers. Topics in past sessions include:

- Active listening to students,
- Suicide prevention and supports for students with self-harm ideation, Mental Health First Aid,
- Understanding risk factors and how these impact students and similar support.

The state Take Stock in Children office has also created training videos and a Mentor Toolkit for all mentors, and a safety-monitored app for communication between students and mentors.

Monthly newsletters during the school year, and a mentor appreciation event annually keep mentors informed and engaged in our program. Mentors must make a one-year commitment, but most mentors are paired with a student as they enter the program and stay the entire 6 years the student is in our program, until they graduate from high school.

4. Describe your program policies and procedures that address youth and mentor incidents and other unexpected circumstances during mentoring program hours.

We utilize an MOU with the school system, as our mentors meet on school property during the school day, but not during school instructional hours. Therefore, incidents that happen would be covered under school volunteer documentation, available in Raptor integrated suite of school safety software and services.

5. Describe how your program aligns with CTAC Goal 3: All children and youth live in a safe community.

Community-wide safety: In 1995, the Take Stock in Children program was founded to counter a troubling and persistent high school dropout rate. High school dropout rates correlate with higher substance abuse, crime and mental illness [<https://www.ncbi.nlm.nih.gov/pmc/articles/PMC4655594/>]. The community overall is safer when children have opportunities to thrive by completing high school.

In Alachua County, we have served over 1,100 students and in the last several years our high school graduation rate is between 98 and 100% annually. This is much higher than the state-wide average of 83.1% for students in the same demographic cohort [2021-22 Florida Department of Education], a clear indicator of the Take Stock in Children model's success. Take Stock students are also much more likely to enroll in and complete college than their counterparts in similar income cohorts with similar risk factors.

Student safety: All meetings between Mentor and Mentee happen in a public place in view of school personnel. All communication happens on the state's Take Stock in Children app which is monitored by our team and the state office for safety purposes.

Aside from in-person meetings, Mentor and Mentee can communicate through the state's Take Stock in Children mobile app. All texts are monitored by the state and local staff to ensure child safety and appropriate conversation.

6. Describe how your program establishes and utilizes evidence to assess effectiveness and impact.

Please mark the boxes below to indicate infrastructure your program currently has in place. Note:

The Trust has the authority to require specific evaluation tools for funded programs.

EVIDENCE: We have been in operation in Alachua County since 1996. This program is highly monitored through the state's Take Stock in Children program using its "STAR database" to track scholars and a Balanced Scorecard report is created and reviewed bi-annually. For 10 years straight, our program has exceeded expectations and obtained the Gold Standard for the Balanced Scorecard which includes performance bonuses from the state's Take Stock in Children funding. We have obtained a perfect score for the last five years as well. The database tracks:

- Mentor sessions (15 sessions required, all are tracked annually)
- College Success Coach visits with students (with more visits for juniors and seniors annually)
- Student grades, behavioral issues and absences in partnership with the local schools. Take Stock scholars have a structured disciplinary scale with seven steps, and a volunteer Leadership Council who collectively work to help students remain accountable. Students can work their way back up the ladder and off of probation if they correct their grades or behavioral issues with the help of a College Success Coach plan.

- Students must be matched to mentors and must have proof of a scholarship provided within a specific time frame after being accepted in the program.
- Student events that include holistic support for Wellness resources, financial literacy, understanding college life, college tours, essay writing and other career preparatory opportunities.
- Student demographics: 100% of students live in poverty. 68.49% identify as persons of color. 100% have at least one other risk factor that would make college difficult including: incarcerated parent, single parent household, first generation college student, history of Department of Children and Families involvement in the household, homelessness, etc.

TSIC RESULTS:

- 100% of Alachua County students obtained above a 2.5 GPA for the last several years, with a 3.2 GPA average in the most recent year analyzed (2021-22).
- 91% of our TSIC students had fewer unexcused absences –an important indicator for student success.
- 100% of our students graduated from high school for the last two years (98% the year prior)
- 90% of students said TSIC prepared them adequately for college
- 81% of students said their mentor helped them stay on track for life after high school
- 72% said mentors helped them with social skills necessary for the future

With over 35,000 Take Stock in Children scholars throughout the state of Florida there is significant evidence that the program works and increases high school graduation and college readiness.

FILLING A NEED IN OUR COMMUNITY: How do these results compare to statewide averages? Disparities in education attainment persist in Florida and highlight the need for programs like Take Stock in Children:

- Degree attainment: Although 42% of Florida’s population is non-white, degree attainment of African American and Hispanic Floridians lags behind white and Asian Floridians by double digits.
- High school graduation: The high school graduation rate for low-income students in 2016 was 70.3%, compared to 85.6% for their non-low-income peers.
- Early college success: Only 57.8% of low-income students successfully complete a full year of college credit in two years’ time, compared to 70.2% of their non-low-income peers
[<https://floridacollegeaccess.org/about/why-this-matters/>]

Locally, students and parents were surveyed to identify their needs. They noted that, despite the college preparatory meetings, they still feel unprepared for college financially. The addition of the new UF IFAS curriculum for wellness that is centered on Financial Literacy Communication can help address that need. This curriculum is rooted in UF IFAS research and will dramatically enhance our group mentoring sessions and add an overarching program certificate that can be used as a resume builder for high school students entering college and to benefit their overall communication and self-advocacy tools.

Program Implementation 0-25 Points

7. Describe your program design and implementation. (Include frequency (how often) of and duration (amount of time) of group and one-on-one sessions. Also include longevity/length of the match)

Take Stock in Children was founded in response to persistent high school dropout rates among Florida’s most under-resourced youth. Research has increasingly shown that low-income students are less successful academically than their higher-income peers due to the constraints of living in poverty. The Take Stock in Children program was designed to be a simple yet transformative model for 100% low-income youth in grades 6-12 by combining a volunteer mentor, college readiness and coaching, and a Florida Prepaid Project STARS scholarship.

- Students are recruited through schools each fall, with one school lead designated at each junior and senior high school in our county.

- Students apply, are interviewed and are admitted based upon income levels (they must have a family income below the poverty line) and risk factors such as parent incarceration, homelessness, or other concerns that might hinder education.
- Students sign a contract in the spring and start with their new mentor in the fall, at the start of the school year.
- LONGEVITY OF MATCH: Students are matched with a mentor within 30-days of signing their Take Stock contract. Though some exceptions arise, this mentor stays with the student the entire time they are in the program. This can be six years including junior high and high school and over 65% of students indicate they plan to stay in contact with their mentors into adulthood in college, to serve as a resource for future career planning advice.
- RESOURCES: A Mentor Toolkit, yearly roadmap for college success and other supports have been created by the state, and quarterly mentor support sessions are held locally to help mentors connect with students and connect with our purpose of helping students graduate high school and attend college.
- FREQUENCY: Group sessions are held each week that school is in session, as a way to supplement student understanding and broaden their exposure to careers and resiliency factors. One-on-one sessions occur at least 15 times per school year, with an average of 17 sessions per school year in 2021-22 in Alachua County. Many mentor/mentee pairs meet weekly for lunch. When combining this with group sessions and week-long summer STEM Camp mentoring opportunities, students have the opportunity to complete at least one hour per week of mentoring through TSIC.

While we already provide group sessions, we have met with IFAS professor Dr. Victor Harris to discuss adding the Communications curriculum noted in Question 6 above, and have their support to implement the Character Building/Wellness curriculum if the grant is awarded.

8. Describe how you will identify and recruit mentors.

We have a full-time staff member, our Mentor Services Coordinator, who conducts outreach through civic groups such as 100 Black Men, Gainesville Black Professionals, Rotary, Kiwanis, Gainesville Women’s Club; the Chamber of Commerce, UF student groups, and direct business outreach. This dedicated position’s sole goal is to ensure students all have mentors to support them.

Mentor/Mentee Matching: All students identify their interests, and all mentors do as well. This provides an opportunity for matching interests to increase the likelihood of establishing a connection to sustain the mentoring relationship.

New 2023 outreach to recruit students AND mentors: We are applying for a state grant specifically for Take Stock programs called “Mentorship Program for At-Risk Male Students” (MPARMS). We see the need to support at-risk male students through research indicating lower levels of college entry for this population. Given that our female-to-male student ratio is 60/40, the grant proposal aims to increase the number of male students and mentors served by Take Stock in Children. MPARMS is a three-year grant (with the possibility of up to a 2-year extension) with activities beginning on Oct. 1, 2023. Grant participants would receive additional funding through this grant commensurate with the additional work required to target this special population and the resources and tools to support these efforts. The main goal would be to recruit more male students into the TSIC program through balancing the Male to Female recruitment ratio. Locally, this will mean our team must recruit young men by conducting outreach through mentoring and other groups such as

- 100 Black Men
- Project Manhood
- Project Success
- Mirror Image
- Made for More,, and others.

9. Describe the youth population(s) and age range you intend to serve, how many youth your program will serve, and how you will recruit youth. Describe how your organization intends to communicate with the youth’s parent or guardian.

Population served: We only serve Alachua County students living in poverty who have at least a 2.5 GPA and want to attend college. We currently serve 270 students. All students must be living in poverty and have at least one-risk factor which evidence shows has created barriers to college entry. Our program helps to alleviate those barriers and provide financial support for every single student. In Alachua County, 19.1% of all households live below the poverty line, earning less than $32,000 for a family of four. Over 68% of our students identify as persons of color. 100% of our students have risk factors that would make college difficult including: an incarcerated parent, single parent household, first generation college student, history of Department of Children and Families involvement in the household, homelessness, etc.

Parent/guardian communication. Parents must provide proof of their income level prior to entry into the program. They are invited to attend the contract signing where students meet their mentor for the first time, and are part of regular ongoing communication about TSIC through emails, newsletters, quarterly updates on student grades and progress, annual Financial Aid nights for juniors and seniors, and other means of communication as needed. Parents and students are surveyed about their experience and ways they believe the program can improve its services at the end of each academic year.

New Student 2023 outreach to recruit students AND mentors: We are applying for a state grant specifically for Take Stock programs called "Mentorship Program for At-Risk Male Students" (MPARMS). We see the need to support at-risk male students through research indicating lower levels of college entry for this population. Given that our female-to-male student ratio is 60/40, the grant proposal aims to increase the number of male students and mentors served by Take Stock in Children. MPARMS is a three-year grant (with the possibility of up to a 2-year extension) with activities beginning on Oct. 1, 2023. Grant participants would receive additional funding through this grant commensurate with the additional work required to target this special population and the resources and tools to support these efforts. The main goal would be to recruit more male students into the TSIC program through balancing the Male to Female recruitment ratio.

Emergency and Crisis Intervention Services: We have provided Mental Health First Aid in the past to all staff, and to parents and mentors. Should this grant be awarded, we will develop additional policy and procedures to ensure that all staff will be trained on DCF mandatory reporting to include all contact information, during and after program hours, for Alachua County emergency services.

10. Describe how CTAC funds will be used to expand your current program or create a new program.

In 2019, a one-time donation provided wellness support for our TSIC program. Our mentors, parents and staff completed Mental Health First Aid courses, and we hired a wellness coordinator. However, these funds have been used and we had to get rid of the staff position for wellness. We will use these funds to sustain our TSIC program by enhancing wellness opportunities through an evidence based partnership with UF IFAS extension agents for our group mentoring programs. The group mentoring is already in place, but adding a specific curriculum to enhance communication skills for our students can help them in all aspects of life as they grow and mature.

Though we receive operation funds and a performance bonus from the state Take Stock program, funds from the state do not fully cover the cost of staff necessary to maintain this program. We pursue grants from multiple other entities to ensure TSIC excellence. For example, a local energy company funds our STEM Camp each summer.

This grant will help us add back our wellness and resiliency program through group sessions on Communication (IFAS evidence-based program noted in Question 3 of this application) along with contracted time to administer it; and can ultimately help increase the number of students we serve annually.

11. Describe your organization's collaborative efforts and how those efforts positively impact your services and improve the lives of the children you serve.

Our group sessions currently partner with several financial institutions, with Peaceful Paths to provide healthy relationship advice, and several other community groups to share information about jobs and financial literacy.

We also partner extensively with Alachua County Public Schools to enhance out-of-school time for our students through college field trips in partnership with Santa Fe College, UNF, UF, FAMU, USF, UCF and FSU. We partner with the Statewide Consortium of Education Foundations and Take Stock in Children offices to identify best practices for our mentoring program. Finally, we partner with local STEM-related organizations to provide a STEM camp each summer for our TSIC students.

Student interventions and partnerships: We support "Cash for College Nights" through the chamber of commerce which is the Local College Access Network affiliate. We jointly host Financial aid nights with several high schools throughout the county working to increase FAFSA completion rates. FAFSA completion is a chief obstacle to obtaining the aid necessary to attend college. Our team provided expertise in financial aid at the "Cash for College Nights.". We were recognized for this and other collaborative efforts by the Chamber as the Small nonprofit of the year in 2022.

We partner with multiple holistic supports for students in need, including ACT preparation for students who need increased test scores, Pace Center for Girls for women who need more social and emotional support due to family trauma, the Parent Academy for parent supports, and many more. All of these activities go way beyond our required scorecard of metrics to create intangible benefits of exposure to new ideas, new resources, new career opportunities.

and the ability to visualize college as a real possibility for our students when they may never have seen that path before.

Agency Stability & Capability 0-20 Points

12. Describe your organization’s mission and services.

Mission:

To invest in the future of Alachua County Public School Students

[Take Stock in Children is open to public school students and those in school-of-choice who are living in poverty and have risk factors that make college difficult for them].

Vision:

The Foundation will help create an environment which recognizes Alachua County for its excellent public school programs that provide every student with an opportunity to succeed in tomorrow’s world.

Services:

TSIC services. To help students overcome risk-factors in their life, the program strives to create resiliency for students through the following activities:

- Personal Development. Long-term mentoring relationships help students deal with persons who may come from different perspectives and backgrounds, and find support and guidance from caring, background-checked adults. A Take Stock Mentor can change a life by helping a child build confidence, a solid foundation of values, establish goals, and improve their academic skills.
- Contract Signing where parents and students pledge to adhere to the program in exchange for mentoring, College and Career Success Coaching and a college scholarship. This provides personal accountability for students.
- Educational Planning. College Scholarships reduce or eliminate potential burdens of college debt by providing student financial aid workshops as well as a Florida Prepaid Project STARS scholarship.
- College tours to help students visualize life on campus and meet with post-secondary students
- Academic Skills. College Success Coaches are assigned to each student and meet with them each semester (and much more if needed)
- Junior and seniors receive additional supports for ACT/SAT, essay writing and other college preparatory activities
- Advocacy and academic plans are created with counselors, parents and teachers when students need additional support.
- Career Planning. Additional optional events to broaden perspectives and allow for career exploration
- STEM Camp (free to all Take Stock students) to expose children to high skill high wage jobs using hands-on activities and field trips.
- Weekly Group Mentoring sessions that provide financial literacy; exposure to myriad career fields, college tours to visualize success, leadership opportunities, healthy relationships, etc.

In addition to Take Stock in Children, our organization provides professional development opportunities for teachers, classroom innovation grants, and senior scholarships for all Alachua County students to make college more accessible and affordable.

Last year we provided over $120,000 in teacher support through professional development and classroom grants; $650,000 of scholarships; and helped students attain over $1.4 million in student financial aid.

13. Describe your organizational capacity to carry out the proposed project plan.

Founded in 1986, this organization has served local students for over 36 years. Our Take Stock in Children program was founded locally in 1996 and is separately funded, with some matching funds from the state. Local funds are critical to maintaining the program.

We have served over 1,100 Take Stock in Children students and have a staff of 8 dedicated people who help make this program highly successful. We have been awarded the Gainesville Small Nonprofit of the Year in 2 of the last three years, and have achieved a perfect score on the state's TSIC balanced scorecard for mentoring program performance for five years straight.

We have also completed Wellness programs in the past but just need the funds to continue this important work. We are confident we can carry out the plan to once again provide Take Stock mentoring and college readiness support, and add the Financial Communication curriculum to offer a more holistic program to benefit students.

14. Describe how your organization will sustain your proposed program beyond the term of the contract.

Take Stock in Children is supported by the general revenue portion of the state legislature. While these funds do not cover all of our TSIC program expenses, this program has had bi-partisan support in Florida for over 25 years. We are actively working to identify new funding sources from grants and donors to maintain our program's capacity to serve students from an under-served population. We have been in operation for over 36 years and will continue to pursue ways to help local students.

One area we are currently applying for funding was noted above. We are applying for a state grant specifically for Take Stock programs called "Mentorship Program for At-Risk Male Students." We see the need to support at-risk male students due to recent research indicating lower levels of college entry for this population. Given that our female-to-male student ratio is 60/40, the grant proposal hopes to increase the number of male students and mentors served by Take Stock in Children. MPARMS is a three-year grant (with the possibility of up to a 2-year extension) with activities beginning on Oct. 1, 2023. Grant participants would receive additional funding through this grant commensurate with the additional work required to target this special population and the resources and tools to support these efforts. The main goal would be to recruit more male students into the TSIC program through balancing the Male to Female recruitment ratio.

Budget 0-25 points

15. Detail the financial support (from whom and amount) you receive for your proposed program. Including in-kind services your organization leverages. (Detail Tab 2 of the budget)

- *Take Stock in Children state program grant and performance bonus $184,000
- *Local scholarship fundraising $152,338
- *Match for local scholarship fundraising from the Florida Prepaid Foundation $228,000 (held in the STAR scholarship fund for each student at the FL Prepaid Foundation).

We have generous in-kind support from the Alachua County School Board. Though we are a separate nonprofit organization, we have office space, phone systems and IT support donated from the schools as a way to keep our costs low. We also have nonprofit rates from several partners—everything from nonprofit rates for career aptitude tests we give to our students to help them visualize future careers, to free or reduced rates for room rentals to hold our student events and meetings.

16. Describe your organization's fundraising activities.

We have three main fundraising events: a partnership with Florida Credit Union and UF basketball to raise awareness and funds called "Beyond the Arc," our annual Education Gala, and The Amazing Give. Last year we raised over $125,000 during the Amazing Give to provide scholarships for Take Stock in Children students. We must continue to raise at least $300,000 for Take Stock annually in order to maintain our current number of students and meet the state's match requirement. That is why local match from entities such as the Children's Trust are so critical for this program.

All of these events are combined with corporate sponsorships, business and individual outreach to support our Take Stock program, and our programs for other senior scholarships and for teacher support.

Other

17. Endemic interruption plans: What plan does your organization have in place for any endemic related interruptions to your programming, such as flu?

When the pandemic hit in 2020, the entire Take Stock program quickly pivoted to an online and virtual mentoring program. We held "This Quaran-Teen Life" sessions to support students and could quickly implement such a strategy again. All mentoring sessions were held via zoom and monitored by our College Success Coaches. And Take Stock from the state developed an app that allows for communication between mentors and students that is monitored by our staff and the state offices for safety and compliance. The app features our Mentor Toolkit, helps mentor/mentee teams track how many times they have met, and offers guiding supports such as the Roadmap to College to help prepare students for academic success. Should a major flu or other outbreak occur, we are fully prepared to pivot once again to a fully online structure if needed. However, we feel that the face to face interactions we provide, combined with our virtual group sessions are a powerful combination of mentoring that works. That is why 100% of our students have graduated from high school in the last two years and we are confident that we can maintain this critical program no matter the endemic circumstances.

Thank you for applying for funding from the Children's Trust of Alachua County. Please complete sections of this work book that pertain to the funding needs you are interested in for your program.

The orchestra does not have a physical office location. Each contracted staff position works from home. The program manager would be responsible for printing lesson plans, handouts, sheet music, and homework instructions throughout the contracted period. The student count is estimated between 110 and 120 for this contract period and with the weekly volume of paper, ink, and use of personal printer would be an undue burden on the teachers/tutors.

Organizational Narrative

1. Describe your organization's ability to hire and train additional qualified staff and comply with background screening requirement (DCF Clearinghouse).

We are capable and willing to comply with fingerprinting and background screening for our mentors and teachers. Our personnel manager is also the program supervisor for this grant and will oversee this process.

