2. Artists in Residence Follow-Up

The Commission reviewed and discussed the Artist's Feedback. Some of the discussion about the Artists in Residence that the Commission brought up were being open on weekends, security issues, the timeframe of the artists residency and the need for something for them to transition to after their residency. There will be new artists moving in this week.

The discussion continued as to the rental prices and possibly subsidizing a space for the artists in the building. City Administrator Tom Pagel said that to fix all of the concerns of the building would be approximately 7.8 million. He also said that he would listen to and entertain ideas for uses for Central School, but would have to look at the City's Downtown Comprehensive Plan.

3. NE Neighborhood Art Project

Discussion on the worksession with the artist Greg Mueller. MacRostie Program Manager Emily Carlson suggested that the worksession be rescheduled to August 6th, with a rain date of August 7th at the NE Neighborhood site. She asked the Commission to check their schedules and she'll check with the artist, and if he can't do August, we'll try for September.

4. Riverfest 2024

Commissioner Squadroni showed the ideas he gathered for art at Riverfest that he brought to the last Commission meeting. The Commission also pondered incorporating the photos of the Blandin Art with the goal in mind that this is for people at the festival to make art. Commissioners Squadroni and Fox will work on printing.

UPDATES:

5. Strategic Plan/New Commissioner Training Subcommittee

This item was tabled until October.

6. True North Salone-Central School Sculpture - Ashley

Ashley of the True North Salon back in April had an idea for the Central School grounds. Commissioner Zabinski has been in contact with her and she is wondering to what extent the City or the Arts & Culture are willing to assist with funding. It was discussed as to what the next step would be, possibly be folding it into the full renovation of Central School.

7. Blandin Mural

Commissioner Squadroni let the Commission know that the photos have been taken of the Blandin Mural, are being photoshopped and put onto printable files. The images are good enough to now be used at a new location. Commissioners Squadroni and Fox will be doing test printing and get estimates from local sign professionals. They will provide an update next month.

8. Pokegama Band Map - Karen Noyce

Commissioner Zabinski stated that Karen Noyce is out of state at this time. She would like to give an update regarding the Pokegama Band Map Project that she has been working on. Possibly put her on the Agenda for September or maybe October.

3. NE Neighborhood Art Project - Meet with Artist Greg Mueller

The Arts & Culture Commission met with the NE Neighborhood Art Project Artist Greg Mueller at the project's site. They looked at the physical site for the art and discussed the timeline for the project being winter construction with a spring site prep and a tentative mid June installation.

There was also discussion of the height of the art and it's finish, the size required for the art's pad and the possibility to light it by tapping into the existing street light. The Commission would like to put a sign/plaque for the art that would read something like "art inspired by history" for the lake's historical usage.

City Administrator Tom Pagel will work on an Agreement and send it to the City Council for approval for the second August City Council Meeting or the first September City Council Meeting.

4. Riverfest 2024

This item to be discussed at the October Meeting.
