STAFF & COUNCIL REPORT/COMMITTEE REPORTS

A. Library Director Report dated February 28, 2022

i. 2021 & 2022 Statistical Reports

ii. Homer Public Library: Circulation by Month 2012-2022

Library Director Berry spoke to his written report, highlighting recent and upcoming library events, changes to the library layout, and his report from the Friends of the Homer Library meeting. He explained the “Circulation by Month” graph provided, which showed the significant drop that occurred in 2020 due to the pandemic.
Mr. Berry responded to questions from the board, sharing his experience with conducting mock job interviews with local 8th graders, and explained the reasons why the staff report is written on a monthly basis versus mid-month to mid-month.

B. Legislative Update

C. Fundraising Update

Vice Chair Kuszmaul spoke to the Planned Giving materials she provided, what their purposes are, and requested feedback from the board to see if the list of potential donors can assist boardmembers with their efforts. Boardmember Dolma and Library Director Berry voiced their support of the list and commended Vice Chair Kuszmaul for her work.

In response to Vice Chair Kuszmaul’s request, the boardmembers and Mr. Berry shared potential “Frequently Asked Questions” regarding planned giving and the endowment fund that she can draft up and bring back for review.

PUBLIC HEARING

PENDING BUSINESS

NEW BUSINESS

A. Review of Library Fees
   i. Current Library Fee Schedule Excerpt

Vice Chair Kuszmaul introduced the agenda item by reading the title and deferred to Library Director Berry. Mr. Berry explained the history of the printing and photocopying fees and his request that the board discuss possibly increasing them. He would like to find a balance between remaining affordable for low-income users and covering the bulk of the library’s printing expenses.

There was discussion on the board’s overall agreement with increasing the rates and what the fees should be. Mr. Berry responded to questions on current printing costs and what would allow the library to “break even”.

In response to Boardmember Fair’s suggested motion, discussion ensued on how to phrase the motion to include an increase to all the photo copy fees but exclude 11” x 17” color copies; those copies are not made often and the board would prefer to keep that fee at an even $2.00 amount.

FAIR/DOLMA MOVE TO REVISE THE FEES FOR PRINTING AND PHOTOCOPYING IN THE LIBRARY AS FOLLOWS:

- CHARGES FOR BLACK AND WHITE LETTER SIZE AND LEGAL SIZE INCREASE FROM $0.15 TO $0.25
- CHARGES FOR COLOR LETTER SIZE AND LEGAL SIZE INCREASE FROM $0.50 TO $0.60
- CHARGES FOR BLACK AND WHITE 11” X 17” PER SIDE INCREASE FROM $0.25 TO $0.35

Boardmember Dolma inquired if these increases will help with covering costs. Mr. Berry agreed that they would. There was brief discussion on if any other fees needed to be amended. It was determined there were none.

VOTE: NON-OBJECTION: UNANIMOUS CONSENT.
Motion carried.

B. Review of Library Facility Use Policy
   i. Revised Library Facility Use Policy
   ii. Thoughts on Friends of the Homer Library Programming

Vice Chair Kuszmaul introduced the agenda item by reading the title and deferred to Library Director Berry. Mr. Berry provided an overview on how the library handles building rentals, event requests, and inquiries from outside groups or individuals that would like to use the library space that are not part of the Friends of the Homer Library (FHL). He explained how the current policy places limits on what types of events are acceptable, but it provides no guidance on the criteria for co-hosting or the process for requesting such assistance. He spoke to his proposed amendments that clarify when and how events may be co-hosted.

Mr. Berry facilitated discussion on his proposed amendments. Boardmembers provided feedback on what aspects they like and made other recommended changes they would like to see in the facility use policy. At the board’s request, Deputy City Clerk Tussey noted that all approved policies would then go to City Council for final adoption.

The board agreed that Mr. Berry would compile the board’s and FHL’s recommended changes and bring back a revised draft to the April LAB meeting.

INFORMATIONAL MATERIALS

A. Library Book Bench in Ukraine, Image Provided by Chair Finn
B. LAB 2022 Calendar

Vice Chair Kuszmaul spoke to the annual topics coming up in April. Deputy City Clerk Tussey reminded the board that there is a 4:30 p.m. worksession scheduled before the next regular meeting in April for board training put on by the Clerk’s Office.

