Pledge of Allegiance

Discussions

1. Discussion with Fayette County Landfill Commission on Recycling Bins

Landfill Commission Members Present- Rod Marlatt, Kelly Beacom, and Joan Swenka.

DeVore let the commission know that the city still is interested in recycle bins, but the city does not want them on public property due to the continual clean up efforts.

Marlatt opened with the history of the transfer station. He discussed that the City of Oelwein is responsible for finding locations for the recycle bins as each city in the county is responsible for their bins. Marlatt felt that the city could consider cameras and should increase law enforcement.

Beacom wanted the council to understand that the Landfill Commission is not the county, as the county only holds representation on the board.

Mulfinger stated that the city is not interested in cameras and that the use of law enforcement was not a top priority for the community.

Council directed Mulfinger to work with Deb Howard on possible business locations, then come back with a fenced in plan if no businesses are interested.

2. Discussion on City Council Goals

Council pushed the discussion to September 21 at 5:30 to include department heads.
