Parade Risk Management Guidelines

- The first step is to determine what role your entity will play in the sponsorship and organization of the event. Typically there are two types of parades: those sponsored by the municipality, and parades sponsored by another entity (not part of the municipality).
- Insurance Recommendations:
 - The municipality should acquire proof of insurance for all vehicles in the parade. The parade coordinator should ensure that all drivers/operators participating in the parade have adequate experience and qualifications to be in the parade.
 - All clubs participating in the parade should provide a certificate of insurance with the sponsoring municipality listed as an additional insured.
 - If there are vendors, they should be required to provide certificates of liability insurance naming the municipality as an additional insured.
 - If possible, it is a good idea to have all participants or their parent/guardian sign waivers.
- One town employee or volunteer should be responsible for all parade coordination. This person should have overall responsibility for the event and will implement administrative controls, site evaluation, security and emergency services, traffic and parking controls, and crowd management. This person may have checklists for all participating individuals and clubs. Volunteer supervision and training is recommended.
- The parade route should be carefully planned. The route should avoid overpasses, excavation or construction work, routes too narrow, routes that have extreme upgrades or downgrades, and odd turns. The route plan should be distributed to municipal officials, emergency services providers, and parade participants prior to the event. A plan should be in place for problems, breakdowns and emergencies. There needs to be adequate room for spectators. Rules and policies should also be communicated to appropriate departments, organizations, businesses, and/or individuals who might be affected.
- Establish secure locations for first aid stations, grandstands, staging areas, judging platforms, and emergency vehicles. Divert traffic from areas where large crowds will gather to watch.
- The parade coordinator should ensure the road crew walks the parade route prior to parade day. This is an opportunity to notice any potentially dangerous open potholes, uneven surfaces, cracks, manhole covers, obstacles, etc that could pose a threat for walkers, cyclists, and motorcyclists participating in the parade. Such road and sidewalks issues should either be repaired, or cordoned off, or marked with in an obvious way. The municipality should document the corrective action taken. The parade coordinator should also look for other hazards such as scaffolding or other objects along the route that spectators might climb. These hazards should also be avoided, marked or cordoned off.
- The parade coordinator should ensure that there is adequate supervision by a responsible adult for large groups of children. Children must have adult supervision before, during, and at the end of the parade.
- We recommend that your entity adopt a “No Throw” policy. If small prizes and candy are to be distributed, have walkers hand them out to children instead of throwing them.
- Any large animals, such as oxen and horses, should be placed in parade order, far from fire sirens ,air horns, and other loud noises to thwart stampeding or rearing. Also, small children should not be lined up next to animals.
- Please contact VLCT PACIF if the event will include any pyrotechnics displays, fireworks, mechanical rides, hot air balloons, bungee jumps, alcohol, or anything else unusual or hazardous.
- Document any and all steps your entity takes to address safety concerns.
