	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>▪ Holly followed up that another gauge of success would be the level of engagement of harm reduction to prevent overdose deaths. So, not only looking at people who are in treatment but those who we are engaging with in the hopes they'll enter services, and being available 24/7 so that people can come in when they're in crises and not wait for the hours of 8-5 to get help.</li> </ul> Comment: Michael Schultz spoke stated that we've been waiting for this for a while and not that the funding is here, things are moving quickly. The Sherrif's office asked their vendor to look into Medicated Assisted Treatment (MAT). He's hopeful that in about 3 months they'll have the supports in place to help those who want to make a change. They are worried about hiring though as they will need nurses and counselors which are difficult to hire currently. Overall, feeling very hopeful and excited to see some positive changes in the near future. <ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>▪ Dori was at an event in celebration of National Recovery Month and she already sees things moving along, which is very positive, as no other parent should lose a child to addiction.</li> </ul> Q: Is this a new organization? A: Yes, this new organization was formed after Measure 110 was passed, though all members are based out of Oregon and have been involved in recovery advocacy for quite a while expanding resources housing, reducing stigma and discrimination and increasing access to resources, including access to employment opportunities. Q: Measure 110 is a political hot issue. Is there a plan to report to the public on how things are going before we get too close to election? <ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>• A: Oversight Council did discuss working with the OHA and their media team to communicate goals and objectives of Measure 110 to the public. Katu2 News posted a poll of Oregonians, which stated 60 percent want it in place. 	would like to send out the survey to this group for us to send to everyone, but particular those in vulnerable groups. Q: When we talk about provider engagement panel, does the acute care council influence that group? A: Unsure that there is a formal connection between the two, but because central Oregon does a good job of not operating in silos in BH work, there is a connection that happens organically. During 2020-2021, the Provider Engagement Panel was mostly primary care centered. Carmen stated that they are recruiting for this panel and seeking some more specialty providers since there is no limit to the number of seats on the panel. Of the providers currently on the panel, quite a few are aware of the Acute Care Council work. Roger and Christina will be in touch with Carmen about ways BHAB can be more involved. Q: Aside from helping get the word out about Advisory groups, how can this board be helpful to Central Oregon Health Council? A: Getting the regional health assessment survey out. Stay tuned as her team gets together to plan some other things for the community. She will reach out with asks as they come along.
