TOWN OF EATONVILLE PLANNING AND ZONING BOARD

Review and Workshop of zoning district uses

DATE: March 28, 2024
TO: Planning and Zoning Board
FROM: Tara Salmieri, AICP (Town Planner Consultant)

SUBJECT: Review of Zoning District Uses

BACKGROUND:

The planning department has been reviewing the Land Development Code and has determined that there is a need to review the overall uses, by zoning district, to ensure that the most current uses afford the town a wide range of economic development opportunities for new business and development to come to the Town.

ISSUE:

Currently the uses, by zoning district are vague and do not provide a definition for that use, so it can be hard to determine appropriate uses.

ANALYSIS:

The planning consultant has drafted a consolidated use table (Attached Page 1-9) that provides the board a summary of each zoning districts permitted, and special exception uses. For ease of review, the highlighted yellow box, by zoning district, provide the board with the use(s) as regulated to date. In addition, the consolidated use table adds a wide range of uses, for consideration, to be evaluated and potentially added to zoning districts. The attachment also defines major use classifications and categories to further define the uses that are provided in the consolidated table (Attached page 10-14).

NEXT STEPS:

Upon direction of the planning board, the town planner will move forward with development of a more comprehensive list of uses, per zoning district that will be brought back to the board for review, comment, and recommendation. Once the planning board has provided their recommendation, the consolidated use table will move forward for council hearing to amend the land development code.

Overview of Uses

Structure of the Principal Use Table.

- (1) Organization and Classification of Principal Uses organizes allowable principal uses within the following three-tier classification hierarchy,
 - (A) Use Classifications. The top-level use classifications are very broad and general (Residential Uses; Public, Civic, and Institutional Uses; Commercial Uses; and Light Industrial, Research and Development, and Warehousing Uses).
 - (B) Use Categories. Use categories represent major subgroups of the use classifications that have common functional, product, or physical characteristics, such as the type and amount of activity, type of occupants or users/customers, or operational characteristics. For example, the Commercial Use Classification is divided into multiple use categories, including Eating, Drinking, and Entertainment and Recreation and Tourism uses.

Classification of Principal Uses.

(a) Residential Uses Classification.

- (1) Household Living Uses. The Household Living Uses category includes use types providing for the residential occupancy of a dwelling unit by a single family. Tenancy is generally arranged on a month-to-month or longer basis. Use types include: live-work dwellings, multifamily dwellings, single-family attached (townhome) dwellings, single-family detached dwellings, two-family (duplex) dwellings, and dwelling units within a professional office building for owner or custodian. This use category does not include residential use types that generally involve some level of managed personal care for a larger number of residents (e.g., continuing care communities or large group homes), which are categorized in the Group Living Uses category. Accessory uses common to Household Living Uses include cottage residences, home-based businesses, and swimming pools.
- (2) Group Living Uses. The Group Living Uses category includes use types providing for the residential occupancy of a group of living units by persons who may or may not constitute a single family and may receive some level of personal care. Individual living units often consist of a single room or group of rooms without cooking and eating facilities (though some do have such facilities), but unlike a hotel/motel, are generally occupied on a monthly or longer basis. Use types include assisted care community, extended care facility, foster home, group dwelling or lodging home, group home, and similar uses. This use category does not include use types where persons generally occupy living units for periods of less than thirty (30) days (e.g., hotel/motels), which are categorized in the Visitor Accommodation Uses category. It also does not include use types where residents or inpatients are routinely provided more than modest health care services (e.g., nursing homes), which are categorized in the Health Care Uses category. Accessory uses common to group living uses include recreational facilities, administrative offices, and food preparation and dining facilities.

(b) Public, Civic, and Institutional Uses Classification.

- (1) Community Service Uses. The Community Service Uses category includes use types of a public, nonprofit, or charitable nature providing a local service (e.g., child care facility, cultural, recreational, counseling, funeral services, training, religious) directly to people of the community. Generally, such uses provide ongoing continued service on-site or have employees at the site on a regular basis. The category does not include uses with a residential component. Use types include adult day care; banquet facility; child care center; civic building; community center/civic club; community service facility; cultural facility; government building post office; religious institution; and similar uses. This use category does not include private or commercial health clubs or recreational facilities (categorized in the Recreation/Entertainment Uses category), or counseling in an office setting (categorized in the Office Use category), or passenger terminals for public transportation services (categorized in the Transportation Use category). Accessory uses may include offices, meeting areas, food preparation and dining areas, health and therapy areas, and indoor and outdoor recreational facilities.

- (2) Education Uses. The Educational Uses category includes use types such as public schools and private schools (including charter schools) at the elementary, middle, or high school level that provide State-mandated basic education or a comparable equivalent. This use category also includes colleges, universities, and other institutions of higher learning such as vocational or trade schools that offer courses of general or specialized study leading to a degree or certification. Accessory uses at all education uses may include offices, play areas, recreational and sport facilities, cafeterias, theaters, auditoriums, and before- or after-school day care. Accessory uses at colleges or universities may additionally include dormitories, food service, laboratories, health care facilities, meeting areas, athletic facilities and fields, maintenance facilities, and supporting uses (e.g., eating establishments, bookstores).
- (3) Health Care Uses. The Health Care Uses category includes use types providing a variety of health care services, including surgical or other intensive care and treatment, various types of medical treatment, nursing care, preventative care, diagnostic and laboratory services, and physical therapy. Care may be provided on an inpatient, overnight, or outpatient basis. Use types include clinic and laboratory; hospital; nursing home; outpatient care facility; pain management clinic; and similar uses. This use category does not include assisted living facilities or similar facilities which focus on providing personal care rather than medical care to residents and are categorized in the Group Living Uses category. Accessory uses may include food preparation and dining facilities, recreation areas, offices, meeting rooms, teaching facilities, hospices, maintenance facilities, staff residences, and limited accommodations for members of patients' families.
- (4) Parks and Open Space Uses. The Parks and Open Space Uses category includes use types focusing on open space areas largely devoted to natural landscaping and outdoor recreation, and tending to have few structures. Use types include: arboretum or botanical garden; aviary and bird sanctuary; neighborhood park; community park; and similar uses. This use category does not include golf courses, golf driving ranges, or other primarily outdoor recreational uses (categorized in the Recreation and Lodging Uses category). Accessory uses may include caretaker's quarters, clubhouses, statuary, fountains, maintenance facilities, concessions, and parking.
- (5) Utility, Transportation, and Communication Uses. The Utility Uses category includes both major utilities, which are infrastructure services that provide regional or City-wide service, and minor utilities, which are infrastructure services that need to be placed in or near where the service is provided. Large-scale solar energy collection systems that constitute a principal use of a lot are included as a special type of major utility use. Services may be publicly or privately provided and may include on-site personnel. Accessory uses may include offices, monitoring, or storage areas.

The Transportation Uses category includes use types providing for passenger terminals for surface or water-based transportation. Accessory uses may include freight handling areas, concessions, offices, maintenance, limited storage, and fueling facilities. Use types include passenger stations/terminals for ground transportation services (e.g., buses); park and ride facilities; and parking facilities (as a principal use). This use category does not include transit-related infrastructure such as bus stops and bus shelters (deemed minor utilities under the Utility Uses category).

The Communication Uses category includes use types that accommodate communication-related uses. Use types include television and radio stations; wireless communication facilities; and related uses.
