OLD BUSINESS

3. STRATEGIC PLAN SUBCOMMITTEE REPORT: Chair Martin suggested looking at the strategic plan on two levels, one for the transformational plan goal which would need a subcommittee, and one for the less complicated goals that could be reported individually at each board meeting. The board discussed asking library staff about things that are currently being done to aid in reporting on the less complicated goals. This process would start with a report on the maker community for the March board meeting. The group discussed creating a subcommittee to break down the transformational goal and report back at the April board meeting.

Motion: Upon Chair Martin's motion and Member Echternach's second, the Library Board will create a subcommittee to explore the transformational goal of the strategic plan and report back to the board at regular intervals. [Yeas: Chair Martin, Vice Chair Salas, Member Dunn, Member Echternach, Member Jacobson, Member Mann, Member Pettit, Member Wiener; Nays: none]

Chair Martin asked for volunteers to join him on the subcommittee and Member Mann and Member Jacobson stated that they would join.

4. MAKERSPACE FUNDRAISING SUBCOMMITTEE REPORT: Member Echternach stated that the intention of the subcommittee, which includes former board member Coleen Ohler, is to look at what is needed, i.e., new flooring, tables, cabinets, chairs, etc., and set a fundraising goal. One possibility is to look at naming rights, to see if the City would allow it. Other options include putting together a list of people who could donate $500 to $1,000, with the given fundraising goal we might get there quickly. Member Echternach stated that he will also look for companies that have technology grants or those with matching grant programs to get some of the funding. Library Director Bishop stated that some of the materials, viz., the new double bowl sink and longer counter, will be installed by City workers to help offset the costs. The group discussed the State Library of Oregon grant process and what type of funding is available. Those funds have been applied for in the past, but we have not been fortunate enough to receive any for the Makerspace.

NEW BUSINESS

No new business.

LIBRARY DIRECTOR'S REPORT

Director Bishop welcomed Mayor Massy and hopes that she will be able to come to the meetings once she gets settled in. Mayor Massey visited the library for a tour a few weeks ago. There are plans to restart part of the Cascades plant, and that should replace some lost revenue for the City. Unfortunately, Colleen Ohler had to resign from the board. We are very sorry that she's left. City Recorder Kathy Payne will be posting an announcement encouraging applications for board positions by the end of the week. The Makerspace is very busy. Given demand and staff availability, Tuesday appointments have been eliminated and Thursday hours extended for efficiency. One of our Makerspace volunteers has donated a new 3D printer. He and another volunteer have been very generous with their time. We have received eight new laptops, courtesy of Public Works. The Columbia Learning Center board is still moving materials out of the expanded Makerspace. They will leave two old metal cabinets that we will move into the front office area for storing local history materials. We have a growing number of teens in the teen area, so our designated time is working well. Storytime is continuing to grow. We had 24 participants at the baby lap sit recently. I mentioned the grant process through the State Library, and we have submitted a grant for a new program that funds teen interns. The Summer Library Challenge this year is "Level Up at Your Library." We will have escape rooms this year as well as regular programming. Some of the statistics from the 2024 annual report include 65,737 visits to the building, 21 percent of our population is registered with a library card, and we had 101 users in the Makerspace between October and December last year and 111 from January through mid-February. The seed library will be starting soon, and the Master Gardeners have asked to consider partnering with them to create some specialized gardens in the courtyard. We are no longer getting Covid-19 tests to hand out, but we do have a supply of NARCAN that is available. Staff are continuing to pursue training. We have 27 volunteers who logged 954 hours last year. That's a value to the City of about $31,000. The Friends of the St Helens Public Library has donated the funds for the new Glowforge, the continue to support the Summer Library Challenge, the Book Club as well as the Genealogy Conference, which is coming up in September. We have a long list of community partners, including Columbia County Mental Health, Community Action Team, the Amani Center as well as the Youth Era program. We will be closed next Monday for President's Day, and I will be gone for the last week of March.