Boardmember McKinney volunteered to give the LAB report at City Council’s March 29th meeting.

COMMENTS OF THE AUDIENCE

COMMENTS OF THE CITY STAFF

Deputy City Clerk Tussey reported that term expiration notices and reappointment applications were sent out to Boardmembers Kuszmaul and Finn, which are currently with the Mayor for reappointment consideration. She gave a brief update on filling the seat vacancy and that advertising continues.

Library Director Berry reported on circulation stats in response to a question from the last meeting asking if going “fine free” had any impact on loss rates for materials. While library staff was able to pull the data, it is hard to determine anything due to the pandemic’s effect on circulation numbers.

COMMENTS OF THE BOARD

Boardmember Fair commented that he will not be present for the May LAB meeting.

Vice Chair Kuszmaul commented on how horrible the past couple of weeks it has been and hopes that everything gets resolved soon.
Boardmembers Springer, McKinney, Dolma, and Student Representative Johnson had no comments.

ADJOURN

There being no further business to come before the Board, the meeting adjourned at 6:50 p.m. The next regular meeting is Tuesday, April 19, 2022 at 5:30 p.m. and a Worksession at 4:30 p.m. All meetings are scheduled to be held in the City Hall Cowles Council Chambers located at 491 E. Pioneer Avenue, Homer, Alaska and via Zoom Webinar.

General Notes

Storytime has resumed! Spanish-language Storytime began on March 14 and regular Storytime on March 18.

On March 16-17, the City Manager and department heads met with Council for a two-day retreat to discuss the future of Homer and set priorities for the City government. Among other things, the CM proposed reorganizing the administrative structure, creating two new departments and merging a third into the Dept. of Administration. The revised structure would split the Library off from Administration and make it a standalone department with two divisions, Library and IT.

There will be lots of discussion throughout the month of April. It’s on the agendas for the FHL meeting April 6 and the LAB meeting April 19 and in front of Council towards the end of the month. The diagram below illustrates the proposed structure.
Staff Notes

As part of the administrative reorganization, both David Bernard and Kevin Co would see a shift in job responsibilities. The exact outlines of this shift are still being determined, but David would assume a supervisory role in the library under my continued direction. Kevin would continue working in the library and fulfilling his current duties, but would also take on larger IT tasks around the City. These revisions align the official duties more closely with the jobs they already do.

Facility

We’ve applied for an $8,000 grant from the Alaska State Library to replace the aging microform reader. Our current reader is running software from 2004 and no longer works well with modern printers. We’d like one that can export images in digital format, which allows features such as keyword searching and magnification.

Library Advisory Board (LAB)

A year ago the LAB discussed increasing charges for printing and photocopying. At that time we dropped the matter, since changing prices in the middle of the pandemic imposed extra hardship on households. This month the discussion came up again, and the LAB voted to change the prices as follows:

- Black and white letter/legal size: $0.25 per side
- Color letter/legal size: $0.60 per side
- Black and white 11” x 17”: $0.35 per side

The City council adopted the new rates on March 29.

The LAB also discussed revisions to the Facility Use Policy, which is currently a bit vague on the criteria for accepting unsolicited offers for library programs. The LAB offered comments on the proposed draft and then referred it to the Library Director for revisions and consultation with the Friends of the Library.

Friends of the Homer Library (FHL)

Book drives are underway at Homer High and West Homer schools. We debriefed on Annie Boochever’s visit and National Love Your Library Month, both of which went swimmingly. The Book and Plant Sale runs April 29-30. The Celebration of Lifelong Learning is coming up on April 8, and FHL chose its winners at the end of March:

- Youth Lifelong Learner: Neviyah Reed
- Adult Lifelong Learners: Don McNamara and Donna Rae Faulkner
- Library Spirit Award: Olivia Glasman

On March 20 the RTCA again visited Homer to further develop plans for the trail on the western lot. RTCA staff met with FHL and various interested community groups in the library for several hours of brainstorming and refining designs. We’re waiting for a detailed plan from the landscape architects before inviting comments from the general public.

Memorandum

TO: LIBRARY ADVISORY BOARD
FROM: DAVID BERRY, LIBRARY DIRECTOR
DATE: APRIL 14, 2022
SUBJECT: LIBRARY FACILITY USE POLICY

At the March LAB meeting we discussed revising the library’s Facility Use Policy to clarify the criteria for selecting events to be held inside the library. The revisions provide guidance to outside groups seeking to use library facilities.