Program Description 0-30 Points

2. Describe an overview of your mentoring program focus and priority areas.

Our focus in mentoring is to provide an entry point into instrumental music for underserved children. With the belief that Every Child Can, Shinichi Suzuki proved that all children could learn to play a musical instrument in the same way that they learn language, and that talent is not inborn, but developed. We are dedicated to transforming lives through the power of diversity in the arts. Alachua County does not provide classes in orchestral instruments in the elementary grades. We believe that all children benefit from exposure to not only listening to classical music but learning to play an instrument. Our priority is to not to produce musicians necessarily, but to produce a fine character and a beautiful heart through listening and learning beautiful music. We also prioritize listening and fine motor skills which will help children succeed in all other areas of learning.

3. Describe the character-building curriculum and/or training that you intend to use. Also describe how program supervisors will provide on-going support to recruited mentors.

Learning to play violin is both an individual and group effort. It builds character through learning discipline and repetition. not only of the physical motor skills but listening to your own self and to others playing. It requires thoughtful, determined effort that produces a gentle caring result. Our Program Supervisor is a Suzuki Trained Violin Teacher with over 40 years of experience teaching privately and in school classrooms. Virginia Lamboley will oversee the curriculum as well as aid in the division of duties and group/one-on-one mentoring. She is available by phone, email or in person to help with any situations that arise needing support. Our recruited mentors are also professional level violinists and teachers, as well as representing differing communities and backgrounds. Therefore, we feel well equipped to understand and help with any kind of situation that may arise.

4. Describe your program policies and procedures that address youth and mentor incidents and other unexpected circumstances during mentoring program hours.

Our program will be part of Lake Forest Elementary’s music classes. We will have the same disciplinary procedures that the school has and have the support of both the music teacher and principal. Our mentors will be trained in mandated reporting and will go through the necessary means of reporting and obtaining help for any unexpected circumstances. We will have a minimum of 2 (usually 3) mentors/teachers in each session, so 2 deep leadership will be in place, whether the class is having a group session or individual one on one 15-minute sessions (which will be held in the sight of other teacher/mentors). Virginia Lamboley, program supervisor, will oversee the receipt of information about mandatory reporting and conduct.

5. Describe how your program aligns with CTAC Goal 3: All children and youth live in a safe community.

While it is impossible to supervise all children and youth 24 hours a day, it has been proven many times that music participation is a successful way to give our children and youth an outlet and environment that helps keep them from being “on the street” getting involved in crime/ drugs/ gangs/ etc. Barry Manilow stated that music/band is what saved him in his youth in a crime infested area of New York City growing up. Many others have had similar experiences.

Our mentors will be trained in mandated reporting and will go through the necessary means of reporting and obtaining help for any unexpected circumstances. We will have a minimum of 3 mentors/teachers and 3 assistant teachers in each session, so 2 deep leadership will be in place, whether the class is having a group session or individual one on one 15-minute sessions (which will be held in the sight of other teacher/mentors). Virginia Lamboley, program supervisor, will oversee the receipt of information about mandatory reporting and conduct.

6. Describe how your program establishes and utilizes evidence to assess effectiveness and impact. Please mark the boxes below to indicate infrastructure your program currently has in place. Note: The Trust has the authority to require specific evaluation tools for funded programs.

Our program is based on research and training in Suzuki Talent Education as well as other pedagogical evidence that listening to and learning classical music does indeed improve the brain synapses and help with learning other subjects and testing. This has been called “The Mozart Effect” and is backed by brain scans and scientific studies.

We will be providing musical instruments/classes to children who could not otherwise access them due to expense. The evidence and data will be evident by performance in our mentoring program as well as attitudes and scores on testing, etc. This is difficult to track, but we will be making videos as well as sending questionnaires to parents and other teachers to ascertain progress.

Participant demographics are already in place, as Lake Forest is a Title One School and has these demographics on record. Quality and outcomes will be evident in performance. We will be providing one on one lessons for those students who have shown evidence of desire and determination to continue.

Program Implementation 0-25 Points

7. Describe your program design and implementation. (Include frequency (how often) of and duration (amount of time) of group and one-on-one sessions. Also include longevity/length of the match)

Our Suzuki based Introduction to Violin program will meet during music class each Tuesday and Thursday during the 2023/24 school year. The students will have one 45-minute class per week as a group. This is for all 4th and 5th grade students at Lake Forest Elementary. There will be approximately 30 students per class. We will have 3 mentoring teachers plus 3 assistant teachers in each class, so that there will be one-on-one sessions going on frequently with teachers pulling out one student at a time to give personal instruction (this will be happening in view of other teachers, but out of the group setting). The length of our match will be for the entire 2023/24 school year. We will also have opportunities for the group to attend performances and/or rehearsals of The Gainesville Orchestra in October and in January.

8. Describe how you will identify and recruit mentors.

Mentors are recruited from The Gainesville Orchestra and are professional musicians and teachers.

9. Describe the youth population(s) and age range you intend to serve, how many youth your program will serve, and how you will recruit youth. Describe how your organization intends to communicate with the youth's parent or guardian.

We will be serving the children in 4th and 5th grades at Lake Forest Elementary, and other Title One schools in the future if this program works well. There are between 110 and 120 children in this group. We are planning to send emails/letters to parents and guardians about the students learning. Plans are being developed for a concert at the end of the school year that parents and guardians can attend.

10. Describe how CTAC funds will be used to expand your current program or create a new program.

The CTAC funds will be used to create a new program. Most of the funds will go to teachers and assistant teachers for instruction/ tutoring for payment . The second bulk of funds will go towards purchasing used violins in three sizes, with a bow and a case for each violin. Initial purchase will ensure there are enough instruments kits available to meet the variety of physical sizes within the age ranges of the 4th and 5th graders. The instruments will be the property of the orchestra. The balance of funds will be used to cover office supplies and materials needed to conduct one-on-one and group instruction.

11. Describe your organization's collaborative efforts and how those efforts positively impact your services and improve the lives of the children you serve.

For over 40 years, we have presented children's concerts, both in schools and at the Phillips Center in Gainesville. We have a 'walk through the orchestra' where students walk on stage and right through the middle of instrumentalists while we are playing. We have always wanted to improve the lives of children, and increase the ability of a diverse population to be able to experience great orchestral and instrumental music. This led to our joining NIMAN (Now known as Equity Arc) to provide mentor support for young BIPOC musicians to pursue their passions.

Agency Stability & Capability 0-20 Points

12. Describe your organization's mission and services.

The Gainesville Orchestra (TGO) will provide to Alachua County and surrounding areas quality programs through traditional and contemporary repertoire, which will entertain, enrich and educate a diverse and broad-based audience.

13. Describe your organizational capacity to carry out the proposed project plan.

The collaborating partner is the School Board of Alachua County (SBAC), specifically led by Dr. Dre Graham - Director, Educational Equity and Outreach Alachua County Public Schools. Through Dr. Graham’s position with the SBAC four elementary schools in Alachua County have been identified as at-risk. The four elementary schools are Metcalfe, Rawlings, Lake Forest, and Terwilliger. Year one of this program will begin with Lake Forest Elementary with six musicians per 20 students covering the one-on-one instructions and group activities. Beginning in year two plans are to expand the program by adding one to two of the identified schools. By year three all four schools are planned to be included. The orchestra currently has 15 permanent, professionally trained violin and viola musicians not including the additional musicians on the substitute list.

14. Describe how your organization will sustain your proposed program beyond the term of the contract.

Part of the orchestra’s mission “... provide quality programs through traditional and contemporary repertoire, which will entertain, enrich and educate a diverse and broad-based audience”. Sustainability of the mentoring program is at the core of our mission. Partnership with one current vendor, Gainesville Violins, is giving us special rates on string sets, repairs, and deep discounts on used instruments. Fundraising ideas are being identified that focus solely on the mentoring program verses simply a donation to the organization. Examples such as targeting specific people and corporations to sponsor a tangible need (i.e., purchase of instrument kits, a scholarship, transportation for group events, etc.).

Budget 0-25 points

15. Detail the financial support (from whom and amount) you receive for your proposed program. Including in-kind services your organization leverages. (Detail Tab 2 of the budget)

The orchestra is the recipient of funds from the Annette Weuthrick Charitable Trust designated to children’s projects. The annual funding has increased over the years as we have added more children’s programs. This season the donation increased by $5,000 due to the implementation of the mentoring program. Additionally, a new funding source will be proceeds from Wolf Song, a book written by Rebecca Micha (TGO’s executive Vice President) which is currently Amazon’s top selling book in the music teacher category. The proceeds from this book have yet to be determined as the sales and distribution began a few weeks ago and we have not received the first payout.

16. Describe your organization’s fundraising activities.

One large annual fundraiser is conducted each year at the end of the season. Pre-season ticket renewals include opportunities to give at different financial levels, which includes admission to each concert. The website and seasonal event programs outline all the ways to support the organization. Prior to the start of the season another fundraising event is held on a smaller scale focusing on those who have not given within the previous season. Additionally, each concert the President of the organization or the conductor will ask for support which always generates additional financial contributions.

Other

17. Endemic interruption plans: What plan does your organization have in place for any endemic related interruptions to your programming, such as flu?

We have in place 2 substitute teachers/mentors who can take over when needed. In the case of something major, like COVID was, we can provide online instruction, such as Google Meet or Zoom. We can also provide video instruction through the orchestra archives, of made for school children's concerts.

Organizational Narrative
1. Describe your organization's ability to hire and train additional qualified staff and comply with background screening requirement (DCF Clearinghouse).
We recruit the head golf teaching professionals (PGA certified) at each golf course that we operate. Additionally, for individuals who are not licensed or experienced, we recruit those individuals through our volunteer program which offers on the job training, and we select our best volunteers to be promoted to paid coaching positions. We leverage our network at the University of Florida and each golf course to recruit coaches and manage turnover. We have 25 paid golf coaches and 25 volunteer golf coaches. We perform background checks on every coach prior to starting with us.
Program Description 0-30 Points
2. Describe an overview of your mentoring program focus and priority areas.

Our organization uses golf as a vehicle to develop life skills in children. Our goal is to deliver the instruction and guidance necessary to prepare our kids to become productive members of society by the time they reach adulthood. Our mentoring and life skills development programs are delivered through weekly golf classes and golf playing programs. We have 23 weekly group mentoring golf classes available to children year round. We offer mentoring play days where kids are paired with a young college-age coach one-on-one to play on the golf course and the goal is to help the kids transition from the driving range to the golf course in an environment with less pressure and fewer distractions. Our program prioritizes enhancing access to the sport for the following underserved demographics: youth minorities, youth girls, youth in low income families, and youth with disability/disease. Our programs are delivered via four avenues: 1) individual families who can provide their own transportation to the golf course, 2) Girls Place students, 3) Reichert House students, 4) inpatient children at Shands Children's Hospital. The Girls Place and Reichert House programs transport their kids to the golf course and our coaches travel to the hospital for our children's hospital golf program. No-cost scholarships are provided to individual low income families, which includes free access to golf equipment, golf apparel and all of our instruction services.

3. Describe the character-building curriculum and/or training that you intend to use. Also describe how program supervisors will provide on-going support to recruited mentors.

Gator Junior Golf's founding team designed the teaching curriculum to center around three core principles of character development, team-building and mentorship. Our curriculum mirrors that of the First Tee organization which is an organization that has invested millions of dollars of research into its development. The nearest First Tee organizations are in Jacksonville and Tampa, so our organization fills a geographic gap in services. We have 7 class levels where kids are exposed to an age-appropriate curriculum. Our curriculum uses golf as a vehicle to teach a) life skills, such as courtesy and respect, b) interpersonal skills, such as teamwork, conflict resolution and starting a conversation with someone, and c) the ability to transfer life skills learned on the golf course to other walks of life at school and at home (i.e. showing courtesy to your mother by helping her bring in the groceries).

For character development, we teach our core values such as honesty and respect. Our kids learn how to exhibit the core value on the golf course, at home and at school. Kids participate in team-building games to learn how to work with others in a group setting and how to handle social conflicts. The kids in our advanced levels are encouraged to volunteer for the beginner level classes to earn community service hours and mentor the younger students. Several years after our founding in 2016, many of the kids that started with us are now volunteer mentors. For each mentor, we train them using a combination of online and in-person training. Our online training is a series of videos on our website. Our in-person training is conducted both before and during the season. Mentors are trained to ensure compliance with safety policies as well as curriculum delivery. Program supervisors provide on the job training to mentors by observing their behavior and providing feedback at randomly selected classes throughout the season.

4. Describe your program policies and procedures that address youth and mentor incidents and other unexpected circumstances during mentoring program hours.

We have a code of conduct that parents/guardians agree to upon sign up. Mentor coaches are informed during training of who to contact to report breach of policy incidents, which commonly include safety violations. Once a mentor has reported a policy violation, the supervisor communicates with the individual in violation and, if appropriate, sends a reminder to all mentor coaches of the policies to abide by. Additionally, we have mentor supervisors that monitor many of the golf classes and are able to provide real time feedback of observed violations/incidents.

5. Describe how your program aligns with CTAC Goal 3: All children and youth live in a safe community.

Our primary focus is developing interpersonal skills which will help prevent risky behaviors in youth, so kids can grow to become adults that later contribute to a safe environment for the next generation. We believe through positive role-modeling, kids can learn from their mentors on how to behave to become productive members of society at adult age. We also focus on physical safety. At the beginning of and throughout each golf season, the safety rules are explained, reiterated and enforced to maintain a physically safe environment.

Mentors are trained on safe program design by ensuring hitting stations are set up in a manner that minimizes risk of physical injury. We also train our mentors to observe children's physical health and monitor the outdoor conditions such as temperature and weather to ensure we are operating in a safe environment.

Our mentors implement our teaching curriculum, observe behavior and provide feedback. Kids are taught interpersonal life skills to help them work with their peers in a productive way. They are taught how to resolve conflicts in a peaceful, civilized manner. Mentors observe and provide a reward at the end of each group session for children who displayed a core value or ones who handled a conflict situation well. As part of our daily observations, mentors facilitate discussion on how the students performed each class day using our good-better-how feedback method by asking the following questions to both students and fellow mentors: What did we do good? What can we do better with? And how can we get better?

6. Describe how your program establishes and utilizes evidence to assess effectiveness and impact.
Please mark the boxes below to indicate infrastructure your program currently has in place.
Note: The Trust has the authority to require specific evaluation tools for funded programs.

We perform survey assessments to evaluate our results by obtaining responses from the kids, parents and coaches. Kids are asked to provide a numeric rating on their improvement of golf skills, life skills and transferability of life skills. They are also asked to provide a free response example of each. Parents are asked to complete a survey in evaluating our program from their perspective, which is used to identify any potential problems in our program delivery. Coaches are asked to evaluate themselves and one peer, which is used to help identify our strongest and weakest coaches. We track survey results over time to identify trends and correlate them to retention rates and other metrics to help us make decisions to optimize our operational results. Survey results are stored in our cloud based CRM system.

Program Implementation 0-25 Points

7. Describe your program design and implementation. (Include frequency (how often) of and duration (amount of time) of group and one-on-one sessions. Also include longevity/length of the match)

Our program has 23 weekly group golf classes and one bi-weekly one-on-one mentor play day, year round. Each group golf class is 1-2 hours long and one mentor play day is 1.5-2 hours long. Each child is able to participate in up to 3-4 hours of mentoring per week depending on their age and skill level.

8. Describe how you will identify and recruit mentors.

We recruit mentors by reaching out to University of Florida students via the college’s various email listservs. We also have many relationships built with the professionals at each golf course who assist with in person word of mouth recruitment. In total, we have 50 mentor coaches. 25 are paid staff and 25 are volunteers. If an individual has prior experience and has teaching certifications then they can start as a paid staff mentor coach. If an individual does not have prior experience, then they can start as a volunteer and obtain on the job training. We select the best performing volunteers to paid staff positions. We encourage all of our mentors to recruit new mentors via word of mouth. Lastly, we recruit our older advanced level students to become mentors for the younger kids.

9. Describe the youth population(s) and age range you intend to serve, how many youth your program will serve, and how you will recruit youth. Describe how your organization intends to communicate with the youth's parent or guardian.

Our target population is youth aged 5-17 in low-to-moderate income families, youth minorities, youth girls, and youth with disabilities/disease. We reach 450 kids per year. Kids are acquired through two main segments: 1) those that can provide transportation to the golf course, 2) those that have transportation provided by a third party. For individual families who provide their own transportation to the golf course, these kids are recruited via various advertising campaigns. Advertising campaigns include post office mailers sent to low-to-moderate income neighborhoods around each golf course, facebook and google ads as well as other digital advertising with the schools and school-related activities. We offer no-cost scholarships for families in need which includes access to golf equipment, golf apparel and our classes. We also acquire youth through our partnerships with Girls Place, Reichert House and Shands Children's Hospital to help us recruit youth in low income families, youth minorities, youth girls and youth with disabilities/disease. These programs offer our golf classes as a reward for good grades and behavior. We communicate with parents/guardians via email and phone/text by collecting their contact information upon our online sign up form. We inform them of unexpected class cancellations as well as new mentoring opportunities that they can sign up for.

10. Describe how CTAC funds will be used to expand your current program or create a new program.

CTAC funds will be used to expand our program by 100 kids by enabling us to deliver 7 additional group and one-on-one mentoring golf classes. The CTAC funds will be used to grow our mentoring programs that will go unfunded starting later this year, including our golf programs with Girls Place, Reichert House, Shands Children's Hospital, no-cost scholarships for individual families in need, our Play Days and other financial assistance programs. We are seeking to replace a portion of the $35,000 covid-era annual funding our organization will no longer receive in 2023-2024. These funds were used to expand our program to its current size, and we require these funds to sustain our operations at current levels. We are on track to replace all but $15,000 of these covid-era funds which is our grant request. If we do not receive the $15,000, then our program will have to downsize by 100 kids (~7 classes).

11. Describe your organization's collaborative efforts and how those efforts positively impact your services and improve the lives of the children you serve.

Our organization partners with Girls Place, Reichert House and Shands Children's Hospital. These partnerships enable us to overcome many barriers to entry for the sport. Many of these kids come from low-income families, many are minorities and young girls- families in these demographics are grossly underserved and without our program's intervention they are unlikely to try the unfamiliar but highly rewarding sport of golf on their own. By enabling these kids to participate in golf with their friends at no cost and with transportation provided, we make it as easy as ever to get them started and teach them life skills through the game of golf.

Agency Stability & Capability 0-20 Points

12. Describe your organization's mission and services.

Gator Junior Golf is a 501(c)3 non-profit sports-based youth development program founded in 2016 that focuses on teaching golf skills and life skills through the game of golf. We build a foundation in our children's lives that begins on the golf course and matures to success in life. Our mission is to enhance the lives of youth by providing educational programs that build character, promote team-building, and establish mentorship through the game of golf. Our vision is to provide equitable opportunities for the children in our community to develop through the game of golf regardless of socioeconomic status, race, gender or physical ability. We have 7 levels of group classes and we have one-on-one mentoring play days; kids have various assessments and challenges to encourage them to work toward moving up to the next level. Classes take place throughout the year in fall, spring and summer seasons.

We enable our children to continue learning outside of golf class by providing access to our website's online instructional videos, homework and quizzes. We also provide golf clubs and golf clothes for the kids to use outside of class. With those efforts in combination with eliminating the costs of practicing at the golf course outside of class, we enable parents, grandparents and guardians to continue their child's development on the golf course outside of class. The result that our program achieves is not only a few hours per week of in-person instruction available to each child, but also we're extending many more hours of opportunities for kids to continue the learning process outside of class. Our efforts to foster participation outside of golf class are highly cost efficient and have an exponential impact on the number of hours of reach our organization has on each child.

13. Describe your organizational capacity to carry out the proposed project plan.

Our organization has been in operation for over 7 years with deep partnerships established with every golf course in Alachua county, and we have nearly every qualified golf instructor in the county on our payroll. We have a proven labor model that leverages volunteers from the University of Florida using our repeatable recruiting methods. Our ability to recruit and manage turnover is evidenced by our over 50 person coaching force. Our track record of consistently recruiting 450 kids every year is evidence that we have repeatable methods for marketing our program to families with young children. We publish our annual results on our website through our impact reports for the past several years. We have established working relationships with three other partner nonprofits, including Girls Place, Reichert House and Shands Children's Hospital. We have a website that has been refined over 7 years with countless instructional videos, homework and quizzes available to the kids. We also have established CRM software that enables us to track our results with several years of historical data.

