DISCUSSION ITEMS

5. DISCUSSION REVIEWING THE LAND USE PLAN.

Amy Haase reviewed the language in the Land Use Plan regarding the following Land Uses:

Open Space – Steering Committee members relayed clarifying questions defining open space and requested a Park layer be placed over the Open Space Land Use layer on the maps to ensure all areas are properly identified Ms. Haase clarified that Open Space includes Floodplain and Water Quality Protection Zone (WQPZ), but a park could potentially be built in Open Space.

Agricultural Residential – Ms. Haase explained the Land Use is the far West and East sides of Norman with the purpose of maintaining larger lots, rural living, and farm land. Individuals who desire to construct rural subdivisions can do so, provided they reserve 65% of the land for future build through.

Rural Residential – Ms. Haase explained that this Land Use strictly acknowledges existing large-lot subdivisions west of 72nd Ave NE without City Services. Steering Committee members requested the language more clearly state not to expand this Land Use.

Urban Reserve – Ms. Haase explained most development should not occur in this Land Use for the life of this plan. Steering Committee members discussed the Urban Reserve Land Use and the Norman 2045 Character Area and whether they should have the same name. Steering Committee members agreed the names should be different, but it should be outlined in the document more clearly.

Urban Low – Ms. Haase explained that this Land Use is traditionally single-family detached homes and encourages smaller lots. Commercial is allowed in this area at a comparable intensity. Steering Committee members pointed out that the performance criteria seems to contradict desired densities in these areas. There were concerns about areas of Core Norman and the desire for incremental increases in density. It was discussed that this could be added to the list of Special Study Areas.

Overall, the Steering Committee requested removing all performance criteria sections in Residential Land Uses, and to apply these criteria through other sections of the plan.

The Steering Committee members also discussed taking the desired density ranges off of the map while adding them to the verbiage of each Residential Land Use. Further, the Steering Committee discussed including a minimum instead of a range.

6. DISCUSSION OF SCHEDULE AND NEXT STEPS.

The Land Use Working Group will evaluate and review the density ranges for each of the Residential Land Uses.