A revised draft is included here, incorporating changes suggested by the LAB and the Friends of the Library.

RECOMMENDATION

Approve the amended Library Facility Use Policy and recommend to City Council for adoption.
HOMER PUBLIC LIBRARY

XII. FACILITY USE POLICY

The Homer Public Library welcomes the use of its space by community groups for informational, educational, cultural and civic activities, to the extent that such activities do not interfere with Library operations or use of the Library by other patrons.

GENERAL FACILITY USE GUIDELINES

- All events held within the Library during scheduled operating hours when the Library is open to the public must be of a non-commercial nature, and free of charge, and open to the public.

- Direct or indirect sale of any product or service is prohibited, except for sales sponsored by the Library or Friends of the Homer Public Library. Non-profit organizations may accept donations to cover the cost of program or workshop presentation.

- Permission to use Library facilities does not constitute endorsement of the beliefs or ideas expressed by organizations or individuals using the facility by the Library, staff, Friends of Homer Public Library, or City of Homer. Meetings will not be publicized in a manner that suggests Library sponsorship or affiliation.

- Smoking, drugs, and alcoholic beverages are not allowed in the Library.

- Library facility use is intended for specific events rather than for meetings that recur on a regular schedule. Scheduling of Library facility use will be limited when necessary to ensure equitable access to the facilities for the entire community.

- Users are responsible for complying with all Library rules, for clean-up, and for any damage to the facility, its grounds, or contents.

- Display of pornographic images in public view in the Library is prohibited and may result in loss of library privileges and possible civil or criminal penalties.

- The Library does not assume liability for damage to or loss of personal property, or for any personal injury, which occurs as a result of the actions of the sponsors or participants in meetings scheduled at the Library.
• Homer Public Library facilities and grounds may not be used for activities deemed inappropriate by the Library Director. Large special events must comply with Homer City Code 19.02.

• Homer Public Library, or the Friends of Homer Library, may occasionally co-host events in partnership with outside groups. All such events require authorization from the Library Director.

• Co-hosted events must meet the following minimum requirements:

  o Must be compatible with the Library’s mission
  o Must be free and open to all o Must not promote a political candidate or cause, or imply library support for any candidate or cause. A public debate or other forum that presents contrasting views is acceptable.
  o Must not place undue burdens on staff or volunteers
  o The Library Director has the discretion to consider other factors as appropriate

• Exceptions to the guidelines of this policy may be granted by special permission of the Library Director.

• Users may appeal the Library Director’s decision to the City Manager, whose decision shall be final.

GROUP STUDY ROOM GUIDELINES

• Group study rooms are available for use only when the Library is open to the general public. Rooms are kept locked when not in use. Rules for use of the rooms must be followed. Rules are posted in each room. Capacity of the rooms is 6 individuals, with up to 8 individuals allowed on a case-by-case basis with permission from Library staff.

• Rooms are available on a first-come, first-served basis except when scheduled by Library staff for governmental meetings, one-time educational uses such as proctoring tests, or to accommodate unexpected conflicts in conference room use. Use is limited to a two-hour period. Additional time may be granted if no other groups or individuals wish to use the room.

Use of Group Study Rooms by Individuals
• Group study rooms are intended primarily for the use of small groups. Individuals wishing a quiet study area should use the individual study nooks. If the study nooks do not meet the needs of the individual, a group study room may be used with the understanding that the individual may be asked to vacate the room to accommodate a group.

• Individuals taking proctored examinations may use the group study rooms by appointment. The Library’s designated proctor will book rooms for this purpose.

Identification:

• One member of a group must agree to be responsible for the use of the room, and must check in at the front desk. Staff will hold the responsible person’s photo ID (or library card if the individual does not have a driver’s license or state ID card) while the group is using the room, and will inspect the room for damage and make sure it is locked before returning the ID or library card.

• Patrons taking proctored exams are not required to leave ID at the front desk.

The person signing for a group study room is responsible for seeing that it is used in accordance with the following rules and for any damage that might be done to the room or its furnishings.