14. Describe how your organization will sustain your proposed program beyond the term of the contract.

We plan to sustain our proposed program by continuing to diversify our funding sources via grants, individual donations and corporate sponsorships. We continue to nurture our relationships with golf courses, identify existential threats such as future golf course closures and respond accordingly by diversifying our operational footprint and adding more golf courses. We continue to nurture and enhance our partnerships with existing organizations, such as Girls Place, Reichert House and Shands Children’s Hospital. We continually monitor trends in enrollment to identify weaknesses or inefficiencies in our ability to recruit youth as well our ability to recruit staff.

Budget 0-25 points

15. Detail the financial support (from whom and amount) you receive for your proposed program. Including in-kind services your organization leverages. (Detail Tab 2 of the budget)

Fees charged to non-scholarship families $60,000. Florida License Plate Grant $20,000, Wadsworth Golf Charities Foundation $11,000, Edward T. Bedford Foundation $15,000, United Way of North Central Florida $10,000 (awaiting grant decision). Corporate contributions $16,000. Individual contributions $9,000. Fundraisers $13,000.

16. Describe your organization’s fundraising activities.

We have an established scholarship fund with one individual that gives annually (Mike Sullivan Scholarship Fund). We sell golf apparel branded with our logo. We ask local businesses to sponsor us each year in return for brand recognition. We are constantly searching and applying for new grant opportunities using search tools online.

Other

17. Endemic interruption plans: What plan does your organization have in place for any endemic related interruptions to your programming, such as flu?

Management stays informed about local and national health agencies’ recommendations and guidelines regarding endemic outbreaks. We promote and educate participants and staff about preventative measures including proper handwashing, respiratory hygiene and encouraging those that are sick to stay home. Due to our large coaching base, we have a substantial cushion for coach backups to help us survive a staffing shortage due to an endemic interruption. Due to the outdoor nature of our program, we are one of the safest activities participants and staff can be involved in if there is a fast spreading illness.

On-Course Hours Delivered

CHILDREN SERVED PER YEAR

A key theme throughout the year was our dedication to adding more complimentary services and offerings for our families. Inflation was a hot topic in 2022, rising to nearly 10%. We worked with our equipment vendor to offer golf clubs to our families at a 40% discount to retail and for our families in need at a 70% discount or even free in some cases. We want our participants to be able to practice and play outside of class, so having their own equipment helps accomplish this.

Historically, our program has only operated 8 months per year where we take the summer off due to the lack of access to instructors. However, the addition of junior golf tournaments this summer was the first step toward making us a year round program. In all, 2022 was a year where we overcame challenges and, thanks to the dedication of our coaches, we still provided more services than ever for our families in need.

Program Description 0-30 Points

2. Describe an overview of your mentoring program focus and priority areas.

Through The LAND Program, we aim to provide mentoring, gardening education, nature-based survival skills, and entrepreneurship training to elementary through high school students. Our project seeks to address two significant challenges facing today's youth: a lack of practical skills and limited exposure to entrepreneurship opportunities. Through The LAND Program we intend to empower young individuals aged 5-18 with hands-on gardening training, basic wilderness survival skills, business acumen, and the confidence to pursue their entrepreneurial dreams. Our mission is to impart land based entrepreneurship and sustainable life skills.

3. Describe the character-building curriculum and/or training that you intend to use. Also describe how program supervisors will provide on-going support to recruited mentors.

The curriculum of The LAND Program is designed to provide a comprehensive and engaging learning experience. This curriculum combines hands-on gardening training with entrepreneurship education, which will allow for empowering our participants by developing practical gardening skills, understanding sustainable practices, and embracing an entrepreneurial mindset. Through a series of interactive workshops, group activities, field trips, and guest speaker sessions, participants will gain expertise in planting, nurturing, and harvesting produce, while also delving into essential entrepreneurship concepts such as business planning, marketing, and customer engagement. The curriculum's progression over 9 months ensures a holistic growth journey that fosters confidence, leadership, and environmental stewardship, enabling our youth to excel in both horticulture and business endeavors.

The Program Coordinator will play a pivotal role in providing ongoing support to our recruited mentors. They will initiate regular communication channels, including mentor meetings and check-ins, to facilitate knowledge sharing, address concerns, and offer guidance. The Coordinator will organize mentor training sessions at the beginning of the program, equipping them with effective mentoring strategies and tools to engage with youth of diverse backgrounds. Additionally, the Coordinator will oversee the mentor-mentee matching process, ensuring that each participant benefits from a supportive and meaningful mentoring relationship. Throughout the program, the Coordinator will actively monitor mentor-mentee interactions, offering continuous feedback, and facilitating peer learning among mentors. This comprehensive support system aims to cultivate a strong mentorship network that contributes significantly to the participants' personal and skill development, ultimately enhancing the program's impact.

4. Describe your program policies and procedures that address youth and mentor incidents and other unexpected circumstances during mentoring program hours.

These guidelines outline the program policies and procedures for addressing incidents involving youth participants and mentors, as well as managing unexpected circumstances that may arise during program hours. These policies are designed to prioritize the safety, well-being, and positive experience of all individuals involved in the mentoring program.

1. Incident Reporting:

In the event of an incident involving a youth participant or mentor, it is essential to promptly address the situation. All incidents, regardless of severity, must be reported to the Program Coordinator immediately. Incidents may include injuries, conflicts, behavioral concerns, or any situation that impacts the well-being of participants or mentors.

2. Immediate Response:

Upon receiving an incident report, the Program Coordinator will assess the situation and take appropriate immediate action, such as providing medical attention if needed or intervening to ensure the safety of all individuals involved. The safety of participants and mentors is our top priority.

3. Communication and Reporting:

The Program Coordinator will notify relevant parties, including parents/guardians of youth participants and mentors involved, as well as organization leadership. A detailed incident report will be filled out, documenting the incident's nature, actions taken, individuals involved, and any follow-up steps required.

4. Conflict Resolution:

In the case of conflicts or disagreements between mentors and youth participants, the Program Coordinator will facilitate open communication and mediation. Our goal is to create a supportive and respectful environment that fosters positive relationships and personal growth.

5. Ongoing Support:

The Program Coordinator will provide ongoing support to mentors, ensuring they have the necessary resources and guidance to navigate their mentorship roles effectively. Regular mentor check-ins will be scheduled to address concerns, offer advice, and encourage continuous improvement.

6. Unexpected Circumstances:

In situations where unexpected circumstances, such as inclement weather or sudden changes to scheduled activities, arise during program hours, the Program Coordinator will make informed decisions to ensure the safety and well-being of participants and mentors. Contingency plans will be in place to address such circumstances, with clear communication provided to all stakeholders.

7. Confidentiality:

All incident reports and related communications will be treated with the utmost confidentiality, shared only with individuals directly involved in the resolution process and those with a legitimate need to know. These guidelines are meant to ensure a safe, supportive, and enriching environment for all participants and mentors in our program. By adhering to these policies and procedures, we are committed to addressing incidents promptly, promoting positive relationships, and maintaining the integrity of the mentoring experience.

5. Describe how your program aligns with CTAC Goal 3: All children and youth live in a safe community.

The city of Gainesville has declared gun violence as a public health crisis. A goal of our program is to protect children and youth away from potentially dangerous environments and to help them develop natural skills that are not taught in their everyday environment. By exposing our participants to nature, gardening skills, survival skills, and entrepreneurship, we can teach them skills that will move them away from participation in violent activities and/or from having to spend unsupervised time in potentially violent spaces.

6. Describe how your program establishes and utilizes evidence to assess effectiveness and impact.

Please mark the boxes below to indicate infrastructure your program currently has in place. Note:

The Trust has the authority to require specific evaluation tools for funded programs.

The LAND Program is committed to establishing a robust framework for assessing effectiveness and measuring impact. This process will rely on multiple components, including the utilization of a logic model, the collection of comprehensive data on various aspects of the program, diligent data tracking and analysis, and transparent reporting and sharing of findings with relevant stakeholders.

1. Logic Model Framework:

The program's logic model will serve as the foundation for assessing effectiveness and impact. It outlines inputs, activities, outputs, and outcomes, providing a clear roadmap for understanding how the program operates and the desired changes it aims to achieve.

2. Data Collection:

- Participant Demographics: Collecting demographic information ensures we serve a diverse group and tailor the program to meet their specific needs.
- Service Provision: Tracking program activities, such as mentoring sessions, workshops, and field trips, helps evaluate the implementation of the curriculum and the extent of engagement.
- Service Quality: Regular feedback surveys and participant assessments will gauge the quality of program components and mentorship relationships.
- Outcomes: Measuring short-term, intermediate, and long-term outcomes (e.g., skills gained, environmental awareness, entrepreneurial mindset) quantifies the program's impact on participants. We have created a "Mentee Relationship Quality Assessment" and a Pre/Post "Youth Outcome Survey" to accomplish this.

3. Data Tracking and Analysis:

The Program Coordinator, along with data management tools, will track participant attendance, engagement, and progress. This analysis will provide insights into the effectiveness of specific program components and overall impact.

4. Reporting and Sharing Findings:

Regular reports will be compiled by the Program Coordinator, summarizing key data points and insights. These reports will be shared with appropriate parties, including program stakeholders, funders, mentors, and participants. Transparency in reporting ensures accountability and promotes continuous improvement.

5. Continuous Improvement:

Data analysis will lead to evidence-based adjustments in program implementation. For instance, if data shows that a particular workshop is resonating well with participants, similar content may be emphasized. If outcomes fall short of expectations, the program can tailor interventions to address specific areas of improvement.

6. Stakeholder Engagement:

The program values the input of mentors, participants, families, and community partners. Regular meetings and surveys will be conducted to gather their perspectives on program effectiveness and impact, enriching the assessment process.

By implementing this comprehensive assessment framework, The LAND Program ensures that its impact is evidence-driven, responsive to participant needs, and aligned with the program's goals. This commitment to evaluation and continuous improvement reinforces the program's dedication to fostering meaningful growth and transformation among its participants.

CRIME

WHY GARDEN?

Gardening can have several positive effects on communities and individuals that may indirectly contribute to reducing crime or negative behaviors. While gardening itself may not directly prevent crime, it can be part of a larger strategy to improve neighborhood conditions and foster a sense of community, which can have a positive impact on crime rates and negative behaviors. Here are some ways in which gardening can contribute to these positive outcomes:

COMMUNITY BUILDING

Gardening often brings people together, encouraging neighbors to work collaboratively on a shared project. This fosters a sense of community and can lead to improved relationships and social cohesion among residents.

STRESS REDUCTION

Gardening has been shown to have therapeutic effects, reducing stress and anxiety levels. When individuals have healthier ways to cope with stress, they may be less likely to engage in negative behaviors or turn to criminal activities as an outlet.

YOUTH ENGAGEMENT

Involving young people in gardening projects can provide them with a sense of purpose and responsibility. It gives them a constructive activity to participate in, reducing idle time that might otherwise lead to negative behaviors or getting involved with the wrong crowd.

HEALTHY LIFESTYLE

Physical Activity

Gardening involves various physical activities such as digging, planting, weeding, watering, and harvesting. These activities provide moderate exercise, promoting cardiovascular health, strength, and flexibility.

Fresh and Nutritious Food

Growing your own fruits, vegetables, and herbs allows you to have access to fresh and nutritious produce. Consuming homegrown foods often means fewer pesticides and chemicals, leading to a healthier diet.

Improved Mental Health

Gardening can have a positive impact on mental health. It has been associated with reduced symptoms of depression and increased feelings of happiness and well-being.

Sense of Accomplishment

Successfully growing plants and seeing them thrive can provide a sense of accomplishment and satisfaction. This boosts self-esteem and confidence, contributing to a positive outlook on life.

Red Oak Mulch

Mulch provides an alkaline balance as it breaks down into the soil. Iron oxide, a natural resource that is safe for your family, your pets, and your plants.

Black Pine Mulch

Shredded pine mulch is naturally pest-resistant and mats together to stay in place and shade out weeds.

Gold Cypress Mulch

Cypress is preferred by homeowners and landscapers as it doesn't decompose as quickly as other mulches.

We also ensure that all staff have a photograph taken at the time of screening and sign a privacy policy. We use the Clearinghouse portal to track the screening process and results. We verify that all staff have passed the screening before they start working with students.

Through its whole-child approach, the program strives to empower mentees to become future leaders, innovators, and compassionate citizens.

3. Describe the character-building curriculum and/or training that you intend to use. Also describe how program supervisors will provide on-going support to recruited mentors.

Sudden Impact Solutions offers a comprehensive character-building mental health and wellness curriculum designed to equip mentors and mentees with the skills and knowledge needed to foster personal growth, emotional resilience, and positive relationships. Prior to program implementation, mentors will receive training from Sudden Impact Solutions to build the skill set necessary to guide their mentee through the mental health and wellness curriculum. The goal of the training is to increase mentor efficacy and staff ability to support students with early intervention practices at the onset or while experiencing mental health challenges. The program will provide students with the skills to recognize their triggers; implement coping strategies; support their peers; and access or direct themselves and others to appropriate help before a mental health crisis arises.

To ensure the success of recruited mentors and the positive impact on mentees, the program supervisors at I AM STEM provide continuous support through training workshops, regular check-ins, extensive resources, peer support and program evaluation and feedback.

4. Describe your program policies and procedures that address youth and mentor incidents and other unexpected circumstances during mentoring program hours.

Ensuring the safety, well-being, and positive experience of both youth mentees and mentors is of paramount importance to our mentoring program. To effectively manage incidents and unexpected circumstances during mentoring program hours, we have established a set of comprehensive policies and procedures. Our incident reporting and documentation procedures require all mentors to immediately report any incidents, conflicts, or safety concerns to the program supervisor. All participant and staff emergency contacts are always kept on record and accessible to program staff and leadership. In the event of a medical emergency, all mentors are trained in basic first aid practices as well as emergency response procedures. Regular training sessions for mentors include guidance on preventing and managing conflicts, addressing sensitive topics, and promoting a safe and inclusive mentoring environment. In the d of any incident involving a youth mentee, program supervisors will communicate with the mentee's parents or guardians to provide information, reassurance, and ensure their involvement in resolving the situation. Incidents and unexpected circumstances will be reviewed by program supervisors to identify patterns, assess the effectiveness of policies, and make necessary improvements to prevent future incidents.

Through these well-defined policies and procedures, our mentoring program aims to create a secure and supportive environment where both mentors and mentees can thrive, while ensuring that unexpected situations are handled promptly, professionally, and with the utmost care.

5. Describe how your program aligns with CTAC Goal 3: All children and youth live in a safe community.

Our mentoring program is dedicated to ensuring that all children and youth live in a safe community, which directly aligns with CTAC Goal 3. Our program focus, strategies and practices contribute to creating a safe environment for children and youth. Mentoring program participants will significantly contribute to a safer community, as they are individuals who have developed positive character traits and role-modeling, social-emotional wellbeing, inclusivity, and empowerment skills.

Children and youth who participate in a program focused on holistic development, STEM, social-emotional learning, and character-building are not only enriching their own lives but are also actively contributing to the safety and well-being of their community. Their enhanced skills, positive behaviors, and active engagement can create a ripple effect that leads to a safer and more harmonious environment for everyone.

6. Describe how your program establishes and utilizes evidence to assess effectiveness and impact. Please mark the boxes below to indicate infrastructure your program currently has in place. Note: The Trust has the authority to require specific evaluation tools for funded programs.

Our mentoring program places a strong emphasis on assessing its effectiveness and impact through evidence-based practices. We follow a systematic approach that involves collecting, analyzing, and utilizing data to make informed decisions and improvements. Our program starts by setting clear and measurable objectives for each of its goals. These objectives serve as benchmarks to assess the program's success.

We collect both qualitative and quantitative data to evaluate the program's impact. This includes surveys, assessments, interviews, and observations. Data is collected from mentors, mentees, parents, program supervisors, and other stakeholders. For the STEM education component, we track the academic performance of mentees in relevant subjects to gauge the program's influence on their learning outcomes.

We gather qualitative insights through interviews and focus groups with mentors, mentees, and parents to understand their perceptions, experiences, and the program's influence on their lives. Program supervisors and mentors observe changes in mentees' behavior, character traits, and interactions to gauge improvements in social-emotional skills and character development.

Our program establishes a long-term tracking system to follow the progress of participants even after they complete the formal mentoring period. This helps us understand the lasting impact of the program. Based on the evidence collected, we make data-driven decisions to improve various aspects of the program.

By systematically collecting, analyzing, and utilizing evidence, our program ensures that it remains responsive to the needs of its participants and maintains a high level of effectiveness in achieving its goals. This commitment to evidence-based practices allows us to continually refine our program to create the most meaningful and positive impact possible.

Program Implementation 0-25 Points

7. Describe your program design and implementation. (Include frequency (how often) of and duration (amount of time) of group and one-on-one sessions. Also include longevity/length of the match)

Our mentoring program follows a structured design and implementation to ensure meaningful engagement, impactful learning, and positive outcomes for all participants. The program is tailored to different age groups, with specific frequency, format, and match longevity.

- Group Sessions (Monthly, 60 Minutes):
Group sessions are held once a month, providing a consistent and regular opportunity for all participants to come together. Each group session lasts for 60 minutes, ensuring an efficient use of time while delivering valuable content. Group sessions cover a variety of topics, including STEM activities, social-emotional learning exercises, character development discussions, and team-building activities.
- One-on-One Sessions (Once Weekly, 60 Minutes):
One-on-one sessions occur once a week, allowing mentors and mentees to build a deeper connection and engage in personalized conversations. Each one-on-one session lasts for 60 minutes, providing mentors and mentees with ample time for meaningful interaction. One-on-one sessions focus on individual goal setting, progress tracking, academic support, and addressing specific needs of mentees.
- Match Longevity and Length:
Elementary Students (October 2023 - May 2024): Matches for elementary students are established from October 2023 and will continue through May 2024. This period allows for a consistent and extended mentorship experience that spans the school year.

Middle and High School Students (June 2024 - July 2024): Matches for middle and high school students are established from June 2024 to July 2024. This shorter duration is aligned with the summer break and focuses on providing support and enrichment during this period. They will be introduced to college and careers and have opportunities to have more sustained engagement in mentoring programs.

The program culminates with a celebratory event, recognizing the achievements of mentors and mentees and showcasing their growth and accomplishments.

Through this well-structured design and implementation, our mentoring program aims to create a nurturing and engaging environment that supports the holistic development of elementary, middle, and high school students. The tailored frequency, content, and match duration ensure a meaningful experience for each age group, while the focus on regular communication, support, and evaluation guarantees a successful and impactful mentoring journey.

8. Describe how you will identify and recruit mentors.

We will identify and recruit mentors from service-oriented organizations at the University of Florida (UF) like NSBE (National Society of Black Engineers), PBM (Progressive Black Men), SISTUHS (Sisters Striving to Uplift Sisters) as well as other like-minded organizations. This strategy will engage dedicated and compassionate individuals. We plan to identify and recruit mentors from these organizations through networking and outreach, information sessions, personalized invitations, faculty recommendations, and through established partnerships and collaborations. Implementing a streamlined application and selection process will ensure the program is staffed with mentors whose skills and values are aligned with program objectives. Recruiting mentors from service-oriented organizations at the University of Florida not only brings dedicated individuals but also strengthens the connection between the university and the local community. It offers an opportunity for members to extend their service mindset and positively impact the lives of youth in the mentoring program.

9. Describe the youth population(s) and age range you intend to serve, how many youths your program will serve, and how you will recruit youth. Describe how your organization intends to communicate with the youth's parent or guardian.

Our mentoring program aims to serve a diverse group of youth with varying needs and backgrounds. The program will be divided into two main age groups – elementary school (KG through 5th grade) and middle/high school (6th through 12th grade).

The program intends to serve a total of 170 youth across both age groups. We will employ a multi-faceted approach that reaches out to schools, community organizations, and families to recruit youth participants. Additionally, by attending community events and fairs, we will be able to engage directly with potential youth participants.

We intend to raise parent/guardian awareness about the program through social media platforms, information sessions, and orientation meetings. Regular updates will be provided to parents and guardians through emails, newsletters, and phone calls, highlighting their child's progress and achievements.

