E. PUBLIC PARTICIPATION ON NON-AGENDA ITEMS (10-15 Minutes)

David Berg described the new Black Hawk helicopter that has been assigned to Juneau and its capabilities.

Renee Culp, Emily Way resident, described the need for better evacuation plans. She said she appreciated the efforts regarding the barriers; however, she stressed that a permanent solution was needed and recommended a dike or levee.

Kathleen Rado, a member of the Flood Fighting group, reiterated that the barriers were not a long-term solution.

James Helfinstine said that a study of the entire waterway was needed. He said that CBJ couldn't expect individual property owners to pay 50k each. He noted that the barrier was temporary, and more permanent solutions were needed. He felt that CBJ did an excellent job reacting to the flooding but had somewhat ignored the problem before the flooding event occurred.

Britt Tonneson asked for clarification about the public comments' recommendations. Answer: Recommendations were made for a more permanent solution such as a dike or levy in lieu of a HESCO barrier.

Mike Pierson, USCG, reported on the upcoming ICS training cycle and the All-Hazard Model leading to a January exercise with the National Incident Management Team. He invited those interested in being involved to contact him. He noted that CERT trainings were held last month, and more trainings would be held in November and January. He said that the Fire Chief and Fire Marshall were approached about becoming a CERT sponsoring agency to allow the CERT to have deployment capabilities under a responsible emergency response entity. CCFR is working with the Assembly and Managers' office for recommendations on this. Tom Mattice gave an example of a deployable CERT activity stating that the CERT team could be involved with a variety of organizations such as Red Cross damage assessments. He also encouraged volunteering and training with the Red Cross directly before an event happens.

F. STAFF REPORTS

Elected Official – Paul Kelly. Mr. Kelly provided a summary of recent Assembly meetings regarding the August 6, 2024, Mendenhall River flood. He described various initiatives such as the sandbags available to the public; HESCO barriers; and the proposed hydrological study with the Corps of Engineers.

Emergency Programs – Tom Mattice. Mr. Mattice introduced Teri Rehfeldt, formerly from CBJ Community Development, who will take Michelle Brown's position as LEPC Coordinator and grants specialist when Michelle retires in January. Mr. Mattice described Mendenhall River plans, including updates to inundation maps, evacuation orders, the improved emergency alert system, matching funds with the Corps study, and the effort to pack and disburse 80,000 sandbags. He advised that majority of the Mendenhall flood discussion is through the CBJ Assembly Public Works Committee. He discussed the role of the LEPC in connecting people with assets, and thanked Debbie Penrose Fisher for her Juneau Taxi efforts with the Juneau Flood Fighting group. He recommended the upcoming Incident Command System (ICS) courses and training in December, with more to come in January, and he thanked all emergency partners. Michelle Brown recommended that LEPC members and the public sign up for CBJ's Emergency Alerts and recommended the system be revised to allow users to add multiple addresses into the system to receive alerts about different areas. Her example was individual caretakers who have elderly and disabled persons who do not live with them.

JPD – Jeremy Weske described explosives modeling efforts.

CCFR – Theresa Ross reported that there had been several fires, CCFR sent crew to assist with the Ketchikan landslide, and CCFR continued work to fill staffing needs.

Hospital – Zachariah Fisher noted that BRH is looking for a new Emergency Manager and are working with new staff.

Red Cross – Britt Tonnessen reported that the Red Cross had been focused on hurricane volunteers and sheltering. She said that Loren Jones was in Haines addressing needs after the recent fire. Tom Mattice asked how the LEPC could support these efforts, and Britt suggested those interested call her directly. She noted the Red Cross Open House in a couple of weeks, and upcoming training in sheltering and deployment. Tom promoted the Community Emergency Response Teams (CERT) upcoming trainings.

HAZMAT & NWS Preparedness – Nicole Ferrin of NWS reported on recent congressional visits regarding Mendenhall River flooding.

Alaska Native Tribal – not present

Public Health – Elaine Hickey spoke to the importance of keeping vaccinations current, noting that flu and covid are on the rise at this time of year. Currently on the radar is an uptick in pertussis also known as whooping cough.

Right-to-Know – not present.

G. NEW BUSINESS

1. Hazardous Weather Preparedness -Nicole Ferrin of the National Weather Service gave a presentation on seasonal preparedness reminders, changes to cold weather alerts, natural warning signs, and a short status update on Suicide Basin. She noted that the basin was currently 2/3 full, similar to conditions in October 2022, and current lake water levels are down. POC: Nicole Ferrin, NWS Juneau – nicole.ferrin@juneau.gov . This presentation continued with the in-person participants after the Zoom meeting unexpectedly ended. See PowerPoint presentation.

2. LEPC Meeting November 13, 2024. The LEPC moved to cancel the November meeting due to staff absences.

News Release

Less than Two Weeks Left to Apply for FEMA Assistance

ANCHORAGE, Alaska – Residents who were affected by the August 5-6 flooding that occurred in the City and Borough of Juneau have until Monday, December 16, to apply for FEMA housing and other needs assistance, and FEMA Disaster Unemployment Assistance, administered through the Alaska Department of Labor and Workforce Development, and the U.S. Department of Labor.

This deadline is for residents who may need assistance with:

- Funds for home repairs
- Temporary rental assistance
- Damaged vehicles and essential personal property
- Loss of subsistence items
- Medical and dental expenses caused by the disaster
- Lost work if self-employed, or otherwise unable to receive regular unemployment assistance.

If you were affected by the flooding, you should apply as soon as possible. FEMA assistance is unable to duplicate benefits offered through insurance, state programs, or other programs. However, if your losses or damage go beyond disaster assistance available from other sources – or include items or categories not covered by other assistance – you may be eligible for additional funds from FEMA. Even if you have already registered for the State of Alaska's disaster assistance program, you must also register with FEMA to determine if you may be eligible to receive additional funds through FEMA, as well as additional funds from the state.

As of December 3, 2024, the disaster recovery center had 369 visits. FEMA has approved over $2.86 million for 190 households affected by the Mendenhall Glacier Flooding disaster.

Ways to apply:

- Visit the Disaster Recovery Center, which is also set to close December 16:
Mendenhall Valley Public Library
3025 Dimond Park Loop

Juneau, AK 99801

Hours:

10 a.m. - 6 p.m. Tuesday-Friday

10 a.m. - 5 p.m. Saturday

- Call the FEMA Alaska Call Center at 866-342-1699 between 10:00 a.m. and 6:00 p.m. AKT, Monday through Friday and 10:00 a.m. and 5:00 p.m. AKT, Saturday.
- Go online to DisasterAssistance.gov.
- Download the FEMA App.
- Self-employed persons and those not qualifying for regular unemployment insurance benefits who were unable to perform services due to the disaster may also apply for DUA benefits by calling 907-269-4700 or visit the Juneau Job Center located at 10002 Glacier Highway, Suite 100, Juneau, AK 99801.

If a reasonable accommodation – such as language translation or interpretation, mobility assistance, or sign language interpretation is needed – email FEMA-language-access-request@fema.dhs.gov. You can also notify FEMA staff through the FEMA Alaska Call Center.

The U.S. Small Business Administration also offers long-term disaster loans to businesses of all sizes, private nonprofit organizations, as well as homeowners and renters to pay for repair or replacement costs not fully compensated by insurance or other assistance. For more information, go to: SBA.gov/disaster or call SBA's Customer Service Center at (800) 659-2955, or email disastercustomerservice@sba.gov. For people who are deaf, hard of hearing, or have a speech disability, please dial 7-1-1 to access telecommunications relay services.