• Capacity is not to exceed 6 persons without staff permission.
• No food is allowed. Bottled water Beverages in covered containers only.
• Room is to remain unlocked while in use.
• Lights must be on.
• Furniture is not to be removed from nor added to the room.
• Noise levels should not be audible outside the room.
• No materials may be affixed to walls or other surfaces.
• Users must notify the front desk when finished.

• Room should be left in clean and tidy condition.

Violation of any of the above rules is grounds for the entire group’s forfeiture of use of the room.

CONFERENCE ROOM AND VIDEO CONFERENCE GUIDELINES

The conference room and video conference equipment are intended to further the Library’s mission through enriching lives and encouraging informational, educational, and cultural activities. When library activities are not occupying the conference room, other groups may use it during open hours for lawful, noncommercial purposes.
• Library use of the conference room takes precedence. Meetings that interfere with normal Library functions are not permitted.

• Use of the conference room must be scheduled in advance.

• All meetings, programs and video conferences during hours when the Library is open to the general public will be free and open to the public. Exceptions will be made to allow employment interviews that require teleconference or videoconference equipment.

• Conference room capacity of 46 people may not be exceeded.

• Meetings must end 15 minutes before other scheduled meetings and before the Library closes.

• The Library reserves the right, with 24 hour notice, to cancel permission to use the conference room or to provide a substitute room, if available.

Refreshments
A small refreshment preparation area with sink is available in the Conference Room. There are neither cooking facilities nor methods for keeping food heated or cooled. Users are responsible for cleanup and for any damages incurred.

Equipment
• Internet-capable flat screen television monitor
• Projector screen and digital projector
• Laptop computers
• Teleconference equipment
• Videoconference equipment
• Two carousel slide projectors and extra carousels (also available for check out)
• Overhead projector (also available for check out)
• 16 mm movie projector (also available for check out)

The Library is not responsible for any damage to users’ equipment. Library staff will explain the proper use of Library equipment before it is operated by non-staff users.

Library video conference equipment may not be used in the following ways:

• Harassment of others
• Violation of Federal or State law
• Unauthorized duplication of protected software or licensing agreements
• Destruction, damage to, or unauthorized alteration of the Library’s equipment
• Any unauthorized disclosure, use and dissemination of any personal identification information regarding minors
• Accessing child pornography
• Display of pornographic images in public view in the library is prohibited and may result in loss of library privileges and possible civil or criminal penalties.

Conference Room and Video Conference Requests
• Video conferences sponsored by the Library and by Friends of Homer Public Library receive first priority.

• Groups interested in using the video conference equipment and/or the conference room must first fill out a Conference Room and Video Conference Application, which will designate the group member who assumes the duties of Responsible Party for the group. It is advisable to reserve video conference equipment at least two weeks in advance to insure availability.

• Conference room and video conference equipment use may be requested only by adults. Persons under the age of 18 must be sponsored and supervised by an adult responsible for the group.

• The Responsible Party agrees to ensure that Library policy will be followed and accepts financial responsibility for any charges incurred by the group for damage caused to the building or equipment beyond normal wear.

• A reservation is not confirmed until the application has been approved by the Library Director or the librarian in charge.

User Responsibilities
• The Responsible Party must check in with staff before and after a meeting and is responsible for reasonable care of the videoconference equipment, the conference room, and any other equipment used.

• The Responsible Party agrees to ensure that equipment is used according to library guidelines, as demonstrated by library staff.

• Library staff must be notified in advance of cancellations. Failure to notify Library staff in advance may disqualify the user from future use of the room.
• The Responsible Party agrees to ensure that the room is cleaned up and returned to its pre-use condition, including furniture arrangement.

• In order to avoid damage, only materials approved by Library staff may be affixed to walls or other surfaces.

• Abuse of equipment or failure to follow library rules on conference room and video conference equipment use may be grounds for denial of permission for further use.

Videos and films may be used for public programs and in scheduled private meetings but must have public performance rights.

USE OF SPACES OTHER THAN GROUP STUDY ROOMS AND CONFERENCE ROOM

During Library Hours
Use of spaces in the Library other than group study rooms and the conference room for group activities during hours when the Library is open to the general public must be approved by the Library Director as compatible with Library operations and use of the Library by other patrons.