10. Describe how CTAC funds will be used to expand your current program or create a new program.

CTAC funds will play a crucial role in establishing and sustaining our new mentoring program focused on STEM education, social-emotional learning, and character development. Previously, we have only been able to provide summer programming in Alachua County. CTAC funds will be used to design and develop the comprehensive curriculum, learning materials, and resources aligned with the program's goals. This includes creating STEM activities, social-emotional learning exercises, character-building discussions, and conflict resolution tools.

A portion of the funds will be allocated to recruiting and training mentors. This involves outreach efforts, informational sessions, and mentor training workshops. Training will cover mentorship techniques, effective communication, child protection protocols, and guidance on the program's focus areas.

CTAC funds will be used to acquire necessary resources such as STEM kits, educational materials, workbooks, and tools for social-emotional learning activities. These resources enhance the quality of the mentoring sessions and ensure engaging and impactful experiences for the youth participants.

Some of the funds will cover administrative costs such as mentor salaries, program management, and operational expenses. This ensures smooth program implementation and effective oversight. CTAC funds will be invested in ongoing mentor support, including mentor supervision, check-ins, resources, and networking opportunities.

By strategically allocating CTAC funds to these key areas, our program will be able to establish a robust and effective mentoring initiative that empowers youth, supports their holistic development, and contributes positively to the community's well-being.

11. Describe your organization's collaborative efforts and how those efforts positively impact your services and improve the lives of the children you serve.

Our organization has benefited from many long-standing collaborations with stakeholders from the educational, civic, social, and professional arenas. We have worked with local businesses and agencies to bring guest speakers and field trip opportunities to our students. The lives of the children we serve are improved by receiving social emotional development, reading mentorship, performing arts enrichment, career exploration and volunteerism opportunities from our organization's supporters and collaborators.

Agency Stability & Capability 0-20 Points

12. Describe your organization's mission and services.

I AM STEM focuses on leveraging the development of community-based partnerships to increase access, equity, and diversity of high-quality STEM programs. These comprehensive enrichment programs target populations who are underrepresented in STEM fields, with goals of improving their interests, identity, and engagement in STEM. I AM STEM is a collaborative project that provides a model for how to embrace participants' cultural practice and develop programs that meet the specific needs of communities and interests of the students. The I AM STEM curriculum integrates technology, engineering, and mathematics instruction into science. All activities have clear learning goals and provide opportunities for children to engage in scientific phenomena while supporting their learning. I AM STEM prepares students to become responsible and scientifically literate citizens and aims to prevent summer learning loss which occurs when students are not engaged in formal instruction or practicing academic skills learned during the previous school year and continuous mentorship throughout the year.

13. Describe your organizational capacity to carry out the proposed project plan.

Our organization is well equipped to carry out this proposed project plan. We have developed a strong organizational capacity through our experience in implementing similar educational initiatives and our dedicated team of professionals. By leveraging our experienced leadership, qualified staff, collaborative partnerships, robust curriculum development, resource management, training programs, monitoring and evaluation practices, and financial sustainability, we have the organizational capacity to successfully carry out the I AM STEM mentoring program.

14. Describe how your organization will sustain your proposed program beyond the term of the contract.

Ensuring the sustainability of our program beyond the term of the contract is a key priority for our organization. We have developed a comprehensive sustainability plan that encompasses several strategies to secure ongoing support and resources. These include but are not limited to diversification of funding sources; community partnerships; integration with educational systems, volunteer engagement; and program evaluation/impact reporting. By implementing these sustainability strategies, we aim to ensure the long-term viability and impact of our STEM mentoring program beyond the initial contract. Continued financial support, community engagement, partnerships, and a focus on program evaluation will help secure the program's sustainability and foster its growth and expansion in the years to come.

15. Detail the financial support (from whom and amount) you receive for your proposed program. Including in-kind services your organization leverages. (Detail Tab 2 of the budget)

This is a new program that receives no outside financial support currently, however, we will leverage funding from afterschool and summer programs to help build capacity to support the STEM mentoring program. Our organization benefits from the contribution of dedicated volunteers who offer their time, expertise, and support. These volunteers can include STEM professionals, educators, and community members who assist in delivering program activities, mentoring students, and providing administrative support. We collaborate with educational institutions, community centers, or other organizations that provide access to facilities and equipment required for program delivery. This includes classrooms, laboratories, and technology resources. We leverage partnerships with local businesses, technology companies, and research institutions that offer in-kind services such as guest speakers, field trips, access to specialized equipment, or internship opportunities for older students.

16. Describe your organization’s fundraising activities.

I AM STEM Foundation, Inc., is newly established with the goal of actively engaging in various fundraising activities to support our programs and initiatives. Organizational Narrative

1. Describe your organization's ability to hire and train additional qualified staff and comply with background screening requirements (DCF Clearinghouse).

I Gotcha Back (IGB) Education has established a rigorous human resources (HR) infrastructure. As a previous HR Director for an education-based technology firm, the IGB Executive Director has the knowledge and experience in the areas of staffing and training. He understands the critical role, value, and function that its people bring to the successful operation of the IGB program. With the assistance of other HR professionals, IGB has developed individual job descriptions, an applicant recruiting process, as well as a procedure for conducting background checks using the Background Screening Database with our fingerprinting being conducted through Meridian Behavioral Healthcare which is in compliance with DCF standards. We have also developed a staff handbook, training guide, and a staff development program that includes Trauma-based care as well as other key topics.

Program Description 0-30 Points

2. Describe an overview of your mentoring program focus and priority areas.

The I Gotcha Back Mentoring Program (IGB) is dedicated to providing a safe learning environment to its participants. We offer something unique not found in combination with many other mentoring programs and that is a focus on the mental health, life skills, and soft skills of our participants. We have taken the time to recognize how certain skill sets can affect a participant's mental state in a negative or positive way.

With this knowledge and focus IGB focuses on our 4 Program Pillars:

Mental health- IGB has a partnership with local mental health provider Restoring Hope Counseling to offer interactions and activities (group and individual w/referrals for additional care if necessary) to our program participants as well as training for our staff/volunteers/mentors. Activities are designed to develop healthy self-consciousness, the ability to communicate needs and solve conflicts. These activities are part of a trauma-informed mindset to help participants use problems to transform their thoughts, feelings, and behaviors instead of using fear, shame, and control. Our goal is to help them become mentally and emotionally aware of themselves along with being able to emotionally regulate their bodies and minds while having positive interactions with others and the community as a whole.

Financial literacy- IGB will use group activities with professionals from financial institutions to help participants start their journey to become economically aware by imparting basic knowledge and skill to manage personal finances. We cover topics to include but are not limited to saving, spending, and earning. After exposure to lesson plans, our certified and licensed professionals design and implement activities with participants allowing the application of the varied concepts and facets of our financial system.

Communication- IGB uses its program to help its participants to learn to communicate confidently, clearly, and respectfully in different situations. We will have speakers and activities for participants to help our participants grow and become more confident. We encourage and reinforce these concepts regularly in all program communications and interactions.

Inquiry skills- IGB uses speakers, activities, and experiences to expose our participants to many different topics and activities. We encourage our participants to ask questions about their experiences. We allow our staff, mentors, and facilitators to assist participants to make connections between these experiences, lives, and interactions to grow their worldview and how they fit in it. Our goal is to help the participants that come to us leave more well-rounded and with the life skills needed for success.

To address IGB's 4 pillar areas, we utilize guest speakers from various professional backgrounds 1 time per month, we take our participants to various locations around the state to give them experiences and exposure to broaden their worldview. Mentors are encouraged to attend trips to enhance the learning experience. Some of the past activities have included:

- Volunteering to build houses with Habitat for Humanity,
- Serving holiday meals to the less fortunate,
- Week-long community service trip to help less fortunate families in Urban areas
- Touring the UF, Santa Fe, and other college campus and attending lectures
- Regular trips to the performing arts center to see many culturally diverse programs
- Exposure to Catered meals and local restaurants to have fine dining experiences

- Swimming with the manatees
- Picnics
- Trips to amusement parks
- Trips to museums and planetariums

IGB utilizes a combination of Staff, Mentors, and Topic Specific professionals/experts to support and deliver our programming. We also have a partnership in place to address Reading Literacy for our participants if needed.

3. Describe the character-building curriculum and/or training that you intend to use. Also, describe how program supervisors will provide ongoing support to recruited mentors.

IGB is dedicated to helping our participants become upstanding adults by utilizing the interactions through our program and other community resources. IGB's programming works to instill character traits within our participants such as responsibility, respect, citizenship, trustworthiness, caring, and fairness. We will use individual mentors to leverage 1:1 interactions to encourage mentee growth as well as mentor group facilitators to facilitate programming.

IGB realizes that the mentor recruitment, training, communication, and support process are key to the positive impact of the mentee/mentor relationship as well the overall viability of the program. With IGB's program operating since 2007, we have the experience in utilizing nationally recognized mentor training in addition to data from our past programs, practices, and interactions to create a mentor training manual that we cover with each mentor before the mentee assignment. In initial mentor training, each facet of the program is covered in detail.

Topics covered include:

- Mission statement and goals
- History of I Gotcha Back
- Staff contacts and procedures
- Commitment for mentors
- Absent/late policy
- Reporting issues
- 9 Strategies of a highly effective mentor (w/discussion on each as they pertain to desired character outcomes of participants)
 - Be insightful and thoughtful.
 - Ask strategic and thought-provoking questions to help mentees identify goals or obstacles.
 - Be intentional.
 - Be constructively objective.
 - Be open and transparent.
 - Facilitate and guide.
 - Be empathetic and patient.
 - Be attentive and available.
 - Inspire confidence.
- Mentor Scenarios/ F.A.Q.
- Scheduling

After the initial Mentor training, we will have regular mentor support group meetings (virtual and in-person) to allow our mentors a forum to ask situational questions and give them an open safe space to grow and develop their Mentoring skills with their counterparts. Programs that support mentors through training have been shown to be more effective than programs with no training (DuBois et al., 2011; Hale, 2020). Research shows that training that lasts less than two hours is associated with the lowest levels of mentee closeness and terminated relationships, while mentors that received at least six hours of training resulted in the opposite (Garringer et al., 2015). At IGB, we average 8 to 10 hours of training time. We also have regular check-ins with our mentors and provide them with feedback on how they are doing based on observations our liaison has noticed and documented and give updates on their mentees' progress. We will also open the floor to them to share ideas on what they believe can help the program or even themselves to ensure the participants in our program are getting the best IGB has to offer. At IGB, we emphasize the implementation of developmental and instrumental approaches (Garringer et al., 2015). For example, in the developmental approach, we set goals relating to relationship building between the mentee and mentor (DuBois & Karcher, 2005). Through our emphasis on instrumental match quality, we monitor how goal-oriented the mentor and mentee are, for the purpose of tracking changes and achievements of goals occurring as a result of the mentorship (DuBois & Karcher, 2005).

4. Describe your program policies and procedures that address youth and mentor incidents and other unexpected circumstances during mentoring program hours.

At IGB the safety of our participants and mentors is at the forefront. We believe it is important to have an open and transparent line of communication with the youth, their parents, our partner schools, and our mentors. The mentors will be given an orientation where we go through the mentor handbook explaining appropriate mentor behavior and procedures. Before being matched with a mentee and during the onboarding process, mentors must complete and pass the required DCF background check. The mentees and mentors will be strategically paired based on interests and the skill sets that the mentor has that could positively impact the mentee and goals achievement.

Meetings between mentor and youth will be conducted during the student's lunch period at their school once a week. We will also have group afterschool programs once a month and after-hours out-of-school field trips 3-4 times a semester that will be chaperoned by school board staff and IGB staff. Individual mentors will be encouraged to join these group activities to enhance the quality of their individual interactions with their mentees. There will be an IGB liaison there to monitor interactions between the mentor and the youth at all times. The IGB program participant will be paired with a mentor of the same gender and in compliance with SBAC (School Board of Alachua County), the exchange of personal contact information is prohibited. The IGB liaison will be in contact with the parents, school, and mentors.

Any and every incident that is reported will be thoroughly investigated and handled appropriately and accordingly.

5. Describe how your program aligns with CTAC Goal 3: All children and youth live in a safe community.

The I Gotcha Back Mentoring Program provides a safe learning environment for all of our participants. We are gun-free, drug-free, and abuse free. We do not discriminate on social class, race, nationality, gender identity, sexual orientation, or religion. IGB realizes the multitude of challenges that the youth of today face. We use our programming to help our participants grow in multiple individual areas, which in turn gives them the tools necessary to navigate these challenges successfully. Without these interventions, many of them can often end up getting mixed up with gangs and criminal activity which is why a program like ours is so necessary. By providing our programming, positive life lessons, and skills IGB offers a safe place for our participant's growth and opportunity for change that impacts them individually and our community as a whole.

6. Describe how your program establishes and utilizes evidence to assess effectiveness and impact. Please mark the boxes below to indicate the infrastructure your program currently has in place. Note: The Trust has the authority to require specific evaluation tools for funded programs.

Program evaluation efforts at IGB are guided by a modified version of the Replicating Effective Programs (REP) framework (Richardson et al., 2004). The REP framework provides a roadmap for implementing interventions, in our case a mentoring program, through a combination of intervention "packaging," training previously discussed above (curriculum), technical assistance (TA), and other strategies to maximize the likelihood of the program sustainability and replication (Kelly et al., 2000; Kraft, 2000). The REP has been empirically evaluated through a randomized controlled trial and found to be effective in achieving the adoption and fidelity of interventions across different organizations. Since IGB has been in operation since 2007, our packaging is well documented (e.g., manuals, procedures, HR policies) and we provide stakeholders (e.g., mentors, parents, staff) with TA through FAQ brochures and group or 1:1 interactions. The IGB's Program Evaluation team, composed of external consultants with backgrounds in mixed-methods study design (qualitative and quantitative) will conduct and guide the IGB staff through data collection and analysis efforts. This same team has guided IGB previously through data collection and analysis and has expressed their full support to implement and monitor evaluation efforts. The goal is to generate information that will enhance or improve programming, thereby ensuring that programming, mentors, and staff are effective in achieving the goals of the mentoring program. Stakeholders (mentors, parents, mentees, and staff) will take part in pre-and-post data collection through self-administered surveys, telephone and face-to-face interviews, and focus groups. The Executive Director for IGB, and/or designees will introduce the need for and importance of the evaluation as required by CTAC. Some of the evaluation activities to be conducted in support of the current proposal entail the following but are not limited to:

- Identification and tracking of participant-level data (e.g., socio-demographic data, previous academic outcomes).
- Development and pilot-testing of questionnaires and surveys in the performance of process evaluation to ascertain the consistencies in implementing programming and processes.
- The conduct of focus group discussions with stakeholders (mentees, parents, staff, mentors) will be vital. We will assess for perceived impact of the IGB program reported by those interviewed. This qualitative data will be instrumental in developing a list of recommendations and manuals for enhanced programming, marketing, funding, and more.
- Transcribe interview data from participants, parents, and staff. Focus group discussions and Interview recordings will be transcribed by trained Research Assistants through the Active Learning Program.
- A mixed-method approach will be implemented to analyze data. We will also report on descriptive and inferential statistics.
- IGB will use data to inform funders and other stakeholders (e.g., community partners)

Program Implementation 0-25 Points

7. Describe your program design and implementation. (Include frequency (how often) of and duration (amount of time) of group and one-on-one sessions. Also, include longevity/length of the match)

The IGB mentoring program utilizes a “Compound Approach”, which encompasses both individual and group mentoring interactions (Kuperminc & Deutsch, 2021). We have studied best practices in both individual and group mentoring and designed our program accordingly using the following framework as a guideline to address frequency, group mentor/mentee ratios, programming, and interactions to support our practices.

Compound Mentoring for 6th-12th Programming

- “Compound” programs include both one-to-one mentoring and separate group activities (group mentors are not necessarily the same as one-to-one mentors).
- Compound programs report evidence of effectiveness in academic and health-related outcomes. In one program, participants reported greater self-determination, self-rated goals and accomplishments, quality of life, use of transition services, and independent living activities. A second study found improvements for program participants relative to controls in self-determination, education planning, school performance, and symptoms of anxiety and depression. The third study, a two-year follow-up using a combined sample from the two earlier studies, found evidence of modest long-term effects on education, housing, and criminal justice outcomes, although few findings reached conventional levels of statistical significance. Another program showed positive effects on preparation for and participation in postsecondary education, school attitudes, family and community self-efficacy, self-determination, transition planning, mental health, and hope for the future.
- Smaller group size was related to more positive youth perceptions of group climate and mentor relationship quality. Smaller mentor-to-mentee ratios were also associated with increases in youths’ school grades, for example, 1 mentor for 4-6 mentees.
- Several studies examined the social processes that occur within the mentoring group and the association of those processes to relational development and youth outcomes. Of particular interest, researchers found no differences between mentoring groups in mentees' end-of-program satisfaction with their groups. There were differences between mentoring groups, however, in mentees' end-of-program satisfaction with their one-to-one mentoring relationships. This may appear counterintuitive, but an analysis of observations of the groups that were done over the course of the program helped shed light on why this might be. Observations revealed that mentees who expressed high satisfaction with their one-to-one relationship tended to belong to groups characterized by high levels of social processes such as caretaking and trust-building throughout the year. This suggests that there is an interaction between what happens in the mentoring groups and mentees' experiences of their mentoring relationships; specifically, it appears that positive group processes might support one-to-one relational development. A study using social network methodology revealed that mentors who other group members reported to be more connected to multiple mentees within their groups, also self-reported stronger relationships with their own mentees. Similarly, mentees who others reported as reaching out more to multiple group members self-reported stronger one-to-one relationships with their mentors. Interviews with mentors and mentees supported the interaction between group- and dyadic-level social processes, revealing that participants felt that the group influenced the development of mentoring relationships in three major ways. First, the group meetings provided stability to the relationships, ensuring that the pairs saw each other weekly even when their schedules were busy. Second, the combination of a structured curriculum with one-to-one time meant that the pairs could get to know each other through group activities, and then use one-to-one time to have deeper conversations about topics raised in the groups. This seemed to be particularly useful for mentors and mentees who were shy or less comfortable with initiating one-to-one interactions. However, if the curriculum was adhered to too rigidly, it could inhibit relational development by cutting off deeper discussions. Third, the group provided a social network in which mentors could seek support from each other if they had challenges in their relationships with their mentees. The group also offered a learning opportunity: mentors and mentees could observe each other and other pairs in the group to help them reflect on their own relationships. Mentees reported that the group component was particularly helpful for developing relational skills and that the group and the one-to-one relationships were equally influential in fostering self-understanding. Mentees said that mentors had the most influence on academics. The mentors and curriculum both were seen as promoting self-regulation.

- A number of studies have provided additional insight into the social-relational processes that may support positive experiences and outcomes in group mentoring. Mentees self-reported growth in areas of relational skills, sense of self (particularly confidence and future plans), and academics, and noted that the group and one-to-one mentoring component contributed to these outcomes in different ways, but that both were important. Mentees who reported strong alliance with their mentors and a high level of group belonging described how their mentors displayed empathy, authenticity, and mutuality and how the program's structure and activities contributed to their positive experiences. Mutuality and empathy are important roles within mentor-mentee relationships in combined group and one-to-one programs

IGB's Mentoring program will occur at the student's respective schools. The participants will be matched with an individual mentor whom they will meet 1 time per week during the participant's lunch. In addition to the 1 time per week, the participants will be exposed to 1 time per month, topic-specific, afterschool group mentoring interactions. The participants will also have 3-4 after-school field trips to enhance the programming. IGB realizes that Mentor/Mentee interactions that provide consistency and longevity produce the greatest results, in turn, we ask our individual mentors for a minimum 1-year commitment. However, we have had Mentors that have followed their Mentees for the duration of their HS careers and beyond.

8. Describe how you will identify and recruit mentors.

IGB will visit institutions, events, and organizations such as UF or Santa Fe College to share the history and the mission of IGB. During those visits, we will connect with those interested in becoming a mentor. Those interested will be sent an application via Google Forms to complete along with a link to the SBAC (School Board of Alachua County) volunteer application system. Our mentors will have to submit to a level two background check in compliance with DCF guidelines and be given an interest survey asking them to express their reasoning for becoming a mentor along with their hobbies and favorite activities. They will also receive an orientation where we go over the mentor handbook that details policy and procedures. After the initial Mentor training, we will have a regular mentor support group to allow our mentors a forum to ask situational questions and give them an open safe space to grow and develop their Mentoring skills with their counterparts.

