2. NEW BUSINESS (NON-ACTION ITEMS)

- A. Civil City Attorney Adam Phillips's presentation and discussion concerning the legal procedure to fill a Mayoral and City Council position vacancy.

Civil City Attorney Adam Phillips presented the legal procedure to fill a Mayoral and City Council position vacancy, the process for appointing a Mayor Pro Tem, and the purpose of a Mayor Pro Tem. He explained that the City of Lander, Wyoming, has established specific ordinances to address vacancies in its municipal government, particularly focusing on the roles of the Mayor and City Council members. Ordinance 12-5-1: Vacancies in the Office of Mayor provides that if a vacancy arises in the office of the Mayor, the Council will elect an individual from the council to serve the remainder of the term of Mayor by a majority vote of all city councilmembers. That individual, when elected by this Council, will have to resign their seat. There will then be a vacant city council seat. The City has 90 days to take applications and to appoint a new councilmember.

This Council and past councils have elected a Council President, and that Council President has essentially acted as a Mayor Pro Tem. When the Mayor was gone, or not able to perform their duties, for whatever reason, then, the Council President was the one who stepped in and took care of everything. However, our ordinance does not explicitly state the Council President must serve in the capacity of a Mayor Pro Tem. There's no description of the duties of a Council President or a Mayor Pro Tem in the Ordinance. Tonight, the Council can elect a Mayor Pro Tem to act until March 11th, or at such time as the council fills the vacancy of Mayor. Attorney Phillips recommends the Council investigate other municipal ordinances and consider a new ordinance to codify the Mayor Pro Tem. The proposed resolution is so that the City could have a temporary Mayor in place until a permanent Mayor is appointed pursuant to the Ordinances. He presented two options; one to amend the resolution to state Council President serves as the Mayor Pro Tem, or two to accept nominations and elect a Mayor Pro Tem. Councilmember D Hahn inquired how W.S.15-1-107 aligns with this process. City Attorney Phillips explained that cities can have a temporary Mayor until a permanent one is in place. Councilmember D Hahn commented that another option is to call a Special Meeting for next Tuesday to elect a permanent Mayor to finish out the term. Discussion ensued concerning clarifying the two options and moving the process to fill the vacancy to the 25th as opposed to March 11th. There was a consensus for the appointment process on February 25, 2025, by Special Meeting.