Outside Library Hours
Spaces in the Library other than group study rooms and the conference room may be used for events and meetings during hours when the Library is not open to the general public on a limited basis by reservation and for a fee. All after-hours events must be approved in advance by the Library Director and supervised by Library staff or other supervisors approved by the Library Director. Scheduling of after-hours events is dependent upon availability of an individual approved to supervise. See the After-Hours Facility Use Agreement for fees and the conditions of use.

The fee for use may be waived at the discretion of the Library Director on a case-by-case basis for non-profit groups that provide significant support to the Library or Friends of the Homer Public Library.

An After-Hours Facility Use Agreement must be approved by the Library Director.
Memorandum

TO: LIBRARY ADVISORY BOARD
FROM: DAVID BERRY, LIBRARY DIRECTOR
DATE: APRIL 13, 2022
SUBJECT: ADMIN DEPT. REORGANIZATION – LIBRARY & IT SERVICES

At the City Council retreat on March 16, the City Manager unveiled a proposal for reforming the administrative structure of the City. Among other changes, the Library would be split off from the Administration Department and combined with IT in a new standalone department called Library and Information Technology Services (LIT).

This change affects some staff positions and the department’s administrative capabilities. More details are presented in the March Director’s Report and the presentation by City Manager Robert Dumouchel.

RECOMMENDATION

For discussion.
The City is growing up and the City Manager is looking to use changes in organization design as a way to leverage limited resources into a more capable and efficient City organization.

The reorganization is focused on the Administration Department and would make the following changes:

- Create a Library and IT Services Department
- Create a Community Development Department
- Merge the Finance Department into Administration

The focus is on creating updated department structures that will be better situated to be successful into the future.
CURRENT CITY HIERARCHY

PROPOSED CITY HIERARCHY
LIBRARY & IT COMBINATION NOTES

The Library is currently a division within the Administration Department, I want to elevate it to a full Department; this allows for an improved focus for the organization and more transparent budgeting in the future.

The Library is heavily dependent upon IT resources for the many projects it has related to digital services and general modernization; pairing the Library with IT provides a great benefit to the Library’s digital initiatives.

The IT division has been managed by the Library Director for over a year; the structure has proven to be very successful and popular with the rest of the organization.

Elevating the Library Director to the department head level gives that position more authority regarding budgets, spending, etc.

LIBRARY CONCERNS

Could a non-librarian could become director of the LIT Services Department? - No
- In my design, IT is subordinate to the Library
- I am developing a small edit to HCC 2.48 which would codify the requirement for the Library Director to be properly credentialed
- If the City grows to a point where an IT Director is necessary, I would propose creating a separate department at that time

Will this take significant resources from the Library? – Unlikely
- This organizational design does bring additional responsibilities to the Library Director, however it is a benefit as it gives them control over the City’s IT resources
- One Library position has been identified as a hybrid position that can assist with IT functions, while this position will work with IT, the position’s home base is intended to remain in the Library
- Combining the Library with IT strengthens the overall value and influence of the department by linking a popular community resource with a critical City service
NEXT STEPS

Write an ordinance amending HCC 2.44 (Dept. of Administration), HCC 2.48 (Public Library), and creating a new chapter for Department of Library and Information Technology Services

Send it to Council for introduction
Public Hearing and Adoption

Timeline: Earliest introduction is likely to be May. It could be later, as this is part of a larger reorganization and I may decide to bring all the pieces to Council at the same time
Hello Marcia,
Thank you for contacting the Alaska State Library. Yesterday, Patience Frederiksen and I met to discuss the two questions you had regarding the proposed City of Homer departmental reorganization. The proposed reorganization would combine the library and information services for the city and expand the current library director’s oversight of the library and the city’s IT. The reorganization would also lead to the creation of a Deputy Library Director who would be responsible for managing day-to-day library operations. The Deputy Library Director wouldn’t be required to have an MLIS.

1. Are we aware of other municipalities that combined the IT and Library department?
   a. The only municipality that comes close to the proposed Homer Public Library reorganization is the City and Borough of Juneau. According to John Thill, JPL Library Director. He oversees staff who manage portions of the City and Borough of Juneau’s (CBJ) IT infrastructure, but not most of it. The CBJ webmaster is a library department employee. The library also employs a network administrator who oversees certain city-wide databases, some city-wide switches, and all library networks. CBJ does have a separate IT department that oversees all other technology and network functions.