9. Describe the youth population(s) and age range you intend to serve, how many youths your program will serve, and how you will recruit youth. Describe how your organization intends to communicate with the youth's parent or guardian.

For the proposed IGB program we will be serving students that range from 3-12th grade. The IGB program will operate at partnering SBAC Schools. Currently, for this proposed project we have 4 partner schools and are limited by only the number of Mentors we can recruit to each school. IGB has operated at 1 school since 2007 and has participant numbers ranging from 15-150 per year at that location (Eastside HS). Our participants are identified by school staff members or through advertising efforts at school events. When the potential participant is identified we send an informational packet to the parent/guardian of each student. Within that packet, we include program information, a participation consent form, and participation guidelines that both the family and student must sign. These guidelines detail attendance, grade, and behavior standards that must be met for the student's continued participation. Before the mentee meets with their mentor we hold a mentee orientation where we discuss in addition to the mentee handbook, expectations, goals, and schedules. During the operation of the program we send out emails, info letters and permission slips that detail ongoing activities. We also maintain several social-media platforms that highlight our activities.

10. Describe how CTAC funds will be used to expand your current program or create a new program.

The IGB program has been in operation continuously at Eastside HS since 2007. The proposed funding will allow IGB to expand its footprint to multiple schools. It will allow us to adequately staff our programming, and improve our monthly group sessions and field trips. In addition to improved programming, the additional staffing will allow us to more effectively recruit/train/communicate with mentors, communicate with all stakeholders, and keep data collection current.

11. Describe your organization’s collaborative efforts and how those efforts positively impact your services and improve the lives of the children you serve.

The IGB (I Gotcha Back) Mentoring Program, a 501(c)3, has been in operation since August 2007. We have established partnerships with www.Askmeno.com, Various financial institutions (Southstate Bank, Florida Credit Union), Restoring Hope Counseling, and PEAK Literacy to develop and implement our program offerings.

Within each of these strategic partnerships, we address the following societal issues that our participants face:

- Employability Skills (communication, timeliness)
- Inquiry Skills/Problem-Solving
- Financial Awareness
- Emotional Wellness (1:1, Curriculum, Group Counseling)
- Reading Literacy

As we join our partners in addressing these issues that our participants face it allows them to achieve personal growth. This personal growth has an impact on not only them as individuals but on the community as a whole. It gives them a different outlook on their personal lives and what they're involved in. We are contributing to the economic viability of our local community by training individuals with soft skills and competencies, abilities. Skill sets acquired through the IGB program are considered useful, valuable, and transferable skills. Consequently, potential employers can benefit from skills gained and knowledge acquired; they find these beneficial and essential. The program contributes to the professional development of the local workforce who in turn can improve the economic viability of where they work.

Agency Stability & Capability 0-20 Points

12. Describe your organization’s mission and services.

“Empowering Youth to Dream Higher, Expect Greater, and Accomplish More”

The IGB (I Gotcha Back) Program has been in operation since 2007. In August 2007 with the encouragement of then Administrators Jeff Charbonett and James Sheppard IGB was founded by Jeff Parker who was a newly hired 11th/12th grade Dean of Students at Eastside HS and Judy Jones a retired K-12 Administrator. It was formed at that time to address the dismal less than 25% graduation rate of minority males. Since that time IGB has utilized community resources and volunteers to help guide many young people. We have exposed young people to mentors, motivational speakers, classroom activities, cultural events, outdoor activities, culinary exploration, volunteer opportunities, recreational outings, and leadership symposiums. By 2017 the graduation rate for our founding population improved to over 90%. We have impacted the lives of many students both male and female at Eastside since its inception. We have had many participants go on to further themselves with success both academically and vocationally. We have had many come back to serve as mentors themselves. Each of them points to the impact of the IGB program on their lives. In 2021, Jeff Parker used the experience and outcomes to expand IGB offerings and seek a separate non-profit 501c3 by founding IGB Education. The creation of IGB Education as a separate entity allowed for the future expansion of not only the foundational mentor program to additional sites but also into additional programming for students of all grade levels including our MAP (mentoring afterschool program) for K-5th and SEC (summer enrichment program) K-6th.

13. Describe your organizational capacity to carry out the proposed project plan.

IGB mentoring has been in operation since 2007. During that time we have facilitated the one on one and group mentoring of hundreds of Alachua County students using numerous volunteers over the years. Our experiences have shown us that the program site facilitators are crucial to the success of the programs as they are the hub of all interactions and communications involved in the program. We have the ability to use current best practices in addition to past data, practices, and programming to offer an iterative and unique experience for our participants. Our focus has always been to act as agents of change in the lives of our participants. With additional funding, we can take these experiences and have an expanded impact on more children of Alachua County through improved training and programming.

14. Describe how your organization will sustain your proposed program beyond the term of the contract.

In IGB's growth from a single-site volunteer-driven organization to a community-wide, multi-programmed organization we recognize that we must be focused on results for our children. Thus, to ensure we expand in a healthy manner we feel our sustainability plan must center around the constant improvement of our programming through the development of training materials, program guides, program reporting, and standard operating procedures. These documents will promote consistency in the implementation of the IGB program and program evaluation activities. Key to our survival is the establishment of community partners who share our interests to contribute to the betterment and development of Alachua's youth. We continue engaging organizations such as the Alachua Co Govt, City of Gainesville, Children's Trust of Alachua Co., Community Foundation of NCFL, Gainesville Chamber of Commerce, Restoring Hope Counseling, AskMeno, Private entities/individuals, ETC.

In the last two years, we have focused on program design and development. We have engaged in planning and building our evaluation mechanisms. In year three, we will continue efforts to apply for funding to work on programming and add staff. We will also focus on recruiting volunteers, participants and building partnerships with other key organizations. Furthermore, we will plan to maximize lessons learned in years one and two to solicit additional funding from outside resources. Potential funders to submit future grant proposals include the Fund II Foundation, the Department of Education, the Department of Juvenile Justice, the National Science Foundation, the Department of Labor, the Spencer Foundation, the National Mentoring Resource Center, etc. Staff at IGB are beginning conversations on potential funding opportunities to scale up the program and implement a robust data-driven program. This will create a funding stream to sustain our efforts. Through future grants, IGB hopes to establish the infrastructure to have a sustainable means of collecting and analyzing data, increase the number of youth served by improving our marketing efforts, purchase vans/buses for transportation, and improve the ability to train and recruit volunteers and mentors.

Budget 0-25 points

15. Detail the financial support (from whom and the amount) you receive for your proposed program. Including in-kind services your organization leverages. (Detail Tab 2 of the budget)

Currently, IGB has received private funding YTD of $32,455 from various sources including the Amazing Give, local churches, and private individuals. We will also leverage $37,200 in In-kind services including rent and program evaluation during the operation of the proposed program.

16. Describe your organization's fundraising activities.

IGB works diligently to cast a wide net to attract support for our programs. We share the intent of the program at events (e.g., churches, and community meetings). We focus on helping inspire the minds of the next generation and helping motivate older or retired adults to act as mentors and volunteers. 17. Endemic interruption plans: What plan does your organization have in place for any endemic-related interruptions to your programming, such as flu?

IGB takes very seriously the well-being of our participants. We have forged partnerships with various local providers. Some of these relationships allow us to assist in arranging expedited testing and treatment with partnered local Pediatricians to diagnose and treat as soon as possible. These Medical professionals will also advise in protocols for various illnesses (if covid, flu, etc.) of the length of stay at home and overall program operation. We recognize that consistency will be key in the lives of our participants and will continue to facilitate our programming using remote conferencing platforms such as Zoom or Google Hangouts when an absence occurs for more than 2 days.

5. Describe how your program aligns with CTAC Goal 3: All children and youth live in a safe community.

Just For Us LLC provides an inclusive and safe environment where children's rights are respected and protected. All youth should have secure access to quality education, healthcare, and social services. We want to ensure the overall safety of the child during mentoring sessions.

Transportation*

To ensure the safety of mentees when they are out in the community during transportation, the Just Mentor program can take the following measures:

Establish Transportation Policies: Just for Us will develop clear and comprehensive transportation policies that outline the safety protocols to be followed. These policies may include guidelines on vehicle safety, driver qualifications, proper use of seatbelts, and behavior expectations during transportation.

Verify Driver Qualifications: Just for Us will thoroughly screen all mentors and individuals responsible for transporting mentees. This may involve conducting background checks, verifying valid driver's licenses, reviewing driving records, and ensuring they have appropriate insurance coverage annually. If there is reason to believe any checks need to be completed between the annual review periods, we will conduct inspections then.

Continuous Monitoring and Evaluation: Just for Us will consistently monitor and evaluate the effectiveness of the transportation safety measures. This includes seeking feedback from mentees, reviewing monthly transportation logs for mentors and mentees, conducting regular safety meetings, and adjusting the transportation policies and procedures as needed.

Communication: Parents and Guardians*

The program will maintain open and regular communication with the parents or guardians of the mentees. This includes informing them about transportation arrangements, sharing transportation policies, and addressing any concerns or questions they may have.

Implement Safety Guidelines for Mentees: The program will educate mentees about safety guidelines during transportation. This may include buckling seat belts, remaining seated, refraining from distracting the driver, and reporting any concerns or incidents during transit.

6. Describe how your program establishes and utilizes evidence to assess effectiveness and impact. Please mark the boxes below to indicate infrastructure your program currently has in place. Note: The Trust has the authority to require specific evaluation tools for funded programs.

Just For Us LLC utilizes evidence in several ways to assess effectiveness and impact. Firstly, we establish a baseline by collecting data on relevant indicators before implementing the program. This allows us to measure any changes or improvements due to our interventions. We employ various methods such as surveys, interviews, focus groups, and observation to gather evidence. These methods help us collect qualitative and quantitative data from program participants, staff members, and other stakeholders to understand their perspectives and experiences. We also utilize components found from the Monitoring and Evaluation and One to One Model framework to track program implementation, progress, and outcomes. This framework provides a systematic way to collect and analyze data regularly. By comparing actual results against predefined targets and indicators, we can determine whether the program achieves its intended goals and objectives. In addition to collecting data during the program implementation, we also conduct follow-up assessments to evaluate the long-term impact of our interventions. One example includes the pre-and-post-annual parent survey. This was offered to parents that enrolled their child in the Just For Us summer camp program. The gathered evidence is then analyzed and interpreted by our data manager monthly. Who deeply understands the program area? This analysis helps us identify strengths, weaknesses, and areas for improvement in our program design and implementation.

Program Implementation 0-25 Points

7. Describe your program design and implementation. (Include frequency (how often) of and duration (amount of time) of group and one-on-one sessions. Also include longevity/length of the match)

Program Design and Implementation

Several critical components must be considered when designing and implementing a program to secure funds from a children's organization.

Group Sessions:

The frequency and duration of group sessions play a significant role in our program. Group sessions will be conducted twice a month, allowing children to come together in a supportive environment to share their experiences and bond with peers facing similar challenges. Each session will last approximately one hour, providing ample time for group activities, discussions, and emotional support (ratio 3:1).

1 on 1: In addition to group sessions, we recognize the need for a one-on-one support ratio (1:1). Therefore, our program will offer individual mentorship sessions. These one-on-one sessions will occur once a week and last one hour. This duration allows mentors to develop a close bond with their mentees while maintaining their availability for other responsibilities. Setting a consistent frequency and time for group and one-on-one sessions ensures that children receive regular support and guidance throughout the program.

Stipends:

Within the Just Mentor mentoring program, stipends will provide financial support to the mentors who voluntarily dedicate their time and expertise to support individuals needing mentoring. These stipends will cover various expenses the mentees incur throughout their program engagement.

Longevity:

Another critical aspect of our program design and implementation is longevity. We understand the importance of providing stability and continuity in a child's life; hence, our program aims for long-term matches between mentors and mentees. The match will be established for at least one year, with an option to extend based on the needs and preferences of both parties involved. By promoting long-term relationships, we aim to build trust, foster personal growth, and create a robust support system for the children.

By implementing this program design, we aim to have a positive and lasting impact on the lives of children within our community.

8. Describe how you will identify and recruit mentors.

We understand the significance of long-term matches between mentors and mentees, promoting stability and continuity. Identifying and recruiting dedicated mentors is crucial for the success of our program. Just For Us Edu LLC (Just for Us) has implemented a comprehensive strategy to ensure diverse, competent, and committed individuals join our organization. We collaborate with local universities, colleges, public servants, and professional associations to find suitable candidates. This will ensure the matching process is accurate and fluid. Our recruitment process will involve extensive interviews, reference checks, and background screenings to include up to a level II screenings, local law enforcement record checks, public court records, sexual offender's websites, and other general information available to ensure the safety and well-being of the youth being served.

We aim to select mentors who possess empathy, strong communication skills, and a genuine interest in supporting vulnerable children. Moreover, we will provide mandatory training and ongoing support to mentors to enhance their mentoring skills and ensure they are well-equipped to handle the diverse needs of their mentees. Furthermore, our strategy for identifying and recruiting mentors emphasizes selecting dedicated individuals with the appropriate skills and providing the necessary training and ongoing support to the youth served.

9. Describe the youth population(s) and age range you intend to serve, how many youth your program will serve, and how you will recruit youth. Describe how your organization intends to communicate with the youth's parent or guardian.

Just Mentor will serve youth between the ages of 8 and 18. This age range encompasses a critical period of personal and socio-emotional development where mentoring can significantly impact.

How many youths will your program help, and how will you recruit youth?

Our program will initially focus on serving 25 youth participants. This number will allow us to maintain a high-quality and individualized mentoring experience for each mentee. As our program grows and resources become available, we aim to expand our reach and serve more youth in the future. To recruit youth, Just for Us LLC will employ several strategies. Firstly, we will collaborate with local schools, community centers, and youth organizations to establish partnerships. Through these partnerships, we can directly reach out to potential mentees by conducting presentations and informational sessions and distributing promotional materials.

Describe how your organization wants to communicate with the youth's parent or guardian.

Furthermore, we will leverage various digital platforms (Microsoft Teams, Zoom) including social media, online communities, and websites common among youth. By creating engaging content, targeted advertisements, and utilizing personal connections, we will attract the attention of potential mentees who may be interested in joining our program. Moreover, we will actively engage with parents and guardians to ensure their support and involvement throughout the mentoring process. We will communicate with parents and guardians through multiple channels, such as emails, phone calls, and in-person meetings.

During the initial stages of recruitment, we will provide written literature and hold orientation sessions for parents and guardians. These sessions will inform them about our program's objectives, the mentoring process, and the benefits it offers to their child. It will also allow parents and guardians to ask questions and address concerns.

Throughout the program, we will maintain regular communication with parents and guardians to update them on their child's progress, highlight achievements, and address any challenges that may arise. We will schedule periodic meetings where mentors, mentees, and parents/guardians can discuss the mentoring relationship and ensure it benefits all parties involved.

10. Describe how CTAC funds will be used to expand your current program or create a new program.

Just For Us LLC (Just Mentor) operates with a philosophy of efficiency and innovation to see better outcomes for youth in Alachua County. To ensure our ongoing commitment to the child and public, Just for Us provides that we will be great stewards of taxpayer dollars funneled through The Children's Trust of Alachua County (CTAC). The funding from CTAC will help expand current programming and build a foundation to create a new program related to an identified need within the pillar of children and youth support.

Expanding Existing Programs:

In response to the need to increase enrichment activities for children during the summertime, Just For Us launched a summer camp encompassing a leadership component that aimed to provide extracurricular structured activities for youth during the summertime. This program is open to children ages K-6 grade and offers structured enrichment for youth in the community. To increase collaboration with housing partners in Alachua County, Just for Us partnered with a local apartment community to assist with delivering the enrichment service on the grounds of the apartment residents. The goal was to help support the "heavy lift" some parents endure when school is not open. Just For Us partnered with CTAC funds could be used to expand its reach and impact. For example, if the current program provides.

Creating a new program:

The specific design of the program would depend on the identified needs and goals of the community, as determined within CTAC’s “Listening Project: Executive Summary” (n.d.). For example, Just For Us plans to utilize the Just Mentor Program to assist youth in the community looking for guidance and relationship building to support the increasing number of youth who experience depression, gun violence, and feeling lost. The Children’s Trust of Alachua County would help Just For Us support program development, implementation, and evaluation in both scenarios. This might include researching the needs and gaps in technology access and connectivity within the community, engaging stakeholders to ensure program relevance and effectiveness, and developing partnerships with local organizations, schools, or government agencies to maximize impact. Additionally, CTAC funds could be used to train staff or volunteers involved in the program, develop instructional material, or support outreach and awareness campaigns to ensure that the program reaches and benefits the intended target population.

Just For Us LLC is committed to providing enriching opportunities for children within the Alachua County area. Through our collaborative efforts, we have created a mentoring program that positively impacts the lives of these children, offering them the support and guidance they need to thrive.

Collaboration lies at the core of our organization's approach to making a difference in the lives of children. By joining forces with other local nonprofits, schools, and community organizations, we have garnered a wealth of resources and expertise to enhance our mentoring program. These collaborative efforts have significantly strengthened our ability to reach a wider audience and provide more comprehensive services to needy children. One of the key benefits of collaboration is the exchange of ideas and knowledge. Working with other organizations allows us to learn from their experiences and apply best practices to our mentoring program. By tapping into the community's collective wisdom, we can continuously improve and refine our approach to ensure the most effective outcomes for the children we serve. This positive impact is evident in the enhanced quality of our mentoring program, which has adapted to the changing needs and challenges children in the Alachua County area face. Collaboration also allows us to access a broader range of resources and services that cannot be provided alone. By partnering with organizations specializing in different areas, such as sports, arts, and academic support, we can offer a more holistic approach to mentoring. This means the children benefit from diverse activities and experiences that help them develop various skills and talents. Through these collaborative efforts, we can make a more significant impact on the lives of children, providing them with a well-rounded and enriching program.

Just For Us LLC understands the importance of collaboration in creating a positive impact on the lives of children. Our collaborative efforts have allowed us to build a robust mentoring program that offers comprehensive support to children in the Alachua County area. By tapping into the expertise and resources of other organizations, we can provide a wide array of enriching activities and experiences. Through collaboration, we continue to improve and refine our program, ensuring that we are making a lasting positive impact on the lives of the children we serve.

Diversifying Funding Sources: We will seek additional funding opportunities from various sources, including government grants, private foundations, corporate sponsorships, and individual donors. By diversifying our funding sources, we can reduce dependency on a single grant and ensure the longevity of our mentoring program.

Building Community Partnerships: We will establish partnerships with local businesses, community organizations, and educational institutions interested in supporting youth development initiatives. These partnerships can provide financial resources, in-kind contributions, volunteer mentors, and access to additional networks, enhancing the sustainability of our program.

Creating a Volunteer Recruitment and Retention Plan: We will develop a comprehensive plan to recruit and retain volunteer mentors. This can include targeted outreach efforts, engaging with local colleges and universities, collaborating with corporate volunteer programs, and implementing mentor recognition and retention strategies. A robust mentor base ensures the continuity and effectiveness of our program.

Developing a Mentor Training and Development Program: To maintain quality mentorship, we will invest in developing a comprehensive mentor training program. This will ensure that mentors have the necessary skills and knowledge to effectively engage and support mentees. Ongoing mentor development opportunities will also be offered to enrich mentor skills and engagement.

Monitoring and Evaluating Program Outcomes: We will establish a robust monitoring and evaluation system to track the impact of our mentoring program. This data will be crucial in demonstrating positive outcomes to potential funders and stakeholders, enhancing our ability to secure continued support.

Engaging Mentees in Program Planning: We will actively involve mentees in the program planning process, seeking their input and feedback. By incorporating their perspectives, we can design a mentoring program that aligns with their needs, interests, and aspirations, increasing their satisfaction and the likelihood of program continuation.

Program Cost Efficiency: We will continuously review and optimize programmatic costs to ensure efficient use of resources. DESCRIPTION

The box provided for this wording may not expand enough to show all the description. Please be sure to check for full description. The figures provided above represent a summary of anticipated funding for the ongoing fiscal year of 2023. The Private Monthly Support category is based on contributions from our private monthly donors, resulting in an approximate total of $36,000 for the entire fiscal year, calculated as $3,000 per month over 12 months. The Businesses and Churches Monthly Support category amounts to approximately $25,000 for the fiscal year, with a monthly contribution of about $2,125 over the course of 12 months.

