A. Phone System Proposal

Administrator Buchholtz reported that the City's phone service has reached end of life and is in need of replacement. He stated staff budgeted funds for 2023 to replace the current system with a cloud-based system

Administrator Buchholtz discussed the advantageous of moving to a cloud-based phone system:

- Phone rental –if phone needed to be replaced, there would be no cost.
- No maintenance on site since everything is stored in the Cloud – the Cloud system will have 5 layers of failover built in to make sure it is always working. In addition to that, if power went out in City Hall the phone system would still work since it is offsite, and staff would be able to use it via cell phone apps even if the building internet or electricity is out.
- No more hardware to replace as it ages out.
- Mobility - desktop and mobile apps that work as the office desk phone, so calls can be made and received from anywhere without transferring or using personal numbers.
- Greater flexibility- simple to expand users as needed without having to add additional costly equipment
- Expanded features that will contribute to improved operational efficiency and communication (For example, there are built-in chat and instant message abilities, screen share, video calls, and presence indicators so that you can share info much more quickly than phone calls and emails.)

- Streamline/Consolidate: Conferencing and online meeting capabilities are built in - no need for other platforms and applications for conference calls and meetings such as Teams, Zoom, etc.

Administrator Buchholtz noted that the new system would work with the remodeling of City Hall since the phones function over the internet.