2. What are the foreseeable potential pros and cons of this reorganization?
   a. Pros-Library Director will be able to ensure the library’s technology plan is actualized (fully funded, upgrades made on schedule, staff informed about and trained in advance of technology upgrades)
   b. Pros-Library Director will be able to successfully thread the needle between city IT security needs and requirements and library users need for access to information
   c. Pros-Deputy Library Director position is a leadership and advancement opportunity for current staff members—a potential incentive for a staff member to earn their MLIS
   d. Neutral-Alaska’s system of local government was created around the concept of local control. Local governments have the flexibility and authority to organize themselves as they see fit. The City of Homer’s proposed reorganization of their library and IT departments is a local control issue.
   e. Neutral-The Alaska State Library Public Library Assistance grant requirements state, “If the library is in a municipality with a population of 6,000 or more, the director must have a master’s degree in library or information science.” As the current population of Homer is 5,522 this requirement isn’t an issue. [Homer is on the cusp and overall service area exceeds 6,000 requirement.]
   f. Neutral, Cons-If the library director leaves the new position, the job description may be rewritten, left as is, or significantly changed (e.g., new hire may not be required to have library experience or an MLIS).

Yesterday, I reached out to CE Coordinators in other states and asked them to share any examples of combined municipal library/IT departments they were aware of. If I receive any replies, I will forward them on to you. [none received]

I hope this information is helpful.
Sincerely,
Julie

Re: Concerns About the Impact of Proposed City Reorganization on Homer Public Library

After speaking at length with Library Director David Berry, and meeting with Director Berry and City Manager Dumouchel, I continue to have serious concerns that the proposed City reorganization will negatively impact the Homer Public Library (HPL). My concerns are as follows:

1. This proposal does not directly support the mission of the library, which is:

"The Homer Public Library serves the diverse needs of our community members by providing access to information, promoting literacy, and facilitating lifelong learning. We foster education, personal well-being, cultural creativity, community engagement, and economic development. Our resources are offered without charge to people of all ages and abilities within our service area."
Technology is a very important part of library services, but it is not the mission of the library; it is one tool among many to fulfill this mission. While the library and its staff expertise provide valuable resources for the community and City government, and inter-departmental collaboration and cooperation are always to be encouraged to accomplish specific goals, permanent management of City-wide IT services is not part of the mission of the library.

2. This proposal diverts staff time and expertise from library applications, thereby increasing workloads on library staff and diminishing library service to the public.

This proposal diverts staff time and expertise in two crucial positions — Library Director and Library Technology Specialist — from the library to general City functions.

As proposed, the Library Technology Specialist will no longer be a library staff employee but an IT division employee. As such, they may be called away from the library to assist other departments and thus unavailable to assist staff and patrons when needed at the library.

This proposal codifies practices that have been implemented during the past two years of extremely abnormal workflows and should not be used as a basis to make fundamental management changes for the future. As library use returns to normal, all FTE hours will be needed to keep up with the workload within the library. “All hands on deck” will be required.

Since Covid began, circulation and in-person library activity in general has been much lower than normal. Library Director Berry’s technology skills have served the library and the City well during this pandemic time period. But now that public services are opening up again, the library’s attention is refocusing on in-person services, as it should. The library is a community gathering space that has been sorely missed and many people still prefer physical materials to electronic. Collection development, readers’ advisory, and programming take time, commitment, and the attention of not just volunteers and staff but the director to provide the level of service the Homer community has requested and supported for decades.

3. This proposal sets a precedent that erodes decades of library management and development at HPL.

HPL has had a full-time, credentialed library director for four decades. This proposal reduces the MLIS-educated director to part-time and diverts day-to-day management to a “deputy director” position that does not require an MLIS degree. If HPL were a small branch library that might be appropriate. But it is not. It is a medium-sized, stand-alone, full-service library that serves not just the city of Homer but the entire southwestern Kenai Peninsula. It requires and deserves a full-time, credentialed librarian. This need has been recognized and supported by the community for decades.

4. This proposal short-changes both the library and the IT department.

Without doubt, IT needs additional staffing to handle the increasing importance of technology in City functions, including the library. IT has been underfunded and understaffed for years. But that staffing should not be taken from existing library staff, which is also already stretched thin. The solution is to adequately staff the IT department.