The Paid Sponsorship Speaking Presentations involve our staff members being invited by various organizations and churches to deliver presentations on topics such as community outreach strategies, local missions, and urban community engagement. The reported figure for the Annual Fundraising Gala reflects the net income achieved after deducting expenses from the Gala held earlier this year in January.

The One-Time Donations mentioned above pertain to current contributions we have received throughout the fiscal year. In-Kind donations represent time, space and personnel donations received from the University of Florida (staff and students), local community organizations and church partnerships totalling $9000.

In reference to the breakdown of screening fees indicated in line B8, this calculation is as follows: A program fee of $75 multiplied by a total of 40 students results in a sum of $3,000. This revenue allocation will be directed toward facilitating the various components of our mentorship program. Made For More Foundation Inc. fulfills our mission through a multi-pronged approach. We are committed to student-athletes ages 11-18 through our Made For More Mentorship Academy. We also work with University of Florida's collegiate athletes through our UF Athletic Outreach

Rental of a vehicle is allowed for transporting program participant(s) to a program-related event(s). Insurance, taxes, and accessory coverage on rental vehicles are not billable. Vehicle-related expenses are not allowed for the transportation of non-program participants.

Please be sure to check for full descriptions as the box may not expand to show full description. One of the things we've found working with youth, which is also backed by research, is that consistent participation in programs is directly tied to better outcomes for young people. Thus, reliable transportation increases the probability of regular attendance, leading to more impactful results in our desired outcome of personal character, a stronger sense of belonging, life skill development, and exposure to places and people that inspire our mentees to pursue excellence in every area of their lives. The transportation number is based on 30 - 40 mentees, which would require two 15 passenger vans. The rate of $186 is based on Enterprise Rental Car going rate. Thus, at $186 a day for two vans gives us the $372 dollar amount. These events will happen every other month throughout the year giving us the grand total of $2,232 for our Bi-monthly outings. Our UF College Tours happen once a semester, so given the going rate mentioned above the grand total for that is $372 2x (one per semester) equals to $744. Our Weekend Immersion Trips takes place once a semester and typically at the end of each semester. Given the going rate and the amount of days for each trip the total expenses for those trips were $1,488 times two equals $2,976. The Weekend Life Skill Workshops and service projects are occur once a semester also and totals out to $744 for each event. The Summer Camp

Our program supplies budget allocation is a critical component to the implementation of our program design. Our pedagogy and youth development approach is meant to be conversational, engaging, and multi-dimensional. Our Curriculum Notebook/Goal Setting/Daily Agenda & Calendar/Daily Affirmation are critical to our overall program effectiveness. The book contains over 50 pages; at 0.20 per page, the booklet totals $10 per student. Thus, 40 books per student are equivalent to the total number requested above. The budget allocation for t-shirts supports and bolsters our desire to cultivate a sense of belonging in our mentees; youth wearing the same shirts helps them visually see themselves as a unified group that is part of something bigger than themselves. The budget allocation for t-shirts was derived from prices through Atlas Printing, which charges $8 for 48 t-shirts, rendering the total amount listed above.

Our suit and tie etiquette dinner is essential to our priority area of life skill development. Again, we have times when our mentors address this one-on-one or in our large group gatherings. However, youth need multiple settings to learn something. Our suit and tie etiquette dinner hits on numerous areas of our desired outcomes for our youth. It provides an atmosphere where our youth can grow in their confidence and self-awareness and teaches them life skills they can take on in the future. The cost of the suits and ties per student

7. Describe your program design and implementation. (Include frequency (how often) of and duration (amount of time) of group and one-on-one sessions. Also include longevity/length of the match)

We have carefully designed our program to provide comprehensive support and development opportunities for Alachua County student-athletes aged 11-18. Our program comprises group and one-on-one mentoring sessions, workshops, outings, and community engagement activities. The program will be implemented over nine months, from September to May, aligning with the school calendar.

Frequency and Duration:

- Group Sessions: We will conduct weekly Made-For-More Assemblies every Thursday, serving as our program's cornerstone. These group sessions will last approximately 2 hours each and provide a platform for character-building activities, life skills training, guest speakers, and discussions on relevant topics. These sessions will foster community and allow mentees to connect with their peers.
- Bi-Monthly Inspiration, Food, & Hoop Sessions: These sessions will occur twice a month and last about 2 hours each. They combine mentorship, physical activity, and nourishment. Inspirational talks and discussions will be followed by basketball activities and a shared meal, promoting holistic development and social interaction.
- Special Outings and Exposure Trips: Throughout the program, we will organize special outings and trips, including a trip to Miami in December, a spring trip to Alabama, attending University of Florida football and basketball games, movie and dinner outings, and recreational activities like laser tag and paintball. These outings will provide mentees with unique experiences, bonding opportunities, and exposure to different environments.
- One-on-One Sessions: Mentees will engage in one-on-one mentoring sessions with their assigned mentors. These sessions will occur bi-weekly/every other week and last approximately 1 to 2 hours each. During these sessions, mentors will provide individualized support, guidance, and mentorship tailored to each mentee's needs, goals, and challenges.
- Etiquette Dinner and Graduation Ceremony: In the spring, we will conduct an etiquette dinner where mentees can learn about proper etiquette, dining manners, and professionalism. The program will conclude with a Graduation Ceremony and Dinner, celebrating the achievements and growth of mentees throughout the program.

Longevity/Length of Match:

Our mentoring matches are designed to be long-term and impactful. Mentees will be matched with mentors at the beginning of the program year and continue their mentoring relationship throughout the nine-month duration of the program. We prioritize matches that last for at least nine months to ensure a meaningful and lasting impact on the mentees' personal growth and development.

The program's structure and frequency provide consistent and varied opportunities for character-building, skill development, and positive interactions. Our emphasis on long-term mentorship matches underscores our commitment to fostering enduring relationships that contribute to our mentees' holistic growth and success.

5. Technology and Data Management: CTAC funds will facilitate technology integration into our program operations, including data collection, analysis, and reporting. We will invest in data management systems that allow us to track and assess outcomes effectively, ensuring our program achieves its intended impact.
6. Collaborative Partnerships: The CTAC funds will enable us to establish and strengthen collaborative partnerships with local schools, community organizations, and businesses. Collaborations are central to our approach, as they amplify our reach, resources, and effectiveness in addressing the diverse needs of youth. Our collaborative efforts can be categorized into three main areas:

1. Community Partnerships: We have established strong partnerships with local schools, community centers, churches, and other youth-serving organizations. These collaborations allow us to access a w pool of potential mentors, mentees, and resources. For example, our partnership with Aces In enables us to identify potential mentees and share resources for character-building activities. We also refer our youth to AIM's afterschool program and AIM encourages youth to join our mentorship program. Our partnership with the University of Florida's School of Business provides access to entrepreneurship and business skills workshops.

2. Youth Development Collaboratives: We actively participate in local youth development collaboratives and networks, such as the Alachua County Youth Development Capacity Building Collaborative (YDCBC), aligned with CTAC's goals. Through these networks, we share best practices, attend training sessions, and collaborate on community projects. These collaborations ensure that our program remains up-to-date with the latest research and trends in youth development.

Regular communication and collaboration between mentors and parents allow us to align our efforts and provide consistent support. In addition, we organize mentor and parent workshops to facilitate open dialogue and mutual understanding.

4. Fee-Based Services and Social Enterprises: We will explore offering fee-based services, such as workshops, training sessions, and specialized mentoring programs, to generate additional revenue. These services can cater to a broader audience and create a supplementary income stream for sustaining our core mentorship program.

Exposing our mentees to key success factors and establishing a foundation of strong character is the priority for our program.

5. Living L.A.R.G.E.

This program is intended to help you grow by creating a better understanding of who you are. The activities are designed to allow you to evaluate your personal style, build on your strengths and help you to identify and avoid areas that may have hindered your effectiveness in the past. You will also benefit by learning about the styles of others.

Mentors and mentees will go through the curricula throughout the group and individual sessions. In addition to group and one-on-one discussions, community members and program providers will serve as additional models for the mentees.

4. Describe your program policies and procedures that address youth and mentor incidents and other unexpected circumstances during mentoring program hours.

Behavior management for incidents and other unexpected circumstances:

General Guidelines: Guiding the behavior of children, helping them develop core values, and building healthy personalities are important tasks that adults must take seriously. Children are deserving of a pleasant environment in which to learn and grow. Therefore, children who display chronic disruptive behavior may be dismissed from the program. Such behavior is defined as “verbal or physical activity which may involve, but is not limited to, behavior that requires constant attention from the staff, inflicts physical or emotional harm on other children, abuses the staff and/or ignores or disobeys the rules that guide behavior during the day’s activities.” If a child cannot adjust to the program’s setting and continually behaves appropriately, then the child may be dismissed. Reasonable efforts will be made to help children acclimate to the program’s environment.

Action Steps: MNCF believes that children learn self-control for appropriate and responsible behavior when adults treat them with dignity and use proper techniques:

- Guide children by setting clear, consistent, fair limits for behavior
- Value mistakes as learning opportunities
- Redirect children to more acceptable behavior or activities
- Make eye contact and listen when children talk about their feelings and frustrations
- Guide children to resolve their own conflicts and model skills that help them to solve problems
- Patiently remind children of rules and their rationale as needed
- Use effective praise that is immediate, sincere and specific
- State directions in a positive fashion

Discipline Policy: When the traditional action steps are not successful, there are four steps we follow regarding discipline. They are as follows:

- Step 1: Verbal warning to the child and parent. Incident will be documented in the child’s file.
- Step 2: Written warning to the parent.
- Step 3: Suspension from the program (1-3 days).
- Step 4: Dismissal from the program

In extreme cases, your child may be suspended or terminated from the program (i.e. a violent act against another child or staff member would be considered extreme).

Some examples of incidents and unexpected circumstances that may occur during mentor program hours are to be handled in accordance with the guidelines as follows:

- a. Disagreements during group sessions/activities-mentors and mentees will discuss
- b. Altercations-mentee v. mentee
- c. Refusal to follow instructions
- d. Inappropriate language

5. Describe how your program aligns with CTAC Goal 3: All children and youth live in a safe community.

MNCF believes, as does CTAC, that we have the responsibility to provide our youth with a safe environment where they can thrive. Our core message, U*R IMPT (You Are Important) is the reminder for us and for our youth that we value them and we want them to value themselves. Ensuring that each one of the mentors is properly trained on identifying and mitigating potential hazards and safety risks that could potentially create a physical, mental, emotional, relational, or spiritual threat to the mentees will be a priority for providing our youth with a safe community. The trained mentor will then transfer the knowledge to the mentee to make sure that each person in the program owns his/her role in maintaining the safe environment and contributes to effective peer mentoring and accountability.

6. Describe how your program establishes and utilizes evidence to assess effectiveness and impact.
Please mark the boxes below to indicate infrastructure your program currently has in place. Note: The Trust has the authority to require specific evaluation tools for funded programs.

Program effectiveness will be measured against multiple factors. We operate with an understanding that each measure/factor doesn't weigh equally for each mentee. Although establishing standards and expectations is critical to monitor the program's effectiveness, of equal importance is the idea of determining and agreeing on what area/need will have the greatest impact on the individual mentee and then establishing and agreeing upon expectations unique to the individual. Therefore, we will have certain areas that will provide us with quantifiable data while also seeking to tailor other expectations to the unique needs of each mentee.

We will implement a Character Incentive Plan (ChIP) where positive character traits are incentivized. We believe that the behavior and characteristics that we desire should be rewarded and reinforced. We believe that behavior that is acknowledged and rewarded is repeated.

Students, parents and mentors create a set of agreed upon criteria where students achieve certain outcomes that are incentive based (Ex. Grades or GPA is assessed as a value: A-$5, B-$4, C-$3, etc.) which is paid out each grading period.

1. Students can earn as they go and build up their "accounts."
2. Accounts can create and carry over earnings through a financial earnings platform (Green Dot, Chime or another.)
3. Students can create businesses individually or in groups through Start Up Smart Up
4. Funds from ChIP can be used to assist with expenses with entrepreneurship efforts, field trips, or other approved expenses.

Some other sample incentives include:

- Attendance in school (It's almost impossible to succeed in school unless the student attends school)
- Conduct at home, school and in the community (positive interactions with parents, school staff, siblings, etc.)
- Community involvement (volunteerism)
- Reading and participation in resource discussions
- BRAG Sheets
- Meeting with mentors at regularly scheduled intervals
- Parental involvement (designed to ensure parent and mentee are working together for mentee's success)
- Financial (earnings and savings)
- Health (Physical, Mental, and Emotionally safety)
- Setting and working toward SMART goals

7. Describe your program design and implementation. (Include frequency (how often) of and duration (amount of time) of group and one-on-one sessions. Also include longevity/length of the match)

MOTIV8U MASTERMYNDS is a program that is intended to run from October 2023 through May 2024.

Mentor documentation and session evaluation will be completed weekly for each location.

8. Describe how you will identify and recruit mentors.

Mentors for the MOTIV8U MASTERMYND program will consist of current staff members (Attitude Guides and Attitude Agents, along with student volunteers and interns from local colleges. We have partnered with the Family Youth and Community Sciences program at the University of Florida, where we have received an intern over the past four years. Each mentor will be cleared through the DCF Clearinghouse and trained on appropriate interactions with mentees, staff, and program partners.

9. Describe the youth population(s) and age range you intend to serve, how many youth your program will serve, and how you will recruit youth. Describe how your organization intends to communicate with the youth's parent or guardian.

A total of 20 mentees will be selected from two separate locations; 10 each from A.Quinn Jones and the Youth & Teen Center at the North Central Florida YMCA. Combination of appointed mentees through school and/or application and approval.

At A Quinn Jones we will identify 10 middle school boys and girls. We will work with the guidance counselor, principal and assistant principal to identify the students. Once identified, we will connect and communicate with the parents/guardians for their buy-in for the mentee and the program. There will be an initial program orientation, which may include an in-person session, as well as a video presentation outlining the program's goals. Ongoing efforts to remain connected with the parent/guardian will include emails and phone calls and an occasional home visit if the other methods of communication are not successful. All efforts will be documented and reported.

Participants from the Youth & Teen Center, whose ages range from 10-16 years of age, will be selected by the program coordinator in collaboration with the parent/guardian. There will be an initial program orientation, which may include an in-person session, as well as a video presentation outlining the program's goals. Ongoing efforts to remain connected with the parent/guardian will include emails and phone calls and an occasional home visit if the other methods of communication are not successful. All efforts will be documented and reported.

10. Describe how CTAC funds will be used to expand your current program or create a new program.

MOTIV8U MASTERMYNDS will be a new initiative to reinforce the results that MNCF has achieved through our enrichment programs. Based on the feedback and requests from students, families, and youth-serving partners, we will use the funds to create and sustain the positive momentum we create through our Living L.A.R.G.E. programs. We are the contracted provider for the Center and work with those students year-round. We have been requested to work with students at AQ Jones and serve as a year-round enrichment provider. We feel that this focused and directed approach will assist in fostering positive relationships and help to continue to develop the character of the students for long-term success.

11. Describe your organization's collaborative efforts and how those efforts positively impact your services and improve the lives of the children you serve.

As a result of our history and reputation, MNCF is a respected organization in Alachua County. Because of these long-term relationships, we are able to and will collaborate with public, private, nonprofit, government, religious, and recreational organizations and programs. We will tap into the expertise of individuals from these varied industries Through these relationships and collaborations, our mentees will be exposed to a broader perspective on what a successful, well-developed character looks like and the benefits one derives from being a person of character.

Agency Stability & Capability 0-20 Points

12. Describe your organization's mission and services.

MNCF's mission is to effectively change the global perspectives of self-worth and internal value as we communicate an appreciation for the specific level of importance that each individual brings to our society and our nation as a whole. We accomplish this by affirming the greatness of each individual we are blessed to serve through our U*R IMPT (You Are Important) message.

MNCF provides highly interactive and impactful programs for students of all ages (K-12). Our services:

iMatter-uMatter-weMatter

Promote self-worth and positive mental health by equipping youth with the tools to identify and navigate their emotions.

Living L.A.R.G.E.

Interactive Living L.A.R.G.E. (Leadership–Attitudes–Relationships–Goal Setting and Attainment–Excellence) training program where participants have a better understanding of who they are, build on individual strengths, help identify areas of opportunities, and understand and value others.

13. Describe your organizational capacity to carry out the proposed project plan.

MNCF has worked with students since its inception in 2006. Because of our training and our philosophy, which we refer to as the “MOTIV8U Way” we prioritize two non-negotiables: 1) displaying unconditional love, and 2) creating a nonjudgmental environment, we have experienced tremendous success working with youth. Our team of Attitude Guides and Attitude Agents have decades of experience working with youth. We have expanded our capacity through training and experience and understand the importance of creating and maintaining effective relationships.

14. Describe how your organization will sustain your proposed program beyond the term of the contract.

MNCF is the contracted provider of the Youth & Teen Center with the North Central Florida YMCA has been for the past two seasons. We anticipate that this relationship will continue and expand into other areas throughout the city and other rural areas. We believe that the positive results that will be realized through our mentoring efforts will allow us to apply for and receive continuing funding and support from other funding sources, as well as private donations. Because we are targeting middle school students, each year, we should be able to present our program and its impact to other incoming middle school students and sustain the program.

Budget 0-25 points

15. Detail the financial support (from whom and amount) you receive for your proposed program. Including in-kind services your organization leverages. (Detail Tab 2 of the budget)

MNCF has received financial support from various sources, to include Gas South ($1500), and the Alpha Kappa Alpha Education Advancement Foundation ($1500.) We also receive in kind support from the North Central Florida YMCA for the Youth & Teen Center, in that we are able to access the space. We receive private donations through the Amazing Give (amount varies.)

16. Describe your organization’s fundraising activities.

In order to raise funds, MNCF routinely applies for grants throughout the year. MNCF also participates in the Annual Day of Giving and The Amazing Give where we receive private donations and matches. The Board of Directors of MNCF is currently discussing additional fundraising ideas such as a 5K run and golf tournament.

Other

17. Endemic interruption plans: What plan does your organization have in place for any endemic related interruptions to your programming, such as flu?

MNCF, as was the case for so many organizations, was able to conduct much of its business through virtual platforms during the pandemic. We anticipate that we will be able to continue the mentoring and character development initiatives using a similar platform if there is an interruption to the programming that results from any endemic episode. Additionally, we can communicate via phone/text with our mentees and their families.

Program Description 0-30 Points

2. Describe an overview of your mentoring program focus and priority areas.

The program will focus on reaching the rural and surrounding areas, including High Springs, Alachua, Newberry, and Gainesville. The organization's goals are to reach the underserved and underprivileged communities. The mentorship program will focus on relationship building, while displaying leadership skills. Our organization will endeavor to set goals focusing on crime reduction and prevention, self-esteem and personal and professional development, personal hygiene, career development and legacy building (financial literacy). The mentorship goals will seek to develop leadership skills and encourage the development of core values to help guide their lives. The program will be focusing on college preparation/job readiness for appropriate age youth, financial literacy, and personal development skills.

We know that by building connections with the mentees and the community, it is our hope that this will motivate them to focus on thriving towards a flourishing future. The organization will offer great benefits of communication skills while demonstrating corporate skills for the workplace. We are looking forward to inspiring, advising and developing a support system for their professional and future growth.

We will strive to create relationships with other organizations to broaden the mentees' view of their surrounding community. We are looking forward to focusing on positive reinforcement within the various cities.

3. Describe the character-building curriculum and/or training that you intend to use. Also describe how program supervisors will provide on-going support to recruited mentors.

Character-building curriculum to include activities involving team-building, character development, imitating positive role models, and practicing good/positive behavior, developing basic core values and helping youth to ascribe to these core values to help guide their lives - core values such as integrity, honesty, and good moral character. Examples might include applying the Golden Rule to my behavior; learning and practicing model behaviors and goals to build character. Practicing the rule of "Do unto others as you would have them do to you", "love thy neighbor as thyself.

One of the keys to establishing a successful mentorship program is ensuring that you have great staff. A great leader should provide an abundance of support to their staff. A few ways that a organization can support their mentors is by doing the following:

- Foster continuous professional development for staff
- Invest in Mental Health resources.
- Provide moral and unwavering support.
- Recognize accomplishments.
- Create a welcoming environment and sense of belonging.
- Offer fair employee compensation and benefits.

