Proposed Recipient(s)

Willowbrook Arts Camp

Describe art endeavor

At the heart of Willowbrook's art endeavor is the idea of creative self-growth. The camp fosters an environment where kids are free to choose which artistic activities they pursue each day, encouraging independence, curiosity, and personal expression. Rather than following a rigid schedule, campers explore activities at their own pace in a setting that prioritizes imaginative play and artistic experimentation.

How has this art endeavor made a significant contribution to the arts in Tualatin?

Willowbrook has been offering immersive, arts-focused summer programming in Brown's Ferry Park since 1992, and in Tualatin since the camp's founding in 1982. Its sustained presence over decades has woven arts education into the cultural fabric of the city.

The camp provides hands-on arts experiences across dozens of disciplines, from ceramics, basketry, and stained glass to theater, music, and creative writing, for students in kindergarten through 12th grade. This exposure helps young people develop skills, confidence, creativity, and a lifelong appreciation of the arts.

Willowbrook doesn't just run a summer camp; it partners with the City of Tualatin and participates in community events, offering arts and crafts and interactive creative activities at local festivals like the Blender Dash and the Giant Pumpkin Regatta. These efforts bring arts experiences to the whole community, not just camp participants.

How long has the art been in place or the service been provided?

44 years

How many people have been impacted by this project?

Thousands of campers have attended Willowbrook in our 44 year history. Each summer, we host 6 weeks of camp, with some summers surpassing 500 campers per week. Add to that number Tualatin community event participants and the Willowbrook impact on the Tualatin community is truly immeasurable!

$ 1,000.00

Description of Request

By June 30th 2026 WilsonvilleSTAGE will produce 3 live theatrical productions at the Tualatin Heritage Center (THC). In October of 2025 we produced 5 performances of Thriller Theatre, a radio style play. In April of 2026 we will produce 7 performances of The Golden Age, by AR Gurney. In June of 2026 we will Produce 7 performances of "Other Desert Cities" by Jon Robin Baitz. One of the major expenses of the 2026 performances will be the acquisition of the license/rights and scripts for these two plays. These will easily come to over $2000.00 We are asking the Tualatin Arts Advisory Committee for $1000.00 to help offset this cost.

How many Tualatin Residents will be served?

We will expect to serve over 400 audience members with these two productions the majority who will be Tualatin residents.

How does your request align with the Tualatin Arts Advisory Committee's mission?

Live performances are one of the best vehicles for bringing a sense of culture and community awareness to a community. WilsonvilleSTAGE is dedicated to bringing live theater to the North Willamette Valley and these two plays by A.R. Gurney and Jon Robin Baitz are two of the finest example of modern American play writing and every citizen who attends a production will be emotionally moved by these amazing works.

If full funding request is not granted, how will you proceed with your project/proposal?

If only partial funding is available we will fulfill our commitment to the directors and cast members and try to offset the lost income through cuts to set, costumes, props and rehearsal space rentals.