5. This proposal, if implemented, will almost certainly make it even more difficult to attract a qualified library director in the future.

Most public librarians follow an educational track that prepares them to be knowledgeable about all aspects of public libraries, including but not primarily, technology. They study a range of topics from providing services (such as reference, cataloging, circulation, selection of materials, programming, readers’ advisory, literacy, and information literacy) to management (such as facility operations, building maintenance and design, budgeting, purchasing procedures, staffing, training and staff development, public relations, legal issues, privacy, and intellectual freedom). This breadth of knowledge is necessary because of the multitude of services a public library provides. Technology is a tool in accomplishing these endeavors but not the overall focus. Community engagement and service are the focus.

Librarians who are primarily interested in technology follow a technical track in obtaining their MLIS (or comparable degree). These librarians focus on the technical aspects of delivering digital library service (such as networks, hardware, software, digital security and privacy).

These represent two different sets of skills and interests. Finding a public librarian trained in both areas who is interested in serving a rural community at the end of the road in Alaska — even in Homer, wonderful as it is — will likely be a considerable challenge. Though managing the library and IT may fit the skills and interests of the current director, the requirement to oversee IT as well as a busy public library is not a common practice. In fact I know of no other public libraries structured in that way. It will most likely dissuade many potentially excellent public librarians from applying in the future.

Summary

It makes some sense to combine Library and IT under one department. There is a lot of overlap, given the amount of technology in a modern-day library and the inter-connectedness of City systems. However, that change should not be made at the expense of reduced library staffing, diminished qualifications for managing the library, and diverting a portion of the library’s capacity from its mission. Managing IT for the City is not the mission of the library. The library needs and deserves a full-time, credentialed library director, as the City of Homer has recognized for four decades. The excellence of our Homer Library reflects that investment by the community and should be continued.

Memorandum

TO: LIBRARY ADVISORY BOARD
FROM: RACHEL TUSSEY, CMC, DEPUTY CITY CLERK II
DATE: APRIL 13, 2022
SUBJECT: ELECTION OF LAB OFFICERS

Per Article IV, Sec. 1 of the LAB Bylaws: “A Chairperson and Vice-Chairperson shall be elected from among the appointed boardmembers at the regular April meeting of the Board.”

Recommended process for Election of Vice Chair:

1) A boardmember will make a motion to determine the LAB’s method of voting for the elections. Voting is commonly done by a Show of Hands or a Voice Vote (yes/no).

2) Once the election method is decided, the Chair will open the floor for nominations.

3) Boardmembers are free to call out nominations, they do not need to be recognized by the Chair.
   - These are not motions and do not require a second, although providing a second shows support.
   - It’s ok for a boardmember to nominate themselves.
   - If a boardmember calls out a nomination and that individual is fully against serving, it is acceptable for that nominated boardmember to speak up and say they would not be willing to accept the seat if elected. They have still been nominated though and should still go through the voting process; the rest of the board at least now knows who of the nominees is/is not interested in serving.

4) Once all nominations are called out, the Chair will close the floor to nominations.

5) Chair will then call out each nominee’s name for voting. For each name called out, boardmembers will vote using the selected method (Show of Hands/Voice Vote).

6) As soon as one of the nominees receives the majority of votes, the Chair will declare them elected. If only one person is nominated, the Chair simply declares the nominee elected.

Recommended process for Election of Chair:

1) It is preferred the gavel be handed over to the newly elected Vice Chair to conduct the vote for Chair.

2) Election is conducted in the same manner as it was for the Vice Chair (see steps 2-6 above).

3) The gavel/meeting will be turned over to the newly elected (or re-elected) Chair to conduct the remainder of the meeting.

‘Over the past month, a motley group of more than 1,300 librarians, historians, teachers and young children have banded together to save Ukraine’s Internet archives, using technology to back up everything from census data to children’s poems and Ukrainian basket weaving techniques.

In early March, two weeks into Russia’s invasion of Ukraine, Carrie Pirmann stumbled upon a website dedicated to Ivan Mazepa, a 16th century Ukrainian politician and patron of the arts. A 44-year-old librarian at Bucknell University, Pirmann had joined an international effort of fellow archivists to preserve the digital history of a country under siege, and the contents of Mazepa’s website, though obscure, seemed worth saving.”
Guiding light of Homer’s library to retire

Led fight to double size of library

by Hal Spence
Staff Writer

Homer Public Library is about to lose its prime mover. The shepherd of the bookshelves, B.J. Mauseth, is retiring.