4. Describe your program policies and procedures that address youth and mentor incidents and other unexpected circumstances during mentoring program hours.

Ideally, organizations try to match mentors and mentees based on interests, skill sets, similarities, and needs. However, this does not always result in a successful match. Therefore, Old Town Ministries has taken a different approach as it relates to our policies and procedures and how to effectively address and resolve any unfavorable matters between any youth and/or mentors, including unforeseeable occurrences. These policies and procedures may include the following, but not limited to:

- Matching Conflicts
- Inappropriate behavior (swearing, violence, defiance, disrespect, unwanted touching)
- Lack of participation or Excessive absences

Prior to matching the mentors and mentees, the Program Supervisor meets with the mentees and their parent(s) to discuss the parents' needs and expectations of the mentorship program as well as the mentees' needs and expectations. This engages both the parents and the mentee in what can be a life-changing journey for all parties. It also allows the mentee to learn to identify their needs, how to meet those needs by setting expectations, as well as learn about responsibility and accountability in the process. While inquiring about their needs and expectations of the program, we also try to identify how we can support them in exceeding their expectations. We also ask similar questions to the mentee about their interests relating to academic subjects, extracurricular activities, and even future career interests. This aids our organization with matching the mentee and mentor in the beginning as best as possible. However, an organization can have the best policies and procedures in place and still experience unforeseen circumstances whereas a few examples are stated above.

The policies and procedures that we have established to address incidents are:

- Assess and identify the areas of conflict.
- Interview all parties involved, including any witnesses.
- Document the incident and the testimonies from each interview.
- Provide conflict-resolution training and develop a solution that works for all parties involved.
- If the conflict relates to matching, then evaluate strengths and areas of improvement between the mentor and mentees and determine if there needs to be a reassignment.
- If this is an incident that needs to be escalated, we will follow the mandatory reporting guidelines and adhere to utilizing the resources provided by the Florida Department of Children and Families.

5. Describe how your program aligns with CTAC Goal 3: All children and youth live in a safe commu

Our program aligns with the Trust’s initiative of “All children and youth live in a safe community” by:

- Establishing program goals of creating a safe space of listening to the needs, goals and wants of our youth, families and community;
- Fostering an environment built on trust, compassion, setting goals and review over results;
- Working with program staff, mentors, youth, families, neighbors and the community to teach about safety and to follow established safety protocols;
- Identifying and employing safety strategies to keep our communities safe;
- Helping children to feel safe and secure, letting them know they are cared for and loved;
- Engaging with parents and youth to promote a safe and welcoming environment;
- Teaching and encouraging youth regarding being aware of their surroundings, then when we “see something that doesn’t appear right, say something (tell appropriate authorities);
- Hosting events/trainings focusing on crime prevention and reduction.

6. Describe how your program establishes and utilizes evidence to assess effectiveness and impact. Please mark the boxes below to indicate infrastructure your program currently has in place. Note: The Trust has the authority to require specific evaluation tools for funded programs.

Our program looks to establish and utilize evidence-based assessments to determine the effectiveness and impact of the provision of youth mentoring services.

Such assessments are to be completed at the onset or beginning of participation in the program, then at midpoint and prior to completion to help measure the impact and effectiveness of the Mentoring program. Mentors and Mentees will be asked to participate in goal setting. - Identifying goals related to input (needs)/output (to help accomplish needs) and the results.

Evidence to be collected by tracking and monitoring of data, to assess meeting of goals for such areas as - demographics/diversity of mentor/mentee population, participation (attendance and duration of sessions); participants survey assessments and feedback.

Mentoring should serve to help affect a more positive outcome based upon one having been provided mentoring support and assistance. As a result, we want to monitor and track these outcomes to determine areas of success and areas needing attention or improvements in the provision of these services.

Program Implementation 0-25 Points

7. Describe your program design and implementation. (Include frequency (how often) of and duration (amount of time) of group and one-on-one sessions. Also include longevity/length of the match)

Our organization’s program design and implementation model consists of both one-on-one, in-person meetings and group sessions. Each mentor will be required to document the necessary information as it relates to the mentee's personal and professional development, how well they engaged with others and during the activities, and/or any unusual behavior. The program design and implementation also consists of the following:

- Program design and implementation includes conducting two group sessions per month amongst the Program Supervisor and each respective mentor and mentee.
- There will also be one-on-one sessions arranged twice a month for each mentor and mentee as well as

- the parents of the mentees. Each of these meetings will be scheduled for one and a half to two hours.
- The group sessions will be held in two separate sessions due to the mentor to mentee ratio. The duration of these sessions may vary but are scheduled for two to three hours.

The organization plans to use a system to match mentors and mentees based upon specific criteria (skill sets, experience, interests, and needs to match a mentee with a specific mentor for nine months. Depending on the success of the match, the mentee's level of comfort, personal growth, and other factors will determine if the match will be extended, or a reassignment will need to be established.

Prior to the one-on-one meetings, the Program Supervisor will review all the notes provided by the mentor from each session. At the time of the one-on-one sessions, the Program Supervisor will evaluate and discuss with the mentor the strengths and growth opportunities for the mentee before meeting with the mentee and their parent(s). These meetings will be scheduled for 30 minutes with the mentor (and longer, if needed) and an hour with the mentee and the parent(s). We will also discuss any additional activities that the mentee should engage in and determine the success rate of the match. We also plan to schedule quarterly meetings with the Program Supervisor, mentors, mentees, and parents collectively for an hour to discuss the overall status of the match, activities, future interests and more.

8. Describe how you will identify and recruit mentors.

Efforts to recruit and identify mentors will be achieved through various methods. These methods may include, but not limited to the following:

- Conducting surveys throughout our organization from staff, the youth, and the parents is another technique to identify areas of development and how our future mentor recruits can assist in those areas.
- Identify specific skills sets, character, education, experience, and interests that best align with our organization's mission and goals.
- Locate various organizations that refer volunteers and/or staff who are interested and experienced in mentoring youth.
- Word-of-mouth is another method.
- Volunteer Boards

This will entail funding for, but not limited to staffing, office materials and supplies, and transportation for transporting youth to activities/events.

11. Describe your organization's collaborative efforts and how those efforts positively impact your services and improve the lives of the children you serve.

14. Describe how your organization will sustain your proposed program beyond the term of the contract.

Our Organization would sustain the proposed program by seeking the continued engagement of mentors, involvement of families, and volunteers. Continuing recruiting efforts to establish a pool of mentors for providing mentoring services. Our plan is to formalize a program that gradually increases their knowledge. Old Town Ministries Organization is willing to work with Grade K-12th to build a safe place that the kids feel comfortable to grow. We plan on teaching them various skills that would benefit them throughout their school career. Old Town Ministries Organization's goals are to look into a location in Alachua, Newberry and High Springs where we will host events to connect the mentees with tutoring services, career training coaching and college preparation. We will be looking to start with one main location that will be a place where we will hold workshops on various topics. We plan on partnering with small, medium and large businesses that these mentees may want to eventually work for them. Old Town Ministries Organization plans on seeking additional sponsorships, seeking out grants, recruiting volunteers and working with other local organizations overall. The organization will also be reaching out to the schools in those areas and volunteering our time to inform others about our program. Our goal is to make sure we get the parents of these mentees to know that it is a team effort and we plan to teach, educate, build and mold the mentees into their purpose.

Endemic interruption plans would include employing safe alternatives for the delivery of the mentoring services. Having gone through the Pandemic, a period of our lives that probably many of us never would have imagined going through the challenging times brought about by the Pandemic. However, it has taught us how to manage, survive, and thrive during times such as this. Through these experiences, we now have access and knowledge of how to employ other alternatives to "keep things moving". Our plan would involve use of technological and social media applications to help sustain and provide for the continuance of these services during an Endemic. Hosting of Virtual Sessions via Zoom, and other applications. Employing safety measures when needing to conduct face-to-face meetings. Organizational Narrative

1. Describe your organization's ability to hire and train additional qualified staff and comply with background screening requirement (DCF Clearinghouse).

Click or tap here to enter text.

I come in contact with our local youth on a daily basis from all sorts of different backgrounds of life. I have an establishing relationship with our youth and they openly talk with me and from some of those conversations I have a good idea of what some of those needs are. Which gives me a clear path of what to look for in hiring a mentee along with them having some sort of background experience working with our youth. They all will also be required to pass a level 2 background screening.

Program Description 0-30 Points

Establish effective communication, accountability, teaching them to be ok with and owning their faults so they are able to grow from it. To teach them to be ok with leading and teaching them those leadership skills, and to own into their differences from others and not fall into peer pressure.

3. Describe the character-building curriculum and/or training that you intend to use. Also describe how program supervisors will provide on-going support to recruited mentors.

Click or tap here to enter text.

I like to use the six pillars of character building which is something I implement with my kids and work staff and I believe could also even be trained at a young age and those things are trustworthiness, respect, responsibility, fairness, caring and citizenship. Which will include creative working, role playing exercises, group discussions and more.

4. Describe your program policies and procedures that address youth and mentor incidents and other unexpected circumstances during mentoring program hours.

Click or tap here to enter text.

I would use a incident/accident report by filling that out with a detailed description of what took place I would then take photos of it and contact the parent and utilize my first aid kit if needed and monitor the mentee closely. If the incident/accident is beyond what we can adhere to we would call 911

5. Describe how your program aligns with CTAC Goal 3: All children and youth live in a safe community.

Click or tap here to enter text.

Our mentor program will provide a space in a low crime rate area where each mentee will be free of any hazards and I have the ability to maintain and upkeep of a safe facility and environment. Also there is no bullying in our space and group sessions and it's a judge free zone where everyone is accepted.

6. Describe how your program establishes and utilizes evidence to assess effectiveness and impact. Please mark the boxes below to indicate infrastructure your program currently has in place. Note: The Trust has the authority to require specific evaluation tools for funded programs.

Click or tap here to enter text.

Our program will be designed to have a relationship with the mentees teacher as well as parents to work effectively on the needs of the mentee and so that we're all on the same page. The plan will be to meet with each mentee in the beginning of each week per one hour sessions, we also plan to follow up with a phone call at the end of the school week to check in with the mentee about their progress throughout the week. Group sessions will be held 2x a month for 2hours and 30 min each

8. Describe how you will identify and recruit mentors.

Click or tap here to enter text.

I would contact the local school counselors and ask them to identify the girls that would benefit from these mentoring services

9. Describe the youth population(s) and age range you intend to serve, how many youth your program will serve, and how you will recruit youth. Describe how your organization intends to communicate with the youth's parent or guardian.

Click or tap here to enter text.

We intend to serve girls from any ethnicity starting at kindergarten thru grade 12. We would like to mentor approximately 15 girls in the Alachua County area. We will communicate with parents on a bi-weekly basis via phone or in home visits.

10. Describe how CTAC funds will be used to expand your current program or create a new program.

Click or tap here to enter text.

11. Describe your organization's collaborative efforts and how those efforts positively impact your services and improve the lives of the children you serve.

Click or tap here to enter text.

I have a passion of giving back to the young girls in our community and have been doing that for the last 5 years at my own expense. I have proven that myself and place of business is a safe place for ALL girls regardless of race, color, national origin, sex, or religion. I have created numerous platforms for the kids in our community that has helped boost self esteem awareness, leadership qualities and lightened financial burdens off of the parents.

To establish and develop the essential needs of young girls by cultivating a safe and nurturing environment for them to express themselves and know that they have someone who values them.

We would continue to provide mentoring services for each and every girl FREE of charge because they need to understand that they have a mentor for life that is willing to grow with them and that they will not be abandoned just because the program ended. We will also keep an open line of communication with the parents and conduct quarterly home visits to get insight from the parent or guardian on the progression of the mentee.

Organizational Narrative

1. Describe your organization's ability to hire and train additional qualified staff and comply with background screening requirement (DCF Clearinghouse).

Wake Up & Dream has qualified staff in compliance with the DCF Clearinghouse as it has already been providing services with trained individuals. We will add additional staff in the same manner complying with all local and state regulations as required.

Program Description 0-30 Points

2. Describe an overview of your mentoring program focus and priority areas.

The intent of the Wake Up & Dream mentoring program is to deter gun violence in African American males by emphasizing the need to address their mental health and how it impacts our decisions. We have found that our focus on mental health awareness, anti-criminal activity (specifically gun violence) and civic leadership has been successful. We provide this focus utilizing the arts as our vehicle by the provision of facilitator led group activities, and Mentoring.

Wake Up & Dream will engage youth in a series of learning experiences that will promote a greater understanding of cultural and social dynamics through the context of the arts, specifically photos and visual images and music, increase their awareness of our "right to life" being threatened by gun violence while emphasizing the mounting need to address their mental health as a priority.

The Arts

We have applied and gained permission to access "The Black History and Culture Collection" which has been created and curated by Getty Images. Getty Images is a well-known stock photography and media company that offers a wide range of visual content, including photographs, videos, illustrations, and more, covering various topics, themes, and historical events. They have a diverse collection of images and media that cover Black history, culture, and significant events. These images include depictions of historical figures, civil rights movements, cultural celebrations, art, and other aspects of Black history and culture.

We know that historical and cultural aspects of African American and African Diaspora History have not been properly preserved and maintained. Photography and visual images are an expressive medium and art form that not only capture moments in time but also can invoke thought and reflection that may otherwise not exist. The youth in this program will be given the opportunity to interact and engage with some of the images within this collection, giving rise to learning about the context of eras in our history, captured in these photos. Photo and visual imagery occupy a great mass of emotional and intellectual space in our current society, and it is important that our youth understand this impact and appropriately interpret its positive and negative dynamics.

Music serves as a powerful form of cultural expression for Black youth. It allows them to celebrate their heritage, share their stories, and connect with their roots. Music genres such as Rap/ hip-hop, R&B, gospel, jazz, and reggae have strong ties to the Black community and have been instrumental in expressing the experiences and struggles of Black individuals. Many Black youth use music as a platform to address social issues and advocate for change. Throughout history, music has been used to convey messages of civil rights, racial equality, and social justice. Lyrics and rhythms can amplify important messages and help mobilize communities for social activism.

We have the opportunity to have a guest rap artist to come share his background and rise in the music industry. engage in discussion, share some of his music in a listening session while giving insight to the inspiration behind it. The youth will be able to understand the dedication, perseverance and focus that is demanded of an artist that is wholly committed to honing their craft.

Gun Violence

There is a crippling reality facing the U.S., gun violence has increasingly become a public epidemic. Black Americans die from gun violence at nearly 2.4 times the rate of white Americans. On average, more than 12,400 Black people die from gun violence each year, with 15,548 such deaths in 2021 alone—the highest number on record. Black boys and men not only are the most likely victims of gun violence but also are exposed to gun violence most often.

We will have roundtable discussions involving our youth with local law enforcement officers, allowing them an opportunity to become informed while giving them the latitude to have conversation in a non-threatening manner and environment. This will help ensure that our youth do not become desensitized due to the frequency of occurrences but highly sensitive to the crisis and how they can directly impact its deterrence. We also have carefully created lessons where facilitators give way to thoughtful reflection that can be shared through verbal and/or written form.

Mental Health

We know that our young people are struggling with their mental health and often are unsupported in that struggle. The challenges they face have caused significant increases in certain mental health disorders, including but not limited to, anxiety, depression and suicidal ideation. Our young people must be supported with compassion and care. During our program, our youth will have an opportunity to interact with a mental health counselor in such a way as to become more aware of mental health in general and their own mental health specifically. The mental health counselor will provide strategies in which our youth can utilize and apply, enriching their own well-being and increasing their mindfulness.

The goals of the Wake Up & Dream mentoring program is that each participant comes away with the ability to:

- 1) Articulate how photo/visual imagery of our history (past, present and future) and music impacts and shapes our thoughts,
- 2) Share self-reflections as to how they can individually deter gun violence as well as assist the community in its efforts, and
- 3) Implement and utilize self-help strategies in order to positively impact their mental health and their peers.

3. Describe the character-building curriculum and/or training that you intend to use. Also describe how program supervisors will provide on-going support to recruited mentors.

Wake Up & Dream focuses on developing essential character traits and life skills through engaging workshops, activities, and discussion groups. We address topics such as:

- Self-Awareness and Self-Respect - where our young men through our mental health discussions identify their core values and how they shape their choices and behaviors. Learn to value themselves, set healthy boundaries, and practice self-compassion.
- Integrity and Responsibility – where they explore ethical decision-making and learn to prioritize integrity and understand the importance of owning their actions and choices.
- Resilience and Problem-Solving – where our young men develop coping skills and strategies to bounce back from challenges and enhance their critical thinking skills and approach problem-solving creatively.
- Teamwork and Leadership - they learn to work collaboratively, communicate in teams, and handle conflicts constructively while developing leadership qualities and understanding the impact of positive leadership.

- Gratitude and Giving Back – All the young men through community events and discussions understand the importance of giving back to their community.

Wake Up & Dream’s Program Director (PD) plays a critical role in providing ongoing support to recruited mentors within our program. The PD will help mentors effectively fulfill their roles by maintaining their enthusiasm, and helping with any challenges they may be having with their mentee. Regularly scheduled one-on-one or group check-ins with mentors to discuss their experiences, address any concerns, and offer guidance is key to the success of this program. The PD will maintain open lines of communication, making it easy for mentors to reach out for assistance or advice whenever they need it; providing mentors multiple channels for communication, including email, phone, and messaging apps.

4. Describe your program policies and procedures that address youth and mentor incidents and other unexpected circumstances during mentoring program hours.

There are several policies and procedures in place should unexpected circumstances during mentor program hours arise.

General Incidents/Emergencies:

In case of an emergency during a program or event, Staff is trained to remain calm and take swift, appropriate actions to ensure the safety and well-being of the young men and others. These actions may be but are not limited to: Call 911, administer first aid, evacuate, if necessary, seek shelter, account for everyone and contact parents and or guardians.

Incident and accident forms are to be completed for every incident or emergency.

Behavior issues:

When behavior needs to be addressed staff first meets with the young man to see if the problem can be easily resolved. If not, the parent is brought in to discuss the behaviors of their young man. Utilizing conflict resolution methods staff will attempt to help the young man understand the problem and ways that it can be fixed. Consequences, such as denial of activities, unable to travel with program, and daily suspension from the program will be enforced. In the rare instance that the behavior continues we will ask the participant to discontinue to be a part of the program. Though we hold this as a last resort effort only utilized to ensure the safety of the participants. At no time is the Mentor allowed to enact consequences on any participant at any time.

5. Describe how your program aligns with CTAC Goal 3: All children and youth live in a safe community.

The Wake Up & Dream program aligns one hundred percent with CTAC’s Goal for all children and youth living in a safe community. A safe community refers to a social environment or geographical area where individuals feel secure, protected, and free from harm, both physically and emotionally. Our program focuses on several factors that provide this safe community.

Low Crime Rates: Through our extensive work in gun violence prevention within this program we help lower the incidents of crime in the community. We achieve this through education and relationship building with law enforcement.

Strong Social Cohesion: Children and youth in a safe community tend to have strong social connections and a sense of belonging. Through our community engagement events and group discussions and workshops we encourage our youth to look out for one another, build positive relationships, and work together to address challenges.

Effective Healthcare Services: Our program focuses heavily on mental health support. During our program, our youth will have an opportunity to interact with a mental health counselor in such a way as to become more aware of mental health in general and their own mental health in specific.

Cultural and Recreational Opportunities: Cultural activities, community events, and recreational opportunities help build a sense of community identity and provide positive outlets for our youth. We will be focusing on the art forms of Photography and visual images and music in our program. Photo and visual imagery and music occupy a great mass of emotional and intellectual space in our current society, and it is important that our youth understand this impact and appropriately interpret its positive and negative dynamics.

Community Engagement and Empowerment: Our participants will be actively engaged in community initiatives, participate in decision-making processes, and are empowered to contribute to the betterment of their surroundings.

Wake Up & Dream provides avenues to a safe community that is characterized by our program that addresses various social, economic, and environmental factors to ensure the well-being and security of all children and youth.

6. Describe how your program establishes and utilizes evidence to assess effectiveness and impact. Please mark the boxes below to indicate infrastructure your program currently has in place. Note: The Trust has the authority to require specific evaluation tools for funded programs.