Officially, she leaves city employment in November. But she will be cozy in her new home on the Oregon coast, sipping Glenfiddich scotch, reading P.G. Wodehouse, and following the Green Bay Packers on the tube long before then.

After nearly a dozen years as Homer’s head librarian, she is due a little leave time. “I’ve been a professional for 34 years,” she said. “It’s time for someone new, someone with fresh ideas.” Mauseth, 60, is taking advantage of the early retirement incentive program.

Mauseth has worked tirelessly to build Homer’s Public Library since 1979. City Manager Larry Farmen hired her when the library became a city responsibility.

She is largely responsible for the library’s growth from 10,000 to about 22,000 volumes. She has overseen one library expansion and is the driving force behind recent legislative requests to fund another. Funding for that project might come next year.

While she said she will miss Homer and the friends she has found, Mauseth leaves with little fear for the future of the library. Volunteers have supported library services in Homer for more than 40 years, both before and since the institution came under city control. She said she has no doubt that community support will continue.

“There is a strong tradition of library services here,” she said.

Sipping a mocha coffee at Cups, just across the street from the library, Mauseth reflected on her years as a librarian.

She earned her degree from the University of Washington. Soon after, she went to work for the state of Nevada, where she remained for 20 years. For most of that time, Mauseth was head of the state’s library development division, a position that allowed her to get out into the state’s far-flung communities.

So how did she end up in Homer? “I’d always been aware of Homer,” she said. Her brother (Floyd Mauseth) homesteaded here, and she subscribed to the Homer News. In 1979, she read an advertisement for the city librarian’s job.

“I called Larry Farmen,” she said. The rest, as they say, is history.

Although she has had but two employers during her career, she still feels a bit like a traveler, albeit a slow mover.

“I’m probably about the mostest rolling stone there is,” she said.

She had nothing but praise for members of the Library Board and Homer’s Friends of the Library. Their efforts have proved invaluable in seeing the institution through a lot of growing pains, she said. As for the library workers, she called them hard-working and loyal.

“They are not complacent” about the library, she said.

Mauseth also praised the Homer City Council and administration. Despite some difficult budget woes, they found ways to finance library operations and to add their punch to legislative requests for capital project money, she said.

“I’ve been very pleased with the people in the administration,” she said. “The library... See LIBRARIAN, Next Page has been treated very fairly. They’ve done a splendid job.”

It would be fair to say, however, that the adage “The squeaky wheel gets the grease” applies well to B.J. Mauseth.

Each year, and sometimes more often, she would appear before the council during budget discussions to push for library funding.

She always had answers to council questions. She delivered concise and realistic assessments of library needs, and usually managed to coax city lawmakers into appropriating funds.

She called it nagging, but it was deeper than that. Such cajoling was an annual rite, she said, adding that “I guess one could spell that both ways. Rite and right.”

Selling government officials on library needs was rarely easy. Often, those officials were wrestling with difficult budget questions with limited funds, she said.

It is easy to point to old roads that need repair or subdivisions in need of sewer systems. But how do you measure such intangibles as the value of ideas? she asked.

Over the years, Mauseth has done a good job of that. In the process the council, the board, and the library workers have gained mutual trust and respect for each other.

“That’s why we are where we are today,” she said.

Leaving before the next expansion project begins is one of her main regrets, she said. The addition, which would cost about $2 million, would triple the facility.

“It sounds terribly expensive, but it’s a 20-year investment,” Mauseth said. “The people of Homer deserve it.”

She also regrets that the small size of the current library has prevented her from beginning certain programs.

“I’m old-fashioned, I guess,” she said. “I don’t want to start things that can’t be done at a high level.”

Mauseth said although she is heading south for some well-deserved rest, she is not the type to vegetate.

“As soon as the Super Bowl is over, I might just go terrorize the local library as a volunteer,” she said. “Until then, though, I’m going to get some good nights’ sleep. I’m going to have some Glenfiddich, read a lot and watch football and ballet — they’re a lot alike, you know.

“I might just gather a little more moss,” she added.