Wake Up & Dream will utilize the following to assess our effectiveness and impact of our program.

- We will utilize our baseline data to establish a starting point for comparison. This provides context for assessing changes over time.
- We will Identify key performance indicators such as capturing quantitative data and qualitative data that will help measure progress and impact.
- We will continuously collect data on the program goals and deliverables throughout the program's implementation.
- Determine whether the program is achieving its intended outcomes and to what extent.
- Based on the evaluation findings, we will make necessary adjustments to the program to enhance its effectiveness and address any identified issues.

We are mindful that evidence-based assessment and impact evaluation are ongoing processes. Regularly reviewing and adapting the program based on evidence ensures that our resources are used efficiently and that the program is making a meaningful difference in the lives of its young men and the community it serves.

Program Implementation 0-25 Points

7. Describe your program design and implementation. (Include frequency (how often) of and duration (amount of time) of group and one-on-one sessions. Also include longevity/length of the match)

The Wake Up & Dream program meets twice a week from 6:00 pm – 8:00 pm. The first day will consist of a group discussion on the topic of the week. The second day is designed for workshops and activities and/or Mentors to have their one-on-one sessions focused on the topic of the week. Mentors have been asked to commit to at least two one-on-one sessions (at least one hour per session) per meeting. Mentors will agree to a 8-month time for engagement. However, they are more than welcomed and encouraged to commit to longer durations.

During the summer the young men will participate in an 8-week Summer Camp which meets every day 8:00 am – 3:00 pm culminating in a black history tour.

8. Describe how you will identify and recruit mentors.

Mentors are identified as male business professionals in Alachua County. They range from teachers, law enforcement officers, bankers, lawyers, engineers, realtors, etc. We actively recruit new members as needed at the beginning of each program year. We focus on those individuals who are already actively pouring into our program through donations, being workshop leaders or discussions facilitators. We currently have 5 mentors and are in the process of engaging at least 5 more.

9. Describe the youth population(s) and age range you intend to serve, how many youth your program will serve, and how you will recruit youth. Describe how your organization intends to communicate with the youth’s parent or guardian.

Wake Up & Dream will serve African American males ages 13 – 18 years of age. We will serve 10 – 15 youth this program year. We recruit our youth through referrals from past participants. We have been doing this program for over 15 years and we have program alumni who know youth that need our attention. We also take referrals from law enforcement and schools.

We place a particular emphasis on young men from households with limited male influence and/or those who have been identified as potential candidates to become involved in criminal activity due to traumatic situations that have affected the home. By addressing these dynamics, we can provide vital support and guidance to help them navigate their circumstances and develop resilience.

We work very closely with the youth’s parents or guardians. Upon enrollment in our program, we meet with the parents and youth together to discuss the expectations in the program of not just the youth but the parents as well. We require reports from our mentors on their interaction with the youths and we share that feedback, good and bad, with the parents. Parents are also encouraged to attend events where the youth are doing the planning to encourage familial interaction in their youth’s creative development.

10. Describe how CTAC funds will be used to expand your current program or create a new program.

Wake Up & Dream was funded from January – July 2023 through private donations, in-kind donations and small grants. However, these were mainly used for a robust summer program to keep our youth active during times when crime has been known to occur. The funds received by CTAC will be used by Wake Up & Dream to not only continue, but also expand the program to a year-round program allowing more robust programming and additional staffing. We currently have 10 young men enrolled and we are looking to add 5 more. We are also seeking additional funding from other grant opportunities.

11. Describe your organization’s collaborative efforts and how those efforts positively impact your services and improve the lives of the children you serve.

Wake Up & Dream’s collaborative efforts have consisted among law enforcement, various community groups, neighborhoods, businesses, and individuals. These collaborations have been very successful in helping to further our mission financially, identifying potential program participants, and by adding new speakers and mentors. We are grateful for their support.

We are improving the lives of the young men we serve by heeding their activity in gun violence or any other criminal activity and preventing mental health episodes brought on by traumas they have encountered. Our collaborations make a difference and positively impact the families in our community for generations to come.

Agency Stability & Capability 0-20 Points

12. Describe your organization’s mission and services.

Wake Up & Dream Incorporated was founded to seek ways to uplift and encourage young black males. We seek to inspire and motivate them by making them understand their value, leading them in becoming positive impacts in their community. We do this by focusing on who they are historically and culturally versus how they are seen by society.

We have found that our focus on mental health awareness, anti-criminal activity (specifically gun violence) and the introduction of visual imagery and music has been successful. We provide this focus using the Arts as our vehicle by utilizing facilitator led group discussions, workshops and activities, and Mentoring.

13. Describe your organizational capacity to carry out the proposed project plan.

Wake Up & Dream has operated this program for over 15 years and possesses a strong and well-established foundation that positions our organization for success in executing the program. With a proven track record of delivering high-quality outcomes, we have honed our organizational capacity to effectively manage our program and achieve desired results. Wake Up & Dream’s strengths lie in our team, program staff and Mentors. They bring real life experiences and expertise which aid in the program's objectives. Our team members have a deep understanding of the mission and possess the necessary skills to provide a program that offers a solid framework.

Wake Up & Dream’s network of partnerships and collaborations further amplifies our organizational capacity. Through these alliances, we have access to a wide range of resources, including specialized knowledge, funding opportunities, and exposure opportunities for our young men. Furthermore, our organization has demonstrated the ability to secure and manage program funds effectively. We have a track record of financial stability and transparent reporting, which instills confidence in our families, partners, and stakeholders regarding our ability to handle program funds responsibly and ethically.

We are committed to constant improvement by being responsive to evolving program needs. We seek feedback and incorporate lessons learned from past program years to enhance our future performance.

14. Describe how your organization will sustain your proposed program beyond the term of the contract.

Wake Up & Dream understands that sustaining a program beyond the term of a contract requires careful planning, resource management, and strategic considerations. We recognize our need for other funding sources. Therefore, we will seek to identify and obtain other sources to reduce dependence on a single contract or grant. This can include seeking additional grants, securing corporate sponsorships, engaging in fundraising activities, or establishing partnerships with other organizations.

Wake Up & Dream will use our reporting and evaluation findings to update the program by making adjustments that enhance evolving program needs. We will regularly communicate the successes, milestones, and outcomes achieved through the program to donors, partners, and the broader community. By implementing these strategies and consistently monitoring and adapting to changes, Wake Up & Dream can increase the likelihood of sustaining the program beyond the initial contract term.

Budget 0-25 points

15. Detail the financial support (from whom and amount) you receive for your proposed program. Including in-kind services your organization leverages. (Detail Tab 2 of the budget)

Wake Up & Dream receives the following sources of funding for its mentoring program:

- In-kind donation for space
- MBM Properties - $19,500

Donation for program materials (educational materials, snacks, etc.)

- Private/Individual Donors - $6,500

Donation for T-shirts

- Impact Consulting Services - $200

Total: $26,200

16. Describe your organization's fundraising activities.

Wake Up & Dream's primary fundraising activities have consisted of in-kind donations, private donors and grant making. We will continue these fundraising activities moving forward. We find that it is more beneficial for our youth to focus away from the need for money towards being productive citizens of our communities. Our donors seem to agree and have given generously over the years.

Other

17. Endemic interruption plans: What plan does your organization have in place for any endemic related interruptions to your programming, such as flu?

Wake Up & Dream will disseminate education materials on guidelines for infection prevention to all program participants and their families; promote proper hand hygiene, and environmental cleaning practices; and encourage sick individuals to stay home from school or work to prevent the spread of the endemic.

Organizational Narrative

1. Describe your organization's ability to hire and train additional qualified staff and comply with background screening requirement (DCF Clearinghouse).

The Willie Mae Stokes Community Center’s recruitment of staff, contractors, and volunteers reflects the demographics of our program participants and has never been problematic; most are neighbors, which provides a natural and consistent flow of dedicated talent from the community. The community center will hire a qualified Program Supervisor capable of effectively carrying out the mentoring program.

All hires and mentors working with youth will undergo a level 2 background check and fingerprinting conducted by DCF. Disqualified candidates’ screenings will be examined on a case-by-case basis and an exemption may be requested if applicable. Candidates will also be checked against the Dru Sjodin National Sex Offender Public Website thirty calendar days prior to employment and all background screenings and other information will be documented in his/her personnel file.

We are committed to sustaining an organizational culture with a deep-rooted respect for diversity. The center also provides ongoing drills and trainings to ensure safety, cultural sensitivity, and competence of all employees, contracted staff, and volunteers and provides opportunities for professional development.

Program Description 0-30 Points

2. Describe an overview of your mentoring program focus and priority areas.

The Willie Mae Stokes Community Center has been offering a youth mentoring program for the past two years. We currently serve 15 middle school youth, primarily through group mentoring sessions. We would like to use CTAC funds to enhance our current program by increasing the number of youth served, adding one on one mentoring and outings for youth, and offering dinner during mentoring sessions.

The focus of our mentoring program is to strengthen our community by providing an opportunity for local youth and adults to develop supportive, long term mentoring relationships. Our program’s priorities reflect pressing needs in our community. These include: 1) improving youth’s academic achievement, and 2) helping youth develop social emotional skills, including those related to conflict resolution, bullying and victimization reduction, and building self-esteem.

3. Describe the character-building curriculum and/or training that you intend to use. Also describe how program supervisors will provide on-going support to recruited mentors.

We plan to use an empirically based mentoring curriculum published by the Office of Juvenile Justice and Delinquency Prevention, designed specifically for middle school students. The curriculum, T.E.A.M., Teach, Empower, Affirm, Mentor, A Risk Reduction Mentoring Curriculum, targets factors found to put middle schoolers at most risk for delinquent behaviors, including truancy, lack of school engagement, association with deviant peers, and victimization (Sar, Sterrett, & Taylor, 2014). The curriculum focuses on mentee strengths and teaches skills and strategies to combat each risk factor, while building social emotional skills. For each session, the curriculum manual provides an overview of content, goals, materials needed, and instructions for each activity. We plan to use curriculum activities in both one on one and group mentoring sessions.

We plan to provide pre-match training to mentors over two interactive, in person evening meetings. We will then provide ongoing training to mentors through monthly sessions. For all training, we will utilize the U.S. Department of Education Mentoring Resource Center’s (2006) research based curriculum, Ongoing Training for Mentors, which details twelve interactive training sessions. Session topics include: goal setting, working with the mentee’s family, relationship building and setting boundaries, supporting the mentee when he/she is facing a bully, and DCF mandated reporting.

- 4. Describe your program policies and procedures that address youth and mentor incidents and other unexpected circumstances during mentoring program hours.

At the start of the program, youth and mentors are provided with the cell phone number of the Program Supervisor, and told to reach out to him in any instance that requires immediate help. The Program Supervisor will then connect the mentor/mentee with any needed resources and reach out to the Program Director to plan next steps.

Additionally, early in the program, mentors will receive a two hour training titled, “What Do I Do Now?” What to do when your mentee experiences a crisis (Mentoring Research Center, 2006). After the training, mentors will understand mandated reporting policies, how to assess a crisis and take action, know about community resources and referrals, and know how to talk with mentee about staying safe.

- 5. Describe how your program aligns with CTAC Goal 3: All children and youth live in a safe community.

One of the primary goals of the Willie Mae Stokes Community Center is to build a strong community in our rural area where youth and families know, understand, and support one another. We believe that much of the violence, especially gun violence, in our community can be attributed in part to a loss of community and an “every man for himself” mentality. We believe that if our youth can be successful in school, build their confidence, and develop skills in conflict resolution, they are less likely to “fall between the cracks” and potentially engage in behaviors that are violent and/or destructive to themselves and our community. Building mentoring relationships is one step in moving toward a more unified community where our neighbors care for each other, support one another, and together build a safer community.

6. Describe how your program establishes and utilizes evidence to assess effectiveness and impact. Please mark the boxes below to indicate infrastructure your program currently has in place. Note: The Trust has the authority to require specific evaluation tools for funded programs.

Attached is a logic model outlining our inputs, outputs, and outcomes. We plan to utilize enrollment forms to collect demographic data, and collect caregiver consent forms.

Service provision/participation:
How Much?/How Well?

We anticipate that group sessions (mentor trainings, family engagement sessions, and group mentoring) will take place on site (at our community center and/or the Micanopy City Hall building), so we will have participants sign in on an attendance sheet in order to assess who is in attendance.

We also plan to have one on one mentoring sessions on site (at our community center/ Micanopy City Hall) so we will use an attendance sheet to collect data on who is at the meetings and how often. If mentors/mentees meet off site, our Program Supervisor will collect that information during monthly training sessions with mentors and add it (with the date) to the attendance sheets.

Better Off?

The Program Supervisor will administer surveys to mentors, mentees, and families to collect data on relational satisfaction, social emotional skill development, department of juvenile justice involvement, and academic performance.

Program Implementation 0-25 Points

7. Describe your program design and implementation. (Include frequency (how often) of and duration (amount of time) of group and one-on-one sessions. Also include longevity/length of the match)

We currently partner with Micanopy city leaders who allow us to use space on the second floor of the Micanopy for our programming.

We plan to host "Mentoring Mondays" every other Monday for 12 months in the city hall space from 4:00-6:30PM, for a total of 26 Mondays. We plan to serve 20 youth and 10 mentors; each mentor will match with two youth. From 4:00-6:00PM mentors will meet one on one with mentees (1 hour for mentors to meet with each mentee), and then we will have a group mentoring session from 6:00-6:30, where youth and mentors will split into small groups (maintaining a ratio of at least 10 youth to 3 mentors). We plan to provide dinner during these sessions to allow for additional fellowship of mentors and mentees. Mentors and mentees may also meet outside of the Mentoring Monday timeframe if they wish.

Additionally, we plan to take mentors and mentees on various outings during the mentoring time, including to the Cotton Club, other museums, college campuses, and locations that are of interest to program participants.

Session attendance and times will be recorded by the Program Supervisor.

8. Describe how you will identify and recruit mentors.

We already have mentors working with our current group of mentees. We plan to recruit more mentors through our local churches and community leaders. Bishop Stokes has relationships with many community members/potential mentors, especially those who are retired and have expressed interest in sharing their knowledge and experience in various career fields.

All current and future mentors have/will be required to pass a DCF level 2 background check and fingerprinting.

9. Describe the youth population(s) and age range you intend to serve, how many youth your program will serve, and how you will recruit youth. Describe how your organization intends to communicate with the youth's parent or guardian.

We plan to serve 20 middle school youth living in Alachua County; most participating youth will likely reside in Micanopy and the surrounding rural community.

The youth currently in our mentoring program are participants in our after school program, and we plan to continue to recruit primarily from this program. We have also developed a partnership with the Micanopy Academy, a local school for youth in grades 6-12. We plan to recruit youth from Micanopy Academy through flyer distribution, word of mouth, and a parent information session at the school.

We plan to hold an initial pre-match orientation for families so they can learn about the goals of the program and what to expect. After the program begins, our Program Supervisor will check in with families every other month, either on the phone or in person. During the check-ins the Program Supervisor can collect feedback, answer questions, and share information on the mentoring activities. He can also provide information on community resources, including job training programs, mental health services, or other wraparound services. Additionally, every other month we will host a family engagement event at the community center for mentees, their families, and mentors. These events will provide an opportunity for fellowship, education, and community building. We plan to provide dinner to families at these events.

10. Describe how CTAC funds will be used to expand your current program or create a new program.

We would like to use CTAC funds to expand our current mentoring program in the following ways:

- Increase number of youth served from 15 to 20; create flyers to advertise program at Micanopy Academy
- Provide transportation to mentees to and from the program (via WMSCC bus)
- Increase number of mentors, and provide a gas stipend to each mentor
- Provide dinner to mentors and mentees during bi-weekly mentoring sessions
- Take mentors and mentees on outings, including to the cotton club museum, college campuses, and other destinations of interest to participants
- Hire a paid Program Supervisor to oversee program implementation, including recruitment, screening of participants, training, and family engagement
- Host family engagement events for mentee families which include meaningful, relevant programming, community building, and dinner

11. Describe your organization's collaborative efforts and how those efforts positively impact your services and improve the lives of the children you serve.

Our collaboration with Micanopy city leaders has allowed us to use the space in city hall for our mentoring program. We also collaborate with Micanopy Academy in order to recruit program participants. Additionally, we hope to collaborate with local restaurants through purchasing food for our mentoring and family sessions in order to further support our local rural community.

Our collaborations enable us to have more reach in our community in terms of local leaders, business owners, and schools knowing about our programs and how we serve families. Ultimately, in part through collaboration, we can continue to bring our community closer together and work together to address the challenges we face, thus improving the lives of the youth and families we serve.

Agency Stability & Capability 0-20 Points

12. Describe your organization’s mission and services.

Our mission is to educate youth and strengthen our communities. The community center offers comprehensive year-round out of school time programs to youth ages 5-17 and provides wraparound services to more than 500 adults per week. Programs include an afterschool program, mentoring program, youth summer program, job placement services, a food pantry, mobile health and dental services, and notary services.

13. Describe your organizational capacity to carry out the proposed project plan.

The Willie Mae Stokes Community Center has successfully served Alachua County youth and families since 2018, and our leadership has more than 30 years of collective experience serving our community.

We have regularly witnessed positive outcomes in schools and life experienced by the children we serve. We are licensed by the Florida Department of Children and Families and we are in the process of becoming APPLE accredited. The community center was recognized by central Florida Community Action Agency and the Community Foundation of North Central Florida in 2022 for service to the community. Our afterschool and summer program include several evidence based academic and enrichment activities designed to make learning fun. Our mentoring program provides an opportunity for long term, meaningful relationship building. We listen to the concerns the parents and youth we serve and focus on providing the services that enhance their opportunities for success. We have maintained fiscal soundness with limited resources since inception, reflected in the demand for services. Our history and efforts speak for themselves, and are a clear example of our expected future performance and ability to carry out the proposed project plan.

14. Describe how your organization will sustain your proposed program beyond the term of the contract.

The Willie Mae Stokes Community Center will continue to seek new, and build on established partnerships with schools, community and faith-based organizations, local businesses, and other stakeholders who share our vision and mission and can provide resources, support, and referrals. We will develop additional funding strategies and budgeting plans that identify potential sources of revenue, such as grants, donations, fees, sponsorships, etc. and outline how to allocate them efficiently and effectively.

We will continue to engage families in our programs by communicating regularly, encouraging their feedback, and offering opportunities for continued involvement and support. As an organization, we will continue to implement, monitor, and ensure quality improvement systems are in place that measure the impact of our program, and use data to inform program design and delivery, increasing our ability to secure ongoing funding beyond the term of the contract.

Budget 0-25 points

15. Detail the financial support (from whom and amount) you receive for your proposed program. Including in-kind services your organization leverages. (Detail Tab 2 of the budget)

 Donations: $5,000
 Volunteers

16. Describe your organization’s fundraising activities.

The community center organizes and participates in fundraisers throughout the year, including an annual community day and golf tournament, the Amazing Give, and Giving Tuesday. We have experience utilizing many different fundraising strategies that will help us acquire funding for the mentoring program.

We also have extraordinary in-kind support from volunteers. We currently have a PhD level licensed clinical social worker with supervisor certification as part of our leadership, and bachelor level tutors and coaches, in addition to many other volunteers. As a member of the USDA food program, we are able to supply a nutritious breakfast, lunch, and snack during our summer program. The University of Florida provides us with 2 year-round volunteers, a value of $30,000. These in kind services help leverage resources to ensure the program is as efficient and effective as possible.

17. Endemic interruption plans: What plan does your organization have in place for any endemic related interruptions to your programming, such as flu?

We have procedures in place to handle endemic interruptions which may affect our operations and become persistent but manageable, such as the flu or COVID 19. Components of our endemic plan include, but are not limited to:

- Adherence: adhering to instructions from federal, state, and local health officials
- Prevention: promoting vaccination, testing, masking, hygiene, and other measures to reduce the risk of infection and transmission
- Detection: establishing a surveillance system to monitor disease trends, identify outbreaks and variants, and alert the authorities and the public
- Response: mobilizing resources and personnel to contain and mitigate outbreaks, provide medical care, and support affected populations
- Recovery: restoring normal operations and activities, evaluating effectiveness and impact of the plan, and identifying lessons learned and areas for improvement.
